

The Seventh International Conference on Antiviral Research
27 February – 4 March 1994
Omni Hotel
Charleston, South Carolina, USA

The Seventh International Conference on Antiviral Research will be held at the Omni Hotel in Charleston, South Carolina, USA. The Omni Hotel at Charleston Place offers genuine southern hospitality and is located on the corner of Charleston's famous 18th century historic Market. Attendees will be within walking distance of elegant colonial homes, fine restaurants, and entertainment ranging from theatrical stage plays to jazz dance bands. Tours, shopping, and beautiful Charleston Harbor parks are only blocks away from the hotel

Lovingly preserved for over 300 years, Charleston, South Carolina is one of the most historic and romantic cities in the United States. The city's architecture and cobblestone streets whisper an age of elegance that is no more. It is unequalled in quality of life for both residents and guests

Located on its coast are lush beach resorts with championship golf and tennis facilities. The 1991 Ryder Cup Ocean Course at Kiawah Island as well as the internationally ranked Wild Dunes' Links Course is available to the avid golfer

Charleston proudly possesses beautiful antebellum plantations built by early American aristocracy instrumental in molding the nation. Formal gardens landscaped two centuries ago rival those of Europe

The cultural hub of the Southeast, Charleston annually hosts Spoleto, the International Festival of the Performing Arts. Well known for its artistic heritage, Charleston continues to be associated with both the elegant and relaxed life styles. The city truly represents one of the most intimate and exciting sites to host special events and meetings.