

Corrigendum

Corrigendum to “Cautions in the use of biomarkers of oxidative damage; the vascular and antioxidant effects of dark soy sauce in humans” [Biochem. Biophys. Res. Commun. 344 (2006) 906–911]

Chung-Yung J. Lee, Helen B. Isaac, Huansong Wang, Shan Hong Huang, Lee-Hua Long, Andrew M. Jenner, Ronan P. Kelly¹, Barry Halliwell^{*}

National University of Singapore, Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine, Department of Biochemistry, 8 Medical Drive, Singapore 117597, Singapore

Available online 24 May 2006

In Fig. 1, the Y axis labels were omitted from the graphs. The correct figure appears here.

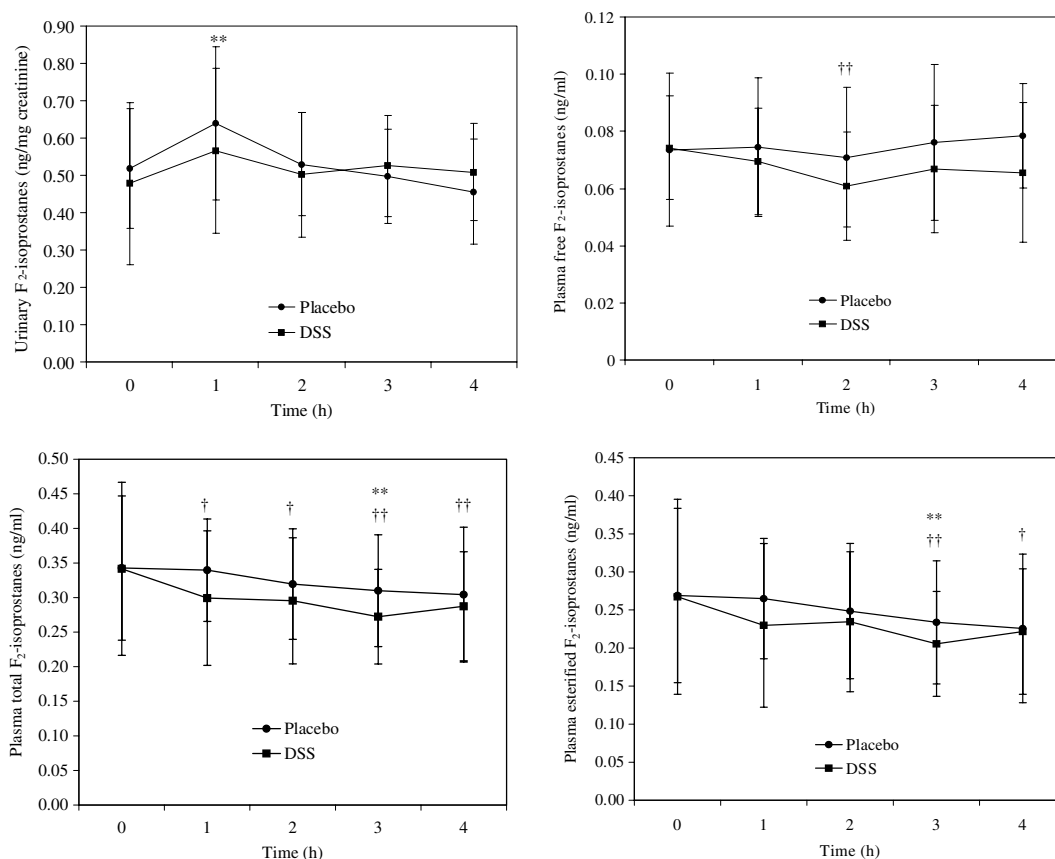

Fig. 1. Urinary and plasma F₂-isoprostanes concentrations after placebo and dark soy sauce meal. Paired, two-tailed Student's t tests indicate significance at p < 0.01 versus 0 h placebo; †significance at p < 0.05 and †† at p < 0.01 versus 0 h DSS.

DOI of original article: 10.1016/j.bbrc.2006.03.217.

^{*} Corresponding author. Fax: +65 6779 1453.

E-mail address: bchbh@nus.edu.sg (B. Halliwell).

¹ National University Hospital, Department of Medicine, Lower Kent Ridge Road, Singapore.