Volume 272, Number 1 (2000), in the article “Improved Expression of Vascular Endothelial Growth Factor by Naked DNA in Mouse Skeletal Muscles: Implication for Gene Therapy of Ischemic Diseases,” by YoungJoo Lee, Eun Jin Park, Seung Shin Yu, Duk-Kyung Kim, and Sunyoung Kim, pages 230–235 (doi:10.1006/bbrc.2000.2758): On page 232, in Fig. 2 it was reported that Kan (kanamycin resistance gene) was located between the hatched box (promoter) and ColEI (E. coli origin of replication). However, this is incorrect. Kan should be placed between pA (poly A tract) and ColEI (E. coli origin of replication). The figure legend was correct as printed. For the reader's convenience, the corrected figure and legend are printed below.
