International Society for Antiviral Research

A new society, the 'International Society for Antiviral Research' has been organized for the purpose of the promotion and advancement of scientific knowledge among international investigators working in this important area. Membership is open to all individuals interested in antiviral research.

Second International Conference on Antiviral Research

April 10-14, 1988 Williamsburg, West Virginia, U.S.A.

The purpose of the conference is to provide an interdisciplinary forum at which investigators involved in basic and clinical research worldwide can meet together to discuss new developments in antiviral research. Specific topics to be addressed include: drug synthesis and in vitro evaluation, mechanism of action, utilization of molecular biology for drug targeting, viral resistance, pharmacology, immunotherapy, animal models and clinical trials. Topic areas will be introduced by 'keynote' speakers followed by oral and poster presentations.

For information regarding submission of abstracts, registration, housing and travel, please contact:
