
Notices

Please address all material to be considered for publication in Notices to: Editor, Notices, ANS, Aspen Systems Corporation, 1600 Research Boulevard, Rockville, MD 20850. Notices must be received at least 6 months prior to the publication date of the issue in order to be considered for publication.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Department of Nursing Education at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center announces the following programs: "The Oncology Unit," January 24, 1985, Fee $85.00, 6 contact hours; "Bone Marrow Transplantation: The Nursing Challenge," January 25, 1985, Fee $85.00, 7 contact hours. For more information contact Alice Gianella, RN, MA, Assistant Director, Nursing Education, M1937, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, 1275 York Avenue, New York, NY 10021, (212) 794-6884.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR HOME HEALTH ADMINISTRATORS

The Community Health Nursing Area of the University of Michigan School of Nursing is proud to announce a new educational offering that prepares nurses on the master's-degree level for administrative and managerial positions in home health agencies. This is the first organized program in the country designed specifically for home health agency nurse administrators.

The "Home Health Care Concentration" focuses on preparation in administration and management of home health services as well as advanced community health nursing preparation. In addition to a strong emphasis on management theory, the concentration features practical application of theory to management issues. Extensive supervised clinical experiences in outstanding home health agencies with nurse administrator preceptors is provided.

Curriculum content includes principles of marketing, quality assurance, staffing, personnel management, program evaluation and the arts of negotiation and delegation. Through participation in program evaluation, administration and financial management courses, students are given opportunities to develop collaborative and collegial relationships with other health care disciplines.

A strong research component allows students the opportunity to develop skills in research methodologies, data analysis, and scholarly writing. A commitment of the program is to generate significant research in the area of home health care.

For more information contact Dr. Violet H. Barkauskas, Chairperson, Community Health Nursing, 400 N. Ingalls, Room 4153, Ann Arbor, MI 48109-2007, (313) 763-5597.

NURSING SCIENCE COLLOQUIUM

The Boston University School of Nursing will be presenting the Second Annual Nursing Science Colloquium, "Strategies for Theory Development II," March 21-22, 1985, at Boston University, Boston, Massachusetts. This two-day program, designed to provide participants with an opportunity to share knowledge, ideas, expertise and resources, will further address strategies used in nursing theory development. The program will include: (1) nursing-science: perspectives of theory development—past, present, and future; (2) modes of inquiry (meta-analysis, ethnomethodology, phenomenology, theory of reformulation, and model building); and (3) a presentation summarizing the strategies: the received versus nonreceived view. This conference is designed for nurse faculty, clinicians, administrators, researchers, theorists, doctoral and master's students, and those interested in the advancement of nursing knowledge. For more information contact Bianca M. Chambers, Marketing Chair, Nursing Science Colloquium Committee, Boston University School of Nursing, 635 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, MA 02215, (617) 353-3047.

STATE BOARD NURSING REVIEW

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Nursing will offer a State Board Nursing Review, May 6-9, 1985, at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. Graduate nurses from BSN, ADN, and three-year diploma programs are eligible to participate. This four-day course is designed to provide participants with information on how to prepare for the State Board Examination and advice on test taking. The fee is $45.00; 2.45 continuing education credits may be earned. For more information contact Nettie Wilburn, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, School of Nursing, Continuing Education Program, Carrington Hall, 214H, Chapel Hill, NC 27514, (919) 966-3638.

EMERGENCY MEDICINE SEMINAR

Emergency Medical Abstracts and the California and Florida Chapters of the American College of Emergency Physicians will present "Emergency Medicine: A Critical Appraisal" in Vail, Colorado, January 5-9, 1985; in Cancun, Mexico, January 21-25, 1985; and in Maui, Hawaii, January 30-February 3, 1985. The fee is $360/$260. Twenty Category I AMA, ACEP credits may be earned. For more information contact Harry Rimm, Seminars International, 15910 Ventura Blvd., Suite 731, Encino, CA 91436, (800) 421-5719 [in California, (818) 990-9980].

NURSING CONFERENCES

Discovery International's Nurse Theorist Conference, scheduled for May 15, 16 and 17, 1985, in Pittsburgh, is expected to attract more than 1,000 nurses and nurse educators. Five of the world's leading nurse theorists will be presenting the assumptions, principles and concepts of their theories. Authors of five of the most widely read and respected books in the nurse theorist field will participate in a panel discussion, individual group discussions, and critiques of their respective theories. Hildegard E. Peplau, author and noted educator, will be the featured dinner speaker. Her talk will be entitled, "Nursing's Emergence as a Science: A Historical Perspective." CEUs pending. Contact: Discovery International, Inc., P.O. Box 633, Pittsburgh, PA 15230, (412) 391-8471.

The Division of Continuing Education of the University of Utah College of Nursing is planning the second annual "Issues in Nursing Research" conference to be held March 5-8, 1985, in Park City, Utah. Eighteen contact hours will be awarded. The fee is $185 or $140 for full-time matriculated students. For further information contact Kathi Mooney, University of Utah, College of Nursing, Salt Lake City, UT 84112, (801) 581-8244.

SUMMER INSTITUTE ON CHILD DEVELOPMENT AND SOCIAL POLICY

The Summer Institute on Child Development and Social Policy will be held June 15-28, 1985, at the University of Texas at Austin. Emphasis will be on integration of research and policy at national, state, and local levels. Faculty members, recent PhDs, and advanced graduate students are encouraged to apply. Application deadline is January 15, 1985. For further information contact Washington Liaison Office, Society for Research in Child Development, 100 N. Carolina Ave., S.E., Washington, DC 20003 (202) 543-9582.