It's No Draw...in Omaha

KMTV is the one TV station that can help you bag your sales "limit" in the booming Omaha market.

And this Fall, KMTV's continuing leadership gets still another big boost from direct telecasts of N.C.A.A. and Professional football, the Midwest's leading TV bowling show, the area's most popular local programs, plus the best Fall shows from three great networks—CBS-TV, ABC-TV, and DuMont. Never before has KMTV offered viewers such a star-studded TV bill-of-fare.

Proof of KMTV's overwhelming popularity is shown in the latest Pulse*. KMTV carries 13 of the top 15 weekly shows, 7 of the top 10 multi-weekly shows, Omaha's most popular locally-produced show, and a commanding lead in all time classes.

As a result of this continuing leadership, KMTV serves more local and more national advertisers than any other TV station in the Missouri Valley market. To learn more about this television bargain, contact your Petry man or KMTV today.

THOUGH NARTB officials aren't saying so, they fear real government crack-down on beer-wine advertising if broadcasters don't supply information requested in questionnaire mailed by NARTB last week (see story page 56). Association chieftains feel FCC will be forced to show of strength if NARTB doesn't come up voluntarily with report on how much beer-wine advertising is carried and how it's handled.

STEPPED UP tempo in behalf of pay-as-you-go tv may result in scheduling of proceedings before FCC sooner than anticipated. Recent statement by Sen. Schoepel (R-Kan.) published in Congressional Record [B•T, Sept. 6] plus revived activity of Zenith (Phonevision) and upcoming investigation of Bricker Committee may converge to bring issue to forefront.

FOUR-MAN committee to select executive staff of Television Bureau of Advertising Inc. (TvB) is immersed in its screening job but it's learned that door is still open for top posts. To be selected by group, which has $400,000 preliminary budget, will be president; No. 2 man, who would be overall director of sales activity, and heads of local sales, national spot sales and network sales, plus director of research.

While formidable list of candidates under consideration, committee nevertheless is known to desire broadest possible personnel base. Four-man committee comprises Clair R. McCollough, Richard A. Moore, Campbell Arnoux and Roger Clipp.

WITH screen size in color tv picture tubes coming in for more and more attention, tube manufacturers shortly will get chance to work on development of rectangular one which, if perfected, would have picture area of 250 square inches ("approximately" 22-inch screen) and yet fit into cabinet of same size now required for 19-inch circular tube. Corning Glass Works, at behest of several manufacturers, including CBS, has developed and is now producing rectangular glass envelopes for either curved aperture mask or wired-grid type and plans to "sample" them to tube manufacturers about Nov. 1.

ANSWER to Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff's dismal view of economic outlook for network radio will be forthcoming from Edgar Kobak, consultant, former president of Mutual and vice president of NBC, and currently owner of WTTA Thomson, Ga., while doubling in brass (without compensation) as president of Advertising Research Foundation. He will propose reasoned approach to radio sales problem based on his years of sales experience.

MOTION PICTURE interests in tv broadcasting, notably uhf, see in present situation possible parallel to conditions which resulted in consent decree separating production from exhibition companies and eliminating block booking. They contend that ultimately government will move to preclude situation where single station market vhf has first refusal on programs of all networks while uhf's may be left without national program service.

District 1 Attacks Government Restraints

GOVERNMENT steps to impose restraints on political broadcasts and radio-tv advertising and to ban electronic media from public proceedings were condemned Friday by NARTB District 1 in resolutions adopted at conclusion of opening district meeting (roundup story page 48).

New England broadcasters "strongly opposed" national and local attempts to place discriminatory bans on radio-tv advertising on behalf of legal products and services.

District delegates saw "urgent need" for continuing NARTB study of constitutionality of political section (315) of Communications Act, and noted possible discrimination in fact other mass media have no such regulations. NARTB is working on a revision of its political catechism in view of recent FCC rules.

In discussion of subject, broadcasters were warned of problem involved in special rates for groups of candidates buying time on pooled basis, with such rates also applying to any opposing candidate or candidates (see story page 64).

District 1 "strongly opposed" record company practice of supplying 45 rpm discs; urged stations to maintain standards of self-regulatory radio and tv codes; urged President Eisenhower to name permanent FCC chairman; called for national and local effort to find solution to problem of daylight saving time; praised NARTB President Harold E. Fellows and staff for contribution to meeting.

World Broadcasting System Banks on Radio Prosperity

BUDGET increases of 48% for additional programming, script writers and talent have been set for coming 1954-55 season, reaffirming faith in local and regional radio "as an important advertising medium," Herbert Gordon, vice president in charge of programs, World Broadcasting System, said Friday.

Mr. Gordon, in New York from West Coast to meet with WBS vice president Robert W. Freidheim, general manager Pierre Weis and sales manager Dick Lawrence, said World's new signings include Dorothy Lamour to star in special Christmas half-hour open-end dramatic show; Charlie Applewhite, Sauter-Finnegan orchestra, Buddy Morrow and orchestra, Day Dreamers trio and Les Brown and orchestra. Renewals include Three Suns, Cass County Boys, David Rose and orchestra, Ken Griffin and Fontane Sisters.

No FCC Beer Quiz Now

FCC does not expect to send out questionnaires to broadcasters at this time to secure time and program data for House Commerce Committee on beer and wine advertising, FCC Chairman Rosel H. Hyde said Friday. "I expect we'll have our work to do, but we'll avoid any duplication with NARTB," Mr. Hyde said, adding that Commission had made several suggestions to NARTB during earlier FCC-NARTB conferences regarding contents of form (see story, page 56). NARTB Friday said queries were to be in mail by today (Mon.) with return asked by Oct. 11.

PREACHING PRACTICED

RADIO station representative Richard O'Connell, New York, is so sold on use of radio that his firm has bought spot announcements on WPAT Patterson, N. J., to solicit national advertising accounts for its southwestern and north-eastern stations. Representative firm believes that so many timebuyers, account executives and advertisers listen to Gaslight Review on WPAT that specific spots on show would attract attention of these people to merits of Sombra Network, composed of seven southwestern stations, and Lobster Network, six stations in Maine.

New Hurricane Alerts East Coast Radio-Tv

RADIO and tv networks and stations along East Coast alerted Friday for extensive when-and-if coverage of Hurricane "Edna," expected to strike at Long Island-New Jersey coastal areas early Saturday.

NBC-TV reported Friday its network facilities would open Saturday at 9 a.m. EDT instead of customary early-afternoon. It planned to send mobile crews for live coverage of hurricane from Atlantic City, several points in metropolitan New York area, Larchmont, N.Y., and Brockton, Mass. Extensive film coverage also planned.

CBS-TV was preparing to send camera crews to Long Island for live coverage and CBS Newsfilm team also was alerted. CBS Radio presented special report on Edward R. Murrow and the News Friday night, featuring report by Mr. Murrow on hurricane progress as he witnessed it from U. S. Air Force B-29 following "Edna" from Wednesday until Friday.

ABC-TV reported it had remote camera crews ready, and ABC Radio laid plans for on-spot coverage.

DuMont's WABD (TV) New York planned to present frequent bulletins on hurricane progress and also telecast special Operation Hurricane program Friday night in which public utilities officials offered tips to public on how to prepare for storm's onslaught.

KMAC, KONO Controversy Continues Before Examiner

FIGHT between KMAC and KONO San Antonio for new tv station on ch. 12 went into final rounds Friday before FCC Examiner James D. Cunningham with testimony by James R. Duncan, private detective charged by Federal government with impersonating FCC official while soliciting credit data about KMAC backers [B•T, July 5].

Mr. Duncan affirmed his orders for investigation of KMAC came from Hugh Caterson, his associate in investigation firm of Texas Industrial Surveys, and asserted that he received no instructions from KONO on manner or technique of investigation to be employed.

Mr. Duncan previously was reported to have been arrested on impersonation charge which is to go before grand jury in October.

Mr. Caterson, testifying before Mr. Duncan, recalled request by KONO principal for investigation of KMAC. He said KONO neither specified nor discussed investigation technique and indicated KONO was not aware that he (Caterson) had turned case over to Mr. Duncan until report was made.

Under cross-examination Friday afternoon KMAC owner Howard W. Davis admitted he filed estimated income tax declaration for 1954 giving figure of "none," since he did not know what KMAC profit will be and he could file amended return. KONO counsel noted KMAC net in 1953 was $43,000 on which $11,000 tax was paid, and questioned Mr. Davis about commitments of $123,000 already made on 1954 profit, including $25,000 for tv. Cross-examination will continue today (Mon.).

Facilities for new station on 1470 kc with 1 kw at Adel requested by Cook County Broadcasting Co.

Another Vhf Quits

KTLV (TV) Rapid City, S. D., assigned ch. 7 and sole tv authorization there, surrendered permit to FCC Friday. Hills Broadcasting Co., permittee, gave no reason for decision. Total of 94 permits have been returned (17 vhf, 77 uhf).

BUDGET TROUBLE

HEARING on four hotly-contested applications for ch. 13 at Indianapolis, scheduled to commence today (Monday) before FCC Examiner Millard French, indefinitely postponed by Commission Broadcast Bureau at almost five o'clock Friday with announcement examiner couldn't finish case since his tenure with FCC ends Sept. 30 because of expiration of supplemental tv funds. Action left lawyers scrambling to rearrange business plans of some 40 witnesses. Applicants are WIRE, WIBC, Mid-West TV Corp. and Crosley Broadcasting Corp. Some half-dozen hearing conferences already had been held with examiner who also first learned of his situation Friday. FCC week earlier in budget action terminated service of another examiner, Claire Hardy, now with Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare. Third examiner, John Poindexter, to be separated Sept. 30.

NARTB Asks ID Rule Change

PETITION asking FCC rule-making proceedings toward amendment of Sec. 3.652(a) of its rules, dealing with tv station identifications, filed Friday by NARTB. Association asked FCC amend requirement that IDs at beginning and ending of each time of operation be both visual and aural to allow either visual or aural IDs, not necessarily both.

BROADCASTING • TELECASTING

The industrial pageant of our busy Ohio River Valley presents many spectacles that are as arresting to the eye as its statistics on industrial output are appealing to the mind. In both cases, fact consistently outstrips fiction.

No visitors from outer space, these flood-lit spheres are actually part of one multi-million dollar oil refinery, working twice around the clock each day to provide fuels and lubricants for a mechanized America. It is only one of the hundreds of manufacturing plants that give steady employment and spendable prosperity to the million families who live and work in our industrial heart of the nation.

Two facts, we think, are significant to you: (1) These people spend over two and a half billion dollars a year for things they want. (2) The only advertising medium that, singlehanded, gives intensive coverage of this whole 116-county area is WSAZ-TV.

Whatever you're selling, with WSAZ-TV you can show and talk about it right in the front parlors of over 400,000 TV homes across five states. You can do this with the knowledge (and immediate results) that your message is more persuasive for being delivered by a well-known, well-liked friend. The proof is abundant — as the nearest Katz office will be glad to show you.

Latest methods and modern equipment combine to make this giant oil refinery near Ashland, Ky., an important producer of petroleum products. It is operated by the Ashland Oil & Refining Company, and is another example of the great industrial diversity throughout WSAZ-TV's 116-county area.

DEAR PHOEBE

Network: NBC-TV
Time: Fri., 9:30-10 p.m. EDT
Cast: Peter Lawford, Marcia Henderson, Charles Lane, Joe Corey Producer: Alex Gottlieb
Director: Don Weis
Writer: Alex Gottlieb
Location: Filmed in Hollywood
Sponsor: Campbell Soup Co.
Agency: BBDO
Estimated Production Costs: Approximately $30,000 per program

THAT producer Alex Gottlieb has come up with a new and different tv comedy series cannot be denied by those who tangled with Dear Phoebe Friday via NBC-TV. The literal minded may question the reported newness of any situation comedy, but Mr. Gottlieb, also the creator-writer, has taken a format concerning a masculine writer of advice to the lovelorn, a feminine sportswriter and the usual irritable managing editor (he's always irritable on celluloid!) and treated them in a slightly mad fashion. In fact, Dear Phoebe has a quality which might best be described as fey.

Peter Lawford, as the ex-professor of the psychology of human relations who becomes the newspaper's "Phoebe Goodheart," carries on in the fine tradition established by Cary Grant and Fred MacMurray. While Marcia Henderson does not yet have the comic sense of a Jean Arthur or Irene Dunne, her sportswriter has enough to add more than just decor and will probably end up giving "Phoebe" a run for his/her money.

The irascible managing editor, portrayed by Charles Lane, and the brash copyboy, enacted by Joe Corey, are examples of the stereotype exploded by means of witty dialogue and character delineation. Another "natural" appears to be director Don Weis, who along with Mr. Lawford should cause M-G-M to do a slow burn that these two are no longer under contract.

Campbell Soup, which showed spirit in buying the series immediately upon viewing the pilot, and BBDO, which lost no time in hustling it to Camden for said viewing, ran the gamut in the commercials. For those the animated soup cans didn't sell, there was a live middle commercial. Any laggards should have been captured by the closing bit, done in the same vein as the entertainment portion and featuring actors Lawford and Lane.

At the risk of injecting a sour note, these canned laugh tracks have got to go. If a person sees something funny, he'll chuckle, hoot or roll on the floor without any sneaky prodding.

LOVE OF LIFE

Network: CBS-TV
Director: Larry Auerbach
Producer: Richard Dunn
Writer: John D. Hess
Executive Producer of Color: Richard Lewine
On Air: Mon.-Fri., 12:15-12:30 p.m. Colorcast, Sept. 8 only.
Star: Peggy McCay
Sponsor: American Home Products Corp.
Agency: Blow Co.
Production Costs: $8,500 gross weekly

IF COLOR is going to add anything to tv's daytime serials it will be in displaying the clothes of the female characters to the predominantly feminine audience. In the Sept. 8 colorcast of Love of Life the gowns of the heroine, her sister and her best friend certainly showed up more attractively in color than they would have in black-and-white.

The addition of color did not extend the action of this installment of the drama, which utilized the entire 15 minutes to introduce the brother of the hero, a surly individual who is obviously "up to no good" and who seems likely to interfere with the plans of his brother and the heroine for an early marriage. But experience has proved this to be just about the perfect pace for a daytime drama and it doubtless would be unwise to let the addition of color disturb this basic factor.

No soap opera fan, this masculine reviewer sees little likelihood that color will do anything to change his attitude. And he's sure the sponsor couldn't care less.

THE DUKE

Network: NBC-TV
Time: Fridays, 8-8:30 p.m. EDT and (kinescoped) PDT; 7-7:30 p.m. CDT
Star: Paul Gilbert
Cast: Claud Stroud, Allen Jenkins
Producer: William Harmon
Director: Sid Smith
Staged by: Charles Isaacs
Writers: Charles Isaacs, Jack Elinson
Technical Director: Ross Miller
Art Direction: Frank Swig
Music: Lou Bring
NBC Executive Producer: Pete Barnum
Sponsor: Sustaining
Origination: El Capitan Theatre, Hollywood

THE UNDENIABLE comic gifts of Paul Gilbert occasionally manage to slip through the script of NBC-TV's The Duke series, but it's a tough fight against poor material all the way.

Whoever foisted this weekly affair off on Mr. Gilbert done him dirt. Charles Isaacs and Jack Elinson are to be credited, if that is the correct word, as the writers, with Mr. Isaacs also staging The Duke. Perhaps it is unfair to single out these gentlemen, but it should be recorded that the collection of tired cliches and stereotypes gathered for this script is second to none in the history of American entertainment.

Briefly, The Duke concerns itself with the efforts of a good natured and somewhat naive boxing champion to establish a new life for himself outside of the ring after his retirement. The running situation is the conflict between his desire for "culture," represented by his effeminate and stuffy business manager, and the rough, simple virtues of his past, represented by his none-too-bright former trainer. Claud Stroud and Allen Jenkins, respectively, undertake these roles, but although fine troupers, are too often betrayed by their material.

By now Mr. Gilbert should know that situation comedy, at least this situation comedy, is not his dish of tea.

Better luck, and better writers, next time.

ELECTROACOUSTICS, by Frederick V. Hunt, Harvard U. Press-John Wiley & Sons, New York. 260 pp., $6.

DESPITE its formidable title, it is a simple thing that Prof. Hunt has done. He has pulled together all the literature, historical as well as technical, on the subject of electroacoustic transduction—the art of converting electrical energy into sound and vice versa.

Of interest to the layman are the first 90 pages, which recount the early days of electrostatic induction with Leyden jars in the 18th Century, the electro static and electromagnetic history of the telegraph, the telephone, and Pickard's and Fessenden's work with radio. The chapter is notable for being based almost entirely on original sources, including Patent Office records. It contains some new historical information on the development of crystal oscillators and dynamic loudspeakers, among other subjects.

A Potent Force

EDITOR:

We heartily agree with your Aug. 23 editorial that news direction deserves a place high up on the administrative level of a radio and television station. The steps taken recently by a major network are important strides in the continuing fight for greater realization of the role news plays in the radio broadcasting industry.

We, at WHLI, have for years realized the importance of our news department. From the very outset we formed the WHLI News Bureau, a separate and distinct department with its own administrative head. The director of news at WHLI is part of the management policy team and sits in on all higher level operational decisions.

For years the WHLI News Bureau has spoken out editorially (through straight editorials and documentaries) on important community issues. It was made clear to our audience that these were station editorials. It is our belief that remarkable progress has been achieved, through these documentaries, in correcting community problems and by reflecting the thinking of the community in important situations.

We believe that further recognition of news at radio and television stations will depend upon the degree of importance given the news departments at the stations throughout the country. Radio journalism is a potent force in a station's operation and should be exploited by broadcasters to its fullest.

Boo-Boo

EDITOR:

In your Aug. 23 issue in the stations personnel section, somebody "pulled a boo-boo" completely. The head of our company, Lawrence H. Rogers, is quoted as being "news director of WEAU-TV Eau Claire, Wis., to station [WSAZ-TV] as announcer."

Lawrence H. Rogers is vice president and general manager of WSAZ Inc. The announcer coming in from Wisconsin was one Bob Burnham.

Plaques and People

EDITOR:

The idea of a plaque commemorating the gallant deeds of American radiocasters in the BBC wartime underground studios [B•T, Aug. 23, 2] is most excellent. And I think Ed Murrow would be the first to suggest that services of his colleagues, Fred Bates of NBC and George Hickey of ABC, not go unmentioned in the dispatches.

Further thought might also be given to the installation of a suitable plaque in the radio-room of Mansion Agriculture, in Algiers, North Africa, where Maj. Al Wharfield and his Army staff set up the first voice link for radio and press following the North African landings and subsequent campaign. It was here that NBC's Merrill Mueller and his then CBS colleague, John Daly, distinguished themselves with many heroic exploits to overcome the primitive communications conditions.

Equally important is the famed Pacific "Patchwork" set up at Guam and other islands and Abe Schecter's floating communications ship. Abe and my Army colleague Jack Harris (now KPRC-TV Houston) and my Navy opposite number Jack Hartley (WEWS [TV] Cleveland) would have much to add as they were there and did the job.

Plaques without people are meaningless. If the Dept. of Defense and State Dept. are well advised they would consider inviting the different correspondents and their former Army and Navy colleagues to participate in the appropriate ceremonies at the appropriate places.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: B•T's editorial proposal that American broadcasters who used BBC's facilities during the war might well emulate their European brothers in presenting a commemorative plaque of thanks led Howard L. Chernoff, WTAP (TV) Parkersburg, to start a fund, naming B•T as treasurer. Checks should be made payable to B•T BBC Plaque Fund.]

Changing Times

EDITOR:

One of the more predominate problems existing in station management in the Midwest is the problem of time change in the East Coast and the adjustment of local and network shows to the change of Eastern Daylight to Eastern Standard. This change is overshadowed, however, by the request we had from a young lady in Searcy, Ark., and I quote:

"A lot of girls and I have been looking at the stories in the morning, the names of the stories are Valiant Lady, Love of Life, Search for Tomorrow, Guiding Light, Portia Faces Life, and Seeking Heart. We are all starting to school Sept. 7 so if it would be at all possible please change the stories to 3:30 or 4:00 in the afternoon. We will be very happy."

So the station relation boys think they are having problems. They should try and tackle this one.

Laugh Starvation

EDITOR:

Television this year will see the greatest amount of so-called situation and variety comedy shows ever unreeled, with every network exposing new products designed to capture the I Love Lucy and Jackie Gleason ratings.

But with the expansion of the comedy screenings on tv, the public may find themselves overwhelmed with old, old jokes. The time has come for the networks and advertising agencies to band their efforts to discover and develop comedy writers, much like every other institutional industry tries to nurture its best talents.

There is a ready-made "institution" for this effort: The National Assn. of Gagwriters is starting its 10th semester on Sept. 15 and will meet every Wednesday night for 44 weeks after that. The Comedy Workshop is preparing to open counterparts in principal cities throughout the country.

Are the networks and advertising agencies ready to offer their cooperation and thus save

ACLU on Open Hearings

EDITOR:

Our attention has been drawn to the story in your July 12 issue concerning the testimony of the American Civil Liberties Union before the Senate Rules Committee considering fair procedures for congressional investigating committees. . . . Your report is incorrect in stating that this is a reversal of the ACLU's position. The official policy, announced by the Union on April 10, 1953, says:

"The ACLU, after consideration of the desirability of both freedom of communication and the safeguarding of due process, believes that proper rules for the conduct of legislative hearings should be adopted and a satisfactory practice established before the filming, broadcasting and televising of such hearings is permitted. Protection should also be found for a person who is attacked by irresponsible, willing witnesses.

"Once fair rules and practices are established, the ACLU will support democratic freedom of communication with respect to legislative hearings."

The transcript, p. 463, of Mr. Angell's [Ernest Angell, ACLU board chairman] testimony supports this policy. . . .

The Union supplemented its regular policy on Aug. 11, when it urged Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, chairman of the committee investigating charges against Senator McCarthy, to reconsider its ban on radio-television. The ACLU said that since he had announced that fair rules of procedure would govern the conduct of the hearings, there was no need to ban radio-tv from the hearing room.

Alan Reitman, Asst. Dir.
ACLU, New York

A Compliment

EDITOR:

Your editorial in the Aug. 23 issue concerning the Bryson Bill seems to infer that the chief aim of radio and tv is monetary and any advertising that brings in the money is therefore good and should be supported, lobbied for and pushed on to the public. The interests of the public, their children and community life are incidental.

The reference to coffee, tea and cola advertising is unreasonable and greatly weakens your argument. It merely shows you are having a hard time trying to find legitimate reasons to support your position so you must deal in absurdities.

I think you are wise to warn the industry concerning their self-regulation policies. We do not wish to be unreasonable, but we have no sympathy for the manufacturers and dispensers of that which causes human wreckage. We are not fighting the fellow who drinks it—he needs help. . . .

It is a compliment to radio and tv that their liquor advertising is being questioned at this time, because it proves that radio and tv advertising is much more effective to a much larger audience than newspaper or magazine ads. . . .

to FREDERIC MALCOLM WARING

FRED WARING is a master musician and showman whose success can be attributed to his sensitive judgment of audience reaction. His reputation in the radio-tv field as head of the famed choral group, the Pennsylvanians, is well known. But his contribution to the music of America has not stopped here.

Mr. Waring has been described as a perfectionist—a word he dislikes. He is revered by those with whom he works. He is an individualist who works best under pressure and knows exactly what he wants and demands it. Often he will change an entire sequence—dances, songs and all—just a few hours before his Sunday evening tv show because he feels his Pennsylvanians are not delivering their best work in a particular act.

It is said concert managers for his tours are frequently alarmed because he doesn't release a program listing of songs to be publicized prior to a concert. But herein lies the Waring magic. Mr. Waring, during the early minutes of a concert, watches and listens to audience reaction, and selects songs from the Pennsylvanians' voluminous repertoire "as he goes along." Each concert is different and the Pennsylvanians, as well as the audience, are kept on their toes.

Frederic Malcolm Waring was born June 9, 1900, at Tyrone, Pa. While a college student at Penn State, studying architectural engineering, he was not considered good enough to join the glee club.

Mr. Waring has strived to combine a fine choral group and orchestra with unusual staging and attractive costumes. Starting with his college days he has played proms, movie houses, motion picture engagements, a trip to Europe, a six months' engagement at New York's Roxy theatre and is a 30-year veteran in the commercial recording field.

His entry into radio followed many disappointments. In the early thirties advertisers were extremely wary of choral groups. Mr. Waring was told, "They're fine for Sunday morning, but for a regular nighttime series—definitely not."

But in 1933, Old Gold cigarettes took a chance for a year and put the Pennsylvanians on CBS. Mr. Waring and his group caught on. His subsequent sponsors during 20 years of top radio-tv musical entertainment include Ford, Grove's Laboratories, Chesterfield, Owens-Illinois and General Electric. Mr. Waring's morning NBC shows were sponsored by American Meat Institute, Green Giant, Johnson's Wax and the Florida Citrus Commission.

Mr. Waring's entry into television, on CBS-TV Easter Sunday 1949, followed General Electric's two-year sponsorship of a half-hour evening radio show. Among the innovations he made was to eliminate the studio audience to enlarge facilities and allow a 360-degree camera range.

Of the many Waring enterprises, his favorite is the Fred Waring Music Workshop. Each summer, some 700 choral directors visit his Workshop, three miles from Mr. Waring's Shawnee-on-Delaware (Pa.) home, to study with him and his staff the Waring techniques of choral music and its direction.

Among his many other contributions to the field of professional, educational and industrial music are: a carefully-documented study of music education for the very young; a two-year national study of music attitudes among teen-agers, which was of top value to music educators and radio-tv programming; a project with Stanford U. and Dr. Edward K. Strong Jr. in instituting and financing the first application to the professional music field, both performing and teaching, of the university's Vocational Interest Research.

Along with his many successes, history also records one Waring failure. This was his crusade to secure for musicians the right to control the use of their recorded performances. As head of the National Assn. of Performing Artists, Mr. Waring in 1935 sued WDAS Philadelphia for the unauthorized broadcast of his phonograph records. When an injunction preventing WDAS from airing Waring records without his permission was upheld by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, NAPA started a similar suit in the name of Paul Whiteman against WNEW New York.

RCA intervened in this suit, claiming that any performing rights in recordings should belong to the recording company rather than the performer. Overruling the Federal District Court in New York, the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ended the Waring campaign by deciding that broadcasters could freely purchase and use recordings without permission from either company or artist.

To Fred Waring, "firsts" have never been a novelty. His Pennsylvanians were the first to utilize a vocal chorus on records and they also recorded the first rhumba tune. His radio-tv shows, which try to combine the originality of youth and the well-staged production of a veteran showman, have received many awards.

At his Shawnee home, he collects antiques and plays golf as often as is possible. His flair for remodeling and continually improving his properties, as well as his music strategies, come naturally. And even in his moments of relaxation he is planning for the future of his Pennsylvanians and the Music Workshop, among other interests.

Dear Mr.

This is a complaint about your television station.

I have four children, two of them of an age where they need a little sleep. Your programs are keeping them up nights. My boy is nine years old. He plays in the local little league. He won't go to bed until he sees Tait tip over the losers in the Majors. The $%"@?& person that thought up that gimmick out to your TV station should be fired. It has the kind of visual appeal that intrigues adults, let alone unsuspecting children. How is my kid going to get his base knocks with your programs keeping him up all night?

Whenever Lanny Ross sings... wherever he goes... delighted audiences ask for more. And now, after time out for a smash-hit concert tour, he's stage-center once again in a bright new show of song,* easy conversation and favorite disks, every afternoon (Monday through Friday) on WCBS Radio. "The result is," according to Variety (August 11), "a soothing half-hour of good music. His taste in pop disks ranks with the best... He's easy on the between-the-disks patter, and his voice is as vibrant as ever... A pleasing entry to the housefrau audience!"

Such comment comes as no surprise. FAYTHE VENT

on all accounts

FAYTHE VENT, radio-tv director of Rhoades & Davis Advertising, Los Angeles, has accumulated a great deal of experience in many phases of the broadcasting industry since she started in radio during her college days.

A native Ohioan, she was announcer, music librarian and manager of the Tiffin, Ohio, remote studios of WFIN Finley, Ohio, while an undergraduate of Heidelberg College. Following her graduation with a degree in Speech and English in 1948, she moved to WHIO Dayton as a copywriter, became secretary to the operations director, then moved to WHIO-TV as assistant commercial producer when that station started in 1950.

Later that year Miss Vent entered the agency field as copywriter and timebuyer for Foster & Davis Inc., Cleveland, where she later became supervisor of film commercial production.

Moves to CBS Spot Sales

In 1951, she moved to CBS Spot Sales, Detroit, as secretary and "general all-around girl," but she recalls she left that city to migrate to sunny California on the very first day of the winter snows that year. During her first year there she was secretary to NBC singing star Dinah Shore.

In 1953, Miss Vent joined the Los Angeles office of Edward Petry Co., station representative. She assumed her present position with Rhoades & Davis last February.

The petite and perceptive Miss Vent believes that agencies themselves, with their insistence on adjacencies, are responsible for most of the present evils of double-and-triple spotting of commercials. "Personally," she says, "I like a participation show with a local personality who will endorse the product. That way the advertiser can gain an identification for the product he doesn't get with adjacent spots."

In radio, she likes daytime shows, also with a strong personality and a loyal following, but she believes in surveying each market separately to determine what draws best in that particular area.

A very busy girl, Miss Vent insists she never has had time to develop hobbies. She does like to entertain and attend parties, concerts and the theatre. On outdoor sports, she comments, "I'm scared of water, but I'm an excellent beach-sitter."

new, top-power VHF coverage of 1,000,000 carolinians

A great new area station will take the air in the Carolinas in early October—WBTW with studios and transmitter at Florence, South Carolina.

WBTW's Channel 8 is the only VHF allocation in a 75 mile radius. With 316,000 watts, the station will serve more than a million people within its computed 100 uv/m contour. Retail sales exceed a half billion dollars. As of November 1, 1953, sets in the WBTW area exceeded 69,000—a total which is expected to grow to 100,000 by debut time.

On its own, the WBTW area ranks fourth in population in the two Carolinas. When combined with WBTW, Charlotte, it creates VHF television coverage of 2 out of every 3 Carolinians.

KCSR 'Strikes Out' Polio

KCSR Chadron, Neb., pitched in with the local Kiwanis Club during a baseball telecast and raised nearly 10% of the emergency polio goal for Dawes County, the station reports. Five Kiwanians sat in on an all-star regional baseball game from the broadcast booth. A minimum of 10 one-dollar donations were required to allow each Kiwanian to give a play-by-play description of an inning. Pledges totaled $346 including a $10 donation given to an insurance agent to adlib a commercial for another agent.

And So to Sleep

KOL Seattle disc m.c. Bill Shela spent 48 hours on the air broadcasting from a downtown drugstore and from the street in front of the store in an appeal for funds for the Emergency March of Dimes. When his goal was reached Mr. Shela retired to the comfort of a waiting ambulance for a ride home to bed.

$9,000 Contribution

WBAL-TV Baltimore designed an Emergency March of Dimes campaign center and collected over $9,000 in two weeks from teenagers who visited the station as guests of Teen Canteen, afternoon dance party. Teenagers' aid was requested by State Senator George L. Radcliffe, State Chairman of the March of Dimes, who made his appeal in a speech over the station's facilities.

'Auctionthon'

WLAM-TV Lewiston-Auburn, Me., contributed its time and talent to a seven-hour Emergency Polio Fund campaign telethon which netted $915 to the drive. Two hundred items were donated by local citizens to be auctioned off over the air.

World's 'Record Talker'

CURLY DRUMM, commercial manager, KUDU Ventura, Calif., claims the world's record for continuous broadcasting by a single announcer with his stint of 110 hours, 10 minutes and 10 seconds during a recent marathon broadcast to raise funds to fight multiple sclerosis. Mr. Drumm said he read 800 commercials and played 3,000 records while consuming eight gallons of black coffee, two glasses of water, five chocolate bars, two beef sandwiches, three bowls of soup, a dish of gelatin and a piece of chocolate cake. He lost five pounds anyway.

MS 'Give-a-Thon'

KNXT (TV) Hollywood had received pledges of $163,000 in contributions for the Multiple Sclerosis fund by the end of its 17-hour Give-a-Thon. MS society officials reported collections "way ahead" of last year when the Give-a-Thon grossed $212,000 and they predicted that final contributions would exceed the amount pledged.

Pollution Series Acclaimed

WNBW (TV) Washington, D. C., has concluded its series of six half-hour telecasts exploring the causes of pollution in the Potomac river. The series, Our Beautiful Potomac, brought critical acclaim from local columnists, an American Legion citation of merit for the "father" of the series idea, plus being credited by the station with being instrumental in the signing of a sewage agreement between the District and Maryland, and reintroduction into Congress of a bill asking $40 million for new sewage treatment plants.

RADIO OUTLOOK FOR FALL: LOCAL TO GAIN, SPOT STEADY

Only network radio reveals a definite dip, with the uncertainty of the rate situation further complicating the picture.

LOCAL up; spot even or perhaps up a little; network down.

That's a quick summary of the outlook for radio business in the months ahead, according to B•T's sixth annual radio business preview.

BAB executives predict confidently that radio business placed at the local level will hit an all-time high this fall. SRA spokesmen, while admitting that many of radio's spot clients are transferring appropriations to tv, believe that there's enough new business in sight to balance the scale, if not tip it in the right direction.

Even on the network front the picture is not ineradicably black. At the moment it appears that the downward trend in radio network billings has not hit bottom. But the situation could be altered if projected but still unimposed nighttime rate cuts of around 20% were avoided.

In contrast to an anticipated 20 to 25% gain in network tv as estimated three weeks ago [B•T, Aug. 30], radio network business, as summarized in the table on this page, reveals the total number of hours sold this August by the four nationwide radio networks for this fall to have dipped some 19% below the total sold in August 1953.

The drop is consistent in both daytime and nighttime hours. Only exception to the general decline in total business is that of ABC Radio, which actually increased by at least 10% its hours sold on the August-to-August comparison.

Other Network Comparisons

CBS Radio shows the greatest hour decline, slipping some 45%; MBS is off by about 17%, and NBC, repeating the same percentage drop it felt a year ago from 1952, also is down 17%.

An indication of the readjustment now underway among the networks is CBS Radio's decline of some 62% in its nighttime hours and the 39% jolt in its daytime periods. Although these percentages are certain to be improved by additional sales before October—as is true also in the case of other networks—CBS Radio obviously scores lower on its sales ledger because of the failure alone of such traditional advertisers as Colgate-Palmolive and General Electric to renew existing shows or purchase new programs with the network as of last month.

This tightening by the big-money advertisers is noticeable not only with CBS but in general with the other networks.

Among the top advertisers reducing—thus far—their network radio purchases for the fall, for example, are American Home Products down from five to three programs (comparing sales as of last month with last October's programs on the air); American Tobacco Co. with a lineup slimmed from three to two; Colgate-

Palmolive from six to three; General Foods from 12 to four; Philip Morris from three to one and Procter & Gamble from 17 to 11.

The count of total programs sponsored reveals 251 units in 1953 compared to 198 in 1954, a loss of 53 units.

But despite this unit loss, and disappearance of some radio sponsors, there still will be a number of advertisers new to network radio in 1954.

Among the advertisers which will appear in network radio this fall but which were not sponsors during last October are Rockwood & Co., Adolph's Ltd., Calgon Inc., Glamorene Inc., Hawaiian Pineapple, Minnesota Mining & Mfg., Nehi Corp., Van Camp Sea Food Co., Whitehall Pharmacal, Mytinger & Casselberry Inc., Allis Chalmers Mfg., Aero-Mayflower Transit Co., Avco Mfg. Corp. (Crosley div.), Barbasol, CBS-Columbia Inc., Helene Curtis, Halstaff Brewing, General Tire & Rubber Co., Harrison Products, Hexol Inc., Lemon Products Advisory Board, Realemon-Purina, Table Products, Vitamin Corp. of America.

While B•T's breakdown of time sales attempts to be inclusive in its listings and totals, certain business items which would alter an "average" October week's activity are omitted. Among these are one-time shots, for example the World Series broadcasts on MBS in October, saturation plans such as that of Chrysler Corp. which involved some six CBS programs last October, Pabst Brewing's sponsorship of the Turpin-Olson boxing bout that month, State Farm Insurance Co.'s National Corn Picking Contest on 407 MBS stations, etc.

Also eliminated from the figures are network purchases by sponsors wherein the total stations are less than 20. Where more than one sponsor participates in a show, time is divided equally except in some instances where one of the participants sponsors more time per week than another participant.

Reflecting the network radio situation this fall, Publishers Information Bureau only a fortnight ago released data showing that although combined radio-tv network billings for the first seven months of 1954 were up about 19% over the same period last year, radio billings had slumped almost 11.5% [B•T, Sept. 6].

That same week, however, Executives Radio-Tv Service, Larchmont, N. Y., reported a general increase of radio stations being used by major national spot advertisers.

A far from gloomy outlook is given by BAB officials, who upon their return from a summer swing of three months of sales clinics with more than 1,800 station executives and salesmen in 37 cities, said in New York that stations expect fall business to be the best in history for radio.

Another impression garnered by the BAB spokesmen was that tv has become "just another competitor and not particularly a formidable one" at the local level in markets where tv has been established for some years.

Auto Advertising Problems

Automobile dealer advertising, with manufacturers sharing the cost, is about the only trouble spot in stations' revenue pictures, BAB maintained, but steadily increasing cooperative advertising allowances from appliance manufacturers, some improvement in the chain store situation, and greater improvement in department store, specialty shop and supermarket patronage of radio stations were noted in all sections of the country.

Network sales heads, surveying the coming season, summarized the fall outlook thus:

Charles T. Ayres, vice president in charge of the ABC Radio network: "The record of ABC Radio network this year speaks for itself. The latest PIB figures for the first seven months of this year show that ABC Radio's gross time sales are equal to those of the comparable 1953 period. This is contrary to the trend in network radio, according to the PIB figures.

"It is also a matter of record that ABC Radio's gross time sales for June and July of this year are 8% above those of 1953, again contrary to the trend in network radio. We are not prognosticators nor fortune tellers. But selling radio is our business. We are hopeful that ABC Radio network's gross time sales this year will be higher than those of 1953."

John Karol, vice president in charge of sales, CBS Radio, noted: "During the past six years, all advertising media have been operating in an area of change as they have absorbed television into the media fraternity. Network radio has felt the turbulence of readjustment more than other forms of advertising. This process of learning to live with the new member of the family has now come to its conclusion. And we believe there are no new media developments in the offing that will adversely affect network radio.

"It is true that other media will face some continuing adjustments because of other changes. The development of color television will bring new pressures to bear on magazines. The growth of suburban newspapers will, possibly, tighten the reins on the metropolitan dailies. The extension of billboard-free super highways will depress outdoor displays. None of these stresses will influence network radio. Now it is possible to consider radio's values within a media framework of relative calm.

"What our medium offers the advertisers will be recognized as unique and desirable. Our coverage is almost every home in the United States. Our reach is founded on the fact that radio can be heard in some 115 million different places, including 29 million automobiles. The delivery of our medium grows out of the fact that in a week, measured only in the home, 92% of all the radio households use their same values that have been proved in daytime strip programming—with one important difference. At night, there is far greater audience availability—working women and men, for example.

"We believe that these habit-forming strips will give the advertiser very real values. He will reach big audiences of different people all through the week and he will reach many of his listeners many times in the week. He will do so at a low cost and an exceptionally efficient cost-per-thousand. And by so doing, he will have made all his advertising in all media more effective. He will have extended his reach with a minimum of duplication and he will have increased his cost efficiency.

"The documentation of advertisers' new-found realization of network radio's worth is in the number of extensions we have had of contracts that were originally intended to run for 13 weeks. Network radio, CBS Radio, has delivered. It is our intention, with our new programs and program scheduling, to have it deliver even more."

From Adolf N. Hult, MBS vice president in charge of sales:

"The fourth quarter sales outlook for Mutual not only is stronger than it was this time last year but is enhanced by the inauguration Oct. 4 of another new Mutual participating vehicle—Madeleine Carroll in Story Time—to be broadcast Mondays through Fridays, 10:45 to 11:00 a.m.

"Agency and advertiser reaction to this recently announced vehicle has been emphatically favorable, and if the success of Mutual's nighttime multi-message series is any clue, considerable new business should result.

"Although the seven-month network billing position is slightly off compared with the billings for the same period in 1953, I look forward to a fourth quarter which should exceed the same period of 1953 by a substantial margin when the new business from our daytime plan, plus the billings already on the books are totaled.

Frederic L. Horton, NBC director of radio network sales, said:

"The vitality of NBC Radio, pushing ahead on a broad base of unique programming and sales concepts, is reflected in renewed and mounting interests among advertisers and agencies, both large and small.

"Within recent weeks, the largest and the smallest advertisers have taken a new look at radio, and the smart advertising buyers at the agencies are talking it up more and more among their clients.

"Here is fresh, tangible evidence of NBC Radio's growing stature and its increasing appeal to forward-looking advertisers:

"With Fibber McGee and Molly sold out, we are adding the Great Gildersleeve as another evening participation program to meet sponsor demand for this flexible type of sales plan. Segments of Giddy have already been sold to start in October.

"For the first time in many years, NBC Radio's Saturday network football schedule is completely sold out.

"More evening half-hour programs have been purchased on NBC Radio than on any other network. These half-hour shows embrace such top rated offerings as People Are Funny, Dragnet, You Bet Your Life, The Big Story, Walk A Mile, Dennis Day Show, The Telephone Hour, Band of America, Roy Rogers Show, and Grand Ole Opry. In addition, NBC Radio offers fifteen minute and hour-long shows of the calibre of Lux Radio Theatre, Frank Sinatra Show and the Dinah Shore Show.

"Radio is ever expanding in the ways that can offer advertisers more coverage and greater advertising dollar efficiency than any other media. NBC Radio as it has in the past will continue to lead the way to this expansion.

"NBC Radio network sales looks forward to a 'new look' toward radio on the part of agencies and advertisers. Where can advertising dollar values be obtained at the low cost of network radio?"

"Spot radio is now in a highly competitive race with spot tv," according to Reg Rollinson, general manager of The Crusade for Spot Radio, sponsored by Station Representatives Assn. He told B*T:

"This fall will show the evidence of a sub-radios—and they listen more than 20 hours out of each week.

"The interest of people in hearing what radio has to say is further italicized by their continuing heavy purchase of sets—over 12 million of them last year.

"On this broad base of accessibility and usage, radio offers the advertiser the unique combination of frequency, audience accumulation and low cost. To take full advantage of these factors, the CBS Radio network has developed a nighttime schedule that combines the highest-rated group or half-hour evening programs with Monday-Friday strip programming. Our studies show that the advertiser who sponsors these strips at night can expect the stantial movement of many of radio's oldest spot sponsors into partial tv campaigns, largely on an experimental basis.

"But radio need not be pessimistic about the eventual outcome of this strong competition, since there are many new radio advertisers this fall to take up the slack. And there are in the wind at least two gigantic spot campaigns, which if they are eventually worked out will give a hearty boost to the fall statistics.

"Everyone connected with spot radio should be alerted to the fact that spot radio is now and will be for some years engaged in an all-out industry fight to maintain and increase its volume. No longer can we count on an automatic, easy-selling, year-to-year increase in total spot radio volume. 1953 showed an extraordinary increase in national spot radio. But 1954, starting off well in the first quarter, went into a slump in the second and third quarters. We always expect a revival in the fall months.

"Whether the new advertisers coming into spot radio will make up this deficit remains to be seen. One thing we can be sure of—we must develop many more new spot radio advertisers.

"Here are the significant trends:

"1—Since radio is the only total mass medium (99% of homes, 30 million cars, countless hours of listening by people at work and on portable sets), advertisers who have entrusted their total mass sales job to spot radio are now hugely successful.

"2—The most recent publicized stories of successful advertising of food and drug products exclusively in spot radio has started new thinking in campaign planning circles.

"3—The creative possibilities of spot radio in its many phases, local, service programs, block programming, are in the process of being turned into campaigns.

"4—Saturation radio campaigns are growing in number.

"5—There never was in advertising a substitute for frequency. Spot radio, because of its low cost and totality as a medium, gives the advertiser the opportunity for frequency of message."

STANDARD BUYS PRO GRID GAMES

Oil company will sponsor Chicago Bears and Cardinals games in 18 markets.

FOOTBALL continues to ripple Midwest advertising activity with Standard Oil Co. (of Indiana) again in the forefront as a sponsor.

ABC, Chicago, announced that Standard has signed to sponsor the first half of the Chicago Bears and Cardinals National Football League telecasts in about 18 markets. Half of each of the 12 home contests of the two teams will be offered to local advertisers in Standard markets, with the football series slated to get underway Sept. 26.

ABC-TV also was reported to be continuing discussions for sponsorship of NCAA's tv grid slate. It was understood Thursday that the network is trying to sell the remaining package to national advertisers on the basis of sponsorship per quarter of each game throughout the country, thus abandoning the regional advertiser pitch.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. and Carnation Co. have committed themselves thus far as regional sponsors in Texas and on the West Coast, respectively [B&T, Sept. 6; AT DEADLINE, Aug. 30]. In Chicago, a number of advertisers reportedly were interested last week in regional sponsorship.

NBC's o&o WMAQ Chicago reportedly has signed Mission Dry Corp., Los Angeles (Mission Cola), for half-game sponsorship of certain select college football broadcasts this fall, starting Sept. 25. Agency is The Caples Co.

Standard's commitments, placed through D'Arcy Adv. Co., Chicago, call for sponsorship of telecasts on these stations [WBKB (TV) Chicago will not carry them locally because of NFL restrictions]:

WOOD-TV Grand Rapids, Mich.; WOI-TV Ames, Iowa; WISH-TV Indianapolis; KCMO-TV Kansas City, Mo.; WMIN-TV Minneapolis; KBTW (TV) Denver; KEDD (TV) Wichita; WSJV (TV) Elkhart, Ind.; WCIA (TV) Campaign, Ill.; KMTV (TV) Omaha; WTVH-TV Peoria, Ill.; WREX-TV Rockford, Ill.; WHBF-TV Rock Island, Ill.; KSD-TV St. Louis, Mo.; KYTV (TV) Springfield, Mo., and WICS (TV) Springfield, Ill.

Three North Dakota stations also are tentatively slated to carry the telecasts, subject to "cable connections," according to Standard. They are WDAY-TV Fargo; KCJB-TV Minot and KXJB-TV Valley City.

Wesley I. Nunn, Standard advertising manager, said the fall schedule calls for at least "double the number of tv stations the company used for these games last year." Additionally, Standard will sponsor Bears Quarterback Club, a series of film highlights, each Monday evening on WGN-TV Chicago.

The Bears and Cards reportedly represent two of three NFL clubs which have contracted for separate regional tv sponsorship of their contests, exclusive of arrangements made by DuMont for network coverage of top NFL games.

MAXON RESIGNS PACKARD ACCOUNT

RESIGNATION of the Packard Motor Car Co. account by Maxon Inc., national advertising agency with headquarters in Detroit, effective Dec. 15, was announced last week by Lou R. Maxon, president.

Maxon has served Packard for two and a half years. Before that, Young & Rubicam Inc. handled the account for several years.

Packard sponsors the Martha Wright show Packard Program on ABC-TV, Sundays 8:30-9 p.m. The firm reportedly has a $2.5 million radio-tv advertising budget.

Serutan Takes Two DuMont Shows

SERUTAN CO. has signed a $2.5 million contract for two programs, each for 52 weeks, on WABD (TV) New York and the DuMont network, Gerry Martin, DuMont's director of sales, announced last week.

The $2.5 million figure, according to Mr. Martin, covers time and talent costs for One Minute, Please, a new comedy panel show, effective Sept. 24, and Life Begins at Eighty, which Serutan is renewing for the third straight year, effective Sept. 26.

Effective with the sponsorship starting date of One Minute, Please on behalf of Pharmaceutical Inc. (Serutan subsidiary) for Geritol, the program will shift from Tuesday 8:30-9 p.m. to Friday 9-9:30 p.m. EST. Life Begins is telecast Sunday at 9:30-10 p.m. EST. Agency for both is Edward Kletter Assoc.

Pharmaceutical also is a co-sponsor, with the American Chicle Co., of Rocky King, Detective on DuMont Sundays.

Sylvania Electric Names J. Walter Thompson Co.

SYLVANIA Electric Products has named J. Walter Thompson Co. as its advertising agency, effective Nov. 3.

JWT will replace Cecil & Presbrey Inc. and Roy S. Durstine, and will be engaged in product advertising and merchandising projects of a company-wide and divisional nature, according to B. K. Wichstrum, Sylvania vice president and director of sales.

"Whereas our exact advertising budget figures cannot be released, they are obviously in the several-million category and rank high among national advertisers," Mr. Wichstrum said. "Our sales are approaching the annual total of $300 million, and this figure will steadily increase in the years ahead. Growth should be especially rapid in television, commercial electronics and atomic energy."

Boyle-Midway Schedules Campaign for Cleanser

BOYLE-MIDWAY Inc., New York, is scheduling the largest advertising campaign in its history for its Easy-Off-Oven cleanser this fall, Al Debaggis, sales manager of the company, announced last week.

Network television and radio shows along with national magazines will be used by Boyle-Midway, which acquired the oven cleanser last January.

Starting this month the television schedule includes sponsorship of The Secret Storm on 83 CBS-TV stations and Love of Life on 99 CBS-TV stations. Effective Oct. 5, the company will sponsor The Romance of Helen Trent on 187 CBS Radio stations. Geyer Adv., New York, is the agency

Mr. Montgomery introduced the show in the manner of his Montgomery Presents series. GUILD FILMS SEEKS PUBLIC STOCK SALE

Radio-tv production and distribution firm files with Securities and Exchange Commission for approval of public offering of 250,000 shares.

GUILD FILMS Co., New York, last week announced it has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission for public offering of 250,000 shares of the company's common stock. Par value of the stock is $.10 per share, and a Guild Films spokesman said stock probably will be issued at $4 per share later this month.

The entire offering, when issued, has been underwritten by Van Alstyne, Noel & Co., New York. Guild Films has about 700,000 shares, with 60.25%, or 450,000 shares, held by officers of the firm.

In a preliminary prospectus issued by Van Alstyne, Noel & Co., it was stated that net proceeds of the sale of the securities will be used for payment of loans amounting to $483,994 and for other liabilities and financing of future film productions. In this latter connection, the prospectus noted that Guild Films has entered into an agreement for the production and distribution of a program series starring Connie Haines. It was reported that the tv film series of 39 episodes is expected to go into production within the next six months.

Tracing the growth of Guild Films, which was organized two years ago, the prospectus observed that gross amount of unbilled contracts rose from $504,879 in September 1953 to $2,164,960 in August 1954. Similarly, it was pointed out, net income rose from a loss of $1,520.88 for the period June 11, 1952, to Feb. 28, 1953, to a gain of $69,295.35 for the period Dec. 1, 1953, to June 30, 1954.

Officers and directors of the company are Reuben R. Kaufman, president and director; Louis Millman, vice president and director; Mrs. Jane Kaufman, secretary-treasurer and director; Charles H. Goldberg, director, and William E. Walker, director. Mrs. Kaufman will resign and will be replaced as a director by David Van Alstyne Jr., a partner in the firm of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. That organization will be retained as financial advisors to Guild Films, starting on Jan. 1, 1955, at an annual compensation of $6,000.

It was pointed out in the prospectus that Mr. Kaufman's compensation has been set at $40,000 per year, effective June 1, 1954. During the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1954, Mr. Kaufman will receive remuneration amounting to $60,282, representing $32,500 as salary for the current fiscal year and $27,782 representing past unpaid salary.

Among properties produced and/or distributed by Guild Films are Liberace, 178 markets; Life With Elizabeth, 68; Joe Palooka Story, 33; Frankie Laine Show, 26; Florian ZaBach Show, 25; Guild Sports Library, 12; Liberace Radio Show, 101; Conrad Nagel Theatre, Connie Haines and It's Fun to Reduce (not yet in distribution).

RADIO-TV EMERGE FROM DIST. 1 MEET READY TO FIGHT ANTI-INDUSTRY GROUPS

Boston sessions set pace for annual round of NARTB district meetings. Conviction is aired that radio is entering a new period of prosperity. "Stations, not networks themselves, are custodians of radio's future," Vadeboncoeur tells delegates.

BROADCASTERS, aural and visual, are teaming up for a fight against legislative restrictions as NARTB's annual round of district meetings enters its second week following the Thursday-Friday inaugural in New England.

Spurred by a series of warnings from NARTB's headquarters officials and by guest broadcasters from outside points, a hundred District 1 delegates left the Somerset Hotel, Boston, with a warning of their own: "Stop kicking us around."

They left, too, with the conviction that radio is entering a new and even more promising and prosperous life, despite recent outbursts of pessimism, provided station operators adjust their programs and service to the re-shaped media mold (see radio story page 50).

In setting the pace for the 2½ month series of radio-tv meetings, the District 1 delegates told the legislative and advertising worlds they're going to fight:

- Legislators who heed anti-broadcasting pressure groups.
- Legislation that would clamp programming and commercial shackles on the two electronic media.
- Pressure groups that try to promote selfish projects by influencing congressional and regulatory agencies.
- Broadcasters who take pot shots, in public view, at their own medium.

From the time Director Herbert L. Krueger, of WTAG Worcester, Mass., opened the meeting last Thursday morning until the final resolution was passed Friday afternoon there was a note of determination as broadcasters heard the grim facts of legislative and business life unveiled.

Chicago Postlude

A half-dozen speakers took up, directly and indirectly, the matter of what happened in Chicago the week before—a week in which radio networks were warned by Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA-NBC board chairman, that they probably will eke out a poor existence.

While Gen. Sarnoff's name was not specifically mentioned, his words [B•T, Sept. 6] were cited frequently. One of the high spots of the pro-radio discussions came when E. R. Vadeboncoeur, WSYR Syracuse (NBC affiliate), commented acidly on "giants who saw a hole in our boat." He included recent network rate cuts, particularly at the time of NARTB conventions. "And still the boat hasn't sunk, after repeated holes have been sawed, year after year," he added. Mr. Vadeboncoeur is NARTB District 2 (N. Y., N. J.) director and presides at the two-day district meeting opening today (Monday) at Lake Placid Club, in upstate New York. District 3 (Pa., W. Va., Del., Md.), meets Thursday-Friday of this week at the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, with George H. Clinton, WPAR Parkersburg, W. Va., presiding.

Mr. Vadeboncoeur deplored network "sacrificial gestures as they let 20% of their affiliates' blood over idols instead of showing leadership." He added, "The public comments and lack of enthusiasm on the part of radio networks would put any sensible public relations man in a strait jacket."

Showing how local and national spot radio

are growing year by year, while network radio declines, he observed, "You can draw your own conclusions from this comparison."

He predicted that radio networks "will not go out of business but will survive and do well. Stations have pulled radio over the hump. Now we must pick up our network partners and lug them over. Radio has more than doubled in the last 10 years—up 115%. It will continue upward the next 10 years. Stations, not networks themselves, are custodians of radio's future."

Clair McCollough, WGAL-TV Lancaster, Pa., speaking at a Friday tv panel discussed ways of running an efficient tv station (see story page 55). He listed do's and don'ts and advocated separation of radio and tv station personnel along with a close-knit relationship between sales and program operations.

NARTB President Harold E. Fellows addressed a joint luncheon of NARTB delegates and the Radio-Tv Executives Club of New England Thursday, speaking on "Profit with Honor in Your Own Home Town" (see story page 55). In the afternoon, Mr. Vadeboncoeur's subject was "The Good Never Die Young." John F. Meagher, NARTB radio vice president, followed him with a talk "Sound Is the Word for Radio" (see radio story page 50). Final event Thursday was a "radio business huddle," with Mr. Krueger presiding and Mr. Meagher leading the discussion. A tv management clinic Friday, at which Mr. McCollough presided, included Edward C. Obrist, WNHC-TV New Haven, Conn., Ansel E. Gridley, WWOR-TV Worcester, Mass., and John Parsons, WMGT (TV) Pittsfield, Mass.

President Fellows made a ringing plea to broadcasters to join this fight for survival at the local level. "There is a point beyond which fair-minded men should not in all conscience retreat," he said. "We have reached that point."

Ralph W. Hardy, NARTB government relations vice president, brought the Washington legislative crisis home to New Englanders by detailing the radio bills introduced by each legislator in the six states. Taking up the Bryson bill, to restrict advertising of alcoholic beverages, he said broadcasters are the target in the dry strategy to attain prohibition indirectly.

Since the Wolverton committee has broad powers he urged broadcasters to fill in the NARTB all-station questionnaire seeking program-advertising facts. The association has been asked to produce the questionnaires which covers a one week period. It calls for total operating time; number of sponsored beer-wine programs and total minutes; total length of commercials; total number of announcements of all kinds on station including public service; total number of beer and wine announcements.

"There can be no retreat from the broadcaster's right to carry advertising in good taste on behalf of products legally sold," he said.

Mr. Hardy said the pent-up investigative urge of a majority party that had been in a minority role 20 years was being unloosed on broadcasting with 158 pieces of legislation introduced this session, twice the number last session, of which 58 are major problems. "We must reverse the trend or an irresistible tide will overcome us in the next few years," he said.

They Fight For Access

He told of the fights being waged for access to public hearings and against the levying of FCC fees. "I believe we will win the battle for the right of electronic media to report public events because it is right," he said. He urged broadcasters to inform the public how coverage of events serves the public interest by keeping the electorate informed. He explained in detail such legislative problems as the approaching network investigation.

In a discussion of radio's soft spots and what should be done about them, Mr. Vadeboncoeur said simulcasts do radio a disservice. "We can't long exist if we take the role of the poor man's television station," he said. He called for improved continuity writing and public service programming. "Don't be just a juke box" he said. "Build community respect for your station. Public service programming is a fine money-maker."

Mr. Vadeboncoeur chided broadcasters for "being patsies for everyone who decides to take a swing at us. We're being kicked around because it's a safe and pleasant pastime." He said

Dear Mr. Moore:

The final breakdown of the Tele Market stores promotional showed some very fine results.

There were displays in 74 stores and, from these extra displays, 544 dozen cookies were actually sold. There was also an increase in the cookie sales from the regular cookie section. The consumers were very cookie minded as a result of the fine advertising received. To have a noticeable increase in the sales of other items was very unusual and did prove that over this special time, the entire cookie section received more attention from the consuming public.

We wish to thank you for this opportunity to participate in such a fine promotion.

Yours very truly,

senators and congressmen wouldn't dare introduce anti-newspaper legislation.

In the management field, he said respectable advertisers deserve to be associated with a respectable company. He listed per inquiry accounts that came to his desk just before he left Syracuse for the Boston meeting and warned against chiselers who seek free publicity, citing a B&T cartoon depicting a newspaper editor who says of a free-time grabber, "What does he think we're running, a radio station?"

Members of the District 1 resolutions committee were Al Spokes, WJOY Burlington, Vt.; Chairman William Malo, WDRC Hartford; Harold Meyer, WPOR Portland, Me.; Earle Clement, WBET Brockton, Mass.; Wallace Walker, WMUR Manchester, N. H.

Speaking on "Savings in Business," Charles H. Tower, manager of the NARTB Employee-Employer Relations Dept., analyzed costs of doing business in radio and tv stations and showed how operating expenses can be handled on an efficient basis.

Changes Since Tv

After giving an economic evaluation of radio since the advent of television (see story on radio's strength, page 35), he broke down operating costs into three groups—cost of doing business; with unions; under the Wage-Hour Act, and under an inefficient organization.

Mr. Tower's breakdowns showed the direct relationship between expenditures and revenues, including a yardstick of operating efficiency.

As to unions, he showed the difference in the cost of doing business with a union, and relative costs at non-union stations. Cost factors include fringe benefits, he said, showing the trend in this field and the cost to management. Work restrictions in union contracts are another element to be considered by management, he said.

In analyzing wage-hour rules, with the 75-cent minimum hourly wage and time-and-a-half principle, he showed how management can benefit by familiarity with the rules and their application to stations.

Mr. Tower went into station organization problems in detail. He suggested ways station managers can select the best people, and integrate them into an efficient operation. He discussed, also, problems of executive control and dual management function of control and delegation of responsibility.

RADIO SHIRKED THE ROLE OF A CORPSE, DELEGATES TO NARTB DIST. 1 ARE TOLD

NARTB executives appraise sound broadcasting at Boston District 1 sessions, pointing to the erring prophets of doom who predicted the decline of radio with the advent of tv.

"SOMEBODY goofed!"

A hundred or so broadcasters, whose sightless signals had provided them with at least enough money for a trip to Boston, looked expectantly at John F. Meagher, NARTB radio vice president, speaking Thursday from a rostrum in the Somerset Hotel.

"Ladies and gentlemen, and particularly you sturdy and stalwart citizens who operate the radio stations of New England, you aren't supposed to be here," Mr. Meagher said to delegates at the first of the annual NARTB district meetings (roundup story page 48).

"You're supposed to be dead."

"According to the dire predictions of self-styled experts, including a former president of a major network, you should have, by this time, either starved to death or died of sheer mortification."

Mr. Meagher joined two other top NARTB officials in an appraisal of sound broadcasting. They were President Harold E. Fellows, and Charles H. Tower, manager of the Employee-Employer Relations Dept.

Continued Prosperity

Looking at the past 12 months of aural and visual broadcasting, since the 1953 coast-to-coast district meeting tour, Mr. Fellows said:

"Both media continued to prosper—radio because of its established essentiality in the American home, and television because of its spreading appeal. Business in radio—volume wise—continued the trend away from networks in notable cases with the slack being taken up by local and regional business and national spot; and business in television showed more of a national character in terms of the gross dollar of revenue."

Mr. Tower showed, with the aid of some just-completed research, how aural radio stations are doing in television markets.

"They're doing well," he said, producing breakdowns covering the period since tv arrived.

President Fellows summed up radio's financial health this way:

"Radio should expect nothing but continued prosperity, the side-dish soothsayers to the contrary notwithstanding. It is an established medium which has demonstrated its capacity to sell in the presence of all kinds of competition. It is low cost and big audience. It is able to do things other media cannot do as they can do things radio can't."

"It is, in short, complementary to the American scene—something that has grown to be a part of the living home. Radio may find time now—having survived the rigors of pioneering and the fright of impending death notices—to reflect more cogently on improvement, thus making its product even more attractive to listeners and productive for advertisers."

Having established that "somebody goofed" in pre-dating radio's demise, Mr. Meagher said radio is one of the liveliest creatures in the media world. How live? Here are some tidbits from his diagnosis:

"There is nothing else like radio—120 million sets produced in the year ended last week; 120 million operating sets; or one radio for everyone in the U. S. over 15; in the average radio home a full day out of each week is devoted to listening."

Casing the cashbook situation, he asked rhetorically, "Why is it that a radio network is compelled to report a loss in sales revenue on the order of 30%, while individual radio stations which it owns and operates in such competitive markets as New York and Chicago are reporting revenues of record-breaking highs?"

Ratings Emphasis Blamed

Noting the "phenomenal increase in sale of time to local advertisers, while network radio fell off," he suggested "a goodly share" of the blame can be traced "to the ridiculous importance which has been attached to program ratings."

"Program ratings," he charged, "are archaic and absurd." He called them "statistical indices which could not conceivably mean what they were claimed to indicate." The following facts, he continued, expose the deceptions of slide-rule artists:

"Four of five sets are located out of the living room; 25% to 30% of daily listening is done outside the home, via 30 million auto radios and 10 million portables, plus 10 million sets in public places. Why should we be bound to measurements in a handful of metropolitan centers which purport to indicate the extent of the listening of an in-home audience?"

Radio time sales at the local level "have been booming," he said, rising 40% in the same years that have seen the decline in radio network revenues."

"Why?" he asked.

"Well, it seems program ratings don't carry much weight on the local scene. The local dealers in furniture and dry goods, and automobiles and dairy products and all the other local advertisers stay pretty close to their cash registers. They rarely, if ever, come to grips with a slide rule. They listen to their local radio stations, they hear their commercials, and they are vastly pleased with the response they get, with how quickly the people come to buy the things they have extolled on the radio."

Advertisers are concerned only about one thing connected with their advertising, according to Mr. Meagher: "Does it pay?" He reminded that radio's revenue is an all-time high—43% above 1946 with the number of stations sharing the revenue up 111%.

"What happens to radio revenues in tv markets?" Mr. Tower asked.

His first study showed how radio stations in the pre-freeze cities of New York and Los Angeles (excluding network keys) had enjoyed a 6.6% increase in revenue during the 1948-52 period despite the multi-video situations.

In three markets, each of which had three pre-freeze stations (Atlanta, Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio), radio revenues were up by 4% in the 1948-52 period. Their increase in revenue was greater in 1953, and is still greater this year, Mr. Tower's research showed.

Taking three pre-freeze markets that had one station each (Erie and Johnstown, Pa., and Huntington, W. Va.), he found an average increase of 22% in the same period.

Mr. Tower explained that the figures were not designed to represent the nation as a whole, adding the increase was not steady nor did it occur in each city each year.

"In 1951 when television had its first heavy impact on radio," he said, "and as it began to assume the proportions of a national medium, there was some impact on radio revenues but the evidence shows they came back in 1952." Mr. Tower's revenue data was given during his discussion of station operating problems, including personnel and economic factors (see Boston roundup story page 48).

Taking a look at national media, Mr. Tower said that radio was taking about 9% of the national advertising dollar in 1953, or roughly 3% less than the 1949 level, following newspaper and magazine trends. However, he said, radio's revenue, like the printed media, is up (13%) over 1949 with an average increase of 3% per year. Television has had the most rapid growth of all media, he explained, with an average increase per year of nearly 90%. Excluding tv, the average rate of increase for all media has been 8.5% in the period. He said radio, "which was supposed to be an early victim to the economic attack of television, has shown a small but steady gain."

McCOLLOUGH URGES TIGHT-KNIT STATION

Steinman Stations general manager recommends methods of profitable tv operation.

A TIGHT-KNIT organization is the road to profitable tv operation. How this is accomplished was the theme of a talk by Clair R. McCollough, general manager, Steinman Stations, leading a tv discussion at the NARTB District 1 meeting in Boston on Friday.

Mr. McCollough, who also is chairman of NARTB's Tv Board, made two special recommendations in his talk. He urged that station management take time to train its sales staff. He also called for a single program and production department, rather than the multiple organization practiced in most tv outlets.

Speaking of training the sales force, Mr. McCollough said:

"They must know what they're selling; they must be taught to represent your station in a pleasing, effective and understanding manner. They must be taught to give service. . . . Your sales staff can be one of your most valuable aids in creating and maintaining this loyalty. . . . Mistakes or improper procedures in your sales department may not show up as fast as they do in your production or engineering departments, but they're at least as dangerous and destructive in the long run."

In discussing the effectiveness of a single program-production department (comprising program, production, art, copy, photography and traffic), Mr. McCollough made this point:

"In our case, from the moment the salesman brings a client or his representative to the station, or from the moment he delivers the client's instructions or copy material to the station, the project is in the hands of the Program and Production Department. There are no four or five staff members to round up for a conference. One contact handles all commercial preparation plans, and it passes from that point in orderly procession to continuity, art, photography, traffic and then to the 'on the air' section of the department."

By keeping a tv station closely controlled and by eliminating overlapping and overstaffing, Mr. McCollough saw the answer to profitable operation. He urged that attention be given to regional and local programming, commercial as well as public service, in order to build viewer acceptance. He also advocated that tv station staff personnel be permitted to specialize in tv; not have a "double-duty staff—dividing their time between radio and television."

Mr. McCollough offered a list of do's and don'ts for profitable tv operation. They are:

Do integrate and correlate the various station departments, avoid overlapping of duties and responsibilities, stress service on the part of your sales staff, give full consideration and attention to public service programs and announcements, promote your station and its programs—on-the-air, in trade magazines, in newspapers, on billboard, by direct-mail and otherwise, and establish one central unit for purchases of equipment and supplies.

Don't duplicate personnel responsibilities and duties, minimize any phase of station representation—in service club memberships and talks, in your sales staff, newspaper statements, on-the-air comments by staff members, accurate program listings, telephone-answering, overstaff (or understaff), neglect local and regional news coverage, including filmed news events, be haphazard in your "on-the-air" appearance. Rather, be consistent in your program content and format regardless of which member of your staff is responsible. Put the stress on the program, not the personality—with consistent standards to be followed by all, and at all times.

RADIO, TV WARNED TO DEFEND SELVES

NARTB's Fellows, speaking in Boston, singles out legislative and private interest groups which are endeavoring to shackle the broadcasters.

RADIO and tv broadcasters are continuing to prosper but the time has come to start fighting back, with all their power, the spreading attacks from legislative and private-interest groups, broadcasters were told last week by NARTB President Harold E. Fellows.

Addressing broadcasters, advertisers and other media men during the first of the annual NARTB district meetings, held Thursday-Friday at Boston (see roundup story, page 48), Mr. Fellows said the mass-influence power of the broadcast media is attracting a surge of bills and resolutions designed to shackle their voice and visual message.

He brought his summary of legislative crises before two forums—the District 1 (New England) meeting and the Radio-Television Executives Club of New England.

Four motives lie behind the rush of Congressional activity, he said. First, the Bryson Bill and similar moves are prodded through legislative channels by pressure groups such as the organized "dry" movement. Second, some legislators have introduced bills because they feel they have been unjustly treated by broadcasters. The author "feels this way about the press too, but there's no handle—like a license—for him to catch hold of in striking back," he reminded.

A third motive stems from broadcasters themselves "who feel, rightly or wrongly, that more law will create more business—or at least more equitable business conditions," he said. Finally he listed the "motivation which results from the manner of our doing business; from the nature of our programming, as the final product is seen by the public; from the normal and purely American competition which identifies any dynamic, growing business enterprise."

Mr. Fellows evaluated the four major types this way:

Pressure groups—"We must be prepared to fight back on an organized basis when we are attacked unfairly and without justification."

Personal privilege—"There's little we can do about legislation introduced by the fellow who thinks he's been wronged—and, usually, little the Congress will do to support his private vendetta."

Business advantage—"Most broadcasters want less law and less regulation; but those who want more deserve and will continue to get a hearing."

Programming—"This is our major problem. This is the basic, underlying cause of most of the legislative proposals which would shackle American broadcasting."

Broadcasters have a clear choice, Mr. Fellows said. It is "to maintain their voluntary standards through observing them, or to run the risk of gradually surrendering their administration to government."

Kudos for Radio-Tv

RADIO and tv warnings and information service to New England greatly decreased the number of accidents and fatalities in the recent hurricane, Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts told the NARTB District 1 meeting Thursday.

Giving the electronic media full credit for their unselfish service around the clock, he praised stations and networks for their public service contribution to the area. He said that while the property damage was greater than in the last severe storm, the number of personal injuries and accidents was lower because "of the extraordinary warning service provided by broadcasters."

After warning that they must adhere to the radio and tv codes if the American plan of broadcasting is to be preserved, Mr. Fellows told how the House Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee has said, "admittedly in a report that does not have the force of law," that "drinking an alcoholic beverage in an advertisement on television is not in good taste." He termed it "the first step toward a government standard," and added:

"Should the government be able to regulate in this area, you can be sure the pressure packs will come howling for regulation in such other areas as tobacco, program content, and others."

He threw out this challenge: "If the dregs can get together to lobby unfair legislation against us through the Congress, can we get together to resist it?"

Mr. Fellows told how the organized prohibitionists, aware they can't bring back prohibition by amending the Constitution, are now concentrating their attack on the evils of alcohol. Currently their target is advertising, particularly on radio and tv, he said.

Their advertising goal is to get all alcoholic beverage advertising off the air. He then warned other media and advertisers that the next step after such a successful campaign "would be to eliminate similar advertising in other media and ultimately that this campaign should lead to the conclusion that the consumption of alcoholic beverages, whatever the nature of their content, should be eliminated in the United States—or in other words, the return to prohibition."

Recent attempts to bar radio and tv pickup gear from public events were deplored by Mr. Fellows. He explained how the ingenuity of science and the enterprise of business have enlightened the American people, through radio and tv, adding, "It would be sheer folly and nonsense to now state by law or rule or by any other method that an iron curtain of ignorance should be drawn between the American people and their public representatives."

Pointing to advertisers as he outlined the radio and tv codes, and their "high principles," he said, "As we in broadcasting should eliminate from our midst those few who would operate without regard for such high principles, you in advertising should do the same."

In his summary of the industry's growth, Mr. Fellows said there was a net gain of 88 am stations in the last 11 months (116 new, 28 deleted), and a net gain of 58 new tv stations (131 new, 73 deleted).

Four state associations have been added, he declared, bringing the total to 42 "and demonstrating the broadcaster's growing awareness of the need for organized effort at all levels of service."

BEER, WINE DATA QUESTIONNAIRES IN MAIL TO NATION'S BROADCASTERS

NARTB is sending out 2,800 forms in move to determine the time consumed and the programs sponsored by alcohol advertisers.

NARTB was to have mailed out some 2,800 questionnaires by last weekend to the nation's radio and television broadcasters to secure time and program data on beer and wine advertising in accordance with a mandate from the House Commerce Committee.

Mailed in envelopes stamped with a notice in red letters proclaiming the importance of the four-page form inside, the questionnaires seek to elicit from broadcasters information on the amount of time consumed and the programs sponsored by beer and wine advertisers for the period Sept. 1, 1953, through Aug. 31, 1954.

Results covering the 12-month period will be compiled by NARTB to furnish the House Commerce Committee with information requested in the committee's report of Aug. 18 issued in lieu of reporting out for House action the controversial Bryson bill on liquor advertising.

The forms contain three pages of questions, prefaced by a letter from NARTB President Harold E. Fellows in which he explains why the information is needed and describes it as "so compelling that it requires priority attention." NARTB asks return of the forms by Oct. 11.

The House Commerce Committee report asked the information from the broadcasting industry and its trade association, the FCC and the beer and wine industries and their trade associations.

FCC Undecided

The FCC at a meeting last Wednesday considered what steps it would take to furnish the data requested by the House group, but had not indicated by last Thursday whether it will mail its own questionnaires to broadcasters or rely on the NARTB survey. FCC Chairman Rosel H. Hyde, asked whether the complete survey of broadcasters might be handled by one group or the other to prevent duplication, said, "I hope so."

Meanwhile, the wheels are beginning to move, but more slowly, on the beer and wine side of the picture. J. Walter Thompson Co., New York, agency for the U. S. Brewers Foundation, has begun assembling data to forward to the House committee, largely on the amount of money spent in radio and television advertising by beer makers.

USBF's board of directors meets today (Monday) through Wednesday at The Homestead, Hot Springs, Va., and the matter may be one of the topics on the agenda, a spokesman said. USBF represents about 250 brewing companies which operate some 300 brewing plants. These represent about 86% of beer output.

The wine industry, its vinting season just underway, was less disposed to excitement about the report. Edward W. Wooton, secretary of the Wine Conference of America, which lists as members some 20 Wine Institutes (associations) from about as many states, said vintners are going to be pretty busy in the near future on production problems and may find it hard to see the need for hurrying to supply the requested data.

He said he was not aware of any deadline set by the House group for supplying the information. He said the wine industry has every intention of complying with the House committee's request, however. WCA represents about 650 wineries which account for about 90% of all domestic wines produced, he said.

As a preliminary to questions considered at the FCC meeting last Wednesday, a group of NARTB representatives headed by Robert K. Richards, administrative vice president, had met with a similar FCC group the previous Friday to study methods of obtaining the information sought by the House committee.

The FCC group included Warren Baker, general counsel, and three others. Mr. Richards' NARTB group included Richard Allerton, research department manager; Ralph Hardy, government relations vice president; Vincent T. Wasilewski, chief attorney; Edward H. Bronson, director of Tv Code affairs, and John F. Meagher, radio vice president.

Whether the House Commerce Committee would require both the FCC and the NARTB to submit separate reports on the data required was uncertain last Thursday. Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (R-N. J.), committee chairman, was campaigning in his home state and was not available for comment on the matter.

The NARTB questionnaires being mailed last week were developed after intensive study by Research Manager Richard Allerton and the NARTB staff. Each broadcaster is asked to submit data for only one specified week during the Sept. 1, 1953-Aug. 31, 1954 period.

Am, fm and tv broadcasters were divided into 52 groups—one for each week of the year—proportionately equal as to number of am, fm and tv stations, size of each operation and its geographic location.

Individual stations in the first of the 52 groups are asked for data covering the first week of the 52-week period. The second group is queried on data logged during the second week, and so on.

Each broadcaster is asked to list the total time his station was on the air for the specified week, including public service, compared to the total time utilized by programs sponsored by beer or wine advertisers. He is asked for the total number of programs, including public service, compared to the number of programs which had beer or wine sponsors. He is asked for the total number and length of announcements for the specified week, plus the total number and length of announcements advertising wine or beer.

AM-FM Stations Get Duplicates

Duplicate forms are forwarded to am-fm operations, with instructions to complete a form on each operation if am programming is unduplicated by the fm facility.

The questionnaires apply only to those outlets on the air for the entire 52-week period.

Through this method of questioning, says Mr. Allerton, broadcasters need to examine only one week of their logs and their list of clients for programs and announcements.

At the same time, he adds, seasonal advertising is accounted for by the fact that a representative group will report on every week of the year. This means that heavy advertising for a certain period of the year (i.e., beer-sponsored baseball broadcasts or telecasts) will be tabulated in its correct perspective.

Broadcasters are not being queried by NARTB on amounts of money received. The House Commerce Committee report asks for total money spent, which would include production, programming and talent costs, agency fees, etc., in addition to time costs.

Obviously, the amounts spent on beer and wine advertising in radio and tv must come from the advertisers themselves. These figures, Mr. Allerton says, would be compared to the total money invested in radio and television by all advertisers.

Estimates of the total money invested in radio-tv advertising are made by the McCann-Erickson research department for Printers' Ink. Although the McCann-Erickson reports are made for calendar years only, NARTB expects to obtain from the agency its estimates of the total amounts spent in radio-tv for the Sept. 1, 1953-Aug. 31, 1954 period being considered, Mr. Allerton said.

FORD FRICK SAYS TV THREATENS MINORS

UNLIMITED TELEVISION was criticized last week by Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, as "killing off minor league baseball, which, in turn, will kill off major league baseball."

Mr. Frick, who offered this observation during a question-and-answer period in an appearance before the Sports Broadcasters Assn. of New York last Wednesday, urged that a meeting be held by representatives of the television and radio broadcasting industries, the major and minor leagues, and his office in an effort to solve the problem. He contended that "with proper thought and attention, we can come up with a solution to the radio and tv problem that will be happy for both sides".

Apprised of Mr. Frick's statement, NARTB President Harold Fellows (in Boston for the Dist. 1 meeting) replied that the association would be pleased to meet with Mr. Frick and other representatives of the leagues to discuss the matter. He reminded that NARTB's Sports Committee, chaired by George Higgins of KMBC Kansas City, has continually taken the initiative in trying to reach agreement with the sports industry on mutual problems.

Invasion of Minors

Although Mr. Frick did not specify what he meant by "unlimited television," his criticism was construed as being directed primarily toward "game of the week" tv programs and various regional tv networks that he feels "invade" minor league territories with telecasts of major league games.

In answer to a question based on a statement that the radio and tv industry considers the radio and tv presentation of games a "public service," Mr. Frick reported that this was "a selfish and phony attitude." He challenged the industry by guaranteeing to make major league baseball games available to networks free of charge, provided they are carried unsponsored.

Warning the sports broadcasters that "your short-sighted attitude in time can cost you your good jobs because there won't be any baseball left to broadcast or telecast," Mr. Frick added:

"We both have a common cause and a common goal. And our long-range common program must be to keep everybody in business. I don't know if a happy solution will please the FCC, but I do know that it can be satisfactory to all of us. I guarantee it."

RADIO-TV SET COUNT NEARS RELEASE

Tabulations are completed and issuance of the report is expected within six weeks. Another report on audience measurements also is being readied for distribution.

REPORT on the $80,000 nationwide radio-tv set count underwritten by the four national radio networks and BAB, and Advertising Research Foundation's report on "Recommended Standards for Radio and Television Program Audience Size Measurements" are slated for publication in "early fall" and "fall," respectively, ARF President Edgar Kobak reported last week.

MR. KOBAK

Writing in his September "news letter" to ARF subscribers, Mr. Kobak noted that Alfred Politz Research Inc. had completed field work and tabulations for the radio-tv set count and turned the data over to ARF, which currently is preparing the report for distribution. Network and BAB authorities meanwhile said target date for issuance of the report is about six weeks away but that they hoped it might be ready somewhat sooner.

The report on audience measurements, prepared by working committee No. 1 on the radio-tv ratings review study, "will be printed and distributed just as soon as it has been reviewed and approved by the 'main' committee for the entire project, the technical committee, and the board of directors," Mr. Kobak said. He added: "It will be well worth waiting for, I have been told."

At another point in his review of ARF activities, Mr. Kobak, a business consultant and radio station owner, observed that his service as ARF president "is a part-time assignment" and said:

"Let's hope the day is near when we can find and afford a fulltime president and I can devote my time to my clients. I've agreed to help as long as necessary—and I'm glad to do so—but we don't want it to be too long."

Discussing the Politz radio-tv set census, Mr. Kobak said:

"More than 10,000 interviews were made on a nationwide probability sample of households to determine the number of radio sets and number of television sets in working order in U. S. households, the rooms in which they are located and the number of family automobiles with radio sets. Harper Carrairie of CBS Radio ... is head of the committee for this project.

"Incidentally, we made the study in cooperation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration and our questionnaire included basic questions pertaining to use of radios as related to civil defense and the CDA program. I understand the latter information won't appear in the report but that it was sent immediately to the CDA."

Mr. Kobak also noted that work is under way on ARF's project to develop a "design" for audience studies of major media on an integrated basis. First consideration, he said, is being given to developing a design for an audience study of magazines, which will be integrated with plans for audience studies of other media. The "main" committee on this project is headed by Lyndon O. Brown, Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample.

BAB Report Analyzes Men's Wear Retailing

A "HOW TO" presentation designed for advertising and promotion efforts in the men's wear field was announced last week by BAB. The 20-page color brochure, Annual Pattern for Effective Advertising by Men's Wear Retailers, is in the mail for more than 850 BAB members.

The brochure explains there is an established consumer buying pattern guiding the retailer in his selection of buying and selling times which gives him the maximum profit. The report emphasizes, however, that advertising and promotion, to be most effective, must match the particular buying pattern.

It outlines eight steps for the men's wearing apparel retailer to follow in his advertising-promotion approach: make a plan; allocate enough advertising dollars; advertise consistently; time your promotion correctly; advertise to the people who buy; cover your entire market with your advertising; remember that advertising can't do everything, and adapt this general plan to the specific case.

The BAB sales presentation, spokesmen said, presents a sample, month-by-month plan which could be adapted to any type of men's wear store in any locality and includes the average percentage of annual sales which each month contributes, percentage of different men's wear items sold each month and the best sellers, promotional items, hints and special events which can be stressed. A similar women's wear brochure will be published shortly, according to BAB.

July Tv Set Sales Reach Record High

HIGHEST July sales of tv receivers on record were reported by Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Assn. last week for the period ending July 31.

During July, 368,634 tv sets were sold through retail outlets, RETMA reported. This compares with 351,885 sets sold in June and 340,406 sold in July 1953.

For the first seven months of this year, RETMA reported 3,174,394 units compared to 3,116,306 for the same 1953 period.

Retail sales of radios were 411,197 in July, compared to 537,494 the month previous and 366,666 in July of last year. July sales of radios, excluding automobile sets, were the highest for that month since 1951, RETMA said. For the seven months, excluding automobile receivers, 2,822,090 radio units were sold at retail, compared to 3,383,862 for the same period last year.

Ziv Spot Show In Videodex Top 10

HIGHLIGHT of the Videodex network top 10 tv program listings for Aug. 1-7 period was the emergence of I Led Three Lives, Ziv Television filmed show placed on a spot basis, in a ninth-place tie. It was explained by Videodex that I Led Three Lives is the second show placed on a spot basis to achieve top 10 ranking, with Boston Blackie having earned that distinction several years ago. Film Production Wages Show Increase in July WAGE LEVELS in tv and theatrical motion picture production, already at an all-time peak, continued to rise during July, according to the California Dept. of Industrial Research. A labor statistics bulletin revealed that average weekly earnings during July reached $132.20, from $130.38 during the preceding month and $116.91 during July 1953.

Meanwhile, a "conservatively estimated" 98% of all IATSE motion picture back lot workers are currently employed, according to Carl Cooper, business agent, IATSE Stagehands Local 33, Los Angeles, and member of the AFL Hollywood Film Council. At least 85% of other Hollywood crafts, including film editors, cameramen and sound technicians, also are employed, with members of Local 33, which services all live Hollywood tv network production, "100% employed—better than at any time during the last 25 years," he told B•T.

THEY LIKE IT HERE

When advertisers check into WMAQ, they usually stay a long, long time. For instance . . . a sample of just eight WMAQ sponsors adds up to 75 uninterrupted years of contented residence. An amazing record for a radio station, and a pretty revealing clue to its standing with advertisers.

Here are the eight sponsors and their individual records under WMAQ's roof:

WIEBOLDT STORES, INC. (Department Stores) — 19 years. CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY — 17 years.

SKELLY OIL COMPANY — 16 years. CHAS. A. STEVENS & CO. (Women's Apparel) — 7 years.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY — 6 years. TALMAN FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION — 4 years.

STEWART'S PRIVATE BLEND COFFEE COMPANY — 3 years. OLSON TRAVEL ORGANIZATION (European Tours) — 3 years.

Advertisers like it at WMAQ for lots of reasons. WMAQ is centrally located — right in the heart of America's second greatest market. Every WMAQ room commands an encompassing view of the biggest-buying audiences among Mid-America's 4 million families with an effective buying income of $24 billion. WMAQ's merchandising, advertising and promotion activities are the most extensive of any Chicago radio station.

If your advertising plans cover just next week, the next 13 weeks, or the next 13 years, you're sure to like it at WMAQ — where transients usually become permanent residents.

STERLING RESIGNS FROM FCC; McCONNAUGHEY MAY SUCCEED

Health believed reason for retirement of the FCC veteran and broadcast pioneer. Speculation on Mr. McConnaughey also includes possibility of Ohioan ultimately becoming Commission chairman.

FCC COMR. GEORGE E. STERLING has tendered his resignation to President Eisenhower and will retire after 31 years of government service as of Sept. 30.

Mr. Sterling, it was learned authoritatively, has written the President advising him of his decision to retire. While the contents of the letter are not known, it is understood his decision was based partially upon recommendation of his physicians and at the behest of his family. The 61-year-old engineer has risen through FCC ranks and has served as a member of the FCC since Jan. 2, 1948. His present term ordinarily would expire June 30, 1957.

The impending retirement resulted in immediate revival of speculation that George C. McConnaughey, chairman of the Renegotiation Board and an Ohio Republican, would be named to succeed Mr. Sterling as a commissioner and ultimately would be appointed to the FCC chairmanship. Rosel H. Hyde, incumbent chairman, has served as "acting chairman" since the one-year tenure to which he had been named by the President expired last April 18. Mr. Hyde, however, is still strongly supported for reappointment as the FCC's directing head.

Last July Comr. Sterling left Washington for his first extended vacation in years in his native Maine (he has a home on Peaks Island, near Portland). He had been advised by his doctors to slow down and while it's understood his health has improved considerably, he nevertheless has yielded to the wishes of his family that he retire from the FCC and perhaps undertake less rigorous work. It is known that he has been offered a number of positions in industry, including consulting engineer practice. He intends to make his permanent home at Peaks Island with Mrs. Sterling. Both of the Sterling daughters are married.

No Word From President

No formal word was forthcoming either from the White House or from the summer White House in Denver regarding the Sterling letter. With more than 30 years service and in his 61st year, Mr. Sterling can retire at substantially half his present $15,000 annual pay. He plans to return to Washington this week presumably to remain until his retirement.

Mr. McConnaughey, who is 58, frequently has been mentioned as a possible appointee to the FCC (B*T, Aug. 16; July 12; May 10, 3). He advised B*T last month that no one had talked with him about the post and asserted he personally had not "plugged" for the assignment but he did conjecture that his name had been "bandied about" and added that if the chairmanship were proffered, he would accept. Contacted last Thursday, Mr. McConnaughey said he had no further word about the FCC.

It is known, however, that Mr. McConnaughey is held in high regard by the White House because of the job he has done with the Renegotiation Board, which handles government contract settlements. He is a former chairman of the Ohio Public Service Commission, having been appointed by the then governor and now senator, John W. Bricker (R-Ohio). Sen. Bricker is chairman of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee which is undertaking a full-scale investigation of the broadcast field and the networks. When Mr. McConnaughey's name arose in connection with possible appointment to the FCC last month, Sen. Bricker told B*T that he was a "good friend" and had supported him for the Renegotiation Board appointment but was then "not particularly" backing him for any FCC position.

Mr. McConnaughey is said by his friends to be a vigorous free enterpriser and a top administrator. Almost his entire background is regulatory phases of law.

Mr. Sterling's decision to retire, it is generally thought, will be regretted by his associates at the FCC and by many of those in the broadcasting field. He has been one of the best-known figures in communications for a generation and is one of the real pioneers in the regulatory field.

He could have remained a commissioner probably until the end of his term in 1957, without accounting for his time, but presumably feels that the FCC should have its full strength. Before being named to the FCC in 1948, he had served with distinction as the Commission's chief engineer. During World War II he organized and headed the Radio Intelligence Division and had served as the Commission's security officer. He also was the key FCC figure in the establishment of Conelrad in collaboration with the Office of Civilian Defense. This is the "radio silence" system designed to frustrate use of broadcast frequencies for "homing" beacons by possible invading enemy planes and, at the same time, set up a fool-proof alerting system for the civil population. He was liaison officer with the military for a number of years and in 1948 was co-chairman of the U. S. Delegation to the International High Frequency Broadcasting Conference in Mexico City.

In recent months he had asked Chairman Hyde to relieve him as security officer and assign certain other extra-curricular functions to other members of the FCC.

George Edward Sterling was born on June 21, 1894, at Peaks Island and comes from a long line of sea-going folks. He has been in radio since 1908 when he became an amateur operator. He served on the Mexican border in 1916 with the Maine infantry and in the first World War with the 26th Division, afterward transferring to the Signal Corps. Mr. Sterling served as a radio instructor and completed officer's training in France. He assisted in organizing and operating the first Radio Intelligence Section of the Signal Corps. After World War I he served as a radio operator in the merchant marine and as a marine radio inspector for RCA beginning in 1922. The following year he entered federal service as a radio instructor in the Bureau of Navigation of the Dept. of Commerce. In 1935 he was appointed inspector-in-charge of the FCC 3d District in Baltimore before being transferred to the Field Division in 1937 as assistant chief.

Mr. Sterling is the author of the Radio Manual, long recognized as a standard textbook in radio communications, equipment and procedure by radio schools and for government training. A member of many engineering and technical organizations, Mr. Sterling is the founder and current president of the Channel Number 1 Club, a secret society designed to perpetuate the existence of non-existent Channel One for posterity.

PLOTKIN SWORN IN ON NETWORK PROBE

Minority counsel of Bricker tv investigation will assume duties Sept. 20.

HARRY F. PLOTKIN, 41-year-old former assistant general counsel of the FCC, last Wednesday was sworn in as minority counsel for the Senate Commerce Committee's upcoming probe of radio-tv networks and the uhf-vhf problem.

Mr. Plotkin's appointment was made by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), committee chairman, upon the recommendation of Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), ranking minority member on the committee. He will assume duties Sept. 20, after closing out his current commitments with the Washington law firm of Arnold, Fortas & Porter, in which he is a partner.

Robert F. Jones, former congressman from Ohio and member of the FCC, took over Sept. 1 as chief counsel to head the investigation.

The Bricker statement said a staff study would be conducted during the congressional recess and results presented to the full Senate Commerce Committee at the first session of the 84th Congress. Sen. Bricker said he intends to hold hearings next year on the basis of the study.

Mr. Plotkin said he has made plans to return to his law firm on the basis of the projected hearings being completed by next February or March. In the meantime, he will not participate in the firm's fees, he said.

The former FCC assistant general counsel (1940-51), referring to published comment that his relationships with Mr. Jones (FCC Commissioner, 1939-47) had not been entirely cordial during their terms together on the FCC, said he and Mr. Jones "have always been good friends." He admitted, however, that they did not see eye to eye on many things.

Appointment of the two brought at least one minor problem—that of office space: the medium-sized room in the basement of the Senate Office Building originally had been assigned to the communications subcommittee headed by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), with desks for Nicholas Zapple, the Senate Commerce Committee's communications counsel, and two secretarial personnel.

Mr. Zapple, who was counsel to the Potter unit during its hearings last spring, and after-

Mr. Jones reiterated last week that he had no comment on whether additional staff personnel (clerical or counsel) will be added for the probe. Neither was he ready to indicate what direction the investigation will take, now or later.

Although Sen. Bricker was in Ohio last week and unavailable for comment, it seemed reasonable to assume from his statement that no full-dress meeting of the committee during the congressional recess is in present plans.

Sen. Bricker's announcement last week said Mr. Jones and the committee staff will study the feasibility and practicability of pending legislation to place radio and tv networks under jurisdiction of the FCC. The staff also will study the "whole uhf-vhf problem on which the Committee's Subcommittee on Communications held extensive preliminary hearings in the past session under the chairmanship of Sen. Potter," the statement said.

Mr. Plotkin has been a partner with Arnold, Fortas & Porter since June 1951. A native of Athol, Mass., he was graduated from Harvard in 1934 and Harvard Law School in 1937. He was graduated magna cum laude and is a Phi Beta Kappa. At law school he was a member of the Harvard Law Review board of editors.

Mr. Plotkin was associated with the Chicago law firm of Topliff & Horween from 1937-39 and during his term with the FCC was in charge of litigation and administration.

KARM Wins Initial Decision For Fresno Ch. 12 Facility

KARM Fresno, Calif., last week won the initial decision issued by FCC Hearing Examiner Basil P. Cooper for a new tv station on ch. 12 there. The competing bid of KFRE there would be denied.

Examiner Cooper's decision favored KARM on the basis of superior operation of its station. He stated that KFRE commercial policies included (1) discriminating against Fresno merchants in favor of national advertisers, (2) broadcasting four to eight spot announcements in a 15-minute program, and (3) broadcasting back-to-back as many as four announcements in some of the station's personality programs,

FCC REVISES POLITICAL REGULATIONS; STANDARD RATES, POLICIES WILL APPLY

Commission ruling, effective now so as to be a guide for the fall campaigns, means radio-tv broadcasters must treat politicians the same way they treat commercial advertisers.

REVISED policy on rates and practices of radio-tv stations with respect to political broadcasts was set forth by FCC last week, just in time to guide stations in the fall election campaigns.

Adopted in final form substantially as proposed [B•T, June 28], the revision to FCC's am, fm and tv rules implements the 1952 amendment made by Congress to Sec. 315 of the Communications Act, namely: stations cannot charge politicians more than regular commercial advertisers for air time or facilities.

In view of the closeness of the fall contests, FCC made the changes effective immediately. The order, adopted Sept. 2, was made public Tuesday. Secs. 3.190 (am), 3.290 (fm) and 3.657 (tv) of the Commission's rules are affected (see separate box).

In brief, the changes affect stations in this manner:

- Legally qualified political candidates are entitled to the same rates, discount privileges and other conditions or services to which any regular commercial advertiser is entitled.
- Serious doubt exists as to the legality of the practice by many stations of requiring politicians to post bond or otherwise indemnify the licensee against damage suits, unless regular advertisers also are required to post similar indemnity bonds or insurance.
- Whether a politician will be charged the national or local rate will depend upon what the candidate would be charged if he were a commercial advertiser "whose advertising was directed to promoting its business within the same area as that encompassed by the particular office for which such person is a candidate."
- There shall be no rebates "by any means direct or indirect."

Extra Fee Charges

- Politicians may be charged extra fees for recordings or use of special equipment providing the same charges apply to regular advertisers requesting such facilities.
- If Candidate A buys bulk time meriting a discount, opposition Candidate B is entitled to buy the same amount of time and earn the same discount. Mr. B, however, cannot claim the discount if he buys less than the necessary bulk time meriting such discount.
- But, if Candidate A's party buys bulk time and gains a discount, then pro-rates the time and costs among several of the party's candidates, opposition Candidate B is entitled to buy time at the same pro-rated cost paid by Mr. A even though Mr. B does not buy the amount of time normally earning such discount. This preserves the individual candidate's right of equality under Sec. 315, FCC explained.

The Commission's final notice pointed out that none of the industry comments on the original proposal protested the changes, although there were suggestions for modification of different points [B•T, Aug. 2].

FCC noted that KFRE Fresno, Calif., suggested the rules should spell out that candidates whose names are on ballots in more than one county should be charged the national rate while those whose names are on the ballot in but one county would receive the local rate.

The decision said FCC could not concur with this suggestion "for, while it might be advantageous from the standpoint of certainty, this would establish a purely artificial test for determining the applicable rate which in specific cases might result in charging candidates rates not comparable to those charged commercial advertisers."

The ruling noted the comment disclosed an ambiguity, hence the modification of the final version of paragraph (c)1 to provide "that a candidate, in each case, shall be charged no more than the rate the station would charge if the candidate were a commercial advertiser whose advertising was directed to promoting its business within the same area as that encompassed by the particular office for which such person is a candidate."

"We believe this revision will enable station licensees to determine which of its commercial rates is generally charged in the area encompassed by the office for which a particular candidate is running and to make a good faith judgment in the case of each individual candidate as to the applicable commercial rate to be charged."

The FCC decision also had several observations on the comments of NARTB and Southern Idaho Broadcasting & Television Co. (KLIX-TV Twin Falls) as to the question of how discount rates are to be calculated under the revised rules in circumstances where time has been purchased by or for one candidate as part of a bulk purchase of time which has resulted in making the cost to such candidate less than if he had purchased the time actually used by him on an individual basis.

NARTB had urged FCC to withdraw its requirement that the opposition candidate could buy time at the pro-rated cost on the ground it was unrelated to commercial practice and would disrupt the historical political time sale pattern.

Southern Idaho, FCC observed, "apparently does not take issue with the Commission's views as to the situation where time has been purchased on a group or pooled basis by several candidates, but raises the question as to the applicability of this principle where the block

Recapitulation

REVIEW of policy and applicable rules and regulations developed in recent years and governing political broadcasts has been prepared by FCC and is to be published tomorrow (Tuesday) in the Federal Register, the Commission announced late Thursday. In an effort to help guide radio-tv stations in their handling of political campaign talks this fall, the Commission said it will send each station licensee a reprint of the Federal Register review. In the interim, copies are available for inspection at FCC's Washington headquarters. Styled in question-and-answer form, the recapitulation sets forth text of Sec. 315 of the Communications Act and pertinent sections of FCC's rules. It also covers such topics as who is a legally qualified candidate, what constitutes equal opportunity, limitations on use of facilities and allowable rates (see story this page). Specific case citations are included.

of time is purchased by a political committee or similar group, and individual candidates using part of this time are charged only a pro rata share of the total cost.

"It is contended that it would be grossly unfair to stations and purchasers of large segments of time if Sec. 315 and our rules are interpreted as entitling the opponents of the individual candidates to the same reduced rate which they paid by reason of their connection with the committee, in the event such opponent were unwilling to purchase a segment of time to which the same discount given the committee applies."

The Commission concluded, "We believe that the answer to both of these questions becomes apparent when it is recognized that the entire scheme of Sec. 315 of the Act is that opposing legally qualified candidates for a particular public office are, as a matter of individual right, entitled to equal opportunities in the use of broadcast facilities.

"This does not mean that they must be given equal time, or even that they must be charged the same rates if, though the station makes the opportunity available to all, only some of the competing candidates choose to purchase enough time to take advantage of available discount rates.

"But we do think it clear that the individual equality among competing candidates can only be achieved if any one candidate, by doing and spending no more than his individual opponent, can secure equal air time. To provide otherwise, as the NARTB and Southern Idaho Broadcasting & Television have suggested, would substitute equality among groups or political parties for the criterion of individual equality among candidates. Whatever we may think of this as an abstract question of policy, it is not what we understand Congress intended in Sec. 315."

36 Don't Sell

Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Co. (WAGC Chattanooga) and 35 other licensees, FCC observed, maintained that stations "sell no time or services 'comparable' to that sold political candidates since the Communications Act prohibits stations from censoring material broadcast by political candidates and thereby exposes station licensees to liability for slanderous material broadcast by political candidates.

"It is also argued that nothing in the Act expressly requires a station to charge a political candidate the same rate as a commercial advertiser under any circumstances. They urge that if candidates are to be free from all restraint as to their broadcasts, they should be required to indemnify or insure stations against any loss that may be suffered by a station because of their broadcasts, or waive their rights under the law so as to permit stations to censor their program material.

FCC continued, "they also suggest the proposed rules be revised to state specifically that stations may charge candidates for time used to make recordings, for use of recording machines, equipment, studio facilities, etc.

"We cannot agree with these suggestions," the Commission decision concluded. The ruling continued:

We believe that the legislative history of Sec. 315(b) of the Communications Act makes clear that Congress, although it was fully aware of the fact that licensees could not censor political broadcasts, expressly intended that neither this nor any other factor should be used as an excuse for charging higher rates for political broadcasts than for other commercial programs.

With respect to the suggestion that stations should be specifically authorized to charge candidates for making use of recordings, recording apparatus or other equipment, etc., we believe it is clear that Congress intended political candidates may be charged such special fees if, but only if, such charges were also applied to other users of the station's facilities. Nothing in the rule as drafted or here finalized would preclude

FCC Rule on Political Rates

HERE is the text of the revised FCC rules on political time charges which now must be the same as for regular commercial advertisers. Effective immediately, the rules implement a 1952 amendment to Sec. 315 of the Communications Act. Wording for revised Secs. 3.190(c), 3.290(c) and 3.657 (c), FCC's am, fm and tv rules, respectively, all read the same as follows:

(c) Rates and practices. (1) The rates, if any, charged all such candidates for the same office shall be uniform and shall not be rebated by any means direct or indirect. A candidate shall, in each case, be charged no more than the rate the station would charge if the candidate were a commercial advertiser whose advertising was directed to promoting its business within the same area as that encompassed by the particular office for which such person is a candidate. All discount privileges otherwise offered by a station to commercial advertisers shall be available upon equal terms to all candidates for public office.

(2) In making time available to candidates for public office no licensee shall make any discrimination between candidates in charges, practices, regulations, facilities, or services for or in connection with the service rendered pursuant to this part, or make or give any preference to any candidate for public office or subject any such candidate to any prejudice or disadvantage; nor shall any licensee make any contract or other agreement which shall have the effect of permitting any legally qualified candidate for any public office to broadcast to the exclusion of other legally qualified candidates for the same public office.

a station from charging a political candidate additional fees under such circumstances.

Nor are we authorized under Sec. 315 of the Communications Act to provide that stations may require candidates to indemnify or insure stations against any loss a station might suffer because of the contents of a candidate's broadcasts, or to waive their rights so as to permit censorship of such broadcasts.

In fact, we are extremely doubtful whether it would be lawful under Sec. 315(b) of the Communications Act for a station to impose upon candidates for public office such an obligation to provide bonds or insurance unless they also require other users of their stations to post similar indemnity bonds or insurance.

As to the request of Aiken Electronic Adv. Corp. (WAKN-AM-TV Aiken, S. C.) and 34 other broadcasters for clarification of the rules on discounts, FCC explained "whether a quantity discount rate is brought into play is wholly dependent upon a licensee's commercial quantity discount rate structure and the use which a licensee permits of his station by the first candidate for a particular public office who desires to buy time on the air."

FCC pointed out "it is within the licensee's discretion to allot only such time as he believes in keeping with good programming practices to the first candidate for a particular office who desires to buy time. If a licensee provides sufficient time to this candidate to bring into play a discount rate which would apply if the broadcasts were commercial, the rule would require the licensee to make this same commercial discount rate available to the candidate; and equal opportunities must be made available to opposing candidates.

"But nothing in the rule precludes a station from limiting the total amount of time to be made available to all legally qualified candidates for a particular office as the station licensee determines what will best serve the public interest so long as equal opportunity is afforded all such candidates."

LAWYERS DEBATE COVERAGE ISSUE

STRONG pro and con feelings about the broadcasting and telecasting of Congressional hearings were expressed by former New Deal officials James M. Landis and Thurman Arnold over CBS Radio's The Leading Question in its Sept. 5 broadcast.

Mr. Landis, former dean of Harvard Law School and former member of the Securities & Exchange Commission, held out for complete freedom for microphones and tv cameras to cover Congressional proceedings.

Mr. Arnold, former assistant Attorney General and former Circuit Judge in the District of Columbia—and now senior member of the Washington law firm of Arnold, Fortas & Porter—held that "adversary" proceedings should not be broadcast or telecast. He said he was "enthusiastic," however, about broadcasting or telecasting hearings on "public issues or bills."

Both debaters used the Kefauver and the Army-McCarthy hearings as examples of broadcast events—but differed in their attitude toward them. Mr. Landis saw them as good. Mr. Arnold termed them a "distortion" of proper Congressional hearings.

VHF WKAQ-TV ASKS FOR 'SATELLITE'

SECOND application for a "satellite" tv station in the vhf band was reported by FCC last week to have been tendered for filing—this time by ch. 2 WKAQ-TV San Juan, Puerto Rico. WKAQ-TV wants permission for a supplemental outlet on ch. 3 at Mayaguez.

Earlier, ch. 5 KFBC-TV Cheyenne, Wyo., requested and was granted a permit for a partial satellite or "budget" station on ch. 10 at Scottsbluff, Neb. [B•T, Aug. 23]. For the most part, it would rebroadcast KFBC-TV.

Both applications involve operation in the vhf band while no bid has been filed to date requesting a satellite uhf operation as FCC announced it would consider after the first of this month. The uhf satellite plan was devised as a means to help save the dwindling uhf station population in the face of stiff vhf competition [B•T, Aug. 9].

It was devised as a case-by-case method to expand uhf coverage to more nearly equal vhf service, although vhf stations could qualify for satellite uhf outlets. The plan also would permit low-cost, low-power independent uhf stations to be built in markets which otherwise could not support a tv outlet. Such stations would not be required to originate local programs for the time being.

El Mundo Inc., licensee of WKAQ-TV, proposed to construct the ch. 3 facility at Mayaguez "to be operated as a satellite until full scale operation becomes feasible", the application disclosed. "The station will duplicate the programs now being broadcast by station WKAQ-TV," the application said, "except that film programs will be originated at the transmitter site of the Mayaguez station for approximately 5% of the weekly operating period."

With all the management and commercial programming functions to be performed by members of the WKAQ-TV staff, the Mayaguez station will be constructed for an estimated $231,294, with first year operating cost at $25,000. The proposed effective radiated power is 25.2 kw visual and 13.6 kw aural with antenna height above average terrain 695 ft.

Poynter Asks Stay In Tampa Tv Decision

NELSON POYNTER, operator of WTSP St. Petersburg, petitioned FCC last week to stay the effective date of its final decision granting tv ch. 8 to WFLA Tampa, owned by the Tampa Tribune, pending completion of litigation in the case which also included a third competitive bid by Tampa Bay Area Telecasting Corp. [B•T, Aug. 9].

WTSP renewed its offer to WFLA to operate jointly an interim outlet on ch. 8 pending completion of litigation. Purpose is to provide prompt vhf service there since ch. 13, finally granted Tampa Television Co. in another proceeding, also appears scheduled for litigation by the Tampa Times' WDAE, unsuccessful ch. 13 applicant.

Only tv outlet in operation there is ch. 38 WSUN-TV, owned by the City of St. Petersburg.

Both WTSP and Tampa Bay have filed petitions with the Commission for rehearing of the early August final decision.

WTHS-TV Extension Bid To Go Before Hearing

EDUCATIONAL television station WTHS-TV Miami, authorized on reserved ch. 2, was advised by FCC last week that its application for extension of completion date "indicates necessity of a hearing." Comr. Frieda B. Hennock dissented from the action to send the pre-hearing McFarland notice.

Meanwhile, the Commission notified two vhf tv permittees that unless they notify FCC within 20 days that they desire hearings on their bids to extend construction deadlines, their permits will be cancelled and the stations deleted.

The stations involved are ch. 7 KLYN-TV Amarillo, Tex., under permit to Plains Empire Broadcasting Co., and ch. 10 KHTV (TV) Hibbing, Minn., under permit to North Star Television Co. Comr. Hennock also dissented in both of these actions.

McFarland to Oppose Pyle In Arizona Governor's Race

FORMER Sen. Ernest W. McFarland of Arizona, majority leader in the Senate during the previous Democratic administration and active in radio-tv legislation as a member of the Senate Commerce Committee, last week was back in the political spotlight after winning the Democratic nomination in the Arizona gubernatorial campaign.

The Arizona Democrat is 40% owner of Arizona Television Co., permittee of KTVK (TV) Phoenix, which will be that city's third television outlet. Target date of KTVK, on ch. 3, is unknown.

Incumbent Gov. J. Howard Pyle, nominated by the Republicans without opposition, will oppose Mr. McFarland in the elections. Gov. Pyle holds a minority interest (800 of 64,706 shares) in KTAR Broadcasting Co. (KTAR Phoenix), according to FCC records. He is former vice president and program director of the Phoenix station.

KTAR Broadcasting Co. also owns KVAR (TV) Mesa, 85.8% of KVOA-AM-TV Tucson, 98% of KYUM Yuma and 95.2% of KYCA Prescott.

Mr. McFarland lost his Senate seat to Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican, in the 1952 elections.

WJLB Grant Made Final; Las Vegas Bid Dismissed

FCC last week made effective immediately the proposed grant of a new tv station on ch. 50 at Detroit, Mich., to WJLB there. By a separate order the FCC dismissed with prejudice the bid of KRAM Las Vegas, Nev., for failure to prosecute its bid for a new tv station on ch. 13 there.

The ch. 50 grant to WJLB was made possible by the dismissal with prejudice of the competing application of Woodward Broadcasting Co. [B•T, July 12].

Woodward petitioned for dismissal of its ch. 50 bid after purchasing ch. 62 WCIO-TV for $100 from the UAW-CIO Broadcasting Corp. of Michigan [B•T, June 21].

At Las Vegas, the Commission's dismissal order follows from an FCC examiner's initial decision proposing to deny the KRAM ch. 13 bid on the ground that it was not financially qualified [B•T, Aug. 9].

FCC Grants Six Ams; Central City Gets Two

FCC Requests Court Stay Allentown Order

FCC HAS ASKED the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington to hold up issuance of its order in the Allentown, Pa., case [B•T, Aug. 23] pending a determination by the Solicitor General of the U. S. on whether to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Commission feels that the Appeals Court order jeopardizes the authority of administrative agencies to overrule examiners. This was a key point in the 2-1 appellate decision last month.

An FCC memorandum on the reasons why the decision should be appealed to the high tribunal is scheduled to be sent to the Department of Justice this week. If the Justice Dept. and the Solicitor General agree, a writ of certiorari will be asked immediately. The Supreme Court will then decide whether the question is significant enough to warrant a hearing. Request for certiorari automatically stays the effectiveness of the lower court's ruling.

Last month's Appeals Court ruling remanding the case to the FCC was the second time that court had overruled the Commission in the seven-year-old 1230 kc controversy. The case involves competing applications of Allentown Broadcasting Corp. and Easton Publishing Co. for the local frequency. The Commission granted the facility to Allentown in 1947 (call letters WHOL). Easton appealed, and in 1949, the Appeals Court remanded the case to the Commission to determine the comparative needs of the two communities for new radio service and the relative ability of the applicants to serve the greater need. After a hearing in 1950, the examiner recommended the grant again be made to WHOL. The FCC reversed the examiner and issued a final grant to Easton Publishing (licensee of WEEX-FM-TV Easton). Allentown Broadcasting appealed this decision, and was sustained by the court last month.

The court held in its split decision that the Commission erred in holding that no significant difference existed in the ability of the applicants to serve their respective communities. It upheld the examiner's findings that Easton Publishing was uncertain regarding program plans, reluctant, evasive and lacking in candor, and susceptible of being found monopolistic in the concentration of communications media. The court majority further held that the Commission had no right to reverse the examiner's rulings regarding the credibility of witnesses.

It is this point that the Commission attorneys feel should be clarified by the Supreme Court.

Circuit Judges David Baselon and Wilbur K. Miller were the majority; Judge E. Barrett Prettyman dissented.

LAMB RENEWAL CASE HEARING WEDNESDAY

WICU (TV) application for license renewal set Wednesday after FCC refuses to delay case or supply new facts on charges against Mr. Lamb.

HEARING on the license renewal application of Edward Lamb's WICU (TV) Erie, Pa., is to commence Wednesday before FCC Examiner Herbert Sharfman, after refusal by the Commission last week to delay the case or supply additional facts on the charges against Mr. Lamb.

Th broadcaster-publisher, according to issues in the hearing order, is charged with making false statements to the Commission about former alleged communist associations. These ties he repeatedly denies.

Mr. Lamb asked for a continuance of the case until he was supplied what he considered would be a more proper bill of particulars rather than the "resume" issued in early August by the FCC Broadcast Bureau at the Commission's direction [B•T, Aug. 30, 16, 9].

FCC's order last week approved in part a request by the Broadcast Bureau that the burden of proof be shifted to Mr. Lamb to sustain his charges that certain members of the Commission making investigations in the case caused at least one bribe to be offered to secure evidence against Mr. Lamb. On all other issues the Broadcast Bureau is to proceed first with presentation of evidence, the order indicated.

The Commission gave two reasons for turning down Mr. Lamb's plea for a further bill of particulars. FCC felt the Broadcast Bureau's resume "fairly apprises the applicant of the nature of the charges against him. Second, we expect that the hearing examiner, in the ex-

Mr. Irving Waugh
 Commercial Manager
 Radio Station WSM
 Nashville, Tennessee

Dear Irving:

I've read your ads where you say "Radio stations everywhere . . but only one WSM." Looks as if that's true.

On a recent mail pull promotion we used WSM and five other stations (four radio, one TV). When we had tabulated the returns we discovered that 66% of the response came from WSM.

Just thought you'd like to know how high WSM radio still ranks with Martha White.

Kindest regards.

Yours very truly,
 MARTHA WHITE MILLS, INC.

Maybe we've been too modest — never having claimed that WSM can do twice as well as five other stations put together! But that's what the man says — more evidence that WSM covers the rich Central South market like no other advertising medium. For the full story, contact WSM's Irving Waugh or any Petry Man.

ercise of his discretion and with due regard for the rights of the petitioner for ample opportunity to protect its interests in the matter, will afford petitioner upon request reasonable continuances or the right to recall witnesses in the event such procedures are required by applicant in the circumstances as they are then presented.

"This procedure will, we believe, conduce to the prompt dispatch of the matter and, at the same time, adequately protect petitioner's rights and interest, in this manner best serving the public interest which it is the business of the Commission to protect."

Meanwhile, it was reported last week that Mr. Lamb has filed still another damage suit in Nashville against Rep. Pat Sutton (D-Tenn.) as a result of comments by Rep. Sutton on a political talkathon on several local radio-tv stations [B•T, Aug. 2, July 19]. The new suit, charging slander and asking $500,000 damages, was filed in federal court at Nashville. It named co-defendants WSM-AM-TV Nashville and National Life & Accident Insurance Co., licensee.

Earlier, Mr. Lamb filed three separate $500,000 damage suits in Davidson County Circuit Court against the Congressman, each suit naming as co-defendants different radio-tv stations said to have aired the talkathon. These were WSIX-AM-TV and WLAC there in addition to WSM-AM-TV.

KRIC, KTRM Ask FCC For Ch. 6 Rehearing

APPLICANTS who lost out to KFDM Beaumont, Tex., in FCC's final decision for ch. 6 there petitioned the Commission last week to reconsider the action which had reversed the earlier recommendation of a hearing examiner [B•T, Aug. 9]. KRIC and KTRM, both denied in the final decision, requested rehearing.

In the final ruling, FCC favored KFDM on the sole factor of diversification and concentration of control of the media of mass communication, finding no significant difference among the applicants on other claims of superiority, the pleading of KRIC noted. This is contrary to the evidence, the petition said.

KRIC is owned by the Enterprise Co., publisher of the only daily paper there. W. P. Hobby, president-chief stockholder of the Houston Post-KPRC-AM-TV Houston, is director and holds option for up to 35% interest in KTRM while D. A. Cannan, president-chief owner of KFDX-AM-TV Wichita Falls, is president-29.7% owner of KFDM.

KRIC charged the ruling is "nothing less than outright discrimination against a newspaper because it has a newspaper, and for no other reason," noting the other applicants have tv station affiliations.

KTRM pointed out that the Commission arrived at different conclusions without pointing out where the examiner was in error.

Seek KMO Sale Approval

APPLICATION for FCC approval to the sale of KMO Tacoma, Wash., by Carl E. and Carl D. Haymond to Charles D. Hunter Jr. and J. Archie Morton and their wives for $200,000 was filed with the FCC last week.

Sale of KMO-TV by Messrs. Haymond to J. Elroy McCaw for $300,000 presently is awaiting FCC approval [B•T, July 19, 12].

Mr. Hunter is a law partner of Edgar Eisenhower, brother of President Eisenhower. Another brother, Earl Eisenhower, has interests in WESA Charleroi, Pa., and WLIO East Liverpool, Ohio.

Mr. Morton presently is executive assistant to the president of KIRO Seattle, Wash.

BMI ISSUES DATES FOR 1955 CLINICS

DATES for the 47 radio program clinics set by BMI for 1955 were announced last week by Glenn Dolberg, vice president in charge of station relations, who said the early release was made to comply with requests of many state broadcasters associations that want to schedule their own meetings around those of BMI.

The 1955 clinics will open Feb. 21 at Vancouver, B. C., and in Arkansas. With two teams of speakers traveling simultaneously in different parts of the country, 39 clinics will be completed in the U. S. and Canada by April 22. The remaining eight will be held in June, consisting of those for states where weather conditions do not encourage earlier meetings.

BMI has asked state broadcasters associations, many of which plan to hold their own state meetings a day before or after the program clinic, to confirm acceptability of the dates and select clinic cities and meeting places as soon as possible so that all arrangements may be completed well in advance.

During the 1954 series of 51 clinics, it was pointed out, overall attendance reached a record peak, some 15% above that of previous years.

The 1955 schedule is as follows:

February—Feb. 21, Vancouver and Arkansas; 23, Washington (state) and Louisiana; 25, Oregon and Mississippi; 28, California (San Francisco) and Alabama.

March—March 2, California (Los Angeles) and Georgia; 4, Arizona and South Carolina; 7, New Mexico and North Carolina; 9, Texas and Virginia; 11, Oklahoma and West Virginia; 14, Kansas and Indiana; 16, Missouri and Michigan; 18, Iowa and Ohio; 21, Nebraska and Maryland-District of Columbia; 23, Illinois and Pennsylvania; 25, Wisconsin and Montreal; 28, Kentucky and New Jersey; 30, Tennessee and Rhode Island.

April—April 1, Florida and New York (Utica); 18, Massachusetts; 20, Maine; 22, Amherst, N. B.

BOTV, Actors Agree On C-C Theatre Tv

DETAILS were announced last week of an agreement between Actors' Equity Assn. and Box Office Television Inc., New York, under which Broadway legitimate theatre productions will be presented throughout the country by closed circuit television.

William Rosensohn, executive vice president of BOTV, revealed the company plans to bring a series of at least three Broadway productions to theatres throughout the nation via closed circuit tv in the near future. He added that presently some 100 theatres are equipped for presenting closed circuit telecasts.

Terms of the agreement, reached by Actors' Equity and BOTV, are as follows:

(1) The minimum payment to each actor shall be $342.50 or the contractual weekly salary involved, whichever is higher, for a telecast to 40 or fewer theatres;

(2) The maximum number of hours of rehearsal for actors shall be 20 hours within a span of ten consecutive days, including the day of the telecast, with a payment of $5.60 per hour for each hour or fraction thereof of rehearsal in excess of 20 hours;

(3) The minimum payment to each extra, as defined by Equity, shall be $83.50 for a telecast to 40 or fewer theatres;

(4) The maximum number of rehearsal hours for extras shall be ten hours, with a payment of $3.40 for each hour or fraction thereof of rehearsal in excess of ten hours;

(5) Payment shall be made to each member of the company for each theatre in excess of 40 theatres in which the closed circuit telecast is shown, at a pro rata of the original fee in an amount to be negotiated at a later date;

(6) Because of the experimental nature of closed circuit telecasts, Clause 5 above is waived for these three telecasts only;

(7) Each time Clauses 5 and 6 become operative, a $500 contribution will be made to the Equity Welfare Fund;

(8) All members of the company, including stage managers, shall be engaged for the closed circuit telecast unless Equity gives its consent otherwise;

(9) No kinescope or other recording of the telecast shall be used commercially, and if such kinescope or recording is made, it shall be used only for review by officials and technicians of Box Office Television Inc. to correct mistakes that may have been made. Any other use of a recording shall only be permitted with the consent of Equity;

(10) The members of the company shall receive the same billing as they receive in the current production;

(11) The audience will be arranged so as to allow free movement of the cameras, to give due regard to the artistic results.

Fitzgibbons Offers Plan in Record Dispute

A PLAN whereby manufacturers would press releases on standard 10-inch vinylite discs with speed of 33 1/3 rpm on standard groove has been suggested by a former broadcast industry veteran as a compromise in the current 45 rpm record controversy.

The proposal is being offered by L. O. Fitzgibbons, former part owner of WBEL Beloit, Wis., who plans to set up his own agency for distributing specially-selected manufacturers' records to stations for a nominal fee. He compares his plan to the record counterpart of a transcription service.

Mr. Fitzgibbons said he has talked with representatives from a number of major record companies, including RCA, Columbia, Capitol, Mercury, MGM and Decca and Midwest distributors. He said plans for such an agency would hinge on approval by at least one or two major record concerns and a favorable decision by AFM President James C. Petrillo.

Question has been raised whether Mr. Petrillo would consider the proposed discs as transcriptions or as phonograph records, in which case royalties would be required.

He said that, under his proposal, companies would save the expense of shipping records directly to stations, which in turn would benefit from getting the most suitable music for their libraries. Additionally, the method could save filing space and avert expense of 45 rpms.

The proposal calls for pressing of two musical selections on each side, or four per record. The best of the old 78 rpms would be re-recorded and new releases could be culled for an efficient, compact library, Mr. Fitzgibbons added.

'Mr. D. A.' in 201 Markets

SALES of Mr. District Attorney radio show in a total of 201 markets were announced last week by Alvin E. Unger, vice president in charge of sales of the Frederic W. Ziv Co. The total is said to establish "a new high for Ziv radio dramatic shows." Mr. Unger commented that the high point reached by Mr. District Attorney represented "renewed and alert interest in regional radio by local advertisers." Among the new advertisers of the show are Zenith distributors and dealers, who signed contracts for Washington and six new markets in Pennsylvania.

Radio-Tv Again Cited For Holiday Traffic Aid

National Safety Council lauds broadcasters for messages that helped to hold down the Labor Day traffic toll.

BROADCAST media once again have won the commendation and appreciation of the National Safety Council for their assistance in keeping the Labor Day holiday traffic death toll down below earlier estimates.

The council lauded radio-tv networks and stations alike, as well as press and other media, for "pounding home safety to the public through news reports, caution messages and special appeals" before and during the Labor Day weekend. President Eisenhower's personal appeal to the public to "fool the experts" gave the campaign a "big push," it added.

The Labor Day traffic death mark hit 364, or 26 under the pre-holiday estimate of 390 made by NSC. It was the second straight holiday weekend where the toll fell below predictions [B•T, July 12] and the lowest for Labor Day since 1948. The 364 mark was described as "tragically high" but "definitely encouraging."

Council spokesmen also credited use of an hour-long documentary, "Dead Stop," by 198 radio outlets as one factor for success of the campaign. The recording originally was produced by CBS Radio last December and donated to the council. Total of 833 stations have aired it thus far.

Additionally, spot announcements and warnings by news editors were cited, along with an Advertising Council allocation for highway safety. MBS was cited by spokesmen for a special drive by its various commentators, as were special enforcement activities by states, counties and cities.

Special mention was made of the July 12 B•T editorial reprinted and sent out by the council to news editors of stations throughout the country.

Sir Winston Remembers

WHEN Hazel Markel, woman commentator for WWDC Washington and MBS, asked Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill for his autograph at a luncheon given in his honor by the Washington news corps, during his visit to the nation's capital last June, he is said to have replied, "My dear lady, I never give autographs, but when I get back to London if you will write me a letter, I'll answer it." A month later Mrs. Markel did. Last fortnight she received a reply from the British Prime Minister on his personal stationery from No 10 Downing St. The note said in part, referring to the luncheon, "It was an occasion I shall long remember." Mrs. Markel, who was then president of the National Women's Press Club, had first met Sir Winston more than a year ago when she was in England to cover the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II for Mutual.

WWOR-TV, which began operating on ch. 14 in December 1953 and is affiliated with ABC and DuMont, is owned by 25 stockholders. Fox, Wells & Co., New York investment firm, owns 26.7% of the station. John Z. Buckley is president and Ansel E. Gridley is vice president and general manager.

Fox, Wells & Co. is the principal stockholder in KFSD Inc., newly formed company which is buying KFSD-AM-TV San Diego for $2.8 million from Thomas W. Sharp and associates [B•T, Aug. 23]. It also is the largest single stockholder in Olympic Radio & Television Inc., manufacturer of radio and tv receivers, and owns in whole or in part of several community television systems in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Alabama.

WADK, WERI Forced Off By Hurricane Carol

TWO Rhode Island stations last week reported they were forced to suspend operations temporarily due to power failure when Hurricane Carol ripped through New England Aug. 31 [B•T, Sept. 6].

WADK Newport was off the air for eight hours, but suffered no damage to equipment. It resumed operations after being supplied a 10 kw generator by the U. S. Navy at Newport and acted as a filter center for storm messages.

WERI Westerly lost about 11 hours of air-time, but at 7:15 p.m. was able to broadcast from its transmitter site and shortly thereafter was back at its studios. The station then cleared messages for the police, National Guard and Red Cross, operating throughout the night, it reports.

Construction Underway On New WCAN-TV Quarters

STORAGE space for props and scenery in the $290,000 WCAN-TV Milwaukee building now under construction will cover 24,000 sq. ft., as large as the entire present quarters of the station. The building, which will house both studios and offices of WCAN-TV, should be completed in about eight weeks, according to Lou Poller, president of licensee Midwest Broadcasting Co.

Plans call for a 60 x 60 ft. studio, large enough so that 10 automobiles can be driven in for commercials, and another studio 40 x 45 ft. Both will be equipped with its own control room and announcer's booth. A 1,500 sq. ft. master control room will contain specially-designed and custom-built electronic equipment. The ultra-modern television building will be completely equipped for both CBS-TV and local color transmission. WCAN-TV is presently transmitting all CBS-TV color programs. The fire-proofed building will house 20 offices and provisions have been made for an additional 15,000 sq. ft. for future expansion.

Sutherland WILD Gen. Mgr. As Campbell Goes to KXXL

GEORGE SUTHERLAND, former manager of WAYS Charlotte, N. C., and sales manager of WAYS-AM-TV, has been appointed general manager of WILD Birmingham, Ala., it was announced last week by George Mattison Jr., WILD president.

Mr. Sutherland succeeds Don D. Campbell who has purchased an interest in KXXL, Monterey, Calif., new 1 kw fulltime outlet on 630 kc. KXXL will commence operation in the fall. In his new enterprise, Mr. Campbell will be associated with Steve Cisler, operator of KEAR San Francisco.

Mr. Campbell, a 25-year veteran of radio and tv, had been in Birmingham broadcasting for the past 20 years.

Mr. Sutherland, before holding the Charlotte position, was general manager of WILM Wilmington, Del., for two years, and then was a major stockholder and principal executive of WAMS Wilmington. Mr. Sutherland was for four years manager of the then WFCI Providence-Pawtucket, R. I.

RRN Drops WQXR-FM

PROGRAMS of WQXR-FM New York will be dropped from Rural Radio Network's "upper New York state fm stations," beginning Sept. 6, according to the station, which said the action was taken so that RRN "may concentrate on its original function of serving the farm and rural population of the state." Other stations of the network will continue to carry the same programming as previously.

Vandals Damage KBIG Studios

CATALINA ISLAND studios and transmitter of KBIG Avalon, Calif., suffered damage estimated at several thousand dollars when night-prowling vandals smashed equipment, broke windows and smeared the premises with black paint. The station escaped without broadcast interference, however, because key transmitting equipment was protected by special covers.

ARTISTS' sketch of the planned $290,000 air conditioned and color-equipped building which will house both studios and offices of WCAN-TV Milwaukee. Construction is expected to be completed in about eight weeks (see story). Rene Brugnioni, New York, is architect and Charles Capps, Los Angeles, is the designer.

WOR-TV Sets Record For Month's Billings

LARGEST month's billings in the history of WOR-TV New York was achieved in the past 30 days with new business during the period exceeding $500,000, it was announced last week by Gordon Gray, general manager of WOR-AM-TV.

The record-breaking sales month, Mr. Gray said, was marked by the signing of "blue chip" advertisers for WOR-TV's package of 30 first-run motion picture films series called Million Dollar Movie. He noted that within 10 days after the station announced that Liggett & Myers (via Cunningham & Walsh) and Piel's beer (through Young & Rubicam) each had bought one-eighth of the package, four other sponsors were added. They are: Rival Dog Food (Charles Silver Co.), Pellex Cream (Dowd, Redfield & Johnston), Vick Chemical Co. (Morse International), and Sterling Drug Co. (Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample).

Contributing to WOR-TV's sales upsurge, Mr. Gray continued, was increased business activity in spot announcements. Among sponsors who have purchased announcement schedules during the last two weeks, he said, are the New York Telephone Co., Grove Labs, Plough Inc., William Wrigley Co., Drackett Co., Melton Industries, American Chicle Co., Kiwi Polish Co., Hassenfeld Bros. and Burry Biscuit Co.

Mr. Gray announced that one account executive has been added to the sales staff and another will be hired shortly. The new account executive is Frank Kizis, previously with the station's television sales service department.

Mr. Gray also disclosed plans for an extensive campaign to promote Million Dollar Movie, which will begin on Sept. 21. Each of the feature pictures will be shown a total of 16 times a week (daily at 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m., with an extra "family matinee" on Saturday and Sunday at 4:30 p.m.).

In addition to advertisements in local newspapers and in fan magazines, the station plans to launch a saturation on-the-air promotional effort on WOR-AM-TV. The station also will print and distribute about one million "bank-notes" showing program times and feature film line-up.

In conjunction with Million Dollar Movie is the WOR-TV "Grand Plan," which offers eight advertisers an opportunity to purchase a package of eight 20-second spot announcements a week immediately adjacent to the film series for $1,000 per advertiser.

Super 'Scraper—Antenna

CONSTRUCTION of a building that would out-do the Empire State Bldg. in height and office space and perhaps compete with it as a tv antenna site is being considered by Robert R. Young, new board chairman of the New York Central Railroad, who said last week he is thinking of putting up such a structure on the site of Grand Central Terminal in New York. The firm of Webb & Knapp, consulting with Mr. Young on the idea, was reported to have come up with a plan for an 80-story building approximately 1,000 feet in height, topped by a combination observation and television tower of about 600 feet. Thus the structure would be approximately 1,600 feet from street to tip, compared with the 1,472-foot height of the Empire State Bldg. and tower on which are located the transmitting antennas of all seven New York metropolitan area tv stations.

Pusey Goes to West Coast As WBC Realigns Auditing

REALIGNMENT of Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.'s station auditing personnel, attributed to WBC's recent acquisition of KPIX (TV) San Francisco, was announced last week by I. C. Ruby, WBC headquarters auditor.

Robert E. Pusey, auditor of KDKA Pittsburgh, effective Sept. 15 becomes assistant headquarters auditor in charge of WBC's West Coast stations, KPIX and KEX Portland, Ore. Glenn Kelley, chief accountant at KPIX, assumed new duties as auditor of that station on Sept. 6. R. W. McCorkle, auditor for KEX, moves to the same position at KDKA on Oct. 15, and Rodric Smith, KEX accounting department, replaces Mr. McCorkle as auditor.

APPOINTMENT of Don Ward to Chicago as office manager is being announced today (Monday) by Robert Hoag, President of Hoag-Blair Co., New York, station representatives. Mr. Ward has been an account executive in the Blair-TV Chicago office since December 1951. Before that time, he was associated with WIND Chicago, KSD St. Louis, ABC, and WBKB (TV) Chicago. Michigan Ave.

BLACK GOLD in the Red River Valley

Pretty words and lilting phrases all aside, there's only one basic source of wealth, and that's the earth.

We could tell you that people in the Red River Valley are extraordinarily prosperous because they are thrifty and hard-working. Or because they are shrewd, or energetic. Or because this radio station keeps their money whirling, by putting avaricious ideas into their pretty little heads. Etc., etc.

Actually, the Red River Valley is prosperous because of our thick, black topsoil. Through endless prehistoric ages, it was deposited in what was once the bed of a vast lake. This earth is as good or better than the humus-laden soil in your rose garden. It grows every kind of "crop", including hogs, lambs and cattle — like mad.

And our farmers don't work ten-acre or fifty-acre plots. They work our eye-filling flat fields with the kind of power equipment you ordinarily see only on big engineering projects. They make as much money in their overalls as lots of city guys do in their gray flannels!

The average farm in this area produces a gross income of $9,518 as compared with the Average National Farm Income of $6,687.

We hayseeds who have run WDAY since 1922 use big facilities to farm our audience, too. We dominate this territory so completely that you can't even mention any other station in the same breath. If that sounds exaggerated to you, you have only to investigate a little. For example, you might ask us about the fan mail that pours into here at the rate of 400 letters a day, including Sundays and holidays. You might ask why more than 10,000 families pay cash subscriptions to receive our "Mike Notes", WDAY monthly newspaper, etc.

But it all goes back to the topsoil, and there we rest our case. Ask Free & Peters!

New Katz Color Tv Report Relates WKY-TV Experiences

SECOND of a series of reports on color tv, this one titled "Close-Up on Color Tv" and detailing the experiences of WKY-TV Oklahoma City as the first independently-operated station to telecast live studio color, has been prepared by The Katz Agency, national advertising representative.

A follow-up to Katz' earlier "Focus on Color Tv," the 16-page new booklet reviews the three primary stages of color development at the station level: relaying network programs, originating slide and film material, and telecasting live studio color.

"Close-Up" describes, among other things, lessons learned by Katz-represented WKY-TV in producing its hour-long five-times-a-week cooking show colorcasts, "Cook's Book," discusses engineering and control room problems, camera technique, lighting, set and costume design, rehearsal time, and product display; gives WKY-TV's reasons for thinking its entry into local live color at this time was a good investment and that nation-wide color is closer than many people think; summarizes WKY-TV's promotion activities in behalf of color tv, and gives some of the reactions of Oklahoma City advertisers who have seen it.

form the new executive group of the station.

Mr. Roehrenbeck has been associated with Loew's Inc., the parent organization, for 34 years. He was appointed business manager of Loew's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer eastern studios in 1929, and three years later was named production manager of Loew's Theatre stage production units. He held that post four years until his appointment as general manager of WMGM.

Mr. Katz joined the Loew's organization as assistant manager of the Capitol Theatre in New York. He became assistant nighttime operations manager and later daytime program supervisor of WMGM (then WHN) before his induction into the U. S. Navy in 1942. After his release from service, he was appointed program director in 1946.

Mr. Faust, who has been a WMGM account executive 19 years, is credited with having sold $6 million in air time during his career at the station. Before joining WMGM, he was sales manager of WRNY and WKBQ, then New York outlets.

Meanwhile, WMGM's parent Loew's Inc., last of the major film companies to go through divorce proceedings as required by Government consent decree, has announced separation of its motion picture production and distribution activities from its domestic theatre operations. WMGM remains with the production-distribution company, which continues as Loew's Inc., spokesmen said. The theatre holding company will be known as Loew's Theatres Inc.

The Birth of the Pitch

THAT oft-maligned institution—the radio commercial—had its day in New York last Tuesday. Special ceremonies were held in Battery Park to commemorate the 32d anniversary of what was said to be “the first radio commercial broadcast.” Dr. M. E. Strieby, director of technical demonstration of AT&T, gave details of the event as it occurred in 1922 at WEA New York (now WNBC), which was then operated by Bell Labs. He recalled that the first commercial was “a sales pitch” for tenant-owned apartment houses in Jackson Heights, Queens. Dr. Strieby remarked that “some people didn’t like it, but it soon became the American way of providing good programs.” The ceremonies were broadcast over New York-owned WNYC-AM-FM.

George T. Baum, Construction and Service Manager of Carrier Corporation, tells why he's . . .

The man who raced the thermometer!

"This summer really put the heat on us," says Carrier Corporation's George Baum.

"Take a phone call we got from Chicago: refrigeration machinery stopped — and the mercury going up on 70 tons of expensive beef! Or a theatre is without its air conditioning; a laboratory's vital supply of penicillin is in danger.

"We raced those rising thermometers — and beat them — with Air Express!

"To back up our local stock depots, we maintain one complete inventory of over 15,000 different parts in Syracuse.

From May to September, Air Express handled 15 to 20 shipments a day for us, from a 1 oz. gasket to a 900 lb. rotor.

"With more Carrier air conditioning and refrigeration in service than any other make on earth, Air Express plays an indispensable role in preventing emergencies — and in meeting the inevitable few.

"Yet the average shipment costs least by Air Express. 25 pounds from Rochester to Chicago, for instance, is $5.65. That's $1.20 less than the next best price for any air service — and Air Express service can't be beat!"

MUSICIAN EMPLOYMENT LAGS IN RADIO, TV—AFM

Comparison of figures published in 'Official Proceedings' indicates continuation of downward trend that has been in effect for some years.

CONTINUING downward trend in employment of musicians in radio and television and in total earnings for musicians in these media is pointed up in the 1954 American Federation of Musicians' Official Proceedings of the 57th annual convention of the union.

Figures compiled by B•T last week from current Official Proceedings (covering the 1953 year) and the 1953 edition (covering the 1951 year) indicate the extension of a trend toward employment of fewer musicians each year. A detailed study published earlier this year [B•T, March 15] reported the declining employment from 1944 to 1951, with number of staff musicians having been reduced from 2,719 in 1944 to 1,976 in 1951. Though salaries in that time rose from $11,911,981 to $14,262,858 in 1951, the latter figure, representing post-war inflation, was believed to reflect little or no increase in "real" wages.

A comparison could not be made between the 1952 and 1953 year because the federation, which usually reported on activities of two years back, decided to omit 1952 statistics and keep record of the preceding year. In comparison with 1951, it is revealed that the number of staff musicians on radio and tv stations had declined from 1,976 to 1,759 in 1953 and salaries from $14,262,858 to $13,152,858.

Similarly, with respect to single engagement commercial employment on radio and television, there emerges a downward trend in the use of musicians and in their earnings. In 1951, 122 leaders and 2,163 musicians were employed in radio for total salaries of $4,651,152, while in 1953, 104 leaders and 1,200 musicians were used for total salaries of $2,605,518. In television, no breakdown was provided for the number of musicians employed for single engagements in 1951, but their earnings were listed at $4,024,544, while in 1953 earnings had dropped to $2,461,347 for 149 leaders and 1,771 men.

Total musician earnings for employment in all phases of radio and television for 1951 were reported at $26,259,646 as compared with $24,677,409 in 1953.

AFM Adds $100 Royalty For Radio Musical Spots

AMERICAN Federation of Musicians has revised its radio spot announcement policy to one requiring $100 royalty payment for each announcement using musicians and produced on or after Aug. 1, 1954.

Although the union has had a similar royalty payment on all television spot announcements since October 1952, AFM permitted the recording of radio announcements without the contribution to the union trust fund until the recent changeover.

In a statement to B•T last week, Bob Swanson, vice president of Goldswan Productions, said to be one of the larger firms in the national radio and tv spot musical field, pointed out that "It's too early to measure overall sponsor and agency resistance to AFM's new policy." He noted that when AFM instituted its tv rules for spot announcements, there was "scattered agency resistance," but added the trend has been toward the increased use of musicians.

"One thing, however, emerges clear," Mr.

Swanson declared. "With so many musical spot users planning their campaigns in terms of adaptability to both media, there is little doubt that agencies and sponsors will devote considerable time and thought to comparative cost breakdowns of spots using musicians and those using vocalists who also can "make like musical instruments."

O'Brien Statement 'Premature'

STATEMENT attributed to British film union leader Tom O'Brien in New York, following a meeting with the AFL Film Council in Hollywood two weeks ago, that the council had agreed to discontinue its campaign against U. S. motion picture production in Great Britain, was labeled as premature by Carl Cooper, business agent for IATSE Local 33, Los Angeles. The labor spokesman said the Hollywood meeting was merely exploratory with both sides exchanging views and explaining their positions in a friendly manner. However, the council has made no final decision yet, Mr. Cooper said.

SDG Tv Series Studied

TELEVISION series, similar to its hour-long NBC Radio Screen Directors Playhouse broadcasts during 1949-51, is being studied by Screen Directors Inc., newly-reactivated, fund-raising subsidiary of Screen Directors Guild. A director from the membership would be made available for each program, according to SDG spokesman, who added this will mean the entry into tv of some of the top motion picture directors, ordinarily not planning to do any video.

Income from the proposed series, as with the radio program, will go to SDG's Educational and Benevolent Fund.

RTDG, WGN in Tiff; NLRB Drops WRRR Case

CHARGE of unfair labor practices was flung at WGN-AM-TV Chicago last Wednesday by the Chicago local of the Radio-Television Directors Guild.

The local filed the charge with the National Labor Relations Board's Region 13 in Chicago. It claims that the stations management refused to bargain with certain employees and discharged three tv directors in recent weeks without cause.

Frank Schreiber, manager of WGN Inc., was not immediately available for comment late Thursday and spokesmen declined to discuss the charges. WGN Inc. was served with a copy of the notice Thursday.

The charge claims that an "overwhelming majority" of tv directors employed by WGN Inc. chose the RTDG Chicago local as its bargaining representative in June 1952, and that the management refused to bargain with the guild this past July. Management officials then met with the employees involved Aug. 5.

Subsequently, the charge continues, two directors—Barry McKinley and Ernie Lucas—were discharged on Aug. 21 and another—Chris Erskine—on Aug. 27 "for attempting to exercise their legal right to unionize."

NLRB Chief Examiner Martin Schnide (13th Region) assigned Field Examiner Richard Simon to the case.

Before accepting the case for study, NLRB Region 13 satisfied itself that the case was within its jurisdiction on the basis that WGN Inc. had done $200,000 or more worth of business last year.

In another instance, Region 13 had thrown out the case involving WRRR Rockford, Ill., a new station, because this new requirement

ABC-TV SETS $1 MILLION FALL CAMPAIGN

Extensive budget for printed media promotion and advertising to stress network's fall lineup signals ABC-TV entry into current NBC-CBS struggle for increased fall billings. Emphasis is on full lineup, aimed at converting 'channel hoppers' to fulltime viewers.

ABC-TV unveiled plans last week to spend more than $1 million in a national effort to convert the "channel hopper" to a fulltime evening viewer of that network's programs.

The costly promotion-advertising campaign, stressing ABC-TV's fall lineup of video fare as well as channel habits, comes precisely in the period when NBC and CBS have squared off in their latest competitive fight for increased fall billings both in tv and radio.

Ranking third in network tv billings, ABC must attract some of the "Big Two" audience to bolster its business. Convinced it now has the "name" programs to "sell" the viewing public, ABC-TV has launched a campaign that is designed to build a nightly network audience as contrasted to its last year's drive, which promoted individual shows and stars.

Details were announced Tuesday at a network news conference presided over by the campaign's two field captains, Mitchell DeGroot, ABC-TV director of advertising and promotion, and Jack Pacey, director of the network's public relations.

The campaign in behalf of the network and its five o&o stations uses newspaper, billboard, transit card, on-the-air and station advertising. Cost breakdown, according to Mr. DeGroot, is $375,000 for newspapers; $20,000 in billboards; $50,000 in transit ads, and $475,000 for time costs (networks, etc.). Production costs for material prepared and dispatched by the network for stations total $30,000. Production costs of its newspaper-billboard-transit advertising effort are estimated to be more than $90,000. Thus, the total, including all advertising expenditures plus production costs, comes to more than $1 million.

The major tv drive starts Sept. 17 in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Detroit and San Francisco, the five cities in which ABC owns stations (WABC-TV, WBKB (TV), KABC-TV, WXYZ-TV and KGO-TV in that order), Mr. DeGroot said.

At the same time, the network's 209 affiliates will be receiving promotion-advertising "packages" and the owned stations will conduct a special on-the-air promotion campaign.

In preparing its so-called "night block advertising" campaign, ABC-TV built around certain "keystone" evening programs—for example—Monday: Voice of Firestone and Jamie; Tuesday: Danny Thomas, U. S. Steel-Elgin alternating drama series, and Stop the Music; Wednesday: Disneyland-TV, Stu Erwin and Masquerade; Thursday: Treasury Men in Action and the Kraft plays; Friday: Ozzie and Harriett, the new Ray Bolger Show and Jan Murray (Dollar a Second); Saturday: programs following afternoon NCAA football, and Sunday: Walter Winchell, Martha Wright and Break the Bank.

Mr. DeGroot speculated that ABC-TV's newspaper ad expenditure on a single campaign would be "longer (in duration) and more extensive" than any other network and "certainly more than ABC ever did in the past."

Promotion Pace Quickens

The newspaper promotion actually began the first week in September, but it gains momentum with the Sept. 20 addition of Ray Bolger to the ABC-TV fall season lineup, and runs over into November. Some 20,000 lines will be placed by the network in 15 newspapers located in five cities with nine million circulation, he said. Each ad will be similar in design, stressing ch. 7 with the theme "Tonights Best TV Shows Will Be on 7—Will You?" All of ABC-TV's stations are on ch. 7. When Disneyland comes on the tv screen Oct. 27, an additional promotion will be used as that program will be treated as a "special event," Mr. DeGroot explained.

Visual attraction of the ads will be sought by picturing all stars and personalities of ABC-TV programs grouped around a big "7," on top of which will be pictured an outstanding star or feature of that night's ABC-TV program roster. This large-space newspaper advertising will be in the five cities in which ABC owns stations.

The network's top shows will be advertised over a 90-day period in the billboard campaign, centering in Los Angeles. Mr. DeGroot said he believed the billboard promotion is the first on this scale for any network in that city. This drive also starts Sept. 20, with the first 30 days including all top ABC-TV shows and the second 30 days (beginning Oct. 20) devoted to the Disney series' premiere and first three shows. After Nov. 20, the billboard advertising will revert for 30 days to calling attention to regular programs.

A similar pattern will follow in the transit

A black and white illustration of a barn with a sign on its side. The barn has a dark, vertically-planked exterior and a white-trimmed roof with a cupola. A large, dark shadow of the barn is cast onto the ground in front of it. A sign is mounted on the lower left side of the barn. The sign is rectangular with a decorative border of flowers and leaves. It contains the text: "HEAR", "The Little Red Barn", "WITH", "JAY GOULD", "EVERY MORNING FROM 4:30 TO 7:30 A.M.", and "WOWO".

THERE'S A LITTLE RED BARN IN INDIANA

that'll sell big for you in WOWO-land

This Little Red Barn is a radio program on Fort Wayne's WOWO. It's a farm program so real to its listeners that they can almost tell you the pitch of the roof. Matter of fact, a blind listener built a scale model of the barn and sent it to Jay Gould, who runs the program.

From the sounds that go on, you'd think Jay was talking from his own farm in Allen County. He uses words probably never heard on any other program. But his listeners understand. Because good farming is next to good religion with Jay and his friends in Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

And do they like it! Here's a typical comment from the hundreds of letters that come in each week: "The very first door I open every morning is the door to the 'Little Red Barn' on WOWO."

ad campaign which will be conducted in greater New York only. The promotion will appear in subways, commuter trains and ferries. Side car posters, measuring 21x22 inches, will be used with a total circulation for three months estimated to be more than 600 million.

In station promotion, each ABC property will use special film trailers as well as promotion slides, telops and balops built around art work used for the campaign itself. The package sent to affiliates includes advertisements which can be placed in local newspapers. This series is built around the "A" in ABC and runs the gamut of the network's top shows. Also offered are "block" ads emphasizing a single evening's programming. All the newspaper ad offerings will have accompanying slides for screen presentation. For stations in ABC-TV's "basic" network, which includes some 20 major markets, special promotion slides underscoring the individual station's channel number will be offered. This special effort in the major cities will be backed by both Mr. DeGroot and Mr. Pacey making personal visits, working with stations on promotion and advertising.

Affiliate stations will receive 20-second films featuring the show's star talking about the advertising campaign and in certain instances, mentioning the channel number; recorded announcements; newspaper ad mats; promotion slides; promotion telops; photographs of the shows' stars; publicity stories and promotion continuity. The material is housed in a steel cabinet which is shipped to the station.

The Disney promotion, which is both an addition to and in conjunction with the overall advertising campaign, will get underway in earnest Oct. 1, will increase in intensity as show time approaches and will be sustained until the latter part of November.

23-City Closed Circuit To Carry Medical Panel

DISCUSSION of hypertension by a panel of five physicians will be telecast Sept. 23 over a closed circuit to 5,000 physicians in 23 cities under the sponsorship of American College of Physicians and Wyeth Labs.

The program will originate in CBS-TV studios in New York, 6-7 p.m. EDT. That network's facilities are also being used in televising the program. Invitations to attend the closed circuit showings have been sent.

Showings will be held in the following cities, with the location of the gathering as indicated:

Atlanta, Dinkler-Plaza Hotel; Baltimore, Sheraton-Belvedere; Boston, Sheraton-Plaza; Charlotte, Charlotte Hotel; Chicago, Sheraton; Cincinnati, Sheraton-Gibson; Cleveland, Hotel Cleveland; Colorado Springs, Broadmoor; Dallas, Adolphus; Detroit, Sheraton-Cadillac; Houston, Shamrock; Los Angeles, CBS Television City; Memphis, Peabody; Minneapolis, Raddison; New Orleans, Roosevelt; New York, CBS Studio No. 60; Philadelphia, Union League; Pittsburgh, Sheraton; St. Louis, Sheraton; Salt Lake City, Newhouse; San Francisco, Sir Francis Drake; Washington, Broadcast House.

Although Smith, Kline & French Labs has used closed circuit color tv to bring operations and other techniques to medical men at large conventions, this is believed to be the first time a major pharmaceutical house has joined with a medical society to underwrite a national closed circuit hookup.

Early this year, the Sheraton Hotel chain announced that it was entering the closed circuit tv field as part of its convention activities [B-T, March 22]. This probably is the reason for the large number of Sheraton hotels in the ACP-Wyeth program.

NBC-TV DEDICATES NEW COLOR STUDIO

New York's Mayor Wagner cuts the ribbon opening the $3.5 million production center.

IN A COLORFUL ceremony Thursday, New York's Mayor Robert Wagner dedicated what NBC-TV claims to be "the world's largest" tv studio as a new NBC production center for color tv. Address is 1268 E. 14th St., Brooklyn.

After cutting the ribbon, Mayor Wagner said the studio, a former Warner Bros. sound stage converted and equipped to handle NBC's color spectaculars at a cost of $3.5 million, was "a fine new showcase for the best this city has to offer in the theatre arts." He said the huge studio—it measures 178x88 feet and can accommodate sets more than 35-feet high—was a "great contribution" by NBC to keeping New York the capital of tv production.

According to NBC, the network's fall schedule produced at the Brooklyn studio will keep some 6,300 performers and production personnel occupied with more than a $3 million payroll for the season. First spectacular to originate at the Brooklyn studio was "Satins and Spurs," produced by Max Liebman, and telecast yesterday (Sunday) only three days after the dedication.

Other speakers at the ceremony were NBC President Sylvester L. Weaver Jr. and Executive Vice President Robert W. Sarnoff.

Mr. Weaver echoed the mayor's sentiments about maintaining New York as a tv production center and predicted: "The 'spectacular' programs in color which will originate here will explode television entertainment to a new high. The influence of these shows will spread through the entire industry—and through allied entertainment industries as well. And this studio provides the physical wherewithal for these shows to come into being."

Mr. Sarnoff, in his talk noting the size and modern equipment of the studio, said they "will allow producers to give free reign to their imagination when they are building the exciting new 'spectaculars' and other great shows we will have on our schedule."

As the ceremony concluded, rehearsals for "Satins and Spurs" which starred Betty Hutton in her tv debut were underway. The event was covered by the studio's color cameras and relayed into a color set placed before the official party.

The studio's lighting system, which, according to NBC, "is the most elaborate and modern in television," has 900 circuits with a capacity of 960 kw and sufficient to light a 3,000-home community.

ABC Radio Expands News

EXPANSION of its weekend news package—22 five-minute newscasts each Saturday and Sunday—from a summertime to a year-around basis was announced last week by ABC Radio. The announcement noted that Vitamin Corp. of America had bought into the package for the period from the past weekend through Oct. 31 [B•T, Sept. 6] and said sponsors for periods after Oct. 31 will be announced later.

NBC-TV 'First Nighters'

NBC reported last week that NBC-TV affiliates throughout the country were planning "first night" treatment of the network's color television spectacular series, which was scheduled to begin last night (Sunday), 7:30-9 p.m. EDT. Typical of the opening night promotion set for "Satins and Spurs," first of the Sunday night series, produced by Max Liebman, was that planned by WKY-TV Oklahoma City, according to the network. The station issued engraved invitations to civic and business leaders to view the premiere on color sets in the WKY-TV studios and also presented "first nighters" with NBC-TV's "playbills" for the production. Other NBC-TV stations prepared for "Satins and Spurs," in which Betty Hutton was to make her tv debut, by showing ten-second kinescope trailers of the show.

Another plan designed to stimulate viewer interest is to send "audience promotion mailing pieces" giving pertinent data on color spectaculars to owners of RCA color receivers and to key distributors and dealers of color sets. NBC-TV's national audience promotion department already has mailed the first promotion piece on "Satins and Spurs," and this will be followed by one on the second spectacular, "Lady in the Dark," starring Ann Sothern, on Sept. 25. Similar promotional mailing pieces are planned for upcoming spectaculars.

Among those who will appear on the show are Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, chief of staff of the U. S. Army; George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor, and entertainment personalities including Frank Sinatra, Danny Kaye, Ray Bolger, Dorothy McGuire, Ray Milland, Jack Carson, Keenan Wynn, Jerry Colonna, Jack Haley and Pat O'Brien.

Florida AT&T Link Opens

NEW 146-mile microwave system between Jacksonville and Orlando, Fla., has been opened for long-distance telephone service and eventually, when all 12 channels on the route are fully developed, will have a potential capacity for several television programs as well as hundreds of telephone circuits, AT&T's Long Lines Dept. announced last week. The Jacksonville-Orlando link is the first section of a projected route that eventually would extend to West Palm Beach.

Racing Network Ups Schedule

OPERATION of the Thoroughbred Broadcasting System, Louisville, Ky., will begin on Sept. 28, on a six-times-a-week basis, with a broadcast from Belmont Park, N. Y., according to an announcement by Clem McCarthy, president of the new network. Original operation called for tri-weekly operation [B•T, Aug. 9]. The revised schedule will not affect the talent charge to radio stations for the feature horse race presentations the network will offer.

AB-PT Declares Dividend

BOARD of directors of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres has declared dividends of 25 cents a share on outstanding preferred and 25 cents a share on outstanding common stock of the corporation, payable Oct. 20 to holders of record on Sept. 24, President Leonard H. One Block Around World

ABC has hailed its star record player, Martin Block, as "disc jockey of the world." By today (Monday) the network announced, the Martin Block Show will be carried daily by the Armed Forces Radio Service' 72 stations to the Alaska area, the Caribbean area, Europe, Pacific area (including Korea, Japan, Midway, Hawaii, Australia, and all other Pacific spots where U. S. troops are stationed), North Atlantic area (Labrador, Iceland, Goose Bay) and the Middle East (Tripoli to Dhahran).

All told, ABC estimated the show—a half-hour taped and excerpted version of the Martin Block Show carried from 2:35 to 4 p.m. on ABC Radio and also heard on Canadian stations—would be available to 90 million listeners overseas.

Moore Named Director Of NBC Press Division

ELLIS MOORE, manager of business publicity for the NBC Press Dept., has been named director of that department [CLOSED CIRCUIT, Aug. 30], Sydney H. Eiges, vice president in charge of press and publicity, announced last week.

MR. MOORE

At the same time Mr. Eiges announced an expansion of the institutional activities of NBC's Dept. of Information under the supervision of Michael Horton, director of information.

Mr. Moore succeeds Richard T. Connelly, who resigned as director of the press department a few weeks ago to return to Young & Rubicam, New York, as assistant manager of the radio-tv department [B•T, Aug. 16].

Although no formal announcement had yet been made, Joe Derby, staff writer in the press department, was slated to succeed Mr. Moore as business publicity manager.

Krolick Named As NBC Expands Participating Dept.

EXPANSION of the scope of NBC's new Participating Programs Dept. to include one NBC Radio show as well as the three NBC-TV series sold under the participations plan was revealed last week. The network announced that Richard Krolick, former tv director for Life magazine, had joined the department as producer of the two-hour Sunday with Garroway radio show (Sun., 8-10 p.m. EDT).

Spokesmen said inclusion of Sunday with Garroway in the new department was "a natural." Aside from the fact that it is sold on the participations basis, its principal, Dave Garroway, is featured on NBC-TV's Today, participations-plan series, and advertisers on Today are being urged to add the Garroway Sunday program to their list. Other NBC Radio programs sold on a participations basis—Weekend, Roadshow, and Three Plan shows—have not yet been brought into the new department, spokesmen reported. The three tv shows in the department, set up early last month [B•T, Aug. 9], are Home, Tonight, and Today.

Mr. Krolick, who succeeds James Fleming as producer of the Sunday with Garroway program, during his tenure with Life produced Inside Our Schools, presented in 13 cities in cooperation with NBC; We the People for 13 weeks in 1952; Life in New York series over NBC's WNBC (TV) New York, and similar "Life in . . ." programs over other stations.

RCA Color Caravan Sets National Tour

RCA plans to bring color tv to the public—not only via the airwaves but also on wheels. Charles M. Odorizzi, executive vice president, RCA corporate staff, said Wednesday a "color television caravan," complete with control room and technical equipment, is ready to roll on a nationwide tour to introduce the color medium to audiences at fairs, expositions and other large public gatherings.

The unit is equipped to produce on-the-spot programs and is contained within a specially-designed 32-foot trailer. Included are a quantity of color receivers, two color cameras, a tv film-scanner and microwave apparatus. It can originate any type of program, live or film, Mr. Odorizzi said.

The caravan will make its bow Sept. 25 when it rolls to a stop at the Mid-South Fair in Memphis. From there, the unit will continue on its cross-country trip and will be available to conventions, department stores and other business and service organizations in addition to fairs and exhibitions. A staff of engineers, technicians and program production experts has been assigned to the caravan. A color tv projector showing color on a 15-by-20 foot screen will be used.

According to Mr. Odorizzi, the caravan will mark "another important step in RCA's plans for the nation-wide introduction of color television." He said the mobile unit duplicates a similar caravan that toured more than 50,000 miles starting in 1947 to introduce black-and-white tv. Most programs will be originated by the unit and carried closed-circuit via cables to receivers. The caravan, however, also can "feed" color signals to a commercial tv station or to a network. Caravan supervisor is Richard H. Hooper, manager of RCA shows and exhibits (Camden N. J.), and the director is Julius Haber, RCA's director of community relations.

Hausman Claims Monochrome Sales Will Hold Their Own

BELIEF was expressed last week by Louis Hausman, vice president of CBS-Columbia, that there will be "as much black-and-white television receiver business as there will be color, at least for the next five years."

Mr. Hausman offered this opinion in New York at a showing of CBS-Columbia's three new large-screen color receivers [B•T, Sept. 6] and the company's new black-and-white "Century" series, with sweep tuning.

Mr. Hausman said his confidence in continued sale of black-and-white sets in the color era is based on the belief that the consumer who wants a television set and cannot afford a color receiver will buy a black-and-white model.

Admiral Announces Use Of Robot Equipment

ELECTRONICALLY - controlled automation equipment, comprising high-speed robot machines that assemble printed circuits equivalent to about one-half of a tv receiver chassis within mere seconds, was announced by Admiral Corp. last Wednesday.

John B. Huarisa, Admiral executive vice president, said development and use of these machines could mark a trend comparable to that generated by Henry Ford's moving chassis assembly line techniques over 40 years ago. Admiral has been working on printed circuits for television set usage in recent months as part of what it calls "automation." Hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent to put automation into actual use.

With automation and robots, Admiral has been able to turn out, for the first time, a receiver with an aluminized 21-inch, 90-degree tube good for a 270-inch picture, with full 18-tube vertical chassis, at only $149.95. The company also has produced two vertical chassis table models with this method.

A 30-ft. long battery of machines has been built and installed by Admiral, with the result that resistors and wire jumpers can be fed automatically and a completely assembled printed circuit board turned out in a few seconds. Eight tubes are included in the section.

The robot machines feature printed circuit boards photo-etched and stamped in one of Admiral's 12 plants. Two other robot machines will be installed next year to supplement the one presently in use.

RCA Markets Accessories For Community Tv Systems

FIVE electronic accessories for community television systems, designed to increase and improve their service, have been placed on the market by RCA's Engineering Products Div.

They include a converter for transmitting uhf signals over vhf channels; a broadband sweep converter for alignment operations; a low-noise preamplifier for stepping up weak vhf signals; an Antenaplex crossover network for mixing and dividing low- and high-band vhf signals; an Antenaplex crossover network regulating the AC line voltage.

The uhf-to-vhf crystal controlled converter was said to eliminate the customary need for a separate converter or uhf tuner for each receiver in community-tv areas.

Individual brochures describing each of the new accessories are available from Engineering Products Div., RCA, Camden, N. J.

RERUN PAYMENTS: ACTORS LOVE 'EM

A STATUS REPORT ON WHAT RESIDUAL FEES MEAN TO TELEVISION

By Leo Kovner

THE LIFE of ease for the tv film actor, broken only by trips to the bank to cash his residual payment checks for video films he made years ago, is still a dream, most tv observers agree.

For one thing, residual payments in any appreciable amount have been received only since last December, according to the Screen Actors Guild, which has jurisdiction over tv film, and acts as collection and disbursing agency to actors for payments from producers and advertising agencies.

Payments for film shot especially for tv are the result of a contract between SAG, leading independent producers and the Alliance of Tv Film Producers made in July 1952. It applies only to films made since that date, which are just reaching third and fourth run.

Briefly, the contract provides that actors be paid for runs subsequent to the first two in each market, which the producer gets for his initial salary payments. For the third and fourth runs, he must pay the actor an additional 50% of his basic minimum salary; for the fifth run, another 25%, and for the sixth, the last run covered by the contract, an additional and final 25%.

The basic premise that the player is entitled to additional compensation for subsequent tv performances was decided as a side issue during 1948 negotiations between SAG and the major studios. These studios, then and now, have held the position they will not release their product to tv, so they were quite willing to grant the actor an adjustment for showings they didn't intend to permit.

However, independent studios were not covered by this contract and especially independent Monogram Pictures (now Allied Artists Pictures) were willing to sell their old product to video. The major studio provision was then written into the Monogram contract, which has served as the basis for all such feature film showings since.

The contract provides that actors appearing in pictures released before August 1948 are not entitled to further pay; those in pictures released since that date receive either 12½% or 15% of their original salaries, depending on whether the feature grosses less or more than $20,000 on tv.

However, by far the lushest residual crop for the tv player lies in the filmed commercial, both program and spot. Actors may decry the lack of emotional satisfaction in selling soap, but they look with great favor on the checks these commercials produce for months, sometimes years, afterward.

Apparently, fortune has favored some under the present standard SAG contract established one and one-half years ago and to which 350 agencies and film producers adhere. One report tells of an actor who finished his shooting stint in 15 minutes and in the following six months received a total of $2500. He called to thank the agency, and was informed that the agency intended to use the spot for another six months and he could expect another $2500.

However, this is an isolated case, Guild executives say, and usually results when the agency is engaged in an intensive program and spot announcement campaign.

Basically, minimum payments are computed on city use. Class A commercials involve 20 or more cities. (For purposes of computing, Los Angeles, Chicago and New York each constitutes the equivalent of seven cities. Any two used in a campaign constitute the equivalent of 20 cities). Class B use consists of from six to 19 cities and Class C, from one to five cities.

A single actor making a spot announcement before camera receives $70 for 13-week Class C use, plus $35 for each 13-week renewal; $105 for each 13-week Class B use; and $140 for each 13-week Class A use. Off-camera voice payments are halved.

Program commercials run higher, with a single on-camera player receiving $105 for each 13-week Class C use, or $185 with a 26-week guarantee; $140 for each 13-week Class B use; and $70 for a single Class A use, plus an additional $50 for each individual reuse, or $150 if three uses are guaranteed within three weeks, or $350 if eight uses are guaranteed within 13 weeks. Off-camera voices receive approximately 2/3 the on-camera rates.

If the same commercial appears on both programs and spots, both rates apply.

Additionally, the actor has the privilege of killing further use of the commercial after 18 months. At that time the agency must ask his consent for continued use. However, SAG explains as an example, the player may have established himself as a dramatic actor in the meantime and may not care to have his face associated with, for example, corn flakes or a deodorant.

This applies as well to the individual who appears as part of a group in a commercial. In this case the agency has 24 months before it must approach all members of the group to gain their unanimous approval to continue use of the commercial. Should one member decline, the commercial must be abandoned.

Commenting on residual payments to players in tv commercials, John Gaunt, radio-tv director, Grant Advertising Inc., Hollywood, said, "Some industry disagreement exists as to the fairness of the present system of 'work session' and 'use' payments to players for filmed tv commercials.

"Some contend with SAG that an actor who demonstrates and convincingly 'sells' a product on a regularly repeated commercial tends to become identified with that product. To the extent he does, so is he less interesting to employers as a salesman of other products—especially competitive ones—and his employment opportunities are reduced. Consequently, he should be well paid by the product to which he has 'committed' his personality.

"Others in the industry feel that—except in the case of a star endorsement, or an oft-repeated 'hard-sell' commercial—the public doesn't identify a performer with a product at all, so non-name actors are paid a salary disproportionate to that of other production workers.

"Whatever his views in the matter, there's one point on which all agency men agree: the administration and bookkeeping necessary to the present system of 'use' payments is a time-gobbling headache."

Increasingly, players are embracing a concept of property rights in their roles. Don Haggerty, star of the CBS-TV Files of Jeffrey Jones, and Tris Coffin, prominent tv and motion picture actor, explain as long-time tv film players, "We want something like the ASCAP setup. We want residuals to be something like an annuity."

Both appeared on tv during its formative stages and have continued as performers since. They regard residuals as a new factor in their professional income. Since neither lays claim to clairvoyance, they hesitate to estimate how much of their future income will come from post-payments for previous roles, since they have no way of knowing which series will achieve enough popularity to insure third and fourth runs.

"We're all learning," says Mr. Haggerty. "I'm able to negotiate more satisfactory terms to my contract because of my past mistakes."

One such mistake, in Mr. Haggerty's view, was his failure to secure additional payment for program commercials in which he appeared for Jeffrey Jones. If a series is successful, "the star makes more money from the commercial than from the program," he admits.

Present residual schedules, negotiated when there were only 80 tv stations on the air and perhaps 10 film series, are in urgent need of adjustment, in the opinion of Mr.

Coffin. "The Guild made many concessions to the producers in video's infancy," he says. "They had little realization of how big or fast it would grow. The top SAG officers were big or near-big motion picture names, usually under contract to studios or producers who, at that time, had no intention of permitting tv appearances. Now that many top names have entered tv, they have a lively interest in its problems and future contract negotiations will show this."

Both SAG tv administrator Kenneth Thomson and field representative Douglas Smithers point out that many of these prominent names are not interested in tv residuals as such. Instead, they prefer a straight percentage-of-the-profits deal as part of their compensation. Outside of seeing that minimum standards are observed, SAG does not enter the picture in these deals.

However, other personalities who entered video film in its infancy—such as Edmund Lowe of the syndicated Front Page Detective—pioneered in residual payments before SAG entered the field because of the drawing power of their names. Some reportedly are still living comfortably off the periodic pay checks they receive for continuing showings of series made years ago.

But tv has created its own stars, as Mr. Haggerty can testify. In 1948, shortly after he appeared in the live NBC-TV Mr. and Mrs. North, first play televised in New York, he was starred in CBS-TV Cases of Eddie Drake, second tv series filmed. However, both Eddie Drake and the first 26 segments of Jeffrey Jones were filmed prior to the SAG agreement date and as one of tv's newer stars, Mr. Haggerty was unable to negotiate any residual deal himself.

While grateful to CBS, he does regret the absence of the comforting checks every time he sees a rerun of one of his old films.

Neither he nor Mr. Coffin have, as yet, received any residual payments from SAG, but they expect some shortly, with start of repeat runs of covered series. SAG told B•T that over $76,000 had been collected and disbursed to its members to August of this year. This figure includes all types of payments, including tv and feature films and tv commercials. It does not include certain pre-shooting arrangements increasingly popular among some producers. The producer agrees to pay the player his original salary, plus part or all of his residual rights, in one lump sum in advance to avoid bookkeeping headaches.

The $76,000 figure is a short range one and is probably not indicative of future residual payments, SAG warns, when newer series reach repeat runs and older feature films drop out of circulation. Again, Mr. Thomson points out, the major studios, with their larger talent budgets, would mean larger residual payments should their product be released to tv. When and if this happens, they would have to renegotiate their contracts with SAG and residual payments to the actors would undoubtedly play an important part in such discussions.

At present, residuals are possible only film maker

LEON FROMKESS

A PRODUCT of Wall Street, Leon Fromkess entered the film industry in 1929 when he handled the refinancing of Columbia Pictures. Now executive producer for Television Programs of America, he seems a far cry from the New York City youth who had planned to become a stockbroker.

After graduating from Columbia U. in 1926, Mr. Fromkess worked for Bernard Scholle, international banking house, which association led him to Columbia Pictures. There he remained in an overall executive capacity until 1937.

Mr. Fromkess was instrumental in forming Monogram Pictures (now Allied Artists), later serving as treasurer and coordinator of distribution and production. Two years later, in 1939, he organized PRC Pictures (later Eagle-Lion) and as president made approximately 220 pictures. He joined forces with Samuel Goldwyn in 1945 as vice president in charge of production, spending the next five years associated with making such features as "Best Years of Our Lives," "Bishop's Wife" and "Foolish Heart."

Believing in "moving with the tide," it was only natural for Mr. Fromkess to enter tv. He took a trial run in 1950 with MCA, in charge of Revue Productions. The following year he formed Arrow Productions and in his usual methodical manner set up filming for Ramar of the Jungle.

In 1953, Milton Gordon and Edward Small, president and vice president, respectively, of TPA, bought into Arrow as partners and Mr. Fromkess assumed his current position with TPA.

With separate corporations for each series, Mr. Fromkess also serves as vice president and executive producer of Norvin Productions, formed in 1953 to make Adventures of Ellery Queen, and Hall Productions, formed last spring to film Halls of Ivy.

Mr. Fromkess, who guides a maximum amount of production with a seemingly minimum amount of tension, has completed 52 Ramar half-hours, currently seen in 164 markets, and plans an additional 26 to start in January. Ellery Queen, with the first 32 in the can and more scheduled for next year, was recently put into syndication and is set in 47 markets. Ivy starts Oct. 17 on CBS-TV for International Harvester and National Biscuit. There will be 30 of the Ronald Colman-Benita Hume films shot by January. As supervisor of production on Lassie, which is being filmed by Robert Maxwell Assoc. and will start in October on CBS-TV for Campbell Soup, he reports 18 of the first 26 films are completed.

Always in the market for good series, Mr. Fromkess is preparing three under Edward Small Productions banner. Aimed at a late September starting date is Tugboat Annie, and in October Robin Hood is scheduled to go before the cameras. Genie Inc., an original comedy, has been assigned to writer Mary McCall Jr. to develop.

Despite his varied series, he is not shooting in color because he is strongly opposed to that practice at the current time. Though disliking to make predictions, he believes color is at least two to three years away commercially and that a product shot today in color will be obsolete as far as quality is concerned.

Operating on the premise that viewers will not accept "old hat" footage for Ramar, Mr. Fromkess secures new background and action shots, close-ups, stampedes, and the like from hunter-camera-men on the scene in Africa. The quiet-spoken producer also films much of the adventure series on stage. Declaring "lions are easy" (the only problem with the photogenic Jackie, it seems, is that he licks faces), Mr. Fromkess declares that black panthers are truly cats of another color. A recent attempt to photograph one in a jump took almost six hours.

In view of such excitement connected with film making, Mr. Fromkess considers business his hobby. He and his wife, Rita, make their home in Beverly Hills. Daughter Maxine, 24, was active in the business end of her father's activities until her marriage.

with independent pictures, with their comparatively light acting budgets. An average western star receives approximately $2,500 to $5,000 per picture. When one of these pictures is released to tv, he gets about $700, which covers the first two showings in any number of markets in the U. S. For additional showings, he is paid on a sliding downward scale. Since such stars usually appeared in a series of from eight to ten pictures, this all adds up to a respectable sum.

Tv film salaries are growing higher as well, reports Mr. Thomson. However, a trend is growing among some stars to take a lower initial salary, with provision for a steady income from residuals, he notes. One such tv star recently signed a contract providing for initial payment of $2,250 an episode, plus payment of $500 for every subsequent showing after the first, "forever."

Both feature film and tv film producers are responsible to SAG for reporting correctly and paying for each station use provided for under their contracts. Generally, the station reports uses to the distributor, who passes on the information to the producer, who files the required forms and submits payment for distribution to SAG. Producers have complained they need up to 13 weeks to gather and submit this information, but SAG claims one month is sufficient.

Actors themselves play an important role in policing their tv appearances. Apparently they have become avid tv viewers because Guild officials are constantly bombarded with calls complaining that the actor has seen himself for the umpteenth time on this station and when does he get paid?

If they are watching theatrical releases which were repossessed by banks and later sold to tv, there is no contractual arrangement to collect residuals in such cases, SAG regretfully tells them.

Tv film commercials offer SAG the least collection trouble. Current practice is that the agency, for the advertiser, will purchase a commercial from the producer after shooting is completed. The agency thus assumes responsibility for reporting uses and paying residuals to SAG. Payment is usually prompt and the union's feeling can be summed up as "Y & R isn't going to cheat you."

Most agencies have signed letters of adherence with SAG, stipulating they will RESIDUAL payments from the filmed program commercials alone of CBS-TV's Files of Jeffrey Jones series would have brought more income to star Don Haggerty than his salary and residuals, were such a provision in his contract.

meet Guild requirements in showing tv film commercials. The actor's union says these requirements have had some adverse affect on smaller agencies, but general opinion in advertising circles is, "We can live with it."

"They may hire less actors, but employment is not the major factor in the cost of tv commercials. Time costs rank first," says SAG field representative Smithers.

With contract negotiations scheduled to reopen next year, both with majors and independents, that tv residual payments will play a major part in the talks is a foregone conclusion. Another factor to watch will be what residual arrangements major studios will ask. It could well indicate whether or when they will release their stored pictures to tv.

Tv producers generally are reluctant to discuss the residual question. One said: "I'm not going to stick my neck out. We've made the agreement and we're living up to it. It affects costs, but we get along."

Whether he will say the same thing after the upcoming negotiations seems to be the important question in Hollywood.

Mike Shadow: Affectionate name for tv detective.

Teleprompter: Viewer who notifies advertiser when somebody goofs.

Tight Closeup: refers to performer who appears crooked at close range.

Panning: Objective appraisal of tv program by radio personnel.

Feature Film: Three Mexicans shaking gourds in unison.

Flash Back: Reaction of sales person who has been notified at lunch of a prospective advertiser waiting at the office.

Rear Screen Projection: Sprung look acquired by overworked prop men.

WRESTLING ON KINES PAYS OFF FOR KTLA (TV)

PARAMOUNT'S HOLLYWOOD STATION STARTS THE SIXTH YEAR OF ITS WEEKLY SERIES OF KINESCOPED MATCHES.

SOON TO START its sixth year of successfully competing against filmed wrestling series is the video-transcribed Wrestling from Hollywood with Dick Lane, distributed by Paramount Tv Productions Inc.

Since KTLA (TV), Paramount Tv's Hollywood station, started kinescoping that station's weekly Olympic Auditorium Wrestling for sale to other stations in October 1949, a total of 35 U. S., Canadian, Alaskan and Puerto Rican stations have purchased the video-transcriptions, with an annual 75% renewal.

Largely responsible for the success of Wrestling in Hollywood, according to Klaus Landsberg, KTLA vice president and general manager, are Robert B. Forbes, director of transcription sales and of program distribution for Paramount Tv; film editor Dick Vosburgh, who also handles shipping and inspection, and Roy White, KTLA supervisor of studio engineering, who installed the video-transcribing set-up at the station.

Three factors have contributed to the acceptance of the series, Mr. Forbes believes, starting with high quality of the kinescopes, which are said to offer as clear a tv picture as conventional film; the commentary of Richard Lane, KTLA wrestling commentator, whom Mr. Forbes considers one of the top men in the field, and the station's policy of covering only what it considers the best in Southern California wrestling, the Olympic Auditorium matches.

The experience KTLA has gathered in covering wrestling for over seven years and the KTLA-developed video-transcription equipment is responsible for Wrestling from Hollywood's high quality kinescopes, Mr. Forbes states. "We use only two cameras, carefully pre-balanced so that no great lighting changes occur. By careful use, these two cameras are sufficient. We use the regular turrets. We don't try to get fancy; we just try to get the best picture possible," he says.

Film editor Dick Vosburgh tries to keep each match intact. However, since each video-transcription must run 54 minutes in length, often he will add a bout from a previous week, or save one for next week, to make up the 54-minute package.

Mr. Lane's commentary always includes biographical material about the wrestlers, for added interest. These have proven very popular, Mr. Forbes says. They usually are recorded at KTLA studios before the bouts and later inserted at the proper places. During one such recording session Mr. Lane video-transcribed 10 such sketches in a single 45-minute session, with only five breaks, an indication of his professional ability, Mr. Forbes submits.

The Paramount Tv executive is cautious on the technical future of video-transcription. He would like to see further demonstrations of video tape recording, especially of its practicability, before he commits himself to whether, or to what extent, tape will replace film in tv recording.

THE video-transcription machine used by Paramount Tv Productions Inc., Hollywood, to record the Wrestling from Hollywood with Dick Lane series is demonstrated by (l to r) Roy White, supervisor of studio engineering for KTLA (TV) there, who was in charge of installation; Mr. Lane, station wrestling commentator, and Robert B. Forbes, director of transcription sales and of program distribution, Paramount Tv, Hollywood.

'AD MATS' FOR TV

Kroehler furniture prepares silent commercials for dealers' use in local television advertising

FOR FURNITURE manufacturers, the newspaper ad mat has long been standard operating procedure for supplying local dealers with a variety of advertising services. Until recently television had posed a dilemma to dealers, perhaps because the visual medium had no such equivalent.

There might be a trend, however, in the experiences of Kroehler Mfg. Co., Naperville, Ill., reported by its agency, Henri, Hurst & McDonald, Chicago. The rough equivalent of the ad mat has finally arrived on the tv scene—and with appreciable success—with the use of specially prepared 45-second silent films actually passed on to dealers at no cost.

In March of 1953, Kroehler, one of the largest furniture firms of its kind, turned this problem over to its agency: how to attain greater effectiveness in its films for a reasonable price. Two months later the agency's audio-visual supervisor (or film director) Lee Randon, came up with a revolutionary idea. He recalls the situation:

"A check of tv advertising used by furniture stores showed that such stores went in for highly promotional advertising, designed primarily to build store traffic. They made use of brand names only in connection with special values they had to offer. If this were typical of dealers throughout the country, then the conventional tv spot, no matter how good it is, would spend its life in the can, not on the tv film projector."

Mr. Randon called for an "entirely new approach" on the basis of the clear need for dealer aids.

Mr. Randon's idea was this: Each six months, immediately after the furniture show, take a camera crew into Chicago's marts, and shoot short sequences with close-ups of featured suites, sofas, chairs, etc., on silent film. Prepare a brochure for dealers, giving them a choice of film clips to incorporate into their local programs, or as spots.

The idea was first tried in June 1953 and thus far three series of six films each have been prepared at the low cost (due partly to no sound track) of $350 per commercial. They have been used by Kroehler dealers in from 40 to 50 tv markets across the country. Response from dealers has been "extremely favorable."

Mr. Randon is quick to compare the $350 with the $2,000-$3,000 price range for many one-minute films, and adds: "It's significant that such films can be produced at such relatively low cost."

Kroehler pays for the production. The local dealer buys the time on the local station. He is not charged for film production, which is handled by Kling Studios, Chicago, with Mr. Randon supervising.

Along with the brochures or pamphlets, the dealer also gets a suggested script. The usual procedure is for the station to show a Kroehler suite or sofa line on film in short sequences—four, 12 and 17 seconds at a crack—and for the local announcer to cut in simultaneously on behalf of the dealer's own particular specialties on a given night. Film sections can be eliminated individually at the local dealer's discretion, based on the items he is pushing. Slides can be used if desired.

Video sequences usually open with long shots of Kroehler showrooms and the announcer's voice apprising listeners that buyers from store X have just returned from the furniture show in Chicago "where they selected the very newest styles and fabrics." Provision is made for a closing 15-second voice plug identifying the local dealer. Together, film with closing voice, the spot actually runs one-minute.

Each dealer is convinced by now, according to Mr. Randon, that the silent clips (35mm) "do a better job of displaying that particular furniture than he could get live in 95% of the stations, as well as doing it at a lower cost to him."

The six-film series can be shot in one day, with lower labor and other costs. The equipment used: a rear-screen type projector (built-in screen) and a repeater tape recorder contained within a case. The commercials can be used, with varying frequency, for three to six months between furniture shows.

Mr. Randon says that furniture dealers went on the air in the early days of television, evolving a "general format into which standard tv commercials would not fit" and that few dealers would devote an entire commercial to the products of a single manufacturer.

But, now, he reports, Kroehler's pioneering venture has rebounded to the mutual benefit of the company and its dealers—with tv ad mats that "take all the guess work out of your television commercials."

What To Ask Film Salesmen

By Jim Bentley

Program Director, KCEN-TV Temple, Tex.

A FILM SALESMAN once told me that his package, like all the other syndicated film packages, had the one and only basic requirement for television—definition and contrast range suitable for transmission! This particular salesman previously must have sold intangibles, because this statement is about as ambiguous as "What's the price of your film package for thirteen weeks?"

Foremost, the film package must accomplish the two proven purposes of the television medium by providing the station with high rated programming and selling the advertiser's goods at a proven profit. In order to rate your potential new film package, why not screen those film salesmen with some of the following questions:

WHAT IS THE NET PRICE OF THE FILM PACKAGE IN VARIOUS SEGMENTS? IS THIS A STABILIZED PRICE?

The cost of the film package must be not only a realistic cost but also a controlled cost for varying markets. In many cases the net cost of the package will vary 5% to 20%, depending on the immediate needs of the station. Some distributors stabilize their package price by a percentage of station rate time, taking into consideration coverage area and set count. There are other ways of computing fair, stabilized pricings. Make sure your market isn't overpriced due to past sales propaganda.

HAS THIS PARTICULAR FILM PACKAGE BEEN PLAYED IN THIS MARKET? HOW MANY TIMES?

There have been instances when film salesmen quoted a one-run film series in a multi-channel market and the film package ran on a rerun basis over a competing channel. It is extremely important for the sales staff of a station to quote the numbers of correct runs to the potential client, consequently the accurate number of runs in an area is a prerequisite to any sales presentation. As with any sales medium, the representative must know his product thoroughly and quote correct sales information.

DUE TO CIRCUMSTANCES. . .

TO TAKE the sting out of troublesome moments, WNBW (TV) Washington uses a set of cartoons, each dealing with a specific problem that interferes with tv transmission. All were drawn in rough form by Jay Royan, publicity director for the NBC o&o station, and then given to an artist for the finishing touch. Sam Newman, transmitter engineer, was the model. These four are typical of the set.

WILL YOU HELP IN THE INITIAL SALE AND SELL THE RERUN PHILOSOPHY TO LOCAL SPONSORS?

The responsible salesman will present his product to potential clients, reviewing ratings and data, to prove a lesser cost-per-thousand than competing media. Station management generally understands the great audience and sales rewards pertaining to reruns, but to sell this rerun idea to a local sponsor is a time consuming job in itself. A brief, concise sales presentation by distributor representative (with the help of station sales representative) inks many a new contract.

DO YOU SHIP FROM A LOCAL OFFICE OR MUST PRINTS BE SHIPPED FROM NEW YORK OR LOS ANGELES?

Since the net cost of the film package is the important figure quoted, the transportation cost is often overlooked. Scheduling and shipping can prove costly if handled poorly. Air express charges on prints from New York to midwestern states sometimes prove 20% of the net cost of the complete film package. Closer distribution outlets prove economical for both station and distributor.

DO YOU FURNISH PROMOTIONAL MATERIAL AND PROMOTIONAL AIDS WITH THIS FILM PACKAGE?

If so, it should include publicity photos with captions, publicity releases, and sales brochures. Correct, up-to-date ratings and success-story information, plus promotional audio announcements in various one minute, 20-second, 10-second and 8-second lengths, newspaper advertising mats, color posters and point-of-purchase material are required for ultimate sales successes.

DO YOU PERMIT STOCKING OF PRINTS?

Stocking of prints is not always necessary, but it is imperative that segments of the film package arrive well in advance of their playdates in order to recheck the quality of splices, video and audio track. Bicycling of prints is a "must" for the distributor, but complete distributor-station and station-station cooperation must prevail. A flexible shipping schedule not only allows grace time for complete print inspections, but gives an ample substitution period—a programming problem with every station.

HOW DO YOU MEASURE YOUR PRODUCT QUALITY AGAINST THE COST TO THE SPONSOR?

Tv films naturally contribute to good programming, and being good vehicles for co-ordinated selling, their use should be offered in good balance with "live" telecasts. Audience reactions in other similar markets prove the package an asset or liability, compared to the "live" camera rates and production costs. The film salesman should know your local ratings, as they always prove beneficial in comparing the quality vs. the cost and ultimate selling potential of the film package. Both small and large markets agree that the same old philosophy still prevails—quality sells, not quantity. Make the salesman prove this factor to you.

DO YOU GIVE COMMISSIONS TO ADVERTISING AGENCIES?

The few distributors that include agency commissions have just deducted this percentage from the film salesman's commission. In many cases, the agency must take the responsibility of bartering with the distributor's representative. A fixed agency commission would stimulate sales in most markets due to an increased agency incentive to sell film packages to local clients.

DO YOU SERVICE THE PACKAGE BOUGHT?

To service the proposed film package contract, the salesman should understand local problems of programming and promotion. He should be able to furnish advance material and aids for promotion purposes on a moment's notice. He should be non-biased in his views toward competing clients, and above all, this hypothetical film salesman should render undivided service until the termination of the new film package contract, at which time he may safely approach you—head held high—expecting an affirmative, "I'll Buy That" answer.

'IF WE HAD GOOD SENSE . . .'

MEMORANDUM from Odin Ramsland, commercial manager of KDAL Duluth, Minn., to Rex Hudson, station sales manager, advises "If we had good sense, we'd raise our rates . . ." The reasons outlined by Mr. Ramsland for the raise are: over 900,000 tourists are visiting "KDAL-land" during the summer and due to the station's "splendid coverage, top programs, 24-hour per day radio service" and highway billboards leading to Duluth inviting people to tune to KDAL, "we are assured of the audience"; more than four out of five cars in that city have radios; and the station's "dominance of radio listening" in the area. KDAL claims to rate 39 firsts out of a possible 40 quarter hours from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

How many people does it take to make a steak?

When you plank the cash on the counter for a slice of sirloin, some of it may represent your own pay for the part you played in getting that steak to your table.

We'll make ourselves clear.

It takes a lot of people to help produce that steak in this mid-20th-century economy of ours.

The people we've put in the picture above, for instance. And many, many others. Though you may not realize it, some product you, yourself, help make or sell or service may play a part in producing steaks.

1. The cowboy or range hand who looks after the cattle.
2. The banker who finances land, herd and equipment.
3. The chemist who makes insecticides, serums and fertilizers.
4. The oil refiner who provides the fuel for the power machinery so many ranchers use.
5. The steelmaker who provides a multitude of items, from fencing and branding irons to filing cabinets.
6. The brewer—7. The sugar refiner—8. The cotton ginner—9. The flour miller who furnish some of the by-products used to make the livestock feeds with which ranchers and feeders supplement grass.
10. The veterinarian who looks after the health of the cattle.
11. The blacksmith who shoes the horses and repairs ranch machinery.
12. The airplane pilot who sprays ranges and fields, destroying pests.
13. The lumberman who provides the wood for corrals and barns and pens.
14. The windmill who makes the machinery that keeps man-made ranch water holes working.
15. The feeder who takes lean range cattle and puts about 25% more beef on them by intensive feeding.
16. The truck driver—17. The railroader who haul cattle to market and meat to you.
18. The stockyard man who provides "room and board" for the livestock, and the commission man who is sales agent for the producer.
19. The meat packer who processes and distributes the beef.
20. The retailer who is the final link between all these people . . . and you.

PROGRAMS & PROMOTION

air mention by Mr. Koplan during the two and one-half hour program. The success of the "feed 'em as you entertain 'em" policy is evident by the continued large attendance, the station reports.

KONA-TV 'FIRST'

RALLY for Mrs. Joseph R. Farrington, Republican candidate for the post of Hawaiian delegate to Congress, was telecast by KONA-TV Honolulu, said to be the first such tv coverage in the Islands' political history, the station reports. With Mrs. Farrington's victory at the polls the next day, political leaders predicted increased use of tv during future campaigns.

KNGS 'CLIENTS' DAY'

EXPERIMENTAL "Client's Day" promotion of KNGS Hanford, Calif., proved successful enough to warrant its becoming an annual feature, the station reports after several hundred local businessmen—clients and prospective clients—attended the day-long visit and luncheon there. As part of the show, visitors relieved staff announcers from duties for the day, reading commercial copy and newscasts, reporting weather and spinning records. Rival Ford dealers at one point read each others' commercials. KNGS reports many calls from the listening audience expressing approval of the program.

CHEF GOES COMMERCIAL

PROMOTION of products advertised by Ralph's Grocery and Von's Grocery Co. on personality-merchandise-cooking expert Chef Milani's programs over KCOP (TV) Hollywood and KMPC same city is part of a long term contract between Mr. Milani and the Southern California supermarket chains, reports Mr. Milani. The chef will stage one of his weekly Saturday amateur shows every fourth week at Ralph's or Von's market, and additionally plug the market chains on his two five-weekly programs. Other weeks he will continue to stage talent shows at other supermarkets, bearing costs personally and placing winners on his programs as a non-sponsored public service.

'Mom's Day Out'

OVER 50,000 mothers and children flocked to the Alabama State Fairgrounds for a two-day "Mom's Day Out" promotion, sponsored jointly by The Birmingham News Co. (News and Post-Herald) and its affiliated stations, WAPI, WAFM (FM) and WABT (TV) there. Families from 45 Alabama counties and four states set what was said to be the record for the largest attendance in Birmingham history for an outdoor event. WAPI and WABT personalities provided entertainment for four free grandstand shows with the reigning "Miss Alabama" serving as co-m.c. Prizes were awarded every hour to mothers and children, some who traveled over 100 miles for the celebration. Henry P. Johnston, president of the stations, has announced that the successful event will become an annual affair.

'THE NASHUA STORY'

SPECIAL review of "The Nashua Story" was recently staged by WOTW-AM-FM Nashua, N. H., to show the progress made by that city since its industrial crisis in 1948. In that year Textron Inc., New York, manufacturers of wearing apparel, announced that it would cease its activities in Nashua, leaving one-third of the city's labor population unemployed. The event drew nation-wide publicity from an investigating committee set up by the late Sen. Charles Tobey (R- N. H.) to look into the problem. Citizens of the city then formed the Nashua Foundation,

CBC Changes Unite Radio-Tv Programming

AFTER operating program departments separately for radio and television for two years, the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. now appears to be moving towards joint operation of programming of these two divisions. Charles Jennings, CBC director of programs, at Ottawa headquarters, has announced a number of changes in program officials giving them charge of both radio and television programming.

Murray Creed, farm and fisheries commentator of CBC at CBH Halifax, has been moved to Toronto program headquarters to plan and coordinate farm and fisheries programs for all Canada. This will include a new weekly farm and garden show program for eastern Canadian tv stations, to be telecast Sundays at 1 p.m. with weather summary, market trends, how-to-do-it feature on farming practices, news for farmers and gardening tips. Regional programs of a similar nature are to be developed for the midwest and the Pacific Coast tv stations.

Jackie Rae, who has produced numerous CBC radio and tv shows, has been appointed supervisor of variety programs in both fields, with headquarters at Toronto. Andrew Allan, at one time with CFRB Toronto, and with experience as radio director of a London, England, advertising agency, has been drama producer for some years for CBC. He has now been appointed supervisor of drama at Toronto national program headquarters for both radio and tv. Hugh Kemp has been appointed script supervisor for radio and tv national programming at Toronto. For the past six years he has been executive producer and editor of the script division of NBC at New York. Prior to joining NBC he had worked for CBC. His new job will include developing and encouraging Canadian radio and tv script writers.

CBC Considers Change

CHANGES in regulations regarding the carrying of sponsored religious programs on Canadian Broadcasting Corp. radio and television stations are being considered at Ottawa by CBC top officials. The review of the regulations has resulted from the demand for the Bishop Fulton J. Sheen program, which is now carried by some independent Canadian tv stations but not by CBC outlets. CBC officials have been sending letters to complainants on the absence of the program from CBC stations, advising them of CBC regulations regarding sponsored religious programs. The letter also states that "the matter is currently under review by the CBC and will be discussed again by the National Religious Advisory Council" at its Toronto meeting Sept. 9.

SPECIAL DESIGN TOWER

takes wave guide for UHF antenna

To operate on channel 41 at 269,000 watts, WROW-TV, Albany, New York, needed a wave guide to feed their UHF-TV antenna. And this required a special design tower to take the wave guide.

The result was a triangular Blaw-Knox Type TG-3 Tower as the basic design. Plus a number of major modifications to provide for the $7\frac{1}{2}$ " x 15" wave guide inside the tower. An inside climbing ladder permits easy inspection and maintenance of the wave guide for its entire length.

The tower has a number of features which enable it to carry heavy loads and yet withstand tremendous wind pressures. For instance, double laced structural angle bracing provides extra strong, rigid construction . . . pivoted or articulated base avoids excessive bending stresses . . . factory pre-stressed guys are proof tested to a load greater than ever required in service . . . and hot-dip galvanized coating protects against all weather conditions.

This 700 foot tower for WROW-TV is another typical illustration of the flexibility of Blaw-Knox design and construction which is readily available to you.

For further information on the many types of Blaw-Knox Antenna Towers, write for your copy of Bulletin No. 2417. Or, for prompt service send us your inquiry, specifying height of tower and type of antenna.

"18,000 HOURS and still within specs"

says Francis Broff, Chief Engineer, KOMO, Seattle

"Our first Ampex recorder showed us what a real professional machine can do. After 18,000 hours of heavy use, the frequency response and audio characteristics of our Model 300 head are still within the original published specifications. This kind of performance sold us completely on Ampex—that's why we've added four Ampex 350's."

• NOW an Ampex for every broadcast need

With the addition of the new lightweight Model 600 series, Ampex now offers your broadcast station a superior machine to meet every tape requirement . . . from distant field pickups to major network recordings. For top-ranking performances and rehearsals and programs involving extensive editing, dubbing and "spot" announcements, choose from the Series 350 . . . for recordings "on location" that assure studio fidelity and accuracy, choose from the Series 600. All Ampex recorders have the same basic head design.

This new Model 600 weighs 28 pounds—price $498 ($545 including carrying case). A matching amplifier-speaker unit, Model 620, weighs 16 pounds, price $149.50.

THE ULTIMATE IN PRECISE TIMING WITH HIGHEST FIDELITY

Ampex timing accuracy is so excellent ($\pm 0.2\%$) that tapes are always on speed—without program crowdings or cutoffs. Ampex reproduction is so faithful that it is indistinguishable from a live broadcast—the result of an unsurpassed combination of broad frequency response, wide dynamic range and imperceptible flutter and wow.

From where I sit
by Joe Marsh

City Hall Out for Clean Sweep

Seems the boys at City Hall decided to sit up and look around our town a bit. And they didn't like what they saw. Thought the town looked kind of littered.

The Mayor called for us to get busy on a big clean-up. He launched the campaign with an invitation to name the most untidy place in town. The vote was unanimous—for City Hall!

"Guess we should've taken a look here first," says Mayor Thomas. "But, between scrub brush and paint brush, we're going to make City Hall as spankin' clean as the day it opened."

From where I sit, more reforms ought to start at home. Some folks get so wrapped up in their neighbor's business that they seldom get around to attending to their own. For instance, some people would deprive me of my right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—simply because they prefer something else. Frankly, I think they ought to "brush up" on tolerance and good neighborliness and pay more attention to their living and less to mine.

THIS IS A TRUE STORY!!!

There was a salesman working for a station in a large Southern city making $6000 a year. With the same amount of sales, he would have made $9000 working for us. He joined our organization and after three months, during which he demonstrated superior sales ability, he moved up as manager of one of our stations at better than double his last year's pay. We need two experienced, sincere, capable salesmen, as we are expanding our organization. High ratings, aggressive promotion, competitive rates and specialized appeal make our station highly salable. Now carrying more local and national business than competitive indies. Excellent guarantee, 15% commission, car allowance, annual performance bonus. Your past performance record will be carefully checked. Give full details first letter, including late photo.

DUDES AND DON'TS

or, grammar takes a vacation

A grandmotherly librarian, new to farm life, was out to learn everything in two vacation weeks.

"Which is correct," she asked an old hand, "the hen is sitting or the hen is setting?"

"Lady," said the oldtimer, "I don't know and I don't care. All I wonder about is when she cackles, is she laying or is she lying!"

An Advertising Man came to a dude ranch for a well-earned rest. Very first morning they shook him awake at 4 a.m., told him it was time to saddle up.

"We goin' to ride wild horses?" he yawned.

"Nope."

"Then why we have to sneak up on 'em in the dark?"

* * * *

Wild horses couldn't drag us from the commercial:

Bottom-Dollar Politics

IT'S GOING to be tougher, and less profitable, for stations to do business with politicians henceforth.

The FCC has finalized new rules to provide that candidates for public office may not be discriminated against as to rates charged for time on radio and tv. They also are to get all discount privileges accorded regular accounts.

The new rules, which became effective upon announcement last Tuesday because of the upcoming November elections, were adopted pursuant to the Congressional mandate of 1952. Congressmen complained about the purported high costs of political campaigning and appeased themselves by writing a new law.

The rules appear to be as reasonable as the FCC could make them under the instructions received from Congress. But that doesn't make them just. It costs more to do business with candidates, notably the unsuccessful ones. Even under the former practice of charging premium rates and out-of-pocket costs for cancellations, talent and other overhead, stations often have found themselves holding the bag.

Moreover, the new rules seeking to end one species of discrimination, actually create another. Many newspapers charge double or even treble their regular rates for political advertising. While politicians have howled, they've never done anything about this "discrimination," even though there's been desultory talk about denying second-class mailing privileges to "offenders."

Adoption of the new rules imposes upon stations the necessity of exercising extreme vigilance in scheduling political business. The station cannot require the candidate to post indemnity bonds or insurance against libel unless all commercial accounts are so required. It cannot assess recording or other fees unless regular accounts are required to do so. And it cannot deviate from established practices as to local or national rates.

Stations must be assured of this bare income to which they are entitled. A manager would not give credit to a new account placed direct, if the account had no established credit rating. He would require his money in advance.

Obviously, the same should hold for purchase of political time. It should be cash on the barrel-head. Where the business is placed through an accredited agency, whether commercial or political, the usual billing practices must be pursued.

Because radio and tv time in the campaigning henceforth will be so much cheaper many stations may find themselves deluged with this business. The question of program balance will arise. Stations should appraise such requests carefully because the allotment of time to the first candidate for a particular office will control allotments to all others for the same office—and at the same price.

So, chalk up the bi-election year 1954 as the political headache year for broadcasters. Radio and television will have to live with the politicians, because the politicians know they can't live without radio and television.

The Radio Set: 120 Million

IT WOULD be unfortunate if, as a result of Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff's speech in Chicago [B•T, Sept. 6], the impression spread that the bears had taken over in radio. True, Gen. Sarnoff was bearish about the future of radio networks, but he gave no indication of a similar attitude toward radio as a whole. If others are bearish about the future of radio or any of its parts they concealed their feelings perfectly at the other Chicago meetings.

It cannot be denied that the radio network business today is less profitable than it was in the pre-television era and may never recover its former affluence. For the past several years radio network volume has been decreasing. The important thing to remember is that coincidentally the volume of spot and local radio advertising has been increasing—more than enough to offset declining network revenue. It is not a catastrophe that has occurred in radio; it is merely that a change has taken place.

Eventually that change may be so significant as to call for a reorganization of radio networking and the development of wholly new patterns of programming and selling. If so, the situation would still represent a transitional trend rather than a disaster. Whatever alterations are made in the structure of broadcasting, radio—as an advertising service and a medium of entertainment and information—is too basic to the habits of the American people to be discarded now or in the future.

As John F. Meagher, NARTB radio vice president, pointed out last week at the first NARTB district meeting, there are 120 million operating radio sets in the U. S.; 12 million radios were manufactured in the past year; in the average radio home (meaning almost every home) a full day of each week is devoted to radio listening. "There is nothing else like radio," Mr. Meagher said. If anything, that's an understatement.

ALTHOUGH a respectable number of shows have been telecast on CBS-TV and NBC-TV in color in the past year, the first NBC-TV "spectacular," scheduled last night (Sunday), may be said to identify the true beginning of the color television era. From now on color will be on schedule and in increasing quantity.

A new era does not come about without disturbances. Color television is bound to create dislocations (but again not disasters) in the advertising world.

Some radio men we know have been apprehensive about the effects that color tv will have on their business. They know that black-and-white tv has shaken radio, and they fear that color will intensify the agitation.

If we were guessing about color's effects, and we might as well join the crowd, we'd say they would be less disturbing to radio than to other media.

Color will enable television stations to go after local accounts which have been space users in newspapers—specialty shops, department stores, all kinds of retail outlets that like to show their wares in advertisements. At present stages of mechanical development, newspapers cannot prepare color ads as fast or as faithfully as color tv. Color tv also will attract national advertisers who now are using color ads in national magazines. The difference in cost between black-and-white and color television will be infinitely less than the difference in cost between black-and-white and color printing.

We do not predict grave consequences for newspapers and magazines, nor would we wish them. What will happen is that adjustments will be made to accommodate the effects of color tv. So far no new medium has killed an old one.
