

A Journal of the Gesellschaft Deutscher Chemiker

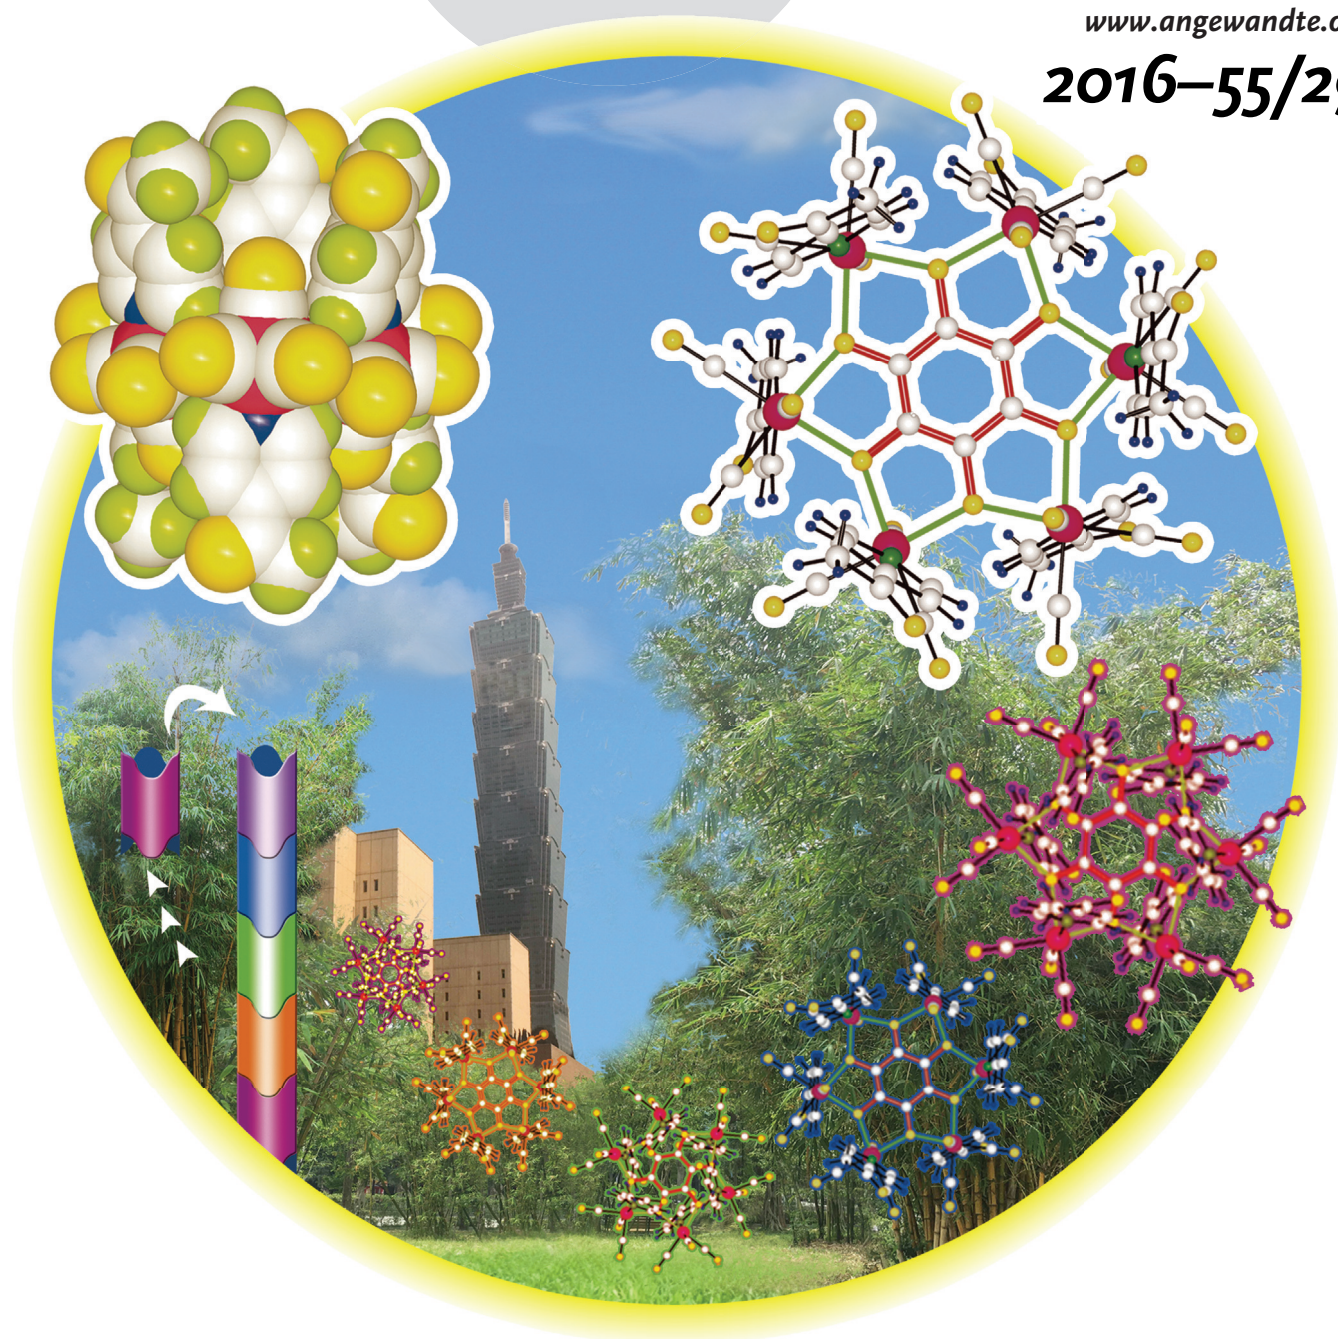

Angewandte Chemie

GDCh

International Edition

www.angewandte.org

2016–55/29

The Star of David ...

... is the structural motif of important doubly tri-legged structures that can be stacked together by applying lock-and-key strategies. In their Communication on page 8343 ff., T. W. Tseng, K. L. Lu, and co-workers show how this approach can lead to the systematic construction of dissectible bamboo-like metal organic tubes (resembling the form of the tower Taipei 101).

WILEY-VCH