

A Journal of the Gesellschaft Deutscher Chemiker

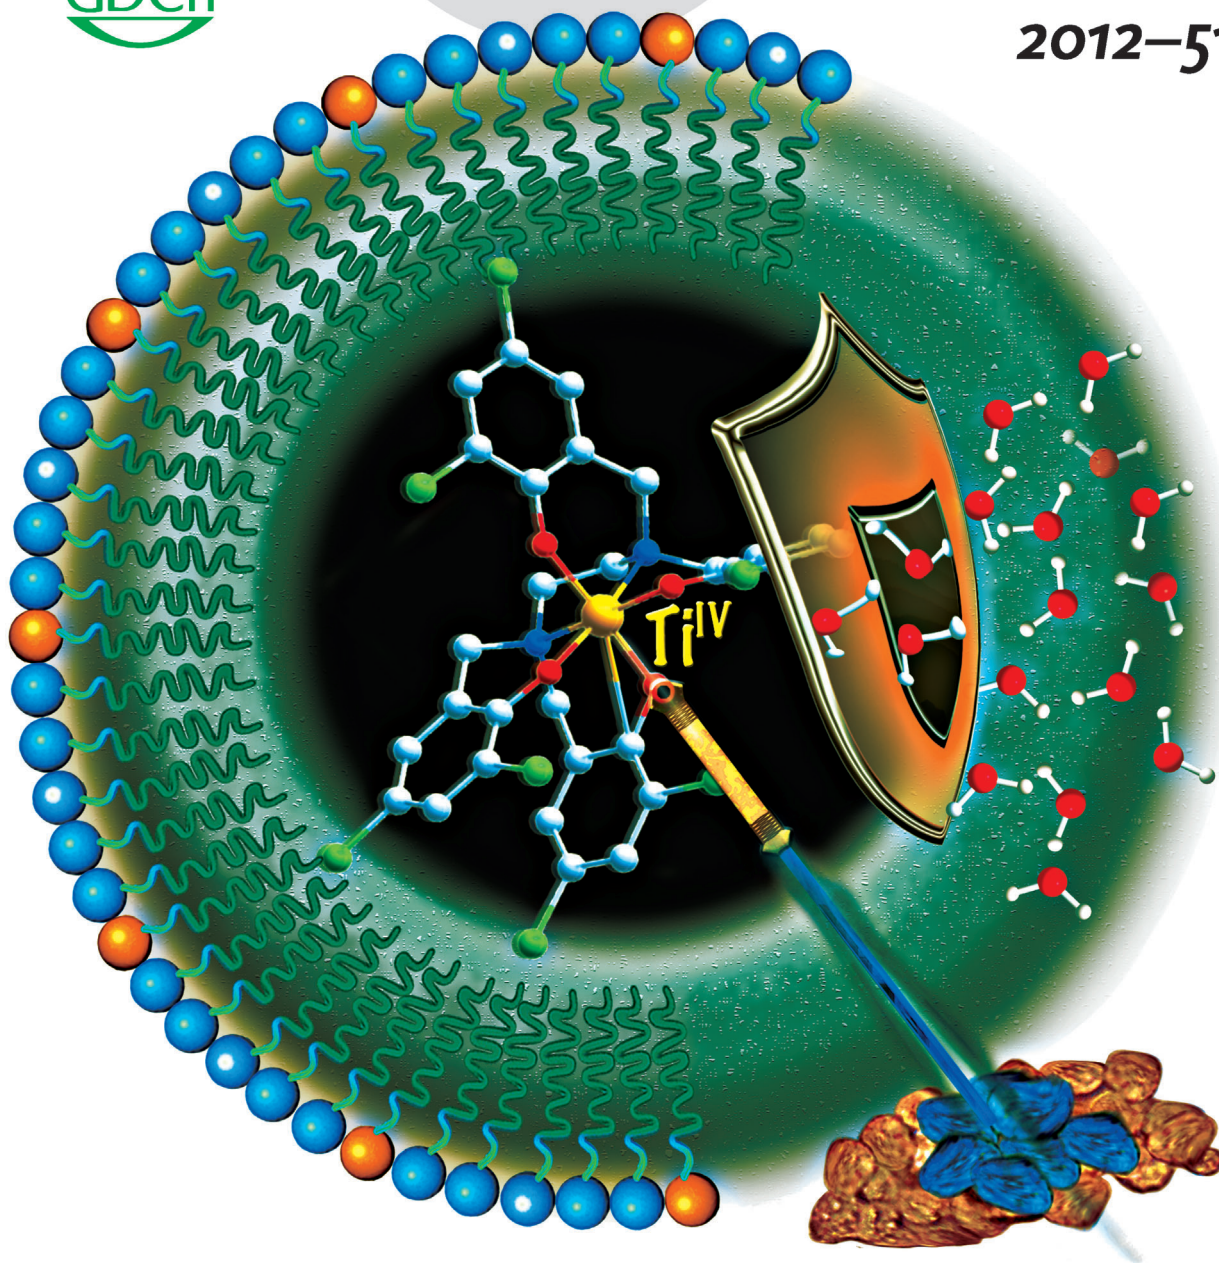

Angewandte Chemie

International Edition

www.angewandte.org

2012–51/42

Anticancer metallodrugs ...

... based on biologically friendly titanium(IV) offer attractive alternatives to currently used platinum-based chemotherapy. In their Communication on page 10515 ff., E. Y. Tshuva, S. Magdassi, et al. present the high anticancer activity of water-resistant salan-titanium(IV) compounds when formulated into nanoparticles. A cellular active species was also identified.

 WILEY-VCH