AIChE Symposium Series

Recent Studies

172. Food Pharmaceutical and Bioengineering—1976/1977. This volume consists of papers dealing with enzyme engineering, engineering of renewable natural resources, protein and related processes, membrane processes, and other bioengineering topics.

1978. 256 pp. AIChE members, $8; nonmembers, $20

173. Fundamental Aspects of Hydrometallurgical Processes. The papers in this volume are delineated into categories of solution thermodynamics and unit operations important to hydrometallurgy, such as leaching, solid-liquid separations, solution purification and separation, solvent extraction, and electrowinning.

1978. 151 pp. AIChE members, $5.50; nonmembers, $20

175. Control and Dispersion of Air Pollutants: Emphasis on NO<sub>x</sub> and Particulate Emissions. Major subject areas in this volume deal with control of particulate matter and nitrogen oxides, the environmental impact of coal conversion facilities and power plants, and atmospheric transport of pollutants.

1978. 203 pp. AIChE members, $5; nonmembers, $20
