

150 years

We create chemistry

How can you make chemical storage of energy efficient for stationary applications?

Submit your ideas to the Creator Space Innovation Contest

To celebrate its 150th anniversary, BASF is connecting people and ideas to find solutions to some of the world's most pressing problems.

For further information on the Innovation Contest, please visit the website or use the QR code.

www.basf.com/energy-contest

For further information on how BASF is addressing energy challenges in its anniversary year, please visit:

www.creator-space.basf.com

