

A Journal of the Gesellschaft Deutscher Chemiker

Angewandte Chemie

GDCh

International Edition

www.angewandte.org

2015–54/5

The unique sensitivity ...

... of positron annihilation lifetime spectroscopy to subtleties in the pore connectivity of hierarchically structured MFI zeolites reveals the direct correlation with the catalyst longevity in the conversion of methanol to hydrocarbons, as shown by J. Pérez-Ramírez et al. in their Communication on page 1591 ff. Artwork: concept A. Gallardo, illustration M. Reich.

WILEY-VCH