The Managing Editors and the Publisher of Biochimica et Biophysica Acta (BBA) are pleased to announce that Professor Yasuo Kagawa has accepted the position of Managing Editor of BBA.

From now on, manuscripts may be submitted directly to the office of Professor Y. Kagawa at the following address:

Department of Biochemistry
Jichi Medical School
Minamikawachi, Kawachi-gun
Tochigi-ken, 329-04, Japan
Fax: (285) 441827

Manuscripts submitted to this office will be subject to the same rigorous international reviewing procedure to ensure a continuing high standard of published papers. Professor Kagawa's office will be linked electronically with other BBA editorial offices and databases in Amsterdam, Oxford, Dundee and Boston, ensuring that all offices will share the same information, thereby providing an efficient service to our authors. We hope that this step may further contribute to the attractiveness of BBA to those scientists wishing to present their best work – in the areas of biochemistry, biophysics and molecular biology – to an international audience.

All authors are welcome to utilize this new Japanese Receiving Centre, but we would especially like to encourage and invite our colleagues in the Far East to make use of the facilities this office can offer.

The Managing Editors and the Publisher welcome Professor Kagawa in his new position.
