

ADVANCED FUNCTIONAL MATERIALS

TISSUE ENGINEERING

The quest for implants for bone repair and regeneration is driving the development of synthetic scaffolds with the requisite strength and toughness. With inspiration taken from natural materials such as bone and nacre, bioactive glass and ceramic scaffolds with outstanding mechanical performances are created by Q. Fu, A. P. Tomsia, and co-workers on page 5461.