A DOLLAR

will go a long way
on WHO Radio!

Take 8 a.m. to 12 noon as an example . . .

When you consider what's happened to the purchasing power of the dollar, it's mighty impressive to see what a buck will still buy in national spot radio—especially WHO Radio!

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD . . .

On WHO Radio, a 1-minute spot between 8 a.m. and 12 noon will deliver 53,953 actual listening homes.

That's 1,135 homes for a dollar, or 1,000 homes for $.88—ALL LISTENING TO WHO!

That's the rock-bottom minimum. Over and above this proven audience, 50,000-watt WHO is heard by hundreds of thousands of unmeasured listeners, both in and outside Iowa. Bonus includes Iowa's 573,000 car radios and 527,000 extra home sets—plus vast audience in "Iowa Plus"!

Let your PGW Colonel give you all the facts on WHO Radio.

IN AGAIN, OUT AGAIN • Word Friday was that Harry M. Bitner Sr., president of Consolidated Television & Radio Broadcasters Inc. had rejected both bids of Time Inc. for his major station group, largely because of conditions in proposal which would have affected net price, reportedly in neighborhood of $17 million for entire package. But Weston C. Pullen, Time Inc. vice president, was to visit Mr. Bitner at his winter home in Delray, Fla., over weekend in hope of settling difficulty (see early story page 44).

B•T

NEW pressure to settle formula for release of post-1948 feature films to tv is coming from membership of guilds whose negotiators are at odds with producers. Creative talent is itching to jingle extra tv money in pocket now that it's in sight. Latest suggestion for easy formula is to adhere to various percentages each guild received when respective film was made, since breakdown is available. Only hitch: producers want right to first recover production losses from tv income since it's open secret that three out of every four features made since 1948 lost money at box office. (For detailed situation report of film vs. live controversy, see page 27.)

B•T

AMST DIRECTOR • Lester W. Lindow, vice president-general manager, WFDF Flint, has been offered executive directorship of Assn. of Maximum Service Telecasters. If he accepts, it's presumed he would take leave of absence from Bitner organization about Feb. 1. AMST headquarters will be established in Washington and executive director would coordinate activity, including $100,000-plus tv coverage survey. Formal announcement of appointment could be made this week by Jack Harris, KPRC-AM-TV Houston, president of AMST.

B•T

MR. LINDOW, it's understood, was unanimous choice of AMST selection committee and board members who attended NBC 30th anniversary convention in Miami Beach last week. He is chairman of NBC Radio Affiliates Executive Committee and during war was chief of radio-tv bureau of Dept. of Army. He is Army active reserve lieutenant colonel.

B•T

ADVANCE WARNING • Despite reports to contrary, RCA-NBC attorneys were familiar with plan of Justice Dept.'s Antitrust Division to file its antitrust suit on NBC-Westinghouse transaction [B•T, Dec. 10]. Asst. Attorney General Victor Hansen advised NBC counsel of plan some days in advance, but consent decree prospects were not discussed.

AS FAR as Antitrust Division is concerned, there is no plan to file criminal proceedings against RCA-NBC in Westinghouse swap transaction. That was decided, it is presumed, when conclusion was reached to file civil rather than criminal proceeding.

B•T

IN FCC'S FUTURE? • Name of Samuel Leonard Golan may figure in communications regulatory horoscope. Since 1953 U. S. member of International Boundary Commission (U. S., Alaska and Canada), he reportedly has strong GOP endorsement for next vacancy on FCC to which he aspires. Background: Chicago born (March 15, 1899); law degree from Northwestern U.; practiced law in Chicago; special assistant corporation counsel, Chicago, 1927-31; chairman Board of Review, Dept. of Labor, Illinois, 1940-48; Republican nominee for Congress, 1928; Republican nominee for judge of Circuit Court, Cook County, 1932; special assistant, Republican National Committee; assistant to chairman, Republican County Central Committee, 1952.

B•T

MR. GOLAN reportedly was considered for FCC vacancy couple of years ago. Customarily, after national election, resignations occur on governmental agencies, but so far only speculation regarding FCC has been possible retirement of Chairman George C. McConaughy to return to private law practice in Ohio and possibly Washington. Chairman, however, has indicated no decision will be reached by him until after holidays [CLOSED CIRCUIT, Dec. 10].

B•T

RADIO LINE COSTS • Affiliate resistance to telephone line charges for network radio appears to be taking shape as chain broadcasting enters third decade. Without benefit of publicity, special NARTB Radio Tariff Transmission Committee met Thursday in Chicago to work out ways of meeting problem. Radio affiliates are encouraged by success of parallel tv committee, which has held line on video transmission tariffs.

B•T

PUT down as false rumors that Herb Akerberg, CBS-TV vice president in charge of station relations, has any intentions of joining another network. Contrary to talk which circulated last week, Mr. Akerberg—27-year veteran with CBS—has received no offers from other network and indeed wants none. He feels strong sense of responsibility to CBS-TV affiliates and says he would never consider trying to encourage any one of them to follow him to any other network.

OUTSIDE THE CLAN • There's move afoot to develop NARTB convention keynote award into major national honor, extending scope of project to include persons outside broadcasting who have made outstanding contribution to industry. Past awards have gone to broadcast figures. NARTB's keynote subcommittee understood to have drafted plan for submission to association's board of directors at February meeting.

B•T

IT'S ALL but settled that film producers and distributors will join NARTB television code structure as affiliates. Arrangements between NARTB Tv Code Review Board and Alliance of Tv Film Producers are just about wrapped up and joint announcement of agreement is expected soon.

B•T

DERELICTS IN SKY • First draft of proposed legislation to insure continuance of proper lighting and painting of abandoned radio-tv towers has been drawn up by FCC and submitted to Bureau of the Budget for coordination among other government agencies. Not decided yet is which government agency will be responsible for carrying out law, if enacted. At present nobody is responsible for abandoned towers. This was one point which won unanimous agreement among members of working group of Joint Industry Government Tall Structures Committee which drew up proposed solutions to some of the vexing tall tower problems. JIGTSC still trying to come to some decision regarding criteria for deciding whether applicants must site towers in antenna "farms" or other built up areas.

B•T

BEST guess is that FCC will reopen decade-old clear channel case—probably after first of year—for taking additional testimony, with ultimate disposition to come shortly thereafter. At issue is whether to open way for power beyond 50 kw on any or all of present 24 Class 1-A (fully clear) channels, or permit up to 750 kw power on certain centrally-located clears for which there may be demand. In latter event, disposition seems to be to reduce coastal channel to 1-B status, permitting duplication on opposite coast.

B•T

PEN IN HAND • All clearances were obtained late Friday for signing of U. S.-Mexico treaty on use of standard broadcast frequencies, and FCC Comr. Rosel H. Hyde was poised to fly to Mexico City, where formal signing of treaty will take place this week, it is hoped. Bilateral treaty, which will have to be ratified by U. S. Senate, will take place of new NARBA treaty—since Mexico refused to join other North American countries in agreeing to overall settlements. NARBA treaty is still awaiting Senate ratification.

SARNOFFS OF NBC TELL AFFILIATES OF PLANS TO PUT NETWORKS ON TOP

SARNOFFS, father David and son Robert, told NBC's affiliates at closing session of 30th anniversary celebration in Miami Friday of ambitious plans to make NBC tv and radio No. 1 in all aspects. And Gen. Sarnoff said NBC would not take government antitrust suit or any other future action "lying down." (See earlier story page 60.)

After Bob Sarnoff, NBC president, at morning briefing session had told of plans for new team to regain and retain leadership, Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of parent RCA, in extemporaneous address, warned against making television "a national screen, just as some radio stations have become a national phonograph" through replacement of live programming with feature film.

In talks reminiscent of his famous 1947 Atlantic City speech in which he implored affiliates to enter tv, he said that 10 years hence color would be as universal as black and white. He answered stories of Bob Sarnoff's move "upstairs" and explained forthrightly his philosophy of father-son business relationship, asserting that parents have no right to "stand in the way" of their children. He praised "with pardonable parental pride" job Bob has done with NBC and said Bob had told him he hoped to stay with NBC "without date and without limit."

Gen Sarnoff made four main points. Alluding to attention being given by government agencies to network operations and particularly antitrust suit on Westinghouse-NBC swap, he said this is "only symbolic of present effort to investigate and to ventilate the networks" and that involved is possible new legislation which evidently would be designed "to give solace to the have-nots and the Johnny-come-latelys." Mentioned as figuring in this effort were the motion picture industry and "other forces."

"We do not propose to take it lying down or to compromise the situation as has been indicated," he said. RCA-NBC will have their day in court on the Westinghouse matter, he said, asking "is it conceivable that the powerful Dept. of Justice should accuse RCA and NBC of pushing a competitor around?"

Strongly emphasizing film vs. live tv, Gen. Sarnoff warned against short range view of simply making more money with film than with live. He said that film reservoirs would be exhausted in couple of years and that return to live would be indicated, but he inferred that then it might be too late.

While color sales were not as great as expected this year, he predicted that 1957 would see color get off ground and said other manufacturers would follow RCA's leadership in color. On programs, he said NBC always has been No. 1 in program quality but not in program popularity.

Gen. Sarnoff said NBC has its best and most complete organization in years and that there is no foundation to gossip about further impending changes. He said Robert Kintner, former ABC president who joins NBC next month as an executive vice president, will have his first assignment in color but that he will not be limited to it. He called him "a splendid piece of manpower" and told how he was retained. He said Bob Sarnoff put the question to his executive board and that they voted unanimously for Mr. Kintner. He gave Mr. Kintner credit for ABC's success.

What's ahead in NBC was subject of briefing session presided over Friday morning by Bob Sarnoff and attended by practically all affiliates and network staff executives. On radio, he asked for clearances for on-hour "hot line" news, pointing out that he recognized difficulty in shifting schedules. But without clearances "we don't have a network and with no network, we're not in business," he said.

Joe Culligan, vice president in charge of radio network, said "hot line" news means $4 million in revenue. Bristol-Myers has contracted for $2.1 million for half of newscasts to begin Jan. 14. He hoped to have second sponsor lined up in few days but said program would not be sold to more than four accounts.

Contrary to reports, he said 120 stations have accepted "hot line" on Jan. 14 or later when clearances can be made. Not one station has said no, although some have problems.

Revitalized network plan involves appointing string correspondents at each of network's 197 affiliated stations to supplement regular staff. They will be fully accredited and indoctrinated in New York to improve stature and prestige.

Opening tv forum, Bob Sarnoff said NBC now is ahead of CBS on ratings in two or three time categories and soon hoped to lead in all.

Evening programming's most troublesome area is 7:30-8. He said news strip will be moved ahead of 7:30 by next fall if not sooner.

On DST problem, he said hope that Ampex video tape recording would be available on production basis has faded. If pre-production models are satisfactory, VTR's will be used, supplemented by kines. He said many new things are in works but there will be some shifts and some replacements next season, lamenting that some of 11 new programs started this season had not fared too well.

Winding up session, Bob Sarnoff said that daytime sales constitute big competitive problem but that gap is being closed. In evening, programming is big problem but he pointed out that differential in sponsored hours between CBS and NBC now is down to five per week, smallest in four years.

NBC Affiliate Directors Named

SIX new members of NBC Tv Affiliates Boards, to fill vacancies, were elected at session in Miami Beach Friday. Elected to Tv Executive Basic Affiliate Board were Ewing C. JUDICIAL REVERSAL

CALIFORNIA State Bar Assn. may soon swallow own medicine in forbidding radio-tv court coverage through Canon 35. Wm. P. Gray, president of Los Angeles City & County Bar Assn., has written Jack Beck, news director of KNX there and Columbia Pacific Radio Network, to preserve tapes of coverage of House Un-American Activities Committee hearing fortnight ago since it may be only evidence whereby local and state bar groups can base prospective investigation of manner in which attorneys were forcibly evicted from hearing room. Issue of counsels' rights is involved and radio may save day. Asked why he wanted tape rather than written transcripts of hearings, Mr. Gray said written version does not tell whole story. Mr. Beck will save tapes. [See B+T, Sept. 24 and page 52 this issue].

FIRST RETURNS FROM NEW NIELSEN CAUSE ALARM AMONG RADIO INTERESTS

COMPLAINTS were mounting last week against showings of seemingly marked declines in individual radio station audiences in A. C. Nielsen Co.'s new Nielsen Coverage Service (NCS) Report No. 2, with indications Friday that organized protests are in process of development.

Station sources said that compared to NCS No. 1 reports four years ago, NCS No. 2 reports for some stations show drop-offs ranging as high as 70 or 75%—in extreme cases—in number of listeners tuning once a week or oftener during nighttime hours, and that declines up to 30% or more are reflected in similar data on daytime tuning.

These represented relatively few reports, however, since distribution to subscriber stations started only fortnight ago and, as of last week, no one authority had seen more than a handful—half-dozen, say, at most. Thus authorities agreed it was too early to determine whether such declines would be found in NCS reports generally—though they obviously were apprehensive.

Station representatives were reluctant to discuss situation in detail until more reports are available, but Ward Dorrell, vice president and director of research for John Blair & Co., acknowledged under questioning that "we have some reservations about them." He also indicated Blair may challenge effectiveness of interviews in which NCS No. 2 radio data were collected, on ground that it apparently is same technique used in 1952 even though character of radio listening has changed markedly since that time.

No longer, Mr. Dorrell pointed out, does radio programming have that "single program identity" which existed in 1952 when Jack Benny and other big name programs could swell totals for "once-a-week" listening. Today's dominant fare of music, news and service programs gets listenership, but its unspectacular nature makes it more likely that occasional listeners will fail to mention specific tuning unless interview technique was adapted to fit these new patterns, he asserted.

Nielsen officials declined specific comment, but it's known their position is that they undertook NCS No. 2 upon assurances from both buyers and sellers of time that current coverage information is needed; that they realized that obvious but not necessarily valid comparisons inevitably would be drawn with 1952 data, but that 1952 is history and not basis for 1956 buying and selling. They also declined to give "composite" or "average" figures, pointing out that NCS No. 2 is measurement of individual stations, that stations' coverage is affected by many factors, and that composite averages would be academic and have little practical value.

Agencies as yet have not received NCS No. 2, so their interpretations and plans for its use cannot yet be determined. Station people who have studied reports appear agreed that, as Nielsen also feels, they must be used as indication of radio coverage as it exists today, and that comparisons with 1952 could be seriously misleading. They know—and can document—radio's selling power, and they're hopeful advertisers and agencies will not allow themselves to become misled by meaningless comparisons in which they might lose sight of radio's size and effectiveness as it exists today.

Station Representatives Assn. plans early meetings with Radio Advertising Bureau and American Assn. of Advertising Agencies in effort to promote uniformity in interpretation of NCS material (Story page 90).

Aubrey Named to Direct ABC-TV Programming, Talent

JAMES T. AUBREY JR., who has resigned as manager of network programs for CBS-TV in Hollywood, will head ABC-TV's programming and talent, Oliver Treyz, vice president in charge of ABC-TV, is to announce today (Mon.). Mr. Aubrey, who succeeds Robert F. Lewine, now with NBC's tv program department [AT DEADLINE, Dec. 3], will be proposed for vice presidency at next board meeting of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres, ABC's parent.

He had been associated with CBS-TV since 1952, serving as general manager of KNXT (TV) Los Angeles and of Columbia Television Pacific Network.

Stressing end to ABC-TV's search for "the best man to fill the role," Mr. Treyz said Mr. Aubrey's record indicates "promise and potential" to network in "the initiative and leadership in programming vital to its growth and development."

Also being announced are elections of Michael Boland and J. Russell Gavin as assistant treasurers of ABC. Their elections were announced by Simon B. Siegel, treasurer of ABC and AB-PT. Mr. Boland, member of ABC's cost control unit since November 1955, previously had held various budgetary and controlling posts. Mr. Gavin, chief accountant, with ABC since September 1954, formerly had been in ABC's cost control and budget departments.

Small Business Committee Ready To Release Report This Week

HOUSE Small Business Committee, 11-man group headed by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), is expected to release report on regulatory agencies at end of this week, based on hearings last spring by three-man subcommittee headed by Rep. Joe L. Evins (D-Tenn.).

Small Business Committee on Dec. 3 approved "preliminary draft" published earlier by Rep. Evins [AT DEADLINE, Oct. 22], making considerable changes in Evins draft, although it was understood "substance" of report was not changed greatly.

Committee vote on report has not been disclosed, but it was understood report now is under consideration for possible dissents. Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio), lone Republican on subcommittee, charged during hearings last spring that Democrat-led unit was engaging in "political fishing expedition."

Evins draft charged monopoly in broadcasting and other industries and recommended measures to remove "centralized power of the 'Executive Branch' over Federal agencies, giving Congress complete control over their operation.

Group Files for New Bedford

APPLICATION for ch. 6 New Bedford, Mass., was filed Friday with FCC by hotelman Paul E. Thurlow and associates. Among others in group are Paul B. Mowrey, former (1944-52) national director of tv for ABC, and Roland Hale, assistant general manager, WCOB Boston. Proposal calls for 100 kw radiated power, 1,000 ft. antenna (973.5 above ground). Costs: $582,180 (construction) and $565,000 (first year operation).

LEO'S ON TOP IN NEW YORK!

The WCBS-TV "Late Show" has long been the New York stay-up-later's favorite...but never before by so fabulous a margin!

Nearly 90% of the late viewers were tuned in to COMMAND DECISION starring Clark Gable at 11:15 P.M. Saturday, December 1...and the TRENDEX hit a high of 28.4...topping its closest competition by more than eleven-to-one!

Never have so many New Yorkers stayed up so late to watch any single television program...but who can resist the mighty M-G-M lion?

WCBS-TV billings are heading for a new high! With exciting new programming from M-G-M, offering more viewers for the advertiser's dollar, the prestige and profit potential of this flagship station are now greater than ever before.

And the story's the same everywhere the M-G-M features are being programmed: higher ratings and billings skyrocketing higher than ever before!

Wait no longer. Inquire today as to the availability of the M-G-M library in your area.

SALES STORY

There are all kinds, but if you really want to sell Southern California, take heed.

It was 1:15 in the morning, late in November.

Jackson Wheeler was visiting with his KTTV viewers. He interviewed Lease Bussard, International President of the Optimists, who read the Optimist Creed. Jackson invited the "Jackson's Theatre" audience to let him know if they wanted a copy.

Then it happened.

KTTV's switchboard was jammed until, at 2:15 A.M., Wheeler suggested that the audience write instead of phoning.

To date, 9,752 requests for the Creed have been received from all over the Southern California area. The place is loaded with optimists (customers, to you).

Yes, Southern California is different, and the difference is KTTV.

NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE SHOW

THE NEW cars for 1957 are longer, lower and more powerful than 1956 models. They have smaller wheels and softer tires, dual headlamps, high tail fins and lots and lots of aluminum grillwork. And, with few exceptions, they have dropped the two-tone look that has been almost universal the past few seasons in favor of one-color finishes, with perhaps a narrow band of contrasting color between two gleaming strips of metal.

That about sums up one viewer's memory of an hour spent at the National Automobile Show in New York's Coliseum by courtesy of CBS-TV, which also provided five newsmen to demonstrate and describe the newest features of the new autos, including the retractable steel hard-top of the new Ford convertible, the rear-facing back seats of the nine-passenger Plymouth station wagon and the secretary's typewriter desk (also rear-facing) of the "three-room" Cadillac, which also carried a radio ticker to keep the busy executive in touch with the market as he rides and dictates.

A few more generalizations gleaned from the flow of automotive wisdom spouted by Charles Collingwood and his colleagues: The hardtop has replaced the sedan as the most popular American auto model. There are more automobiles than houses in the United States. There are enough cars to take every man, woman and child in the country out riding at the same time. One person in every seven earns his living in a job directly connected with the automotive industry.

Who says tv's not educational?

Production cost: $32,000.

Sponsored by Reynolds Aluminum Co. through Buchanan & Co., Sun., Dec. 9, 5-6 p.m. EST, on CBS-TV.

Producer: Paul Levitan; assoc. producer: Jack Kune; director: Vern Diamond; writer: Martin Plissner; m.c.: Charles Collingwood; reporters: Ned Calmer, Ron Cochran, Dallas Townsend and Jim McKay.

Produced by CBS News and Public Affairs Department.

FESTIVAL OF MUSIC

EXERCISING considerably more restraint than they used for last January's "Festival of Music" on NBC-TV, S. Hurok and the Producer's Showcase planners made the second festival, Dec. 10, a crowning achievement.

This time, instead of upending the cornucopia, Mr. Hurok picked out a few choice items and arranged them for ultimate delectation. With only five features filling the 90 minutes—two good-sized opera extracts and three solo acts—this was a program of satisfying balance. The adroit staging demonstrated once again television's highly penetrating, sympathetic bond of understanding between artist and viewer. Maybe an audience in a hall gets a dimension that is lost in electronic transmission, but whenever did the balcony-sitter get such a look at Segovia's or Rubinstein's hands, share the agony and splendor of Boris Godonov's last hours on such intimate terms?

This show seems to mark impresario

Hurok's graduation as a finished producer for television. Now that he is master of the medium, may he bring his glories back to the screen soon and often.

Production cost: $200,000

Sponsored on NBC-TV Producer's Showcase Dec. 10, 8-9:30 p.m. EST, by RCA and Whirlpool-Seeger Corp. through Kenyon & Eckhardt.

Produced by S. Hurok; NBC executive producer: Mort Abrahams; director: Kirk Browning; narrator: Jose Ferrer; musical director: George Bassman; program supervisor: Shelley Hull; unit manager: Warren Burmeister; associate director: Dean Whitmore; settings: Burr Smidt; costumes: Robert Fletcher; choral supervision: George Schick; assistant conductor: Felix Popper.

Cast: Jose Ferrer, narrator; Alfred Wallenstein, conductor, and Showcase Symphony Orchestra; Victoria de los Angeles, Barry Morell, Andres Segovia, Marian Anderson, Artur Rubinstein; Boris Christoff, Nicola Moscona, Michael Pollack, Kirk Jordon and others.

NEW FIGURES OF 1957

SO FAR as Warner Bros. Co.—the girdle and bra makers, not the movie brothers—were concerned, what better showcase could they have asked than one in which New York's top models ($57 per hour) waltzed around in the choicest, sheerest and most dazzling creations this side of the Place Vendome. Naturally, underneath all this finery lurked a Warner foundation.

The good, and expensive, word came from Ceil Chapman, Molly Parnis, Adele Simpson, Ben Zuckerman, Pauline Trigere, Sydney Wragge, Dave Evins, Estevez, Andre and Roxanne—10 of America's top designers. Doing a very efficient job of interviewing them was Home's fashion editor, Natalie Core.

A word of caution to NBC-TV: Fellows, don't ever show your color-test pattern on black-and-white again. It may make a charming piece of cubist art, but it'll never sell color sets.

Production costs: Approximately $35,000.

Sponsored by Warner Bros. Co., through C. J. LaRoche & Co., on NBC-TV, Sat. Dec. 8, 1-2 p.m. EST.

Commentator: Natalie Core; producers: Kay Elliot and Roger Gimbel; director: Barry Shear; sets: Trew Hocker; costume designer: Guy Kent; unit manager: Elmer Gorry.

THE PRICE IS RIGHT

THE OLD question—will entertainment or prizes win viewers most effectively?—is about to be answered once and for all by a new daytime (10:30-11 a.m.) series on NBC-TV titled The Price Is Right.

Here is a straight appeal to cupidity, that of the contestants in the studio and that of the viewers at home. No jokes, no side business, no nonsense of any kind is permitted, on this program, to interfere with the serious business of winning merchandise. The formula is simple: Four contestants bid on products displayed before them, a single unit or an assembly. The bidder coming closest to the actual retail price of the goods—and without exceeding it—wins the merchandise itself as a prize. The telecast reviewed presented canny bidders with prizes ranging from a portable typewriter to a 1957 Chevrolet.

Home viewers get a chance to get in on the game by bidding by postcard on goods displayed in the Home Showcase for a week. The first week the Showcase held a natural ranch mink coat, a white satin hat, a diamond wrist watch, a hand bag and a set of matched luggage. The closest bid for the lot which does not exceed the retail price takes the lot.

NBC-TV is presenting The Price Is Right itself, without a sponsor, apparently in an effort to determine whether goods can beat Godfrey. Next year's program fare may well be at stake.

TICKET TO THE MOON

HOW MANY people know that the A-Bomb was actually detonated in the pages of As-tounding magazine a year and a half before the big boom at Hiroshima? That the magazine carried a more detailed description of the bomb's trigger mechanism than the ensuing Smythe Report? Or that Rostand's rapier-nosed Cyrano de Bergerac might well be considered the daddy of the "Honest John" rocket when he talked about shooting into space, "driven by villainous impulses fed by saltpeter?"

Certainly we didn't, and that's why we're grateful radio is still around. Especially NBC Radio's Biographies in Sound which on Dec. 4 did a "take-out" on science fiction, a literary phenomenon that "uses tomorrow's worlds to pay for the writer's bills of yesterday."

For 55 minutes, we heard host Norman Rose talk to the leading exponents of science fiction: Editor John W. Campbell of As-tounding; biochemist Dr. Isaac Azimov ("there is a difference between science fiction and science fantasy . . ."); Galaxy columnist and guided missile expert Dr. Willy Ley ("it stimulates the scientific mind to seek wider goals"); author Ray Bradbury ("there's too much gimmickry in science fiction"); radio writer Arch Obeler ("it's honest writing"); Hollywood producer George Pal ("Hollywood has done a fabulous job in special effects"), and Dr. Bob Richardson of the Mt. Wilson Observatory ("today's flying saucers are like yesterday's flying witches—imagination").

It made us sit up and listen, and we agreed that in the world of science fiction, there is no such word as "impossible;" there is only "unpossible." It not only proved that the industry can turn out good programming on a ridiculously low budget, but that so far as imagination goes, radio's got it all over the other media as a theatre of the mind.

Production costs: Approximately $500.

Produced by NBC Radio program department. Director: Danny Setter; writer-editor: Ernest Kinoy; m.c.: Norman Rose.

Broadcast on NBC Radio, Tues., Dec. 4, 8:35-9:30 p.m. EST (sustaining).

BOOKS

FREEDOM OR SECRECY: By James Russell Wiggins. Oxford University Press, 114 Fifth Ave., New York 11, N. Y. 242 pp. $4.

THE ADVENT of radio as a communications medium altered the traditional relationship between the U. S. government and the press, which was guaranteed the freedom to criticize the lawmakers and law enforcers by the First Amendment. Radio, as Mr. Wiggins points out, was a different sort of thing. "The number of channels was limited. They had to be allocated. Once allocated it was necessary that the stations be required to stay on their authorized channels and utilize authorized power. The alternative was a chaos of conflicting signals in which none of the stations could have been heard. Obviously, no private power was equal to the task of allocation or enforcement. Government assumption of the obligation was inevitable.

"This means, inescapably, government licensing of a media differing from the press only in the mechanical device employed to disseminate information. Government was thus propelled into a sort of licensing which every constitutional authority until the advent of radio would have described as unconstitutional." And, when the FCC began to look at program content, in determining whether or not to renew station licenses, "government found itself knee-deep in an enterprise that surely would have been abhorrent to every one of the founding fathers."

Mr. Wiggins is executive editor and vice president of the Washington Post and Times Herald and was, for three years, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee, American Society of Newspaper Editors. In Freedom or Secrecy, he takes a long hard look at the right of the American public to know what its elected officials, judges, military men and other public and semi-public figures are up to; the right of newspapers, magazines, radio and tv to attend sessions of legislatures and courts to get the facts for the public, and the growing tendency of legislative and other groups to avoid this public scrutiny by going into executive session and by other actions which, while perhaps not illegal, are certainly in conflict with the right of the people for full access to the full facts.

Good reading for anyone interested in government or news or both, this thought-provoking volume is especially recommended to station news directors and general managers, two groups directly concerned with the problems of keeping the channels of information wide open.

STEAMING AHEAD!

Since the sternwheelers first opened our Ohio River Valley to large-scale trade, this region has constantly steamed ahead to greater industrial records.

Today, its array of manufacturing is the most vast in America... a solid head-of-steam typified by our own doorstep counties of Cabell and Kanawha (the Huntington-Charleston area) where—say preliminary reports of the new U. S. Census of Manufactures—the value of industry alone is up 55% since 1947, currently over one billion dollars!

This is only part of what you can command with WSAZ-TV. Surrounding our near-quarter-mile-high tower lies America's 23rd television market—four states wide, four billion dollars deep in buying potential. You leave a smart wake when you sail aboard WSAZ-TV. Any Katz office can make out a profitable bill of lading for you.

Ladies Day at WNAR

EDITOR:

What happens to a radio station when all announcers and personalities decide they want to go hunting together? The station can't be closed down for the day and it would be impossible to transcribe all the programs and the newscasts. The management of radio station WNAR Norristown, Pa., felt it would be a good idea for the boys to get away for a day of enjoyment and relaxation, but the problem of substitution remained unsolved.

Suggestions poured into the station from listeners and finally one listener said, "Who knows the job and the problems of broadcasting better than the wives of the staff? Let them take over for the day." With tongue in cheek, I agreed to this novel idea.

No one figured on the reaction that followed the one-day experiment. Telegrams poured into the station from all sections of the listening area complimenting the wives on the fine job they were doing. Sponsors called up and asked for additional spots to advertise merchandise slanted at the women. Everyone in the area was talking about the experiment and letters are still pouring into the station asking that "Ladies Day" be made a regular feature of the station in the future.

Bouquet of Rose's

EDITOR:

Having had some time to cool off after reading Billy Rose's pungent attack on BMI during the recent Senate hearings [B•T, Sept. 24], I am enclosing some information on the kind of songs which Mr. Rose and others have had published as ASCAP composers. The information was taken from ASCAP's own "40 Years of Hit Tunes."

I think our industry should make a vigorous defense of Mr. Carl Haverlin, his carefully selected officers and personnel and the entire board of directors of BMI. I have found them to be: First, interested in the

CASE HISTORY - SEAT COVERS

SURE FIT SEAT COVERS FIND RADIO SURE FITS SALES PROBLEMS

Back in the spring of '55, the Max Becker Advertising Agency of Long Beach picked radio to sell the Sure Fit Seat Covers Division of the Howard Zink Corporation to the owners of Southern California's 3½-million passenger cars (most of them, naturally, radio-equipped).

Just a year-and-a-half later, Sure Fit has completed a comprehensive analysis of its advertising response. According to division manager N. G. Zink:

"Radio has become consistently more productive for us each month during this period, and has now reached the point where our cost-per-sale from radio is lower than from any other medium used.

KBIG certainly deserves full credit for the contribution it has made to the growth and success of Sure Fit during the past eighteen months."

KBIG, carrying four one-minute jingle-with-live-tag announcements for Sure Fit daily, is happy to share with two other fine Los Angeles independent stations gratification for another job well done in our long list of successful Southern California radio advertisers.

future of radio and television broadcasting in its broadest sense! Second, gentlemen in every sense of the word in carrying out those interests. Anyone making a personal attack on Mr. Haverlin and his associates could do so only for selfish reasons of which our great industry should take heed of the source.

I have had the privilege of attending a number of BMI clinics and at no time was a reference made that a station should exclusively program one kind of music from any particular source. BMI has been largely responsible for introducing "American free enterprise" to the music publishing field and deserves unstinted support.

These are the beliefs of one of the smallest of the "small guys" in radio.

Newsworthy Wrecks

EDITOR:

I guess a car wreck is newsworthy, according to "WISE Was There" [OPEN MIKE, Dec. 3].

Same happened to us. As I was reporting the news from our "picture window studio" I looked out to see a car wreck . . . reported same, as events transpired. But shucks, everybody here knows that "they hear it while its news on KTFS."

Incidentally, bet we have about the only studio from which can be observed happenings in two states. From our studio, 100 feet from the Arkansas state line, we watch and report considerable material such as the above.

*Les Eugene, Prog. Dir.
KTFS Texarkana, Tex.-Ark.*

EDITOR:

The way I understand Douglas China's report [B•T, Dec. 3] on the WISE blow-by-blow account of a Nov. 20 wreck, KITE might credit him with a tie but not a "first" for quickest news coverage of local news in the history of radio. But did WISE carry the actual sound of the impact?

Back in September of 1955 KITE was there when a gasoline truck exploded while unloading gas at the San Antonio police department . . . across the street from the KITE studios. KITE's program director, Stan Nelson, had the mike open reading a commercial . . . and it came out something like this: "When Jack Mitchell has a sale, he really has a sale! BLOOEY!"

Stan stopped right there, turned reporter and give a window ledge account, smoke-by-flame!

By any standard, that's the ultimate in instantaneous coverage of a totally unscheduled newsworthy occurrence. Some will recall the memorable broadcast of the Hindenburg explosion, but there's a distinction, for the landing itself already was a newsworthy event and radio reporters already were broadcasting as scheduled. . . .

Radio and Education

EDITOR:

American Education Week in Centralia will be long remembered since WCNT has programmed 11½ hours of air time devoted to Centralia's grade, high school, and junior college. Administrator, teachers and students are participating in the programs during the week. When the schools were approached on what they had planned for the week they expressed a great appreciation that we were interested and gave us the complete details.

We offered assistance and through mutual agreement all the time was sponsored.

The schools are giving all of the sponsors certificates in appreciation of their part in American Education Week.

Never let it be said that any part of the school systems won't work completely with an advertising medium and assist in thinking and producing program material that will attract listenership.

I have written this letter in the hope that other stations will become closer acquainted with their schools. Remember, students influence parents.

to JAMES WEBSTER BEACH

CHOICE literary quotes are sometimes offered by Jim Beach, newly-elected ABC-TV vice president, to help explain his views on selling—observations embellished with a rare candor characteristic of his own personal relationships. But none of them epitomizes his working philosophy better than the simple word “competitive”—whether applied to his team concept of sales management or to extra-curricular activities.

Doubtless, the quality of competitiveness was uppermost in the minds of Leonard H. Goldenson, president of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc., and other AB-PT board members when they elected Mr. Beach vice president in charge of ABC-TV's Central Div. [B•T, Nov. 26].

Mr. Beach seems well qualified for his role on the network's new management team on the basis of his achievements as sales manager for five-and-a-half years of ABC's owned and operated WBKB (TV) Chicago and as director of ABC-TV's Central Div. since May 1955. Modesty and his concept of teamwork preclude his taking personal credit for placing, out of the central division, about one-third of all ABC-TV billings.

Recognizing this accomplishment—and in the wake of ABC's realignment of top-level management—Mr. Goldenson told a recent Chicago news conference that greater authority would be delegated to Mr. Beach and that “Jim is ABC's management voice in the central division and can speak with authority for the company.”

James Webster Beach was born Dec. 21, 1912, and except for short periods on the family farm in Michigan, was reared in Chicago.

In 1930 young Beach divided his time between Northwestern U., Evanston, Ill., where he majored in journalism and advertising, and newspaper work, starting as a cub reporter on the old Chicago Herald & Examiner. By 1934, he was staff sales manager in classified advertising. When the Herald & Examiner and American staffs were combined in 1938, Mr. Beach “survived” the merger by conducting a real estate Sunday supplement.

The “radio bug” hit Mr. Beach, he recalls, and in 1940 he went to work as a salesman for Ralph Atlass, who at that time owned WJJD and WIND Chicago. Prior to the end of World War II, Mr.

Beach left broadcasting to become sales and advertising manager of Westfield Homes Inc. From 1946 to 1949 he was vice president and co-owner of B & W Brick & Material Co. The venture turned out ill-fated but proved to Mr. Beach he should remain in advertising and sales.

Instead of returning to radio, at the standing invitation of Mr. Atlass, he turned to tv in 1949. Mr. Beach had no previous experience, although John H. Mitchell, then head of Paramount Theatres-Balaban & Katz WBKB (TV), was impressed with his self-confidence and hired him as administrative sales assistant.

An avid believer in the vitality of tv for the large local retailer, he piled up several “firsts” at WBKB (then ch. 4): first commercial sponsorship of major league baseball in Chicago (Cubs and Sox for Atlass Prager beer); first across-the-board department store live tv series for 52 weeks (audience participation show for Goldblatt's); highest budgeted local show on any Chicago station, (Pace of Chicago for Marshall Field's as high as $10,000 per half-hour); five-a-week Nite Owl movies series for Polk Bros. at 12 midnight; sale and start of first commercially-sponsored regularly-scheduled Saturday evening tv program in Chicago (Studebaker Playhouse).

After FCC approved the ABC-PT sale and merger in 1953, Mr. Mitchell became head of midwest operations for the new WBKB (on ch. 7) and organized the team of Mitchell, Quinlan, Vieracker and Beach. (Sterling C. Quinlan is vice president in charge of WBKB and Matthew Vieracker is general manager.) Mr. Beach was named sales manager, a post he held until his appointment as director of ABC-TV's Central Div. on May 16, 1955.

Since relinquishing his WBKB sales post, where he (and his “team”) compiled an enviable local sales record, Mr. Beach has proceeded to guide the ABC-TV's central division operation into a more favorable competitive position with other networks in Chicago in terms of billings.

Mr. Beach is married to the former Anne McKay of Boston. They have three children—Valerie, 19, a student at Chicago Conservatory of Music; Jeffrey, 17 (senior at Niles High in Skokie, Ill.), and James W. Beach III, 2—and live in Skokie.

BETH BROBERG

on all accounts

WHEN it comes to getting results for advertisers, Beth Broberg, media director of the Mayers Co., Los Angeles, which Jan. 1 becomes a division of Cunningham & Walsh, New York, admits her agency has become "very television conscious" and has "never been disappointed" by radio.

She cites case histories such as the California radio campaign of Bandini Fertilizer Co. to establish brand identification and whose unusual "high fashion" theme in radio and print not only won wide attention in advertising circles but considerably boosted sales. She has others to quote as well for western and regional accounts using radio and tv.

Mrs. Broberg's only problem involving the broadcast media is to get spots at the time desired, indicative of the high business barometer for west coast stations. She believes ratings show the trend of a market, but thinks a buyer can go only so far in the use of these figures since actual sales experience proves the better buy and gives a good basis for repeat time purchases.

Other Mayers Co. accounts currently using radio, tv, or both, include Hoffman Candy Co., Sears Roebuck & Co., Muller Bros. (Oldsmobile dealer in Hollywood) and Glendale (Calif.) Federal Savings & Loan Assn.

Born Beth Freeman Jan. 18, 1919, at Ely, Nev., she majored in English and music at the U. of Southern California before joining Foster & Kleiser Co., Los Angeles outdoor advertising firm, in 1942. Four years later, she switched to West-Marquis Inc., Los Angeles, as assistant to the media director and chief accountant. It was here she learned of the power of radio in advertising. In 1948 Mrs. Broberg joined Jere Bayard & Assoc. as media director and in 1951 went to the Mayers Co. as secretary to the vice president. She became media director for Mayers in 1954.

Her husband is Nels Broberg, with North American Aviation. They were married in 1950 and make their home in the Wilshire Blvd. area of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Broberg is active with the Los Angeles Advertising Women and is a member of the music sorority Sigma Alpha Iota.

THE FIGHT FOR TELEVISION DOMINANCE

NBC labels 'invasion' of film product as menace to future of networks

NOW SHAPING UP is what may well become the biggest battle in television history. The antagonists: television networks and the motion picture industry. The rich prize for which they are struggling: dominance in tv programming.

The battle, which has been building up for several years, broke into open warfare last spring when Richard A. Moore, president of independent KTTV (TV) Los Angeles, with the backing of several film producers and distributors, formally charged the networks with hogging the airways and asked the government to create more opportunities for film product [B•T, April 2].

The conflict has intensified in the months since then as a flood of some $100 million worth of feature movies has hit the market.

Last week, NBC retaliated by declaring war on Hollywood. In a speech to the Miami libraries have been made available to television: from RKO, 740 features and 1,000 short subjects for $15.1 million; from 20th Century-Fox, 390 features for $30 million; from MGM, 770 features and 900 shorts for roughly $20 million in sales to date with more in prospect; from Warner Bros., 850 features and 1,500 shorts for $21 million; from Columbia, an unknown number of features for an unknown yield, released through the Columbia subsidiary, Screen Gems. The total value of all this product runs to an estimated $100 million.

And there promises to be more to come.

Paramount Pictures Corp., the only major movie producer yet to release its library to tv, reportedly has been in at least exploratory negotiations with prospective purchasers. Reputed asking price: around $50 million.

Show of feature movies, starting at 11:15 p.m., competes with NBC-TV's live Tonight, 11:30-12:30. On Dec 3, Late Show's "Random Harvest" got a Trendex rating of 21.1 against Tonight's 6.1; on Dec. 4, "Sahara" was rated 15.3 to Tonight's 4.7; Dec. 5, "Above Suspicion," 16.3 to Tonight's 6.0; Dec. 6, "Together Again," 15.8 to 5.6 for Tonight; Dec. 7, "Johnny Eager," 25.4 to 5.5 for Tonight (all Trendex ratings, as reported by WCBS-TV).

KMGM-TV Minneapolis, reporting on Dec. 8 and 9, when the station began programming its MGM feature films, reported a Saturday night share of audience of 48.8 for "Honky Tonk" against George Gobel, Gunsmoke, Masquerade Party and other programs on the three competing network outlets, and a Sunday night share of audience figure of 43.6 for "Above Suspicion"

- $100 million in films hits tv market
- More's coming as producers open vaults

- Will stations choose film over live tv?
- If so, NBC sees 'toboggan of decline' convention of NBC affiliates, NBC President Robert W. Sarnoff warned of a "film invasion" and said television would "ride a toboggan of decline" if it loaded its schedules with movies.

NBC, he said, had decided that "television's future lies along the route we now chart . . . emphasis on live television, on fresh new programs designed for the medium, and on the development of color." (For full report of Mr. Sarnoff's speech, see page 60.)

When Mr. Sarnoff spoke of a film "invasion," he may not have chosen too strong a word.

Since early this year, the following film

All of the libraries mentioned above are confined to films made before 1948. Post-1948 films are still withheld from tv owing to the inability of producers and unions to reach an agreement on residual payments. But serious negotiations on this problem have been going on since last summer [B•T, Nov. 19; Sept. 10], and qualified observers feel it will be merely a matter of time until this new wave of movies hits television.

That good feature films can provide tough competition for live network programs is documented in reports from a number of cities recently made to B•T. As one example, take New York during the late evening hours, when WCBS-TV's Late Night against Loretta Young, $64,000 Challenge, Omnibus, et al.

Showing the MGM Movie Theatre has put KTVR (TV) Denver in first place at both 3-5 and 9-10:45 p.m. in that four-station market, Hugh Ben Larue, executive vice president and general manager of the independent station, has announced. Citing the Nov. 1 Pulse, (Continues on page 30)

How Stations Divide Their Time

B•T survey showing breakdown of station time in terms of local, network and film programming, and network time in terms of film and live programming, begins on the next page.

TV PROGRAM TIME TOPS 100 HOURS PER WEEK

- More time, more film, more network shows
- Trend still up in continuing B•T survey

THE TREND is up for tv programming. Year after year the commercial tv stations of the country provide more hours of program service, more hours of network programs, more hours of programs on film. Only at the local level does the curve turn down—and that but slightly.

During the week of Oct. 15-21, the average commercial tv station was on the air with programs for 101 hours and 43 minutes, first time that the industry average has topped the 100-hour-a-week mark. One station, operating in Los Vegas and matching its service hours to those of its home community, reports full-time program service of 168 hours a week, or 24 hours a day. Of the total, 160 programs are devoted to motion pictures originally produced for showing in theatres; the rest of the time goes for local live programming. Fewest hours on the air reported by any station for the survey week is 42, of which two-thirds are devoted to film programs, and one-sixth each to local live shows and to network service.

Nearly half of the average station's time is devoted to programs on film, 47.6%, to be exact. This figure is the total of the 33.7% of the average station's time occupied by non-network films and the 13.9% that goes for film programs broadcast over the tv networks. (The average station devotes 51.4% of its time to network programs; 27.1% of all network program time is film; 27.1% of 51.4% equals 13.9%.)

As the adjoining table shows, stations without network affiliations are the largest users of non-network film programs, devoting more than three-fourths (77.5%) of their air time to this type of programming. Non-interconnected network affiliates rank second in their use of non-network films, which get three-fifths (61.6%) of their air time, compared to the three-tenths (29.4%) given to non-network films by the interconnected network affiliates.

It should be noted that practically all commercial tv stations on the air today are interconnected affiliates. The few non-interconnected affiliates are located in Western states of sparse population and wide open spaces not yet penetrated by AT&T's coaxial cable or microwave radio relay intercity connections. The few non-network stations are largely found in cities to which more than three channels have been allocated and more than three stations put into operation.

With this survey, sixth of a continuing series conducted by B•T, which now sends questionnaires to all operating commercial tv stations in the nation each March and October, a consistent pattern is becoming apparent.

First, there is a steady increase in the hours of tv program service provided by the average tv station.

Second, there is a steady, although slight, decrease in the percentage of total time on the air that is given over to local live programming.

Third, for the past two years, at least, the percentage of total air time devoted to non-network film programs has shown a small seasonal fluctuation, up in the fall, down in the spring. In March 1955, these filmed programs got 30.4% of the total program time of the average station. In October 1955, the figure was 34.0%. In March 1956, it was 31.1%. And last month, October 1956, it was 33.7%. The amount of time given to non-network film programming shows a steady year-to-year increase, however.

Programs on film are getting an increasingly large share of time on the tv networks. This is true in actual hours, which have risen from 29½ a week in March of 1955 to 45¼ in October of that year, to 49 last March and to nearly 58 hours last month. It is also true percentagewise, films rising from 13.3% of total network program time in March of 1955 to 22.3% in October of that year, to 23.2% in March of this year and 27.1% in October of this year.

A major factor in this procedure has been the heavy use of filmed programs by ABC-TV, which now devotes more than 26 hours a week, 63.1% of its total program time, to these programs. Both CBS-TV and NBC-TV show the same slight fluctuation that was noted for the average individual station: up in the fall, down in the spring, but with this year's spring dip not descending to last year's spring level and with this fall's rise going well above last year's fall peak.

Fear was expressed that the volume of five-minute political films placed on the networks this October, during the final month of the Presidential campaign, may have made this month not a good one for comparative purposes by boosting its film content level above normal. The figures do not seem to support that theory.

deserted the network at 10:30 p.m. on Saturdays to put on feature films for a local sponsor.

Moreover, more than a quarter of all tv network program time is devoted to shows on film (see table this page). ABC-TV has been most active in filmed programming for its network, currently devoting nearly two-thirds of its total hours of network service to film. CBS-TV divides its program hour four-fifths to live, one-fifth to film. NBC-TV is the most aggressively live-programmer of the three, with only one-sixth of its time given to programs on film.

ABC-TV is not only the largest user of film programming among the tv networks, but its parent company, American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc., has recently announced its intention of entering the motion picture production field, through a new subsidiary, Am-Par Pictures Corp. [B•T, Nov. 19]. Am-Par, however, plans to make films only for use in theatres.

Not mentioned by Mr. Sarnoff in his Miami speech was another way in which the motion picture companies are invading television—through the acquisition of tv stations. Paramount is the veteran in this activity, through its outright ownership of KTLA (TV) Los Angeles and its 26.6% ownership of DuMont Broadcasting Corp., owner-operator of WABD (TV) New York and WTTG (TV) Washington. Within the year, Loew's Inc., parent company of MGM, has acquired a 25% stock interest in three tv stations—KMGM-TV Minneapolis, KTTV (TV) Los Angeles and KTVR (TV) Denver. Screen Gems, tv subsidiary of Columbia Pictures, has announced its firm intention to get into station operation and has just appointed Robert H. Salk, formerly director of syndicated sales for the company, to the new post of director of station operations [B•T, Dec. 10]. Mr. Salk's immediate duties will be to represent Screen Gems in the purchase of tv stations.

So, one way and another, the television and film businesses are getting closer and closer together. A part of the process is through mergers, whereby conflicting companies are acquiring a mutuality of interest, but in the main the approach seems to be in preparation for a winner-take-all slugfest in the main bout in the billion dollar center ring.

16 Sales of New Fox Package By NTA Go Above $1.5 Million

SALES totaling more than $1.5 million gross for the newest group of 86 20th Century-Fox feature films have been completed by National Telefilm Assoc. in the past week, it was announced by Ely Landau, NTA president. The sales were made to 16 stations.

The films, included in the new "Rocket 86," were sold to KFSD-TV San Diego, WTVJ (TV) Miami, WCAU-TV Philadelphia, WJAR-TV Providence, KHQ-TV Spokane, KTNT-TV Tacoma, KJEO (TV) Fresno, WRAL-TV Raleigh, WNBS-TV Columbus, WGBI-TV Scranton, WBEN-TV Buffalo, WMCT (TV) Memphis, WKNB-TV New Britain, WTVH (TV) Peoria, WHTN-TV Huntington, W. Va. and KTVH (TV) Hutchinson, Kan.

which gave KTVR an average rating of 24.4 for Monday-Friday, Mr. Larue said, "This dominates all network competition and results in a higher tune-in than ever before achieved in the market."

In addition to "the backlog of Hollywood features now being released in quantity to television," Mr. Sarnoff told the affiliates last week there is "the mounting stockpile of syndicated films, produced for television in the Hollywood lots that once served the nation's motion picture theatres. Together, they are creating enormous pressures on our industry."

Has the pressure been felt by network programs? So far, according to available evidence, the answer is no. The victim of the network-movie struggle for the market seems at this stage to be the local program.

The latest in B•T's semi-annual surveys of station programming shows a continuation of the trend that has persisted for the past three years: The average U. S. commercial tv station is on the air for more hours each week, devotes more time to network programming, more to film programming and less and less to local shows. [For full details of the newest B•T survey see next page.]

The tv networks themselves have helped create the "pressures" referred to by Mr. Sarnoff. Each has its own syndicated film division, energetically competing with the networks for a larger share of station time and of tv's advertising revenue. Indeed, barely more than three years ago Mr. Sarnoff himself was the vice president in charge of NBC's own film division.

NBC-TV, like the other tv networks, has not hesitated to make liberal use of films in the programming of its o&o stations. American Research Bureau's November report of the audiences for syndicated film telecasts in New York, for example, shows that the six most popular of these programs with New York viewers were broadcast by WRCA-TV, NBC-owned station there. In Washington, NBC's WRC-TV for years has

P&G TOTALS ASCEND TO NEARLY $3.7 MILLION IN SEPTEMBER

PROCTER & GAMBLE Co. spent $3,691,691 for network tv time in September of this year—some $500,000 more than in September 1955 and about $1.5 million more than in September 1954.

This general "measurement" of P&G's increasing outlay for network tv is based on Publishers Information Bureau's compilation of network tv gross billings.

As it did in September of a year ago, P&G kept approximately $1.5 million ahead of its closest contender among the top ten network tv advertisers (Colgate-Palmolive).

The top ten last September compared to the same month of a year ago was made up of the same advertisers except for the dropout of American Tobacco and Ford Motor Co., each of which was replaced by another advertiser in the same product category—Liggett & Myers and General Motors, respectively.

Increases in gross billing were not evident, however, for several of the top 10 companies, with the notable exceptions—P&G, American Home Products (up nearly $500,000) and Lever Bros. (up nearly $200,000).

While there were a few declines in product groups, no weakening was evident for the nine months (Jan.-Sept.) compilation of expenditures per product category. To offset slight reductions were substantial increases in many categories, namely automotive, drugs and remedies, building materials, foods, household equipment and supplies, industrial materials, insurance, publishing and media, radios and tv sets and allied products, soaps and cleansers, toiletries and toilet goods.

ECONOMY OF RADIO ADS STRESSED

- Dr. Roslow tells Illinois club of new Pulse survey
- Study again compares aural medium with newspapers

NEW RESEARCH documenting the economy of radio advertising as compared to newspaper advertising was made public by Dr. Sydney Roslow, director of The Pulse Inc., in a speech before the Peoria, Ill., Advertising & Selling Club last Monday (Dec. 10).

The research is a follow-up to a two-year project, whose results were unveiled last fall, in which Pulse applied to printed media the same techniques used in obtaining broadcast ratings [B•T, Sept. 3].

The follow-up study was conducted in Los Angeles, Dr. Roslow said. The same method (standardized aided-recall) was used to measure the remembrance of both newspaper advertisements and radio commercials. The ratings were based on total homes, not just those homes that had read the ads or heard the commercials. Here are the findings as summarized by Dr. Roslow:

"Average remembrance ratings of all homes for 45 announcements broadcast by the radio stations were found to reach 19,000 families. An eighth page in the newspaper was found to reach 30,400 families. On this basis of audience, it would seem that the newspaper advertising with its 1.6 noting is superior to radio with its 1.0 remembrance in this particular comparison."

Cost Analyzed

But look at the cost, he declared:

"The cost of an eighth page is $200, and the cost of the announcement on radio is $30, in closest round numbers for quick comparison. Hence it is immediately apparent that on a cost basis, the newspaper advertisement would have to have a reading audience seven times the size of the listening audience, to pay out comparably."

Dr. Roslow continued:

"Now that would seem to be an eminently fair comparison, without hair-splitting or getting caught in the confusion that the media are different. And because of the admitted advantage of repetition in advertising, just imagine the extra impact for an advertiser who buys numerous minute announcements for the same price at which his competitor buys one impact of newspaper advertising! Isn't this the realistic slant of the buyer who has X dollars to spend in a given market?"

"Now it is true that the philosophy of buying some of both is of considerable advantage in many, many instances. That the newspaper advertisement 'enjoys long life,' however, is thoroughly disproved in this particular Pulse study. And here as in the other numerous Pulse studies it is revealed that in most instances, the reader having read, passes on. And in only 15% of cases does the newspaper reader go back for a second look. The other 85% glance and are gone. America has been criticized as a nation of headline readers. The attention given to advertising is even worse."

Dr. Roslow acknowledged that "to say that newspapers are ineffective selling vehicles in spite of such low advertising noting would be a silly and fatuous claim." But, he added, "to say that radio advertising with similarly small listening for the commercial messages is eclipsed by newspapers is still more fatuous."

He said that "both the newspaper and the radio station earn their proper share of the advertising investment on the basis of the actual results achieved. It is the end-results that have enabled the local newspaper to provide its vital service. It is the end-results that have enabled the local radio station to provide the service, news, and entertainment features that are part and parcel of everyday living, in the home or away from home, and for many more hours than are spent on newspapers."

"Therefore the conclusion seems incontrovertible, that selling the total circulation figures of the newspaper is an impressive but misleading approach. Radio stations would be roundly criticized if they followed a similar course."

"Newspapers and radio both have their own individual merit. Neither should apologize for producing sales-resultful coverage of the tiny percentage of families in the 'buy it now' mood for any product or service that families want and need, or for the implantation of new outlooks, new horizons, and desires that will be gratified in the future if steady advertising cultivation is maintained."

Dr. Roslow said the use of identical methods in measuring newspaper and radio commercial remembrance "should provide an answer for all time for critics who stated that it was not fair to compare programs and advertising." The radio ratings, he emphasized, were for the commercials only. He described the method thus:

"Families were shown [on the following evening] an itemized card listing radio announcements aired on a selected, typical station for a Thursday night from 6 p.m. to midnight. Those who had listened were asked to identify the announcements they could remember through these reminder-mentions [not total 'playback' which might have overstimulated response]. . . . The ratings obtained by this standard method were based on total homes, not just homes that had heard the commercials, or in exactly the same way that the programs are measured month after month."

"This radio methodology was exactly the same followed in showing Los Angeles families the Thursday night newspapers containing the advertising heretofore measured and reported. . . ."

Dr. Roslow called attention to Pulse's Salt Lake City findings, which were part of the data released last fall, showing that of 326 ads of all sizes in two newspapers, only 10 in each newspaper were seen by the average reader. "Of the newspaper studies made since in other markets", he said, "that was the best showing. So in no way can the Salt Lake City observation appear to be a freak low."

Four New Clients Take 'Breakfast Club' Time

A NEW 52-week contract by Life Savers-Beechnut Corp. (Beech Nut gum), Canajoharie, N. Y., for three weekly segments on Breakfast Club led sales activity last week representing an estimated $1.1 million in gross billing for ABC Radio's morning program block.

The new and renewed business was announced by George Comtois, the network's national sales manager. Other new contracts involved The Grant Co. of Chicago (formerly D-Con Co.) for its products, M-O Lene rug and upholstery cleaner, and Woolene, and Sterling Drug Inc. (Phillips milk of magnesia toothpaste), New York.

Advertisers renewing: Bristol-Myers Co. (Sal Hepatica to add to renewal for Bufferin, Trushay), New York; Ex-Lax Inc., New York; The Dromedary Co. (div. of National Biscuit Co., New York, for cake mixes); Atlantis Sales Corp. (R. T. French bird seed), Rochester, N. Y., and The Drackett Co. (Twinkle, to add to segments already sponsored for Drano and Windex).

The Beech Nut contract, through Young & Rubicam, New York, is effective Jan. 8; Sal Hepatica renewed three segments weekly on Breakfast Club also through Y & R, for 52 weeks through 1957; Ex-Lax, via Warwick & Legler, New York, renewed for the full year three segments weekly of My True Story; Grant, through Leeds & York, Chi-

DOW CHEMICAL CO., Midland, Mich., signs to sponsor the Red Foley Show on ABC Radio (Saturday, 12:30-1 p.m. CST) for 52 weeks, effective Jan. 19. Present for the contract signing are (l to r): seated, M. J. Hooker, Dow advertising manager; Mr. Foley; standing, Addison Amor, ABC Radio account executive; Jack Byrne, assistant account supervisor, MacManus, John & Adams, Dow agency, and John Mahaffey, Radiozark Enterprises, Springfield, Mo., producer of the program. The series originates from KWTO Springfield.

PIN POINT POWER GETS BEST RESULTS

Radio Station W-I-T-H "pin point power" is tailor-made to blanket Baltimore's 15-mile radius at low, low rates—with no waste coverage. W-I-T-H reaches 74% * of all Baltimore homes every week—delivers more listeners per dollar than any competitor. That's why we have twice as many advertisers as any competitor. WHO BILLS WHAT ON TV NETWORKS?

J. WALTER THOMPSON Co., with net billings of $23,389,495, topped all agencies on the NBC-TV network during the 18-month period January 1955-June 1956.

B•T's analysis of NBC-TV net billings, amounting to $206,306,849 in the 18-month period, is the first compilation ever made of the network's time sales by agency, sponsor and individual program. A similar analysis of CBS-TV network business was published in the Dec. 10 B•T.

Other agencies placing more than $10 million in business on NBC-TV in the 18-month period were Young & Rubicam, $14,245,685; BBDO $12,422,361; Benton & Bowles, $11,959,489, and William Esty Co., $10,227,980. Young & Rubicam was top agency on CBS-TV, having placed $24,646,724 on that network during the same period.

B•T has converted network contract information to show exactly how much agencies spent on NBC-TV, based on information in the files of the House Antitrust Subcommittee which asked networks to supply complete data on clients billings and discounts [B•T, Nov. 12, 19].

AGENCY-by-agency breakdown of NBC-TV billings appears on pages 104-111. CBS-TV's agencies appeared Dec. 10. In previous stories analyzing network data filed with the antitrust subcommittee, B•T disclosed gross and net CBS and NBC tv network billings for 1955 (Nov. 12) and the same networks' billings for the first six months of 1956 (Nov. 19).

The NBC-TV billings are broken down separately for 1955 and the first half of 1956. In cases where substantial portions of a network contract have been divided among two or more agencies, the details are explained in footnotes indicated by an asterisk (*). The separate amounts handled by each agency are unavailable in such cases.

The totals and separate sponsor expenditures on NBC-TV are net billings (gross minus network discount).

cago, will schedule 10 segments weekly in True Story, When a Girl Marries and Whispering Streets, effective Feb. 25, with length of contract not announced.

Sterling, through Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample, New York, has picked up three segments weekly of Story starting Feb. 4; Dromedary signed for next year, via Ted Bates, New York, for two segments weekly of Story, two in Marries and one in Streets; Atlantis, through Richard A. Foley Adv., Philadelphia, has two segments weekly on Story effective Jan. 2, and Drackett Co. (Twinkle portion), with two segments in Breakfast Club, signed through the Ralph H. Jones Co., Cincinnati. The Breakfast Club segments are effective Jan. 3.

Drackett also sponsors Breakfast Club (for Drano and Windex) thrice weekly next year, while Bristol-Myers already had signed for six segments weekly, three for Bufferin and three for Trushay hand lotion, in Breakfast Club.

U. S. Tobacco Names LaRoche

THE $1.2 million U. S. Tobacco Co. account (Sano, Encore cigarettes, Model, Old Briar pipe tobacco and Copenhagen snuff), which had been expected to leave Kudner agency, did so last week and appointed C. J. LaRoche & Co., New York, to handle the Kudner portion.

LaRoche had been handling U. S. Tobacco's Bruton and other brands of Scotch snuff since 1953. U. S. Tobacco's last extensive use of spot broadcasting was earlier this year, when it introduced Encores in their new, slim, "twin-pack" flip-top carton. The appointment, announced by the tobacco firm's president, J. Whitney Peterson, was effective immediately.

Kitchens of Sara Lee Boosts Broadcast Budget to $840,000

KITCHENS of Sara Lee Inc. (bakery goods), Chicago, has increased its broadcast budget 15% and plans to launch bowling and other programs during fiscal 1956-57, while continuing to invade new markets, it was learned last week.

The company, a subsidiary of Consolidated Foods Corp., has earmarked 60% of its $1.4 million overall advertising budget to radio-tv—roughly $840,000. Sara Lee expects to double its $5 million sales of 1955 this year and triple that figure in 1957.

Under study is a bowling series in a major market, probably New York, along the pattern of Sara Lee's Tv Bowling Classic on WBBM-TV Chicago, which it recently renewed. It has been a heavy user of audience participation, personality, special events and sport shows throughout the country. In addition saturation radio-tv spots are utilized.

Consolidated acquired Sara Lee last August. Agency is Cunningham & Walsh, Chicago.

Duffy Still Seriously Ill

BEN DUFFY, president of BBDO, New York, remained in serious condition last week after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage Dec. 3 during a business trip to Minneapolis [B•T, Dec. 10]. The 54-year-old advertising leader was flown from Minneapolis' Abbott Hospital to Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York on Dec. 8. Late last week he remained in a state of semi-coma, but doctors reported that his blood pressure was normal and his temperature down.

25% Increase in Radio Billings By Food Advertisers Is Forecast

TOTAL radio billings from food advertisers could increase as much as 25% next year, Sherril Taylor, vice president and director of promotion, Radio Advertising Bureau, predicted Tuesday.

In a talk to the Virginia Food Council in Richmond, Mr. Taylor charged that it's the "fantastic rates" for daytime tv which are responsible for "more and more" food product advertisers refusing to pay for that medium "when they can reach twice as many people with radio at half the cost."

A large share of daytime radio listening occurs while the housewife is taking care of household chores or preparing food, Mr. Taylor pointed out, adding that this is the time to sell food products.

In predicting the increase in food advertiser radio billing, Mr. Taylor came up with an estimate of a 10-15% increase in the number of food advertisers during 1957.

He noted that Grocery Mfrs. of America has reported that retail food store sales exceeded $45 billion for the first 10 months of 1956, and that estimated sales for next year will be more than $48.5 billion.

Said Mr. Taylor: "Radio and grocery products have a vital, basic factor in common. Both are universal. Everybody eats and virtually everybody listens to radio regularly."

National advertisers which have been increasing their use of radio and which have forecast higher radio billings next year, he said, would include Standard Brands, Colgate-Palmolive, National Biscuit, General Foods, Lever Bros., and various top food chains.

'Can Do' Joins Revlon List Of Casualties in January

REVLON Inc. is expected to drop in January the three-week-old (as of today) Can Do stunt program on NBC-TV which apparently didn't do. It also probably will give up the Monday, 9-9:30 p.m. EST time slot.

NBC-TV plans to move Twenty One, a quiz sponsored by Pharmaceutical Co., from its Wednesday, 10:30-11 p.m. EST period into the Monday time that would be vacated by Revlon. No decision has yet been made on what show would fill the Wednesday night vacancy created. Revlon's agency on the show is C. J. LaRoche, New York.

Revlon bowed with Can Do Nov. 26 when plans for presenting The Most Beautiful Girl in The World fell through.

DuPont Signs ABC-TV News Show

E. I. DuPONT de Nemours & Co. (finishes division, paints and varnishes), Wilmington, Del., will sponsor John Daly and the News (ABC-TV, Mon.-Fri., 7:15-7:30 p.m. EST) on Thursdays and Fridays, effective March 14. General Cigar Co., New York, which has sponsored the programs Monday through Friday, will pick up only the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday newscasts. Agencies are BBDO for DuPont and Young & Rubicam for General Cigar.

Sinatra Series Co-Sponsorship Sought by Lambert-Hudnut Div.

LAMBERT-HUDNUT Div. of Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. last week made a bid to become co-sponsor of the new Frank Sinatra series, which will debut next fall on ABC-TV.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. (Chesterfield cigarettes) has a contract for the Sinatra series which includes the right to make available to another advertiser alternating week sponsorship [B•T, Dec. 10].

Previous to the Lambert-Hudnut bid, Ford Motor Co. had made overtures toward co-sponsorship of the program. Late last week, L&M had taken no action on either bid.

Ayer Increases Armour Account

ARMOUR & Co., Chicago, has assigned its food product advertising for the West Coast to N. W. Ayer & Son, San Francisco. Ayer also nationally handles art and copy for Armour's Dash dogfood, Dairy-Poultry-Margarine Div., Frosted Meat Div., Refinery Div., bakery sales, commercial products, food service, consumer service and feed additive departments.

Thornblad to Open Own Agency

SVEN THORNLAD, vice president and public relations director, Hicks & Greist, New York, will leave the agency at the end of the month to open his own advertising firm, Sven Thornblad Sales Engineering Co.

MR. THORNLAD

The Thornblad agency expects initially to handle clients with limited budgets and "for whom we can get outstanding results within six to eight months."

Before joining Hicks & Greist, Mr. Thornblad was copy chief at Brooke, Smith, French & Dorrance. He also had served in various advertising capacities with General Motors Corp. and Allied Chemical & Dye Corp.

E. C. Tompson currently is handling publicity for Hicks & Griest.

Grove Labs Buys NoDoz

GROVE LABS Inc., St. Louis, a heavy user of radio and tv, is announcing today (Monday) that it has bought Harrison Products Inc. (NoDoz awakeners, a proprietary caffeine product), San Francisco. The firm will be operated as the Harrison Products Div. of Grove Labs. It was understood that Sidney Garfield & Co., San Francisco, would continue to be the agency for NoDoz.

In the future, NoDoz awakeners will be manufactured at Grove Labs' headquarters in St. Louis.

(P) Participations, as distinguished from sponsorship.

In the above summary, the monitoring occurred the week ending October 6, 1956.

The Hooper Index of Broadcast Advertisers is a measure of the extent to which a sponsor's commercials are seen or heard. Each commercial is assigned a number of "commercial units," according to its length.* This number is then multiplied by the audience rating attributed to that commercial. When each commercial has thus been evaluated, the results for all commercials of each sponsor are added to form the HIBA. For further details of preparation, see the basic reports published by C. E. Hooper Inc., Broadcast Advertisers Reports Inc. and American Research Bureau Inc. Above summary is prepared for use solely by BROADCASTING • TELECASTING. No reproduction permitted.

* "Commercial Units": Commercials are taken from the monitored reports published by Broadcasting Advertisers Reports Inc. A "commercial unit" is defined as a commercial exposure of more than 10 seconds but usually not more than one minute in duration. Four "commercial units" are attributed to a 30-minute program, and in the same proportion for programs of other lengths. A "station identification" equals one-half "commercial unit."

 Audience ratings for television, both national and local, are those published by American Research Bureau Inc. Those for radio are the ratings of C. E. Hooper Inc. In the case of station breaks, the average of the ratings for the preceding and following time periods is used wherever feasible; otherwise, the rating is that of either the preceding or following time period, normally the preceding.

Basketball for Viceroy

BROWN & WILLIAMSON Tobacco Co. (Viceroy cigarettes) will sponsor one-quarter of four alternate Saturday afternoon telecasts of the National Basketball Assn. games on NBC-TV, starting at 2:30 p.m. EST, William R. NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER, ETC.

MORE and more advertising agencies are coming to agree with the Ladies' Home Journal's conviction never to underestimate the power of a woman, according to a leading woman agency executive. Speaking before the Assn. of Advertising Men & Women in New York, Mrs. Julia Morse, vice president and account executive at Anderson & Cairns, New York, declared that at A&C, the agency's women employees have a voice in planning at least 90% of A&C's account strategy.

MRS. MORSE

Mrs. Morse declared that while women may not exactly have a "point of view," they do have their own convictions, and these comprise much of the motivational factor in consumer buying. She cited, as an example, that women for years had the conviction that color and fashion were "influential" in selling cars. Finally, the auto industry capitulated and accepted this female conviction with the result that the car market today is not only bigger than ever before, but more colorful and stylish than in any other previous year.

The man, Mrs. Morse asserted, "will generally talk about a product's superiority," while the woman will deal "with its pleasures in use." Realizing this and being aware of tv's intimacy, many agencies have revamped a good deal of their clients' strategy "from a completely factual approach (i.e. price) to one of emotion (i.e. taste)." It no longer suffices, Mrs. Morse said, to refer to a food product on tv as merely "delicious." Taste must be conveyed by inference, "arousing sympathy . . . carrying over the feeling of quality without using exaggerated statements." Exaggeration, Mrs. Morse said, can be spotted almost immediately by the tv-viewing housewife. Because of this factor, it comes as no surprise to note many more women account executives and women tv film supervisors on the job today, Mrs. Morse concluded.

Henry E. Picard, executive vice president-general manager, S. F. Brewing Corp. (Burgermeister beer), named president.

R. Douglas MacNamee, director of radio-television copy in New York and Richard Irwin, account executive in Chicago, named vice presidents of Ruthrauff & Ryan.

Don S. Manchester, president of Manchester-Kreier Inc., Chicago, resigns to join McCann-Erickson Inc., same city, as vice president-senior account supervisor.

Richard Irwin, account executive, Ruthrauff & Ryan Inc., Chicago, elected vice president.

Alvin Willner, former secretary and assistant treasurer of Bozell & Jacobs, N. Y., to Hicks & Geist, N. Y., as assistant treasurer.

John J. Waldron, treasurer of Jacob Ruppert Brewery (Knickerbocker, Ruppert beers), N. Y., elected vice president and treasurer.

Harry A. Egbert, Lavenson Bureau of Adv. Inc., Phila., elected vice president in charge of media-merchandising.

George T. Carroll, director of media and research, Bresnick Co., Boston, named vice president in charge of marketing-sales development. John W. Spellman Jr. assigned to work directly with Mr. Carroll and Phillip Luttinger, director of research, Richard Manville Research, N. Y., succeeds Mr. Carroll.

J. Lewis Ames, vice president-secretary of Ruthrauff & Ryan, N. Y., appointed treasurer of firm.

F. R. Wilcox, assistant general manager-treasurer, Sunkist Growers, named general manager, effective Jan. 1. He replaces Paul S. Armstrong, who will retire. D. M. Angerson, secretary, succeeds Mr. Wilcox and

M. D. Street, assistant treasurer, named treasurer.

John B. Gunter, Coca-Cola's Midwest Div., to Gardner Adv. Co., St. Louis, Mo., as account executive and Don Weiss, newspaper reporter, to agency as copywriter.

F. J. Rudolph, to Edwards Agency, L. A., as account executive.

Howard Garnitz, copy chief, Elliot, Jaynes & Baruch, Chicago, appointed account executive.

Robert E. Hahn, associate director of Rocky Mountain Radio Council, Denver, Colo., to Schreiber Adv. Agency, same city, as account executive and copy chief.

Elliott M. Moore, radio-tv director-account executive, O'Grady, Anderson & Gray, Chicago, to Erwin, Wasey & Co., same city, in similar capacity.

Tom Armstrong, Vick Chemical Co., to Grey Adv., N. Y., as assistant account executive. Eugene Bassin, last with Kudner Agency Inc., N. Y., to Grey's radio-tv department as producer and Gwen Seinfeld, R. H. Macy & Co.'s art staff, to agency's junior art director.

Keith B. Shaffer, chief timebuyer, Erwin, Wasey & Co., N. Y., to Fletcher D. Richards Inc., as head of station relations and program development departments. Milton E. Stanson, tv director-copy chief, Ovesey & Straus Inc., same city, to Richards as writer-producer.

Herbert Rothschild appointed merchandising manager and Charles Cooper sales promotion manager of Beauty Salon Div., Helene Curtis Industries Inc.

THE 10 TOP FILMS IN 10 MAJOR MARKETS

AS RATED BY ARB IN NOVEMBER

FROM the monthly audience surveys of American Research Bureau, B•T each month lists the 10 top rated syndicated film programs in 10 major markets, selected to represent all parts of the country with various degrees of competition. Despite all precautions, occasional errors will occur in these tables, due to use of the same program name for both a syndicated and a network series and the practice of some stations of substituting local titles (such as [advertiser] Theatre) for real program names.

Unlike Topsy, who just grewed, there's a reason for the growth of Jack Sterling — for the growth of his audience, his advertisers, and his admirers in general.

Maybe it's his twenty years' experience in broadcasting — as raconteur, salesman, snake charmer, and tattoo artist. Maybe it's because, instead of trying to be all things to all men, he winds up being so many things to so many people.

But he does grow on you, this Sterling character. And on his audiences. And on his advertisers — many of whom have been faithful to him for his full nine years on WCBS Radio.

But the best news about the growth of New York's favorite Man in the Morning is this: there's more of him available. He's now on from 5:30 till 9:00 (with appropriate news intermissions) every weekday morning.

Unemployment Ruling May Set U.S. Pattern

A NEW RULING handed down by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board is expected to have significant effect on the eligibility for unemployment insurance of performers appearing on transcribed or filmed programs.

The ruling was promulgated on Nov. 30, according to Jack London, an attorney with Jaffe & Jaffe, New York, who handled the appeal for unemployment insurance filed by radio-tv actress Rachel Price on behalf of the American Federation of Television & Radio Artists. Mr. London explained that in New York an applicant for unemployment insurance must have worked 20 weeks in the year prior to the application in order to be eligible for benefits. Miss Price based her application on five weeks of actual labor and 16 weeks during which radio and tv commercials in which she had appeared were re-used.

Though Miss Price's original application had been turned down by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Division, the appeals board ruled that any week in which one of her commercials was replayed constituted a week of labor and should be credited toward her eligibility.

Mr. London reported that since rulings handed down in New York often are adopted in other parts of the country, it is probable that many other states will take a similar position. He noted that AFTRA had been conferring with the insurance division over a five-year period with a view toward recognizing transcriptions and filmed programs as services rendered to an employer, and expressed the opinion that the new policy will encourage talent to remain in the field, rather than seek outside work during periods of unemployment.

Disagreements Cause Changes In 'Playhouse of Stars' Posts

DISAGREEMENT over production policies for Schlitz Playhouse of Stars at Revue Productions, Hollywood, has resulted in change in some production posts, it was reported by the company last week. Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co. executives are on the West Coast this week for discussions about future programs in the series.

Producers David Stephenson and Willis Goldbeck have resigned, it was learned. Jules Bricken, a director, has been added as producer for 10 new films. Frank P. Rosenberg continues as producer. Schlitz agency is J. Walter Thompson Co.

NTA Reports Quarterly Gain

NATIONAL TELEFILM Assoc., New York, last week reported a record net income of $225,619, equal to 35 cents per share, in the first quarter of the current fiscal year, ended Oct. 31. The figure was said to represent a 273% increase over the $60,531, or 9 cents per share, in the corresponding period last year.

This was reported by Ely A. Landau to stockholders at the company's annual meeting in New York. Mr. Landau said NTA "looks forward to a very satisfactory second quarter, and there is every indication that the result for the 1957 fiscal year will be far ahead of last year, with the possibility that the board of directors may be able to consider the declaration of a dividend."

Mr. Landau referred to the 390 20th Century-Fox feature films which NTA recently committed itself to acquire, and predicted that gross sales income from these pictures will amount to "somewhere between $50 million and $60 million."

NTA Reports Expansion Plans

NATIONAL TELEFILM Assoc., New York, last week reported plans to open regional sales offices in Atlanta and Dallas and to increase its sales force in line with its agreement to distribute 10 new syndicated film series. Four of these series will be produced by TCF-TV, subsidiary of 20th Century-Fox, and the remainder by Desilu Productions.

FILM SALES

Ziv Tv reports sales on Men of Annapolis, half-hour tv film series, have been completed in 91 markets. Latest sales include those to such advertisers as Kroger Stores, Safeway Stores, Coca-Cola Co. and South Carolina Electric & Gas Co.

Sterling Television Co., N. Y., reports that its Bowling Time filmed series has been sold in more than 150 markets, with latest sales to KTSM-TV El Paso, KGGM-TV Albuquerque, WRGB-TV Schenectady, KBET-TV Sacramento, KNAC-TV Fort Smith, Ark., and KDRO-TV Sedalia, Mo.

FILM DISTRIBUTION

Associated Artists Productions, N. Y., is offering 20-minute film, Star in The Night, to stations for Christmas programming.

TIME INC. GAINS INSIDE TRACK IN BIDDING FOR BITNER OUTLETS

- Probable price in excess of $16.2 million C-C deal
- Firm's officials meet with Bitner Sr. in Florida
- Gross-Meredith combined offer affords major competition

TIME Inc. looms as the probable buyer of Consolidated Television & Radio Broadcasters Inc. at a price probably several hundred thousand dollars in excess of the $16.2 million transaction agreed to with Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. but which foundered last month because of the "tight" money market [B•T, Nov. 26].

Firm offers for the Bitner package were made Dec. 10 by Time Inc., as well as by at least one other group, and indications were that a decision might be reached this week or next by Harry M. Bitner, chairman of Consolidated, who with his family holds the controlling interest. Second bidder is the Gross-Meredith group, interested in acquiring WOOD-AM-TV and WFDF Flint (by Gross) and WTCN-AM-TV Minneapolis-St. Paul (by Meredith). But while at least two groups reportedly were negotiating for the remaining property—WFBM-AM-TV Indianapolis—no firm offer appeared in hand at the weekend.

Officials of Time Inc. were in Miami Beach last week attending the NBC 30th anniversary convention and conferred Tuesday with Mr. Bitner Sr. at his winter home at Del Ray Beach, some 40 miles from Miami. In the group were Wayne Coy, president-general manager-50% owner of KOB-AM-TV Albuquerque, 50% owned by Time Inc., and Ben Larson, KTVT (TV) Salt Lake City, 80% owned by Time and 20% by Mr. Larson. Weston C. Pullen, Time vice president, was due in Miami Beach over the weekend and presumably planned to visit Mr. Bitner.

Time Inc. Makes Two Offers

It is understood Time Inc. made two separate offers. One, approximating the Crowell-Collier figure of $16.2 million, reportedly is for the Consolidated properties, excluding WFDF. With WFDF, the figure was understood to be around $16.9 million. One of the reasons for the increased offer, it was evident, was the fact that Consolidated net quick assets have increased substantially since the agreement was reached with Crowell-Collier last April—probably by as much as $1 million. Moreover, Mr. Bitner is said to feel that recent transactions, including the $10 million sale of WISH-AM-TV Indianapolis and WANE Fort Wayne-WINT (TV) Waterloo, Ind., to John H. (Jock) Whitney & Co. merited a higher price than the $20 per share committed by Crowell-Collier, which it was forced to withdraw.

Harold Gross, owner of WJIM-AM-TV Lansing, Mich., likewise in Florida for the NBC convention, is actively interested in the Bitner Michigan properties. Informally, the value of the Consolidated properties was broken down under the Crowell-Collier agreement into $7 million for Indianapolis and $3.5 million for Minneapolis-St. Paul, a figure which Meredith Publishing Co. made as a firm bid Dec. 10. This would leave $5.7 million for Grand Rapids and Flint.

It was thought Mr. Bitner might want to retain WFDF, still in litigation on assignment of ch. 12 in a three-way contest now in the courts. This obviously was the reason for the Time Inc. bids—one excluding Flint and the other including this NBC-affiliated property.

It is understood that Mr. Gross' offer likewise is with or without Flint.

Network Affiliation Considered

A factor taken into account in the bidding was network affiliation. Final decision by the FCC in the ch. 13 four-way contest in Indianapolis, for example, could be significant. A victory for Crosley Broadcasting Co., long-time affiliate of NBC in Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus, would appear to indicate that the network would shift to the new assignment if a sale of the properties were made to a group not so solidly aligned with the network.

If Time Inc. emerges as purchaser of Consolidated, with or without WFDF, it will have to sell at least one property to conform to the present five-vhf-station multiple ownership rule of the FCC. In addition to its control of the Albuquerque and Salt Lake City properties (both NBC affiliated), it also owns KLZ-AM-TV Denver (CBS-affiliated). Since it would acquire three additional vhf stations, sale of one station would be necessary. The smallest market property probably would be spun off—KOB-AM-TV Albuquerque, with the possibility that Mr. Coy, present 50% owner, would acquire the balance.

Mr. Coy, a native of Indiana and a former Indianapolis newspaperman and city official, probably also would be considered for operation of WFBM-AM-TV under Time Inc. ownership. He served as chairman of the FCC from late 1947 to 1952.

If Meredith acquires the Minneapolis-St. Paul stations, it will have no multiple-ownership problem. Before the bid was made, Payson Hall, Meredith controller and director of radio-tv operations, conferred with officials of ABC, with which WTCN-AM-TV is affiliated, about retention of the network in that four vhf-station market and was assured there would be no affiliation changes with a change in ownership. Meredith owns WOW-AM-TV Omaha, KCMO-AM-TV Kansas City, WHEN-AM-TV Syracuse and KPHO-AM-TV Phoenix.

Crowell-Collier had tried for seven months to secure financing for the Bitner properties at suitable terms before calling off the whole deal. The contract had included a deadline for FCC approval, extended to Nov. 21. Crowell-Collier had agreed to put up $100,000 in liquidated damages. This eventually was paid to Consolidated stockholders.

In early 1956, Crowell-Collier entered the broadcast field with purchase of KFWB Los Angeles for $2.5 million. Last September, at the time Crowell-Collier was given a deadline extension on the Consolidated contract, it cancelled an agreement to buy KULA-AM-TV Honolulu for $1 million. Crowell-Collier publishes Collier's and Woman's Home Companion magazines, Collier's Encyclopedia and other books.

L. A. EXCHANGE

IN an unusual trade deal, KLAC and KTLA (TV), both Los Angeles, have agreed to swap promotional activities, it has been announced by Mort Hall, owner-manager of the radio station, and Lew Arnold, general manager of the Paramount-owned tv outlet. KTLA will air spots boosting KLAC's "Big Five" disc jockeys while KLAC will plug channel 5's "New Look" in programming.

STORER AIMS FOR PHILADELPHIA, WILL PAY HARRON $5.4 MILLION

- Involved: WIBG-AM-FM Philadelphia, WPFH (TV) Wilmington
- Deal hinges on stock acquisition, sale of Storer vhf

PURCHASE by Storer Broadcasting Co. of Paul F. Harron's WIBG-AM-FM Philadelphia and ch. 12 WPFH (TV) Wilmington-Philadelphia for approximately $5.4 million for all of the stock, which includes half ownership of a wired music concession in Philadelphia, is the basis of a memorandum agreement entered into by the two parties, it was learned Friday. The transaction is understood to be contingent upon acquisition of at least 95% of the WPFH Broadcasting Co. stock, now widely held, but with Mr. Harron and his associates having control. All told, there are about 2,750,000 shares of stock outstanding which would be acquired at $1.50 per share. This figure, plus liabilities, would bring the purchase price for 100% in the neighborhood of $5.4 million, it is understood.

Mr. Harron, long-time owner of WIBG, which operates as an independent on 990 kc with 10 kw, purchased the ch. 12 station from the Steinman interests in March 1955 for $3.7 million. He has asked the FCC for permission to move the WPFH transmitter to Pittman, N. J.

Storer presumably would have to sell one of his present properties to acquire the Harron facilities since, under the multiple ownership regulations, Storer now holds the limit of five vhf's and two uhf's, as well as the seven am station limit. Storer already has a contract to sell WAGA-AM-FM-TV Atlanta to the Washington Post Co. for $6.5 million, which is contingent upon Storer's purchase of WMUR-AM-TV Manchester, N. H., and removal of the ch. 9 tv station to a point whereby it would be designed to serve both the New Hampshire and the greater Boston area. This is awaiting FCC action in the light of protests from other Boston tv stations and a group in New Hampshire. Move of the WMUR-TV transmitter closer to Boston is due to be reviewed Wednesday by the Washington Airspace Panel.

George B. Storer, president and directing head of SBC, within the past fortnight purchased the Miami Marlins, International League baseball club, for a reported figure of $250,000. The company also includes, in addition to its broadcast properties, the Standard Tube Co. of Detroit, which manufactures automotive steel tubings.

Storer owns WGBS-AM-FM-TV Miami, Fla.; WJBK-AM-FM-TV Detroit, Mich.; WSPD-AM-FM-TV Toledo, Ohio; WBRC-AM-TV Birmingham, Ala.; WJW-AM-TV Cleveland, Ohio; WWVA-AM-FM Wheeling, W. Va.; KPTV (TV) Portland, Ore., in addition to the WAGA stations. Storer also sought to buy ch. 3 KSLM-TV Salem, Ore., and move its transmitter closer to Portland, Ore. This was denied by the Commission last month when it refused to waive its 5-vhf maximum ownership rule.

Kluge Buying Sixth Station

PURCHASE of KNOK Fort Worth, Tex., by John W. Kluge, Washington, D. C., food broker and multiple radio station owner, for $300,000 was announced last week. KNOK is an independent on 970 kc with 1 kw daytime. The sale was from Associated Broadcasters Inc. (John J. Flood Jr., John R. Pikes and George G. McGown). Sale, handled by station broker Blackburn-Hamilton Co., will give Mr. Kluge six standard broadcast stations if approved by the FCC. Mr. Kluge already has controlling interests in WILY Pittsburgh; WGAY Silver Spring, Md. (Washington area); WLOF Orlando, Fla.; KXLW St. Louis; WKDA Nashville.

Lawrence Brandon Buys WHVH

SALE of WHVH Henderson, N. C., by Howard V. Harrell to Lawrence Brandon for $30,500 was announced last week. Independent WHVH operates on 1450 kc with 250 w. Mr. Brandon owns WWCO Waterbury, Conn. Transaction was handled by Blackburn-Hamilton Co., station broker.

WPAT Plans to Resume Its Fm

WPAT Paterson, N. J., which hasn't been airing its fm programs since 1950 when a severe storm blew down its fm tower, expects to return to the megacycle band after the first of the year, its president and general manager, Dickens J. Wright, announced last week.

WSRS Offers Discount System As Incentive to Quality Ads

A "SOUND-FACTOR" system of discounts, based essentially on the listening quality of the advertising placed with it, was announced last week by WSRS Cleveland.

Samuel R. Sague, president and general manager, said the discounts—which may range as high as 40%, depending on how many "sound-factor" criteria are met by the commercial involved—are being offered to advertising agencies in lieu of the customary 15% agency commission.

The purpose, he explained, is to encourage agencies to put quality advertising on WSRS—advertising that will contribute to the station's listenability, thereby benefiting both the station and its audience, as well as its advertisers.

Some eight "factors" have been set up. The number of these factors that are involved in any given commercial will thus determine the rate of the "sound factor" discount.

A straight live announcement is one factor. A transcribed spot with a live announcement by a free-lance or non-staff announcer at the end is another. Others include: use of a free-lance announcer; use of sound effects preceding the announcer; use of two announcers with sound effects; use of a melody background behind the voice commercial, and use of musical banks before and after the commercial.

Rounsaville-Owned Stations Hold Annual Meet in Atlanta

THE annual meeting of the Robert W. Rounsaville owned and operated stations was held last Thursday through Saturday in Atlanta. Panels and round-table discussions were held on various subjects pertinent to the industry with the organization's annual Christmas party closing the meeting Saturday night.

MR. ROUNSAVILLE

The Rounsaville stations are WQXI Atlanta, WCIN Cincinnati, WLOU Louisville, WSOK Nashville, WOBS Jacksonville, Fla., WIOK Tampa, Fla., and WMBM Miami. All except WQXI program 100% to the Negro population.

Just thirty years ago Will Rogers was chatting with all America on the broadcast which marked the founding of the National Broadcasting Company's radio network.

But look what's happened since then.

The trumpet loudspeaker in the living room has given way to the 21-inch color screen. And radios are everywhere — in kitchens, cars, bedrooms, on beaches.

The people who chuckled at Will Rogers are laughing now at Sid Caesar and Bob Hope and Groucho Marx. The nation that loved Al Jolson and Fred Allen lights up at the sight of Perry Como and Steve Allen and Dinah Shore.

Since 1926, NBC has kept America in touch with the latest news, the latest tunes, the greatest stars of the time. The NBC chimes have helped to weld the continent together. And now the NBC color peacock is a welcome visitor in homes from coast to coast.

The names have changed, but the object remains the same: to give the nation its best-loved personalities and programs for the next thirty years.

Blair Managers Meet in Chicago; Seminar Seeks Improved Service

WAYS of improving service both to client stations and to agencies and advertisers were explored by 17 executives of John Blair & Co., radio station representation firm, in a two-day seminar for Blair office managers in Chicago, company officials reported last week.

The meeting, first of its kind by the Blair firm, was held Nov. 30-Dec. 1 under the direction of a management team from New York headquarters, led by President John Blair and Executive Vice President Robert E. Eastman.

Speakers included Messrs. Blair and Eastman, who outlined future advertising and publicity plans, with Mr. Eastman also showing the firm's basic spot radio presentation; W. Ward Dorrell, vice president in charge of research, who analyzed existing audience measurement systems; Wells Barnett, assistant to the president, on rate planning and methods and philosophy of program analysis and evaluation employed by the Blair organization; Robert Walton, Blair farm director, who gave the company's basic farm broadcasting presentation; Ray Eichmann, sales development manager, on sales tools and new promotion projects, and Jackson Smart of the company's auditing firm on the organization's new pension retirement plan.

On hand for the two-day session, in addition to the headquarters management group, were Manager Paul Ray, Sales Manager Clifford Barborka Jr., and George Rapp, James Simons, Stuart Cochran and Robert Walton of the Chicago office; Charles Dilcher, vice president and manager of the Atlanta office; Tom Harrison, St. Louis

KCHA Opens Additional Studio

KCHA Charles City, Iowa, has established an additional studio in Waverly, Iowa, with Frank W. Arney as resident manager. First broadcast from the studio was made last week.

Mr. Arney, recently associated with KWWL-TV Waterloo, will write and broadcast news from Waverly and Bremer Counties for a daily program on KCHA. He also will be in charge of sales in that area.

KCHA also has a studio and resident manager in New Hampton, Iowa.

WFRV-TV Finishes New Tower, Part of $750,000 Expansion

WFRV-TV Green Bay, Wis., began using a newly-constructed 1,165 ft. tower Dec. 9, according to Soren H. Munkhof, executive vice president and station manager. The new tower is more than 600 ft. taller than the old one, he said.

The tower is the first completed part of a $750,000 plus expansion program which will include a new headquarters and studio building. A special program is planned for mid-January in honor of the new facilities. Ch. 5 WFRV-TV is a basic ABC-TV affiliate and also carries some CBS-TV programming with the maximum authorized power.

Sloan Returns to WPAT

JOHN F. SLOAN, account executive with Ziv Television Programs has returned to WPAT Paterson, N. J. as vice president and sales director, it was announced last week by WPAT President and General Manager Dickens J. Wright.

MR. SLOAN

Mr. Sloan will direct the station's business activities out of WPAT's sales office in New York City. He formerly was WPAT general sales manager.

Before joining Ziv, Mr. Sloan was with General Teleradio as sales manager of WOR-TV New York and KHJ-TV Los Angeles.

Auxiliary Antenna for KSTP-TV

KSTP-TV Minneapolis-St. Paul has recently completed installation of an auxiliary antenna system. The second antenna is mounted inside the stations 600-ft. triangular tower, above the 310-ft. level. It will provide a signal of 52 kw during adjustments and maintenance or an unforeseen emergency to the main antenna.

RETURN ON SOFT DRINK EMPTY: $50,000

SIX HOURS before its value would have dropped to $500, Mr. & Mrs. Ben Spawn of Dallas found a check for $50,000 written by Gordon McLendon, president of KLIF Dallas. The giveaway actually cost KLIF $6,350.

The station paid Lloyds of London $1,250 for insurance, calling for the London firm to pay 90% of the check's value if found, with the station paying the rest ($5,000 for KLIF). The other $100 was paid to a local insurance company to hide the check, which was hidden by insurance executive Ben Harris and he, alone, knew its whereabouts.

KLIF broadcast twice-daily clues, provided by Mr. Harris, as to the check's location. After listening to the clues, Mrs. Spawn told her husband: "Let's go find that check, I know where it is." Mr. Spawn, a lathe operator for a plastering company, decided to "humor her whim," which led to the $50,000 find. It's estimated that the Spawns will get to keep about $32,000 after taxes.

Mr. McLendon said that approximately 7,000 persons had been looking for the "treasure" in freezing weather when Mrs. Spawn interpreted a clue correctly. The check was placed in a soft drink bottle and half buried alongside a busy Dallas street.

How he will spend the money is no problem for Mr. Spawn. Admittedly deep in debt, he says: "My creditors have been awfully good to me, now I'm going to be good to them."

'FAST BREAK' FOR FAST SALES

FINDING that its play-by-play descriptions of area high school basketball games were appealing only to a limited audience, KMA Shenandoah, Iowa, came up with Fast Break, which not only increased its audience but also upped the station's revenue on Tuesday and Friday nights by more than 300%.

Fast Break gives the scores of some 30 high school games every quarter, leading scorers and a liberal serving of "bouncy-type" music, plus spots from local and national advertisers. KMA Sales Promotion Director Toke Nelson said the 3½ hour program replaced the regular game broadcasts because the original audience was limited mostly to those fans of the two teams being broadcast. "And some listeners, when we queried them, said that in basketball they don't enjoy the description too much because it moves so fast. Rather, they just listened for the scores periodically," he said.

Giving the fans scores of several games, with music, seemed the logical solution. A six-man staff, consisting of Mr. Nelson, Dean Naven, Ralph Childs, John Springer, Neil Bachman and Cecil Hamilton, are on hand to take the scores, via phone, from correspondents at the game and play the records. If the score being reported is one of wide interest, the correspondent goes on the air live with his report.

"And, in addition to reporting the scores, some of our correspondents have a good nose for news and also give us exclusive scopes on the weather conditions, unusual stories, accidents, fires and news items," Mr. Nelson reports.

Eighteen spots, one on each program or two weekly on the same night, on Fast Break are sold for $65. Two spots per night (total of 36 spots) go for $100 and individual spots are $5 each or six for $25. "Our revenue is more than three times the revenue we realized when we went out to set up a remote (for a single game broadcast)—where we had to use an engineer, play-by-play man, commercial man," Mr. Nelson says.

The music and scores show is being promoted heavily on KMA, in newspaper advertising and by window cards.

Calif. Microphone Ban Draws KNX Protest

KNX Los Angeles has protested the barring of its microphones from the hearing of the California Un-American Activities Committee in the state building there last Monday.

Jack Beck, news director for KNX and the Columbia Pacific Radio Network, said the action of the committee chairman, State Sen. Hugh Burns (D-Fresno), was an "arbitrary exclusion" of one branch of the "press." KNX news broadcasts on Monday called attention to the threat to freedom of the press in limiting coverage of public hearings by radio and television, he said.

Sen. Burns said that microphones were barred because it was against the policy of the committee and because microphones picked up the by-play and small talk around the committee table. The ban has been in effect for many years on live coverage although silent movies and photos are allowed.

News Director Beck said that it has long been the policy of CBS News to protest every limitation placed on radio reporting and "we will continue to do so in every way possible. The implication of Sen. Burns' statement is that a limited or expurgated version of the committee hearings is better for public consumption than a free and complete coverage. We do not agree with this view at all."

Mr. Beck pointed out that, by contrast, the House Un-American Activities Committee hearing held in Los Angeles the previous week was not closed to radio-tv, with local stations providing coverage.

"The activities of the Burns committee should certainly be a matter of free and public record," Mr. Beck said. "To hold that comments passed by committee members or committee counsel in open public meetings of the body should in some way be privileged is indefensible. It inhibits the constitutional privilege of the press or news media to report without censorship that which is in the public interest."

Gene Barnes, cameraman for NBC-TV, related that his network was all set to cover the hearing with sound film but was advised that only silent film would be allowed. He said the committee was "very polite" in its refusal and indicated it would consider revision of its ban next year. Others covering by silent film were CBS-TV, KTTV (TV) Los Angeles and Hearst Telenews.

Judge's Threat Against Keen Studied by KFMB-TV, NARTB

THREAT of a California judge to cite a KFMB-TV San Diego newsmen if he continued interviews with witnesses after they had testified in a kidnap trial is under scrutiny by NARTB as well as station executives.

George Whitney, vice president-general manager of the Wrather-Alvarez station, said Wednesday the threat against KFMB-TV's Harold Keen focuses attention on the right of a judge to tell a broadcaster who can be interviewed, involving a serious threat to freedom of communication.

Winds Topple WMT-TV's Nearly-Finished Tower

WINDS in excess of 50 miles an hour last Monday blew over the nearly-completed, 1,250 ft. tower of WMT-TV Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The new tower, which had not yet been permanently anchored at the top, twisted in the strain of the winds, then collapsed into a tangle of steel and cable on the ground.

When winds started whipping the top of the tower in the morning, workers, who were attaching the top set of permanent guy wires, were called to the ground. A short time later the top section twisted off and fell. As it came down, it pulled the cables anchoring the rest of the tower and section by section the entire structure came down.

"We're thankful no one was injured in the tower collapse," said WMT-TV General Manager William Quarton.

The falling steel also missed the station's new transmitter building at the foot of the tower, which was being constructed near Walker, Iowa.

Mr. Quarton said that the tower, made by the Dresser-Ideco Co., Columbus, Ohio, and being constructed by the Sego Construction Co., Dallas, under contract to RCA, would be rebuilt as soon as possible but that no immediate estimate has been made as to when work would start.

Six Ounce Radio Keyed to WKRC To Be Sold in Cincinnati Market

A SIX-OUNCE radio, smaller than a cigarette pack and keyed to WKRC Cincinnati, is to be placed on the market this month by Newsette Manufacturing Corp. in that Ohio city.

The radio, called the "Newsette," is a superhetrodyne model tuned and locked to receive only WKRC at 550 kc. Individual reception is permitted by a cord and ear piece similar to those used on hearing aid devices.

According to Charles Lipman, president of the manufacturing concern, the transistor radio has been tested successfully within a 25-mile radius of Cincinnati. It will sell for between $10 and $12, he said.

WCKR Installs New Transmitter

WCKR Miami, Fla., placed a new 5 kw RCA high fidelity transmitter into operation with sign on Dec. 7, according to Niles Trammell, president of Biscayne Tv Corp., licensee of the station. Owen Uridge is WCKR manager and installation was under the direction of Chief Engineer Gene Rider.

FIVE MONTHS' work became a tangled wreckage when WMT-TV's tower crashed to the ground.

perior Court warned Mr. Keen he would be cited if he interviewed any more witnesses in the Ruth Latham kidnap-attempted murder case, even after they had completed testimony and had been excused. Mr. Whitney observed that little legal precedent has been established on the question.

Robert L. Heald, NARTB chief attorney, said his department is looking into the issues as well as reviewing precedents.

WIBW-TV Allowed Pickup From Kansas Supreme Court

FIRST telecast of Kansas Supreme Court took place Dec. 7 as WIBW-TV Topeka filmed a session at which three retiring justices were honored. The room was filled with federal and district judges as well as bar association officials.

Gene McKinney and Gary Britian of WIBW-TV picked up the court session, operating free of restrictions on lighting and camera placement. They felt the work had been done without disrupting proceedings or detracting from the dignity of the court.

The Kansas court had previously refused permission for a similar pickup. Only one state district court has allowed still photos. Motion picture and tv filming have not been allowed in the lower tribunals.

Target For Auto Sales; Women Daytime Viewers

SELL new cars by selling to women through daytime spot television. That's the message of a new presentation prepared for automotive advertisers and their agencies by the television division of Edward Petry & Co., station representatives.

The study points out that one-third of the nation's drivers are women, compared to 24% in 1940, and that even the back-seat drivers are influential in deciding when and what new car to buy. Moreover, the study continues, the younger and larger family units represent both the largest automobile market and the largest tv viewing groups. And families that watch daytime television, according to research by W. T. Simmons Co., are more apt to own a car—or cars—than those who don't own television or who watch tv only at night.

The Simmons study, made in 1954 among 2,861 housewives in all sections of the U. S., shows:

	Daytime Homes	Non-Daytime Tv Homes	Non-Tv Homes
Own one or more cars	79.9%	66.7%	63.4%
Own one car	65.7	56.9	55.2
Own two or more cars	14.2	9.8	8.2

Spot television's flexibility and the efficiency and economy of daytime television, the presentation concludes, form a combination that enables automotive advertisers to "influence the woman in the new car buy . . . through her favorite showcase—her own tv screen." A "typical" campaign of morning and afternoon announcements and participations on 133 stations in 106 markets, it is pointed out, will deliver 1,370 announcements reaching an unduplicated total of 13.7 million homes an average of 3 times a week, making a total of 41.1 million sales impressions at a weekly cost of $57,000—or $1.40 per thousand impressions.

Annual Yule Projects Launched by Stations

RADIO and television stations throughout the United States last week were in the midst of their annual Christmas projects. Among stations reporting to B•T were the following:

WNAC-TV Boston is presenting its second annual "Noel New England" on Dec. 22. The program, a "Christmas card" to sta-

ADDED TOUCH TO BLAIR LETTERS

AGENCY PEOPLE shortly will find themselves on the receiving end of "postal presentations."

John Blair & Co., radio station representation firm, has come up with a device which its officials think will help solve two problems at once: (1) that of continually reminding people of radio's size and advertising efficiency, and (2) that of attracting attention to the mail they send out.

The device: A series of stamps, each highlighting a selling feature of spot radio in words and pictures, to be attached to all mail sent out by Blair, its nine offices, and its client stations.

The stamp approach was devised by Ray Eichmann, sales development manager, who already has designed a score or more different stickers.

"If every timebuyer gets a pound of mail a day—and they must get that much, at least—you can imagine that it takes something different to get attention directed to a specific letter," Mr. Eichmann explains. "We think these stamps will help do the trick. We think they'll also serve another important purpose in not letting agency people forget that spot radio not only reaches virtually everybody, but, more importantly, moves goods for the advertiser."

In addition to their use on all mail, the stamps can be used to make a miniature "presentation" in letter form. For example, a letter prepared for Paris &

Peart, designed to get client A&P into spot radio, employs seven picture stamps, and, also like a standard presentation, uses a minimum of copy to get the points across.

The A&P letter starts off with a stamp depicting a housewife listening to radio while engaged in housewifely chores. It points out that "spot radio harmonizes with the busy life of young housewives," then cites research data showing that 95% listen to radio every week, 80% listen daily an average of 2¼ hours, and favorite listening places are: kitchen 38%, bedroom 20%, living room 17%, automobile 9%.

Copy picks up to point out that "housewives are without a doubt the backbone of A&P's business" and that "spot radio is an ideal medium for reaching the housewife market because . . ."—and then there's a stamp showing a woman pushing a grocery cart and reminding that "two out of three women listen to spot radio before shopping."

Succeeding stamps—with just enough copy to sharpen the point—note that "one out of 10 women listen on way to shop," and call attention to a series of radio success stories in the grocery product field: Chock Full o' Nuts Coffee "skyrockets to third place via spot radio"; the Pepsodent "Where the Yellow Went" campaign, and Contadina tomato paste's report that it "practically sold out of product due to spot radio."

KMGH-TV Cites Film Impact; Announces New Rate Increases

STRENGTH of newly-acquired MGM feature film product in the Minneapolis market was pointed up last week in a special report by Sy Weintraub, president of United Television Inc. (owner of KMGH-TV Minneapolis). MGM has a newly-acquired 25% interest in the station [AT DEADLINE, Nov. 5] which started programming its MGM feature package on Dec. 8.

With the MGM film product, Mr. Weintraub asserted, the station has been able to build its other program schedules and business, signing "more than a quarter million dollars" in less than two weeks. He met with newsmen in New York Tuesday to report on what he said has been a station increase in sales, ratings, promotion and rate card.

On the sales front, Mr. Weintraub said the independent station has sold out the weekend run of the product (9-11 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays) and that an expanded schedule, beginning about Jan. 1, of across-the-board showing of MGM pictures, already had two nights sold to a national advertiser. Said Mr. Weintraub: "KMGM-TV is convinced it can compete with the networks on this [feature film] basis." He noted that the station now is programmed "99% in film."

National advertisers newly-signed include Viceroy cigarettes, Hit Parade cigarettes, Maybelline and Carter Products.

Station rates, effective the week of Dec. 3, were increased from $600 to $1,500 for one-hour Class A time and from $120 to $275 for a Class A spot, Mr. Weintraub revealed. He estimated that the station now programs about 14 film features a week plus syndicated shows and other film.

The station's representation firm—The Branham Co.—has held daily presentations in New York to about 20 timebuyers per day on the KMGH-TV and MGM programming. In Minneapolis, the station heavily promoted the package with a four-day appearance of Betty Furness both on the air and at department stores and local clubs; parties for agency and advertiser personnel; a local beauty contest; radio and tv spots; newspaper ads and features, etc.

Mrs. Custer, WGIL Pres., Dies

MRS. Olive Francis Temple Custer, president of the Galesburg Broadcasting Co. (WGIL Galesburg, Ill.), died Dec. 9 following a long illness. She also was president of the Galesburg Printing & Publishing Co. (Galesburg Register-Mail) and was the widow of Omar Nixon Custer, banker and western Illinois Republican leader. Her grandson, William Pritchard, is manager of WGIL and publisher of the newspaper.

WCKY'S WINTER WARNINGS

WCKY Cincinnati has instituted a school emergency radio warning system for the winter season, and nearly 500 public, parochial and private schools—with a total enrollment of approximately 150,000—are cooperating.

WCKY News Director John Murphy, under whose supervision the warning system functions, explained that principals and administrative executives of the area schools have received special kits detailing the operation of the plan and containing bulletin board notices, emergency telephone cards and "home notice" cards for pupils to give to their parents.

Authorized school representatives, whose names are on file at the station, notify WCKY's news department at any time, day or night, of any emergency closing. The station then broadcasts such information at 6:30, 7, 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. and at other times should the situation justify it.

Parents are informed by the "home notices" of this broadcast service and are able quickly to know whether or not the schools which their children attend are affected by an emergency by simply turning their radio sets to WCKY's frequency.

R. M. Fleming, the station's promotion director, explains the value of the system this way:

"Aside from the public service aspect of this promotion any station should be happy (as we are) to get its call letters into approximately 150,000 homes in its listening area on a more or less official sanction from their own school systems."

THREE CHALLENGES FOR NBC'S FUTURE

- President Sarnoff says industry needs to be understood
- 'Toboggan of decline' seen if film overtakes live tv
- Network announces pilot project to aid educational tv

NBC PRESIDENT Robert W. Sarnoff deviated from the norm of anniversary speakers last week when he addressed NBC affiliates celebrating the network's 30th anniversary with a four-day Miami holiday. In the convention's major address he posed three major challenges: (1) to improve understanding of networks on the part of government, the press and the public; (2) to avoid excessive reliance on Hollywood film product that could put the networks out of business, and (3) to foster educational television. His remarks are contained in the condensed text which follows.

THE FIRST network show was not important just because the initials of the network were NBC. It was the process it put into motion that had significance. Hundreds of individual stations, with irregular, makeshift programming, lacking audience interest, and without an economic basis for growth or even survival—this was the radio picture in 1926. The unifying force of the network service started the evolution of an American communications system that today reaches the world over, that is more watched, more listened to, and more relied upon—particularly in times of peril—than any communications form man has devised.

Today the service that came to life in the old Waldorf finds itself in an ambiguous position. There are four national radio networks, 2,800 stations, 140 million receivers. Never has a communications medium achieved such totality of national coverage. Yet none of the networks, I suspect, is contributing many nickels this year to stockholder dividends; and the struggle to develop a permanent economic base for a service of such enormous national importance continues.

Even so, the picture is hopeful. At the 30-year mark, network radio is finding the bedrock of essential service and is beginning a modest rebound—turning from the things that television can do better, focusing on the things it [radio] can do best.

In the camp of one radio network, at least, there is no intention of hoisting the white flag. We have plunged upstream, against the current, to find new types of audience and advertiser service. At long last, I believe, we are approaching a base on which our radio operation can not only be maintained, but can grow in stature as an important public service. I am encouraged to say this because of the solid support our new proposals have received from our radio affiliates. Together we are underwriting a determined campaign to restore network radio's usefulness and strength.

On the other side of the broadcast coin, television has renewed with great vibrance the cycle of network growth. The three tv networks reach nearly all the country. Four hundred fifty-two commercial stations now function—the vast majority profitably—and the science and art of communicated sight have become a billion-dollar business. In mounting frequency, the television signals that blanket America are being infused with color—true color, color as nature created it. More than 230 stations now carry network-originated color shows, and major programs are telecast by NBC on a daily basis.

The 30 years of networking parallel the 30 years of the nation's greatest industrial growth, and the relationship between the two is more than casual. Broadcasting has assumed the multiple functions of advertising, marketing, merchandising and, in effect, pre-selling the American consumer. It has streamlined a once-cumbersome sales and distributive process. It has served as a prime mover in advancing the gross national product this year beyond the $400 billion mark.

While a commercial message may occasionally be long, tedious, or—heaven forbid—even annoying, the true import of broadcasting's commercial aspect is that it possesses the priceless power to move merchandise, to create new mass consumption desires in a nation that consumes its way to prosperity, to strength and to security. Were this power stripped from television, the repercussions on the national economy might well be immediate and fearsome.

It is ironic that a service of such value and potential, with such an outstanding track record over 30 years, should find itself so little understood at the time of its greatest success. In part, I think, this stems from its enormous complexity and the widely conflicting pressures brought to bear on it. One hand deals with sponsors and agencies, with talent and agents, with outside producers and film groups. A second hand deals with hundreds of stations, managed by rugged individualists; a third with government officials. A fourth hand deals with the press, and, above all, with a sensitive public that can, in turn, be warm, irascible, enthusiastic or plain, downright angry. Pretty soon you run out of hands.

Public sensitivity toward broadcasting is truly the Eighth Wonder of the World. Jimmy Durante once said that "everybody wants to get into the act." He must have been thinking of networks in the year 1956 when he said it. Congressional investigations, inquiries by public agencies, demands by other television interests, have come faster than free plugs on a Bob Hope Show.

One of our tasks is to explain ourselves to government. The past year has been a wave of investigations questioning functions inherent in the network system. Our operating practices have also been under a drumfire of attack by outside interests. If these basic practices were prohibited, networking itself would cease to exist. A great deal of value would disappear from American broadcasting.

Yet, I am confident this will not happen, for there is really only one issue: will the public be hurt or helped if the network system is dismantled? When all the facts are weighed on the scales of public interest, I am sure the balance will be heavily in favor of the present network structure.

And while we seek to explain ourselves to governmental bodies and other external groups, we must also evaluate a new factor developing within the industry itself—the film invasion. It could change the entire character and scope of television if it is not thoughtfully assessed by broadcasters in long-range terms. It may seem to open a smooth and easy road, but it could be a short road with a dead end.

The flood of film comes from two sources which are beginning to conflict with one another: first, the backlog of Hollywood features now being released in quantity to television; second, the mounting stockpile of syndicated films, produced for television in the Hollywood lots that once served the nation's motion picture theatres. Together, they are creating enormous pressures on our industry.

The Hollywood film makers have, quite naturally, seen in the combination of their old pictures and television, a means of quick and profitable replacement for the loss of theatrical outlets and declining motion picture revenues. They have also seized on television as a means of reactivating idle movie studios and facilities. I do not criticize their decision to move into television. The financial pressures directing them toward our medium—after the broadcasters established it as a national system—have been obvious for some time, and the release of the feature backlogs was not unexpected.

Insofar as the broadcaster is concerned, the price tag on a feature package almost compels him to play each film over and over again in order to recoup his costs. These packages, of course, include some fine pictures which promise good first-play ratings. But what about all the grade B, C and D films in the package? How much audience will they hold when they have been run, and rerun, and run again? And if most broadcasters take that route, where will the industry be when the end of the road is reached two or three years from now? Or will television by then have surrendered itself to the Hollywood film-makers as its main source of new product?

Today, television broadcasting is at a crossroads: one fork has color signposts and points to programming created for the medium itself, with emphasis on live service. The other fork follows a detour to a reservoir of motion picture film, built up over the past 20 years.

At NBC we have carefully weighed the alternatives for the network and our owned stations. We have decided that television's future rests along the route we now chart. We shall continue our emphasis on live television, on fresh new programs designed for the medium, and on the development of color. We believe this is the way to maintain television's momentum and vitality.

This is our decision for ourselves. We do not control the decisions of others. Yet I think every network affiliate should reflect on the likely results of loading schedules with feature films—particularly if use of this temporary product leads to displacement of network programs. If such a trend results in curtailing the networks' access to the air, they will be deprived of the resources and the opportunities to move ahead in creative programming. Not only will entertainment shows be affected, but also cultural and informational programs that are part of the broad network service, and that are not offered by any other program service. Ultimately, the Hollywood movie makers might replace their former 40,000 theatrical outlets with the nation's 40 million or more television sets. If they do, television as a communications service will ride a toboggan of decline.

In considering the alternatives, I think you will also want to assess a related factor—the rise of a third network. This should be a source of satisfaction, for three-network competition can only add to the overall strength of our medium.

With a rising population, a steady increase in circulation, and the trend toward multiple sets in the home, black-and-white will continue to grow, but not at the breakneck pace of the past.

This places a special premium on developing and refreshing the creative resources within television itself. Above all, it places a premium on color. Color is the booster charge for our fourth decade.

Just as black-and-white television came along when radio reached maturity, so now color comes to the forefront. The opportunity that was ours in Atlantic City is now ours again.

Next year we are aiming for at least two color programs nightly and soon we hope to have the bulk of our nighttime schedule in color. We are driving hard on color expansion because high-attraction network color shows are the best and quickest means of creating national color circulation, just as the big Berle spectaculars created black-and-white circulation.

Through the network structure, color service has already spread nationally. Today 95 percent of all television homes are within reach of color signals. The majority of our affiliates have equipped themselves to transmit network color, and about thirty stations on the network are originating their own live color shows. They, and we, are riding the color tide of the future.

Now, like our young friend, Jack, I want to climb a different beanstalk. This beanstalk leads to a new world of television—a world which we commercial broadcasters seldom explore. This is the world of educational television.

While our commercial broadcast service spans the whole range of informational subjects in programming for the varied tastes of the national audience, it does not attempt specialized educational services for specialized audiences. This type of programming comes within the province of the non-commercial, educational stations which have been licensed by the FCC for that specialized purpose.

It is NBC's plan, during 1957, to furnish specialized educational programs to all of the nation's non-commercial educational stations. These programs will be produced in our studios and furnished live to the educational stations over our network lines. They will be telecast during an afternoon time period which does not conflict with our regular schedule. They will also be kinescoped for repeat broadcast or subsequent classroom use, thus creating an important and enduring educational television library.

The programs will consist of three half-hour presentations each week, with instruction in mathematics, the humanities, and government. The project will extend through 26 weeks in 1957, beginning next March for a 13-week period, and resuming next October for another 13 weeks. Each of the three program series will be conducted by experts in the field. We are approaching

CINCINNATIANS TUNE TO WCKY FOR THE NEWS FIRST

'It's tougher being a network telephone operator than a network president.'

TO ILLUSTRATE the quandary a network faces in its program selection, President Sarnoff told the affiliates of the reaction NBC received one night last month.

PEOPLE feel an intimacy and responsibility for television that defies historical analogy, and no two members of the public seem to agree on how we should handle our programming. The report of the NBC night executive office last Nov. 1 is a classic illustration of this. It dealt, like a ship's log, with hundreds of calls that swamped our switchboard during the late afternoon and evening hours on a day of momentous political and international news. Let me quote from it:

Before 6 p.m.: Fifty calls protesting that Adlai Stevenson apparently was not being granted equal time to answer the President's speech of the night before. General tenor of the calls: highly irate.

6:15 p.m.: We announce that Stevenson is being given equal time. The switchboard lights up like a Christmas tree. We are accused of giving in to political pressure. Many callers say they intend to protest this disgrace by telegram, and never dial NBC again.

6:30 p.m.: We are covering the U.N. live. Complaints from viewers who miss their regular programming.

6:45 p.m.: Our New York station cuts to the Esso news show, featuring Ken Banghart, for a world news roundup. A barrel of protests for leaving the United Nations, the callers saying that NBC cares more about making money than keeping the public informed at a time of impending disaster.

7 p.m.: We cut to Adlai Stevenson. The calls continue furiously through his speech, some protesting that we are not at the United Nations, some protesting at giving Mr. Stevenson time, others angry at missing their regular show. Some, in fact, were so angry they hung up without fully explaining what they were angry about.

And so on into the night. On the news summaries and bulletins we brought in from the U. N., we got telephone protests because our commentators referred to England and France as allied forces. There were more than 500 calls during the evening. I guess it's tougher being a network telephone operator than a network president.

men of scholarly attainments in their fields.

This service will be provided by NBC at no charge to the educational stations. We are committing more than $300,000 next year for programs, production facilities and personnel. The Educational Television & Radio Center at Ann Arbor, which has received funds from the Ford Foundation, is supplying the local loops to connect the educational stations with the NBC network lines, and is consulting closely with us on the design of the programs.

This will be the first live programming ever to be done expressly for the educational television stations on a national basis. Officers of the Center have already indicated an interest in extending this service to other days and other subjects. This is frankly what we have hoped for. We see our 26-week project as a demonstration operation. We believe that when our project terminates at the end of 1957 its values and lessons can be carried forward in ways that will help enrich the whole future of education by television.

(Mr. Sarnoff departed from his prepared address Thursday night to report that the Ford Foundation had advised him that it would participate in the educational project to the extent of two half-hour programs weekly, which with three half-hours programmed by the Educational Television & Radio Center at Ann Arbor, will make a total of five days a week of educational broadcasting. He said also that reaction from educational organizations had been spontaneous and enthusiastic.)

Now back down the beanstalk. The educational proposal will, in no sense, divert us from our regular programming plans. We now have the creative personnel, the organization and the facilities to hold a firm position of leadership over the next three decades. At our 60th Anniversary Convention, I expect to be talking to you about television signals which span the globe. My subject then will be: the world—in color.

MIAMI SIDEBARS

ATTENDING the Wednesday-Saturday NBC convention were some 650 persons, including representatives of 188 radio and 207 television affiliates. The convention was held at the Americana Hotel in Bal Harbour, Miami Beach. [For agenda details see B•T, Dec. 10.]

IN A congratulatory telegram sent last Thursday to Robert W. Sarnoff, NBC president, on the occasion of the network's 30th anniversary, John B. Poor, MBS president, stressed the importance today (as in the past) of network radio.

Mr. Poor noted that in July 1936, Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, then RCA president and now board chairman, told a convention in Boston that "the new medium [television] will not supplant or detract from the importance of present day broadcasting. Rather, it will supplement this older medium of sound and add a new force to the advertisers' armament of salesmanship." Mr. Poor stated in his telegram that "your celebration today is proof positive of his [Gen. Sarnoff's] sage words then."

SIX charter affiliates of NBC's radio network were recipients of plaques awarded Friday morning on the Today program by NBC President Robert W. Sarnoff. All stations had been affiliates during the entire 30-year history of the network. Recipients were George M. Burbach, KSD St. Louis; William H. Rines, WCSH Portland, Maine; H. Dean Fitzer, WDAF Kansas City; Joseph (Doty) Sinclair, WJAR Providence, R. I.; Paul W. Morency, WTIC Hartford; Edwin K. Wheeler, WWJ Detroit.

NILES TRAMMELL, president-general manager of WCKR-WCKT (TV) Miami and former president of NBC, was given the "treatment" at the NBC affiliates meeting Friday on whether he should be admitted to membership in the group in the light of his "past associations." In a skit in which a dozen prominent affiliates participated, question was raised whether he was an "NBC pigeon" or whether he would keep the pledge and "bellyache about compensation and screwed up line charges and over-commercialization and ratings and no chain breaks in the spectaculars." After protracted debate, he was declared by Chairman Walter J. Damm, WTMJ-AM-TV Milwaukee, as voted in unanimously.

DISTAFF touch at NBC Miami convention was the presentation of a scroll to Mrs. David Sarnoff, in behalf of NBC affiliates and their ladies. Presentation originally was to have been made by Oveta Culp Hobby, publisher of Houston Post (KPRC-AM-TV), but illness prevented her attendance.

WHILE there was lack of unanimity, many, if not most, NBC Radio affiliates attending the convention in Miami thought NBC should be given encouragement on its new plan of offering five-minute newscasts on the radio network beginning next month. The attitude of proponents, and their numbers seemed to increase in Miami, was that the project should be viewed at long range and not simply on immediate economic return. The feeling was that some dissidents would change their approach as a result of the deliberation in Miami.

A 24-PAGE special anniversary section devoted to NBC's 30 years in broadcasting was published Thursday by the New York Herald Tribune. Featured as the section's lead stories: color tv expansion ahead and an interview with NBC President Robert W. Sarnoff, who predicted in addition to color tv growth, a good future for network radio, a great future for network tv and world-wide tv. Mr. Sarnoff welcomed strong competition and, the article pointed out, "urges government not to impose unfair and damaging restriction upon the network relationship."

"Paid circulation, as measured by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, is the only measurement of reader interest and reader responsiveness. This is simply because paid circulation can only be built and maintained on people who want the publication enough to pay for it. If he loses interest or changes jobs he doesn't renew. Paid circulation is self-purging and the man who pays his money intends to read the periodical. This is the principle behind the Audit Bureau and it's the sound way to buy space."

NBC-TV INSTALLS AMPEX RECORDER

- Air use not scheduled yet
- Some streaks in CBS tapes

NBC-TV Hollywood last Thursday received the first of its three Ampex video tape recorders direct from the Ampex factory in Redwood City, Calif., but it doesn't plan to use it for commercial re-broadcasting to the Western zone until performance of the recording tape itself improves, it was learned by B•T.

Meanwhile, CBS-TV continues to use its two Ampex units at CBS Television City there to re-broadcast the eastern-originated Douglas Edwards and the News each evening for western audiences [B•T, Dec. 10], but the tape occasionally is slightly streaked by "drop-out" caused by tape variations of "live" quality performance.

Engineers close to the matter explained that the video tape requires manufacturing tolerances much more critical than that required for ordinary sound recording and the tape manufacturers until now have not had detailed performance data on which to base their quality control in the production process. CBS-TV so far has used only tape supplied by Minnesota Mining and Mfg. Co. for broadcast purposes. This firm is known to be making close laboratory analyses of the performance requirements.

Although CBS-TV has used both of its Ampex units in Hollywood to record the Doug Edwards show each night since Dec. 1, never yet has it been necessary to shunt to the second unit because of unsatisfactory performance of either the machine or the tape, B•T was told.

Howard S. Meighan, vice president in charge of the CBS-TV Western Div., said Thursday that taping of the Edwards program "seems to be coming out very well" and expressed high confidence in the continued performance improvement of both machine and tape. He said the network does not plan to expand use of the tape recorder for western playback at this time beyond the Edwards newscasts, since other hours of the day are important for technical crews to experiment with the machines, improve their technique and train others.

NBC Monitors CBS Tape

NBC-TV officials admitted they are continuing to monitor the CBS-TV tape show and one said "no improvement" in the picture has been noted, with the tape drop-out problem still in evidence. They agreed, however, that the tape show is far superior to film kinescope and has the general appearance of a live origination although they do not consider the over-all performance satisfactory at this stage to use for NBC-TV replay.

NBC-TV expects to run acceptance tests on its units and to see what improvements can be made in the video circuits. The NBC-TV engineers were complimentary on Ampex mechanical craftsmanship in the re-

'Press Conference' Discovers New Film Equipment in Paris

ABC-TV reported last week that its Dec. 9 Press Conference filmed program (Sundays, 8:30-9 p.m. EST) introduced a French sight-sound system "that may revolutionize some types of tv film shows." The new system, the network said, incorporates two major advances—a single microphone "so sensitive it can pick up voices without distortion anywhere in the studio," and a monitor which gives the director full control over four moving picture cameras.

The equipment, the network said, was discovered in Paris when co-producers Martha Rountree and Oliver Presbrey decided to film an interview with French Premier Guy Mollet in Paris. The Jenner studios in Paris matter-of-factly set up the monitor-board cameras and the single microphone. The monitor is said to give a director the same control over film cameras he now has over live tv cameras in that a director can select the one shot he wants at any particular moment and only that camera will operate. The microphone, according to the program co-producers, is "so sensitive" that it "did the work of eight mikes normally used by Press Conference."

New CBS-TV Rates To Be Released Jan. 1

CBS-TV will release a new rate card (No. 13) about Jan. 1, it was revealed last week.

Although rates were not disclosed, it was announced that effective with the new card's release, the maximum Extended Market Plan discount will be increased to 20% for advertisers using 30 or more of the participating smaller market stations.

Initially, CBS-TV set up a discount structure that provided for a maximum of 15% if all the EMP stations were included in the order. With the new discounts, it was explained, an advertiser will be able to earn up to 40% in combining both network and EMP discounts.

The new EMP discount structure was noted last week in a progress report by Edward P. Shurick, the network's national director of station relations.

Mr. Shurick's scoreboard shows a total of 34 smaller market tv stations taking part in EMP; the number of advertisers using one or more of the stations increasing from 46 last year to a current 60; the number of CBS-TV programs carried on EMP outlets going up from 59 last year to a current 64; a total of 390½ commercial hours running weekly on all EMP stations, or a gain of 164 hours over last year's total, and 111 hours of sustaining service or an overall 502½ hours of programming on EMP stations (twice the 1955 amount).

JAMES H. BRYCE, general manager of Diamond Walnut Growers Inc., signs a contract for the company's first network television campaign—a series of participations on NBC-TV's Home program. Present for the signing are (l to r) Walter G. Tolleson, account supervisor, Tv Network Sales, Western Div. of NBC; Dennis C. Bruner, Diamond advertising manager; Robert W. Werth, the walnut company's director of marketing, and Charles Richardson, McCann-Erickson account executive.

'STRIPED MAGNETIC' BEING USED BY CBS

- Involves coating of film
- Puts audio, video on par

A NEW "striped magnetic" recording technique is in use by CBS News, it was revealed last week. The technique, developed over a year's time by CBS engineers working with a number of equipment manufacturers and motion picture and magnetic film suppliers, already has been given a workout on a number of news shows using film inserts.

As explained by CBS engineers, the process basically is similar to that developed in Cinemascope magnetic striping in motion picture production. But it is different in that movie technicians stripe the film after print development while the CBS process features striping on raw film before prints are made.

The new process reportedly solves a dilemma in tv filming—the problem of favoring picture or sound quality. In conventional filming, the photographic sound track is on the same film negative as the picture.

Striping involves coating of the film with a magnetic material. This permits the sound to be recorded magnetically and thus replaces the conventional photographic sound track.

After this is done, the film is then used in a 16 mm motion picture camera that is equipped with a magnetic sound recording system. The combined photographic picture and magnetic sound record is processed conventionally and reproduced on projection equipment designed to operate with magnetic sound. Additional copies or prints of the original camera material are produced conventionally for the picture, but the magnetic sound is recorded or electrically printed.

A "double-system" of filming has long been in use by Fred Friendly and Edward

R. Murrow in the production of their See It Now program on CBS-TV, which uses much news-feature film. The so-called "double-system" gives the effect which the "magnetic stripe" process is striving to achieve. By the simultaneous use of two cameras, See It Now technicians are able to favor picture quality on one, and sound on the other, then synchronize the two for the quality desired.

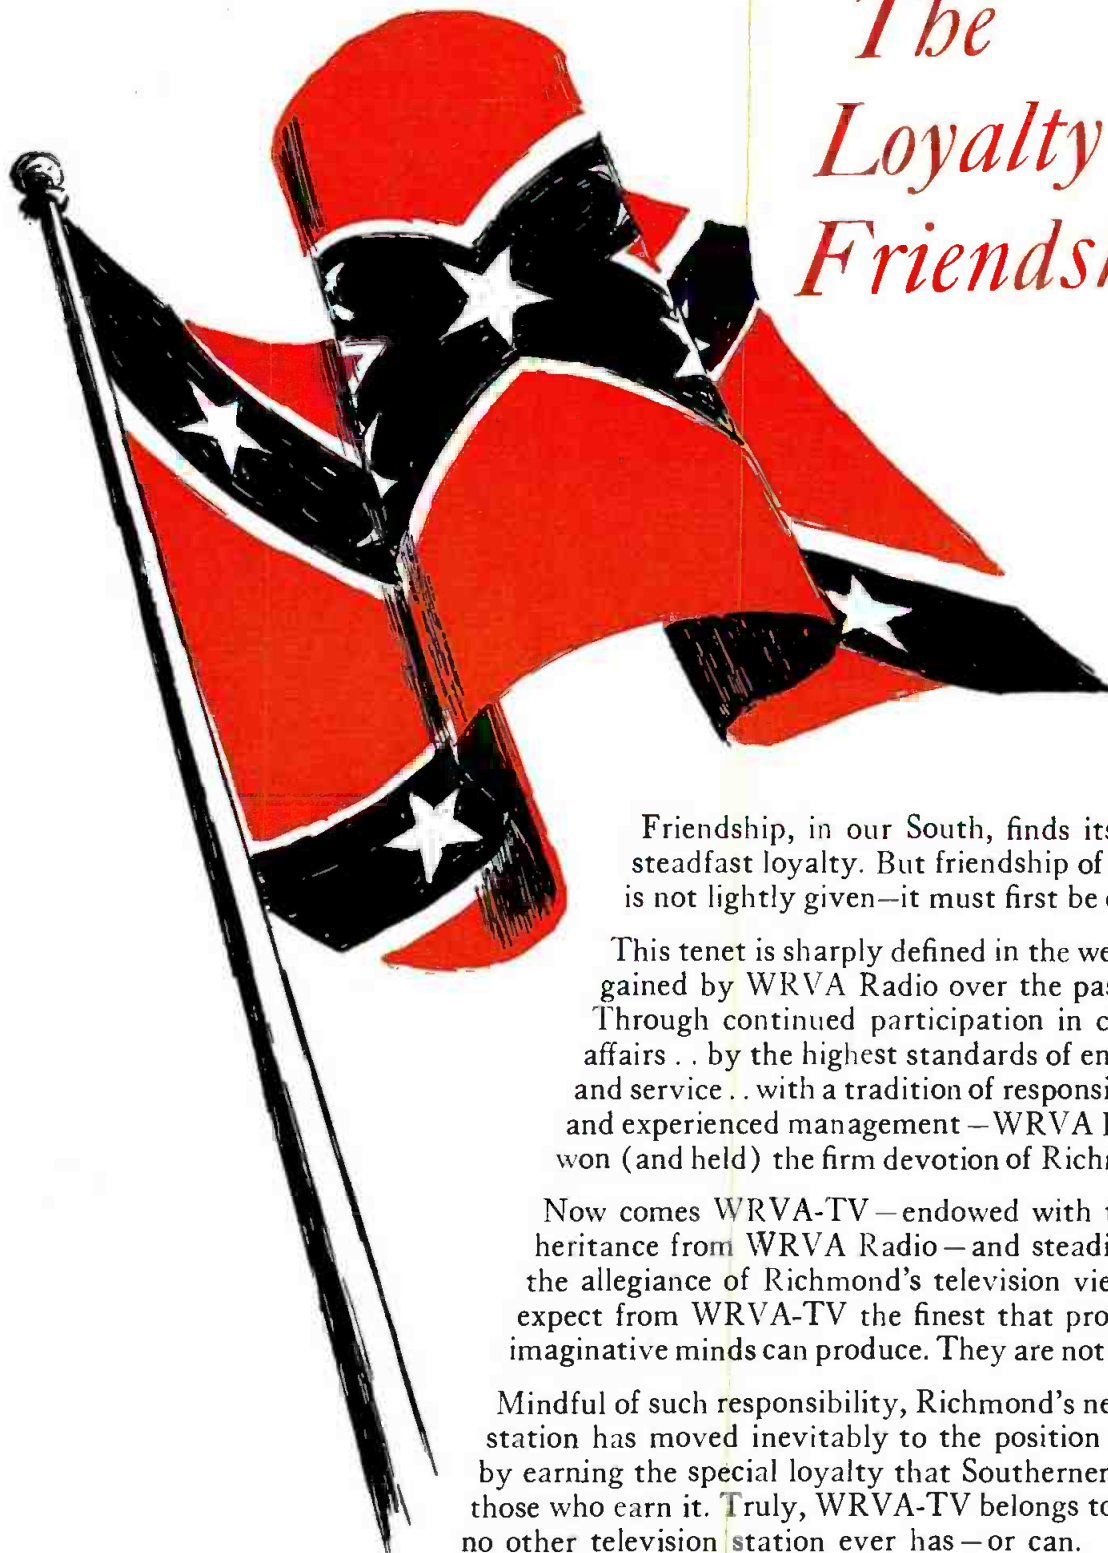

In programming, magnetic striping has been confined to use in CBS Public Affairs' shows, but engineers report the network "looks forward to the time when all of CBS-TV's filmed programs use the process." The technique is seen as a step forward, particularly in the film coverage of events, since the end result is a rendition of quality equivalent to "live sound" (and to that provided by magnetic tape recording in radio).

CBS engineers note that the single-system magnetic striping has been used on color film as well as on black-and-white. Film material using the magnetic striping and dealing with the news personalities treating the Middle East situation has been released on CBS-TV's Douglas Edwards and the News, the same show on which CBS-TV has made test use of its new Ampex video tape recorder for west coast rebroadcasting [B•T, Dec. 10].

A local physician said the cause of death may have been coronary occlusion. He is survived by his parents, his wife Frances and two children, Ann 9 and James 8.

The Loyalty of Friendship.

Friendship, in our South, finds its roots in steadfast loyalty. But friendship of this nature is not lightly given—it must first be earned.

This tenet is sharply defined in the wealth of friends gained by WRVA Radio over the past 31 years. Through continued participation in community affairs . . . by the highest standards of entertainment and service . . . with a tradition of responsible, competent and experienced management — WRVA Radio has won (and held) the firm devotion of Richmond families.

Now comes WRVA-TV — endowed with this rich inheritance from WRVA Radio — and steadily winning the allegiance of Richmond's television viewers. They expect from WRVA-TV the finest that proven skill and imaginative minds can produce. They are not disappointed.

Mindful of such responsibility, Richmond's newest television station has moved inevitably to the position of leadership by earning the special loyalty that Southerners give only to those who earn it. Truly, WRVA-TV belongs to Richmond as no other television station ever has — or can.

SIGNING of three new contracts and three renewals for programs on Mutual was announced last week by Wendell B. Campbell, RKO Television Pictures vice president in charge of national MBS sales. Gross billings of the business were estimated at nearly $1 million.

New clients are Sterling Drug Co. (Fletcher's Castoria and Dr. Caldwell's laxative products), through Carl S. Brown, New York, for participations in Mutual's Queen for a Day (Mon.-Fri., 11:30-12 noon EST) and the 11:10-11:15 a.m. portion of Parels in the News (Mon.-Fri., 11:05-11:15 p.m.); Carter Products, New York, through Ted Bates, New York, for three participations per week on the network's evening block of mystery programs; National Labor-Management Foundation (Partners magazine), Chicago, for new series, Partners in Progress (Sun., 5:45-6 p.m. EST).

Advertisers renewing on Mutual are American Home Products Co., New York, through Sullivan, Stauffer, Colwell & Bayles, New York, for nine of Gabriel Heatter's 15 newscasts per week; the Christian Reformed Church, through Stoetzel & Assoc., Chicago, for Back to God Hour (Sun., 9:30-10 a.m. EST) and Radio Bible Class, Grand Rapids, Mich., through J. M. Camp Adv., Wheaton, Ill., for Radio Bible Class (Sun., 10-10:30 a.m. EST).

Western Fm Network Formed By Five 'Fine Music' Stations

FORMATION of the Western Fm Network of "fine music" stations was announced following a meeting of representatives from five stations, held a fortnight ago in San Francisco.

Present were Ellwood Lippincott and Tom

Grant, KISW (FM) Seattle; Stanley Gourd and James McGuire, KPFM (FM) Portland; Jerry Cobb, KNEV (FM) Reno; Stephen A. Cisler, KEAR (FM) San Francisco, and W. T. White, of a new fm station to open in Sacramento.

"We propose to start in January with weekly exchanges between all member stations of high-fidelity tape recordings of certain program features being obtained from the east and abroad," said Mr. Cisler, acting secretary of the association.

He said that fm stations in Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego had been invited to attend the group's next meeting Dec. 29 at Carmel, Calif.

ABC-TV's 'You Asked for It' Sets Permanent European Unit

PLANS to set up permanent filming units in Europe for ABC-TV's You Asked For It program were announced Wednesday by Executive Producer Wayne Steffner. Mr. Steffner said Producer Cran Chamberlin has been in Paris negotiating for a camera unit to cover France and adjacent countries for the network's Sunday night show.

This week, Mr. Chamberlin will proceed to Mannheim, Germany, and then to London where similar units will be established. Mr. Steffner said the large increase in mail from the program's viewers had indicated great interest in You Asked For It's new international format begun this fall.

In addition, the executive producer said, plans are being discussed for sending camera crews to South America and parts of Asia next summer.

Jack Webb Not Satisfied With NBC-TV's Promotion

FILM TV producer-actor Jack Webb let it be known publicly last week he wasn't happy with the ratings of his Dragnet series on NBC-TV and put part of the blame on the network for not promoting and advertising the show enough. In turn he complimented CBS-TV for its policy of program advertising to the listener through other media.

NBC-TV has ordered another 78 programs from Mr. Webb but he indicated he doesn't know at this point if he wants to make them. The producer has filmed 198 episodes to date and those which already have run on the network have been syndicated as Badge 714.

McNeill, NBC-TV Pact In Air

NBC-TV's decision last week to return Truth or Consequences in the 11:30-12 p.m. Mon.-Fri. slot may shelve the five-year pact that network signed with ABC Radio star Don McNeill last month [AT DEADLINE, Nov. 26]. Mr. McNeill's contract, calling for exclusive daytime tv services, was said to be contingent on NBC-TV's approval of a time period, with 12:30 p.m. suggested. Mr. McNeill would have replaced It Could Be You.

Truth or Consequences is scheduled to begin on Dec. 31. It is further understood that the McNeill contract will be cancelled unless his option is picked up by that date.

Unlimited system plus superb picture quality...make RCA best

ICONOSCOPE CONVERSION

You can start simply and build gradually, if you prefer, first by converting iconoscope film cameras to RCA vidicon film cameras. You'll get marked improvement in gray scale, tremendously increased signal-to-noise ratio, improvement in resolution, and provision for automatic black level control... all with a minimum of operating attention. The "snap," clarity and live effect will be immediately reflected in advertiser preference.

MONOCHROME SYSTEM EXPANDABLE TO COLOR

Or, you can start with the superior vidicon film system expandable to color. Using the RCA TP-15 universal multiplexer, color and monochrome film equipment can be completely integrated—by adding a TK-26 color film camera at any time. This new multiplexer accommodates up to four projector inputs, all of which are available to two film camera outputs.

COLOR FILM SYSTEMS

To go to color now, you can select from various equipment combinations which use the RCA TK-26 three-vidicon film camera. In TV stations where superb picture quality and operational simplicity count, the TK-26 is the preferred system for color film programming. It has been selected after careful comparative evaluation with other systems and found to produce finer quality film pictures in both monochrome and color. Superior results are achieved at minimum cost with maximum operational simplicity.

LIVE COLOR, TOO

It is possible to use the RCA three-vidicon film system for pickup of opaques, live commercial products and demonstrations within a limited area.

See your RCA Broadcast Representative for more details on Vidicon Film Systems. He will be glad to answer your questions. Let him help plan a film system that can start you on the road to the new and additional revenue that will come from color!

NEW STANDARDS OF QUALITY

The RCA Vidicon Film System has established a standard of film reproduction by which all other methods are judged. You can expect and get the highest quality reproduction, with protection against obsolescence for years to come. To give some idea of the wide range of system possibilities with RCA equipment we submit four diagrams, at right, from the very simplest equipment to a Dual Color Film System.

buy in film equipment—monochrome and color

1. CONVERSION OF ICONOSCOPE FILM SYSTEM TO VIDICON

Much of the equipment in an existing RCA iconoscope chain can be used with TK-21 vidicon camera. A basic system employs two 16mm projectors and a dual-channel slide projector.

3. BASIC COLOR FILM SYSTEM

Permits two film projectors and a slide projector to be operated into a single TK-26 color film camera. Designed for maximum simplicity and economy, it can be used for both color and monochrome film.

2. MONOCHROME FILM SYSTEM EXPANDABLE TO COLOR

Combines a TK-21 monochrome film camera with projectors and multiplexing equipment, which are usable in color as well as monochrome. At any time a TK-26 color film camera can be added, retaining the TK-21 for the monochrome channel.

4. DUAL COLOR FILM SYSTEM

Will handle a large number of inputs and therefore provides maximum program protection. Two completely independent program channels provide the ultimate in reliability and assure continuous programming. Permits previewing in color.

Best for color and monochrome because it uses proved-in components !

VIDICON TUBE . . . RCA development

Vidicon storage tube is outstanding from standpoint of high signal-to-noise ratio, reliability and low-cost operation. It produces a sharp lifelike picture—equally good in monochrome or color. Replacement involves minimum of equipment readjustment.

STANDARD-TYPE PROJECTORS FOR 35 and 16MM

Standard of the motion picture industry, the intermittent projector produces a beautiful steady picture. It involves none of the critical mechanical tolerances of the continuous projector for 16mm. RCA now offers the TP-6 series projector designed from the beginning for professional 16mm television use. Provides maximum video and audio quality with operating convenience and dependability. RCA neutral-density-filter light control makes it possible to achieve satisfactory results with practically all kinds of film.

NEW TYPE TP-15 MULTIPLEXER

Provides for complete integration of color and monochrome. Offers flexibility and protection of two-camera system without the necessity of buying separate projectors for each camera. Permits preview of one program while another is on-air.

OPERATING CONVENIENCE AND SIMPLICITY

Only two simple controls are employed in "on-air" operation. Pedestal level and Master Gain. For assuring picture perfection, all controls, together with waveform and picture monitors, are located at the operating position.

NBC-TV Will Devote 5 Hours To Inaugural Coverage Jan. 21

NBC-TV has scheduled five hours of live telecasting of President Eisenhower's inaugural ceremonies and celebrations, Jan. 21.

Schedule includes an 11 a.m.-noon pickup of pre-inauguration ceremonies and the motorcade from the White House to the Capitol; noon-1 p.m. coverage of the oath taking and inaugural address; 1-3:30 p.m. telecast of the parade down Pennsylvania Ave., and 11:30 p.m.-midnight coverage of the Inaugural Ball. NBC Radio will be covering events from 11:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, co-editors of NBC-TV's NBC News and the anchor men during convention and election coverage, will head the network's news staff covering the inauguration.

ABC-TV Outlines Its Plans For Presidential Inauguration

ABC-TV's coverage of President Eisenhower's inauguration, Jan. 21, will extend over a five-hour period, the network announced last week. The first four hours will be devoted to the swearing-in ceremonies, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and will cover the entire proceedings from Mr. Eisenhower's departure from the White House and his return. This phase of the telecast will encompass the traditional parade along Pennsylvania Ave., the President's oath-taking and his inaugural address.

From 11 p.m. to 12 midnight, ABC-TV intends to telecast the Inaugural Ball. A portion of this (11-11:15 p.m.) also will be covered by ABC Radio.

Fifteen ABC news correspondents, including Edward P. Morgan, Martin Agronsky, Quincy Howe, Paul Harvey, Ted Malone, Arthur Van Horn, John Secondari, Dick Rendell, Julian Anthony, and led by John Daly, ABC's vice president of news and public affairs, will be assigned to the proceedings. Marshall Diskin, who directed the network's convention and election night telecasts, once again will fill that capacity.

Lewine Elected Vice President

ROBERT F. LEWINE, who moves from ABC-TV to NBC's television network program department this month, has been named an NBC vice president. His election was anticipated at the time his decision to join NBC was announced [B•T, Dec. 3]. He has been ABC-TV vice president in charge of programming and talent.

WRCV-TV's Series on Hungary Aids Red Cross Relief Program

WRCV-TV Philadelphia has inaugurated a two-week nightly series of local, live color programs called Hungary 1956 on behalf of the American Red Cross' Hungarian relief.

The program, being telecast from 11:15 to 11:25 p.m. Monday through Friday, features WRCV-TV news analyst Taylor Grant, who presents news of the Hungarian situation and talks with various guests who are or have been on the scene or close to it.

In addition, WRCV-TV director Dennis Kane, cameraman Ralph Lopatin, and engineer Bill Hofmann currently are in Vienna filming on-the-spot scenes of the Hungarian people as they flee the Communist rule and seek refuge in neighboring Austria.

The major portion of the film footage being shot in Austria will be used as the basis for a special half-hour "wrap-up" program which WRCV-TV will present Dec. 22 as a finale to the series.

Tv Musical Show Offered Free By National Guard to Stations

A PACKAGE of eight 15-minute filmed musical shows featuring singer Jill Corey and sponsored by the National Guard will be made available without cost to television stations beginning Jan. 1.

According to Lt. Col. James B. Deerin, chief of the National Guard Bureau Information Office, each show carries two animated one-minute recruiting spots, in addition to the musical numbers.

Stations interested in obtaining prints of the series should contact their local National Guard units or the office of the adjutant general in each state. Complete promotion kits also are available.

HOUSE GROUP TAKES LOCAL 47 SIDE

- Subcommittee recommends protection for union members
- Petrillo's trust fund payments are target of decision

A HOUSE Labor subcommittee last week recommended that Congress consider legislation to give individual union members "some protection with respect to payments made by their employers that would otherwise go to them in the form of higher wages."

The subcommittee issued the report following hearings in Hollywood last May in the feud between AFM's Local 47 and its national executive board over AFM's musicians' performance trust fund [B•T, May 28]. The report was approved after a closed session in October, but released only last week. Members are Chairman Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) and Reps. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) and Joe Holt (R-Calif.).

The report, however, concluded that "the Federal Government should not be required or authorized by legislation to interfere with or supervise day-to-day relationships between union officials and union members; such intraunion matters can and should be worked out within the structure of the labor organization itself; sooner or later in most cases the will of the members themselves will govern the conduct of the union."

The subcommittee, in its findings, said, "It seems clear that—

"(1) The membership of the Los Angeles Local No. 47 . . . has no voice in collective bargaining negotiations carried on at the national level, and has no effective control over its own affairs.

"(2) Because of the structure of the AFM, its method of selecting delegates to their national convention, and the powers conferred on the president and the executive board, it is unlikely that the members of the board can ever obtain proper or adequate participation in the management of the affairs of the union.

"(3) Substantial sums which would, in most industries, go toward increased wages and fees for many members of Local 47 and the New York local are now being diverted into the various musicians' performance trust funds."

Purpose 'Highly Objectional'

The House unit's findings continued that the purposes to which these funds are used are "highly objectionable to many members of Local 47. Although the funds are supposed to be used to provide employment for unemployed musicians and to promote cultural development throughout the country, these witnesses believe that the majority of performers benefiting from the funds are not really unemployed professional musicians who normally make their living in that profession, and also that the method of allocating the funds is a device by which the president and the executive board of the AFM control an overwhelming majority of the delegates to the national convention of the union."

In its recommendations, the House group noted that the decision in Inland Steel case in 1948 interpreted the provisions of the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947 (Taft-Hartley) to require employers to bargain with unions regarding health, welfare, pension and other types of employee benefit plans, the "rationale" of this decision being that benefits flowing from such plans are embraced in the terms "wages, hours and working conditions."

While sums paid by the employer as a result of collective bargaining may go directly into a union fund such as that of AFM, union dues deducted from the union member's wages can be turned over to the union only after a written assignment by the employee, the report said. The subcommittee recommended that additional hearings be held to determine if the 1947 act should be amended to require the same "written assignment" in the case of such additional "wages."

The report acknowledged that such an amendment of the law "might, to some extent, interfere with and perhaps slow down collective bargaining negotiations . . . in some instances" because union negotiators would have to know in advance of negotiating sessions whether members wanted their share of possible increases in the form of larger paychecks or in benefits from one of the union plans.

Arguments in favor of such legislation, however, the report said, are that (1) it would enable the individual union member to share in the benefits of collective bargaining contracts entered into by the union . . . "thereby preventing the kind of situation that now exists in Local 47, AFM"; (2) it would encourage unions to administer employee benefit plans to the satisfaction of those members who contribute ("or who forego a wage increase") to them; (3) it is simple and easy to understand.

The subcommittee felt no further hearings concerning the operations of musicians' performance trust funds are necessary "from the standpoint of federal legislation."

Juke Box Royalty Payments Studied in O'Mahoney Report

A REPORT presenting the various viewpoints on a Senate proposal to require royalty payments to composers for performances of their works on juke boxes was released last week by Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of the Senate Patents, Trademarks & Copyrights Subcommittee.

Sen. O'Mahoney said the report makes no recommendations for solution of the controversy, but presents a concise analysis of the issues involved. "It is hoped," he added, "that it will enable all persons interested to find a means of solving the issue on an equitable basis."

A proposal (S 590) to amend the Copyright Act of 1909 to require royalty payments for commercial performances of music on coin-operated machines failed to pass in the 84th Congress.

Supporting S 590 were American Society of Composers, Authors & Publishers (ASCAP), Broadcast Music Inc. (BMI), Society of European Stage Authors and Composers Inc. (SESAC) and others. Opposing it were juke box operators organizations and others.

ASCAP President Paul Cunningham, in a letter last week to Sen. O'Mahoney, said his organization is anxious to meet with the juke box operators to "work out a compromise satisfactory to the subcommittee." An accompanying ASCAP "background" statement said the 1909 exemption of coin-operated music machines from royalties allows 450,000 juke box operators to take in an estimated $500 million annually without paying performance fees to the "creators" of the music, while other commercial users of music—including radio-tv broadcasters, hotels, taverns, dance halls, skating rinks, etc.—must pay composers for public performance of their musical works for profit.

Neuberger Asks Investigation Of U. S. Propaganda Broadcasts

CALL for a congressional investigation of the role of U. S. "propaganda" in "feeding false hopes to Hungarian freedom fighters" was sounded last week by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.).

Sen. Neuberger said American broadcasts to communist countries about "liberation, rollbacks" and similar phrases and "slogans" have created a false impression of U. S. policies and said it is time for a "public review of the discrepancy . . ." He said he believed Congress "should inquire fully into what relationship, if any, there has been between these slogans which have been so recklessly broadcast for the past four years and the actual foreign policies of this Administration."

Speaking in Hermiston, Ore., Sen. Neuberger said news reports have quoted Hungarians as saying they have been led to believe, by Voice of America and Radio Free Europe broadcasts, that the U. S. would support them in a fight against Russian oppression.

Wanamaker Asks Damages of KVI; To Sue 50-60 Other Stations

LIBEL suit asking heavy damages was filed Wednesday in Seattle Superior Court against KVI Seattle by Pearl A. Wanamaker, state superintendent of public instruction. She asked $250,000 damages on the ground Fulton Lewis jr., MBS commentator, erroneously linked her with communism in a broadcast last January. KVI is the Seattle MBS outlet.

Mrs. Wanamaker said the suit is the first to be filed, with others to follow naming Mr. Lewis and 50 or 60 other radio stations that carried the broadcast. The Lewis suit, she said, will be filed soon in Maryland. She said Mr. Lewis acknowledged in a later broadcast that the charge was incorrect and added that he termed it "one of the greatest boo-boos of all time." Mrs. Wanamaker lost her campaign for re-election Nov. 6 after 16 years in office.

FCC AGAIN OPPOSES UHF-VHF SET TAX

- View presented House group
- Treasury would keep levy

THE FCC last week again went on record in favor of eliminating or reducing the 10% manufacturer's federal excise tax on all-channel television sets. The opinion was expressed in a statement submitted to a House Ways & Means subcommittee.

On the same day (Monday) a Treasury Dept. official in testimony before the subcommittee stated Treasury's opposition to eliminating or reducing any of the present government excise taxes.

Dan Throop Smith, top tax assistant to Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, specifically criticized the proposal to remove the tax from all-channel sets, saying that if Congress wants to cut a particular tax it should make up the revenue loss by levying new or increased taxes in other fields.

Mr. Smith called the proposal "questionable" and said the Treasury Dept. considers its purpose ulterior—the stimulation of one phase of business over another. Taxation should be for revenue purposes only, he added. Mr. Smith estimated the excise tax on tv receivers brings the Treasury revenues of $100 million a year.

May Disregard Smith Statement

Meanwhile, Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R. I.), chairman of the subcommittee which concluded hearings last week, told reporters at the close of sessions Tuesday that in his opinion "the committee will disregard Mr. Smith's flat statement against tax cuts. If we find that certain steps should be taken in justice and fairness, I for one will not hesitate to take them."

Subcommittee staff members explained that Rep. Forand's statement had general application and did not necessarily refer to the proposed elimination of tax on all-channel sets. They noted that some excise tax cuts were made in the 84th Congress, despite blanket disapproval of the Treasury Dept. Rep. Forand left Washington immediately after the hearings and was not available for further comment.

Concerning the FCC stand, Chairman George C. McConaughy said that because people have not had sets to receive uhf broadcasts many authorized uhf stations have not started broadcasting even though there is "a great demand for more television service. Obviously it is futile for uhf stations to furnish programs if the public cannot receive them, and the public will not pay more to get a uhf receiver for which they have no use. The best interests of the public require that this circle be broken some place. . . ."

He noted that while the FCC may license broadcasters to use certain frequencies, it has no authority to require set manufacturers to produce all-channel sets or the public to buy them. At one time, he said, as many as one-third of the sets produced were all-channel, but now they are estimated

There are all kinds, but if you really want to sell Southern California, take heed:

It was 1:15 in the morning, late in November . . .

Jackson Wheeler was visiting with his KTTV viewers. He interviewed Lease Bussard, International President of the Optimists, who read the Optimist Creed. Jackson invited the "Jackson's Theatre" audience to let him know if they wanted a copy.

Then it happened . . .

KTTV's switchboard was jammed until, at 2:15 A.M., Wheeler suggested that the audience write instead of phoning.

To date, 9,752 requests for the Creed have been received from all over the Southern California area. The place is loaded with optimists (customers, to you).

Yes, Southern California is different, and the difference is KTTV.

at only about 10%. He saw the need for "drastic action."

Referring to the FCC's study of the problems involved and to the Commission's invitation to the tv industry and others to comment on the possibility of shifting all tv to uhf, he said "one way" to stimulate purchase of all-channel sets is to have the price of all-channel sets substantially the same or less than vhf-only sets.

He asked for action to encourage the purchase of all-channel color sets before the investment in color vhf sets becomes "so extensive that serious public inconvenience would be caused by the public not being able to receive color programs in the uhf band. . . ."

Mr. McConnaughey said the FCC cannot predict with accuracy the result of removal or reduction of the excise tax, but that "obviously the public would be more inclined to buy all-channel sets if the price differential were insignificant."

"In fairness to this committee," he said, "it should be stated that the question of receiving sets is not the only factor in our television problems or even the only obstacle to stimulating the use of new channels and additional service to the public. In the considered judgment of our Commission, however, the fact that so few people have all-channel receiving sets is an important element bearing on the matters under our jurisdiction and one which merits careful consideration and the best efforts of all of us in finding a solution."

The FCC, he said, agrees with the Senate Commerce Committee's recommendations for reduction or removal of the excise tax on all-channel sets.

Graham Urges Change In Equal Time Rules

PHILIP GRAHAM, publisher of the Washington Post (WTOP-AM-FM-TV Washington, WMBR-AM-FM-TV Jacksonville, Fla.), told a Senate committee last week he "would hope" to resubmit his "small campaign contributions" plan to the national political committees for the 1960 elections.

Mr. Graham discussed his plan in testimony Tuesday before the Senate Lobbying & Political Activities Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.). He also urged amendment of Sec. 315 of the Communications Act to relieve broadcasters of the "equal time" provisions of the law in presidential elections for all but major party candidates.

The broadcaster-publisher said there was too little time between the date of his original proposal [B•T, June 6, 1955] and the 1956 campaign to make any headway and that next time he will bring it up about a year and a half in advance of the campaign. One reason the plan failed this time, he said, was because Paul Butler and Leonard Hall, Democratic and Republican national chairmen, respectively, didn't get together to support it for "personal reasons."

Mr. Graham's plan was for radio and tv stations, newspapers and other media to carry public service advertising, in cooperation with The Advertising Council and with the support of advertisers, asking all persons to contribute up to $5 to the political party of their choice. Candidates receiving their campaign financial support from such small contributors then would not be obligated to special interests which heretofore have made large contributions to candidates, Mr. Graham felt.

Mr. Butler has charged Mr. Hall several times with "sabotaging" the Graham proposal by failing to support it.

At the time he introduced the plan, Mr. Graham said a Gallup poll cross section of U. S. families indicated a total of 16 million families would be willing to contribute $5 to a political party, which would have meant a total of $80 million in political contributions to both parties.

Mr. Graham last week called for amendment of Sec. 315, testifying that networks and stations would be more disposed to give free radio and tv time to major party candidates if they were not required by law to give equal time to candidates of splinter and minority parties. He said the law should be amended so that a candidate would have to qualify for equal time opportunities by showing his party received a certain percentage of votes in the past election or by presenting a petition signed by a given percentage of voters.

FCC Examiner Favors Denial Of Selma, Ala., Tall Tower Bid

THE 21-month fight by ch. 8 WSLA (TV) Selma, Ala., to change its transmitter location and increase tower height to a record 1,993 ft. above ground received a setback. FCC Hearing Examiner H. Gifford Irion last week recommended that the Commission deny the proposed changes. Mr. Irion found that the proposed tower would constitute a potential hazard to air navigation. Further, he questioned WSLA's financial ability to operate as proposed and decided that the planned operation would cause economic harm to uhf WCOV-TV Montgomery (ch. 20), Ala., which the examiner said would not be in the public interest.

This is the third of the so-called "tall-tower" cases which have met strong opposition from the Dept. of Defense and various aviation groups. The other two cases were resolved in favor of the stations: the FCC approved a 1,356-ft. tower for ch. 5 KGEO-TV Enid, Okla., and a 1,610-ft. structure for ch. 8 KSWs-TV Roswell, N. M.

One of the hearing issues was whether WSLA's proposed transmitter-site move (50 miles from Selma, 23 miles from Montgomery) was designed to serve the particular needs of Selma. Here, Mr. Irion found in favor of WSLA.

Mr. Irion found that WCOV-TV, one of the first uhf operations, has rendered a "praiseworthy program service to the public," but would be reduced to a marginal operation and forced off the air if WSLA's changes were approved. The preservation of high-grade program service and the fact that WCOV-TV is uhf leads to the conclusion that the protection of WCOV-TV from economic destruction is in the public interest, Mr. Irion stated.

How well do you know the Boston market?

Everybody has a soft spot for something familiar—whether it's the scarred bark on the old oak just back of the Grange Hall, or the chalky smell of the corner poolroom. Many Bostonians have a soft spot for some of the people and things pictured above:

- A. Bird house given to the city by a Swiss visitor. Boston Common.
- B. Stove in Boston and Albany freight terminal, Springfield.
- C. Welterweight Tony DeMarco with Fred Cusick, WEEI Sports Director.
- D. Roadsign near South Waterford, Maine.
- E. Photo-elastic stress pattern, photographed by polarized light at M. I. T.
- F. Mill on the Merrimack River, Lawrence.

G. Figurehead of Andrew Jackson, carved in the Boston Navy Yard about 1834.

H. Door of Harvard Lampoon building.

I. Snake Goddess, 16th century B. C. Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

J. Casino Theater in Boston.

K. WEEI News Editor Charles Ashley.

L. New Kresge Auditorium, M. I. T.

M. The Boston Stone.

You won't find many soft spots in the people of Boston. That is, you won't if you're a stranger. The Bostonian keeps his sentiments carefully hidden. He's a tough customer to sell. But once you've won his trust and his confidence, he's likely to be your customer for life.

And WEEI has won that trust for the products it advertises. No one knows the Boston market as WEEI does—especially the buying habits and brand loyalties of the Boston people. When you want to reach the soft spot of the buying Bostonian, call CBS Radio Spot Sales or WEEI Radio.

The of paid circulation

The surest barometer of reader acceptance of any publication is its paid circulation. Special people read business and trade journals for hard news and for ideas—tools of their professions or trades. They get their entertainment elsewhere (mostly from radio and television).

A paid subscription immediately establishes a contractual relationship between the subscriber and the publisher. The subscriber pays his money because he needs the publication to keep pace with developments in his own business. He is too busy to read those publications which do not meet his requirements, even if they come to him gratis. Thus, if reader interest is not sustained, paid circulation is promptly affected.

B•T for the Jan.-June, 1956 audit period averaged a paid weekly circulation of 16,401. This is the largest paid circulation in the vertical radio-tv field. B•T in fact distributes more paid circulation annually than the combined annual paid of all other vertical magazines in this field.

B•T is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations—the only paper in our field to enjoy this privilege. The symbol below is your guarantee of integrity in reporting circulation facts to buyers of space.

There is no blue sky or unverified claims in B•T. That is why B•T is the basic promotional medium in the radio-tv field, with 25 years of loyal readership and paid circulation to back it up.

BUYING FROM RCA DOESN'T HELP GAIN NBC-TV TIE, FIGURES SHOW

THE RCA sales figures on television transmitters, studio equipment and antennas would indicate there is no relationship between a tv station's affiliation with NBC and its purchase of RCA equipment.

NBC submitted figures to the House Antitrust Subcommittee last week showing an almost-startling similarity between total RCA equipment purchases by NBC, CBS and ABC affiliates.

Of the 193 NBC-TV affiliates, 150 bought a total of $53,164,000 worth of RCA transmitting, studio and antenna equipment at an average cost per station of $354,427, the NBC figures, furnished by RCA, show. At the same time, 151 of the 199 ABC-TV affiliates bought $50,159,000 worth of RCA equipment at an average cost of $332,179, while 157 of the 229 CBS-TV affiliates purchased a total of $52,967,000 in RCA equipment at an average cost of $337,367.

Individual data was supplied on each NBC affiliate, including type of equipment, date of purchase and date of affiliation, in compliance with the subcommittee's request during hearings last September in New York. The subcommittee asked this information as a follow-up to allegations by Wilbur Havens of WTVR (TV) Richmond, Va., that NBC switched its affiliation from WTVR to WXEX-TV Petersburg, Va., after WXEX-TV decided to buy RCA instead of DuMont equipment before going on the air.

NBC also supplied information concerning the four instances in which the network "rejected" independently produced programs in which NBC had no financial interest in favor of those produced by the network or in which it had some financial interest.

Move to Bolster Audience

NBC said in the spring of 1954 it decided to move Voice of Firestone from Monday, 8:30-9 p.m., to a late Sunday afternoon period, after research studies indicated the program's poor showing was "depleting" NBC's Monday evening audience, not only for 8:30-9 p.m., but for succeeding periods. The network also was worried about competitive efforts of other networks.

Trendex ratings and share of audience for the December-January periods for 1951-52 were 8.9 and 15%; for 1952-53, 6.4 and 10%, and for 1953-54, 3.9 and 6%, the NBC report stated, while for the same three years the Nielsen ratings were 24.2, 18.8 and 15.3, respectively. NBC offered to move Voice of Firestone to late Sunday afternoon adjacent to Hallmark Hall of Fame and keep the radio version on NBC Radio. Firestone also was offered Caesar's Hour, which was scheduled for Monday, 8-9 p.m. In June 1954, NBC said, Firestone withdrew Voice from both NBC Radio and tv and placed it with ABC. NBC scheduled Caesar's Hour for Monday, 8-9 p.m., with Producer's Showcase in the period once a month. Caesar had a December-January 1954-55 Nielsen rating of 31.1, with succeeding ratings also improved over Voice of Firestone, NBC said. NBC said Caesar was furnished to the network by Shellric Corp. under arrangements giving NBC no share in program profits or residual rights.

When Toni in September 1955 moved People Are Funny from Sunday, 7-7:30 p.m., to a Saturday night period, Campbell soup sought the vacated Sunday period for Lassie, NBC said, but the network felt an "all-family type" program would be better for the period and filled it with It's a Great Life, with Chrysler Corp. moving from a Tuesday evening period to sponsor it for the 1955-56 season. Campbell placed Lassie on another network in the sought-after time period, NBC said. NBC, it was added, financed creation and production of It's a Great Life and received "syndicated rights for a limited period and an equal share in the net profits of the venture."

NBC Meets Competitors

In September 1955, NBC said, the network was lacking an hour "top-quality" dramatic program in the late Tuesday evening position and sought to strengthen its showing in "the face of moves by competition." NBC persuaded P. Lorillard to move Truth or Consequences to Friday evening time and scheduled Playwrights '56 in the Tuesday 9:30-10:30 period under Pontiac sponsorship, alternating every other week with Armstrong Circle Theatre, an agency produced program which went from a half-hour to an hour production. Lorillard "expressed ultimate satisfaction," NBC said, adding that Playwrights '56 was produced by NBC.

In October 1956, NBC decided to move Caesar's Hour from Monday, 8-8:30 p.m., to Saturday evening for 1956-57. Whitehall Pharmacal and Lever Bros. both expressed an interest in the period and suggested a quiz show, but NBC recommended to their agencies that an all-family show with special appeal to children be placed in the early-evening Monday period, suggesting, among others, Adventures of Sir Lancelot. Both advertisers "enthusiastically agreed." NBC has "limited syndication rights" and "a share in net profits" of Lancelot.

NBC, answering another subcommittee request on instances that NBC owned and operated stations had "rejected" films by independent syndicators in favor of films from NBC Film Sales Div., said a check of the personnel of its owned stations indicated no such instances except for the decision by WNBQ (TV) Chicago in 1955 to schedule NBC Film Sales' The Great Gildersleeve instead of another film favored by Drewry's Ltd., the sponsor [B•T, Nov. 26].

NBC stations, like all other tv stations, "constantly" have films submitted by syndicated film distributors, NBC said. These stations select those they believe best suited for the purposes and the methods of selection involves no rejection of a particular film. Thus, there is no way of ascertaining which specific films were considered for a specific time period, NBC said.

Distributors also solicit purchases from advertisers who contemplate tv time purchases and when the advertiser proposes a particular film for a time period, the station has the opportunity to reject it on its own qualities or availability of more desirable films, NBC added.

NBC Gets Green Light On New Britain Buy

NBC won its seventh television station last week when the FCC approved—a week after it had postponed consideration—the transfer of WKNB-AM-TV New Britain, Conn., to the network.

The action won the approval of all commissioners except Comr. Robert T. Bartley, who dissented. Comr. Rosel H. Hyde issued a concurring statement.

The FCC postponed consideration of the $600,000 transaction two weeks ago, following the filing of a civil antitrust suit against RCA and NBC. The government charged that RCA-NBC conspired to coerce Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. into swapping its Philadelphia radio and tv stations for NBC's Cleveland am, fm and tv outlets plus $3 million [B•T, Dec. 10].

In addition to the sale approval, the Commission also granted permission for ch. 30 WKNB-TV to decrease its antenna height from 970 ft. to 750 ft., increase power to 1,000 kw, and change transmitter location to a site 7.2 miles outside the city limits.

The Commission made its grant contingent on the outcome of the pending antitrust suit.

Comr. Hyde favored the sale approval as a step in the encouragement of uhf television. He said that he thought NBC's acquisition of the New Britain uhf station would serve that purpose. Comr. Bartley did not issue a written dissent.

The New Britain properties were bought from Julian Gross and associates. The acquisition marks NBC's second purchase of a uhf outlet. Last year NBC paid $312,500 for ch. 17 WBUF (TV) Buffalo, N. Y. It also owns WRCA-AM-FM-TV New York, WRC-AM-FM-TV Washington, WMAQ-AM-FM and WNBQ (TV) Chicago, WRCV-AM-TV Philadelphia, KNBC-AM-FM San Francisco and KRCA (TV) Los Angeles.

With the ownership of the New Britain tv station, NBC joins CBS as the licensee of a uhf outlet in the Connecticut area. CBS earlier this year won FCC approval for the $650,000 purchase of ch. 18 WHCT (TV) Hartford from RKO Teleradio Pictures Inc. CBS also bought ch. 19 WXIX (TV) Milwaukee for $350,000 in 1954.

The only other major multiple owner who owns two uhf tv outlets is Storer Broadcasting Co. Storer owns ch. 23 WGBS-TV Miami, Fla., and ch. 27 KPTV (TV) Portland, Ore.

Both the NBC and CBS acquisitions were originally protested by other tv outlets in

NBC took ownership of the stations Thursday in proceedings at the WKNB studios, with NBC Staff Vice President Joseph V. Heffernan representing the network, and Julian Gross, founder and president of New Britain Broadcasting Co., and attorneys Solomon Elsnor and Aaron Nassau representing the seller.

NBC President Robert W. Sarnoff, in a statement on the transfer, said NBC is "pleased to have this further opportunity to express [its] belief in uhf as an essential part of the television broadcasting system." He promised "the same high quality performance rendered by our owned stations in other communities."

Thomas B. McFadden, vice president of NBC owned stations and NBC Spot Sales, said that essentially the present management group would continue in charge of WKNB-AM-TV. He named Peter B. Kenney, vice president of New Britain Broadcasting and general manager of the two outlets, to continue in the same capacity, and said Mr. Gross had been retained by NBC as a consultant for the two stations and would continue to be associated with them.

Vhf Channel in Charlotte, N. C., Awarded WSOC in Final Decision

LONG-FOUGHT FCC hearing battle for Charlotte, N. C., ch. 9 ended last week when the Commission issued its final decision granting the vhf channel to WSOC Charlotte and denying the applications of Piedmont Electronics & Fixture Corp., and Carolinas' Tv Corp. Comr. John C. Doerfer voted for Carolinas' and Comr. T. A. M. Craven abstained.

In finding for the local am outlet, the Commission reversed an August 1955 initial decision favoring the Piedmont application. The FCC declared WSOC had shown clear superiority in the fields of integration of ownership and management, local residence of owners, past performance and the possibility of meeting local needs.

Piedmont is owned 40% by the Wolfson-Meyer interests (WTVJ [TV] Miami, and 20% of WFGA-TV Jacksonville, both Fla.). Carolinas' is 43% owned by Broadcasting Co. of South (WIS-AM-FM-TV Columbia, S. C., and WIST Charlotte, N. C.).

In a related action, the Commission turned down a request by ch. 36 WQMC (TV) Charlotte asking that the ch. 9 proceeding be stayed pending action on a deintermixture request to delete ch. 9 from that city—or that any ch. 9 grant be conditioned on a no-construction basis pending the outcome of the demix proposal. WQMC began operating in 1954 but has suspended operation. Charlotte's only other tv operation is ch. 3 WBTV (TV), which is affiliated with all three networks.

FCC Makes Four Am Grants, Issues One Initial Decision

AN FCC hearing examiner last week recommended granting the application of Radio Mount Kisco Inc., for that New York community's first local am. Also last week, the Commission approved four uncontested am bids for final grants.

Hearings had been held on Radio Mount Kisco's application for the 1310, 1 kw, daytime facility because of interference with WJLK Asbury Park, N. J., and WEVD New York. Hearing Examiner Herbert Sharfman discounted this in view of the community's need of an outlet for local programs.

Approved by the Commission for new ams were:

Tucson, Ariz.—Bamray Broadcasting Co., 1330 kc, 500 w, daytime. Equal partners A. V. Bamford and Ray Odom own KHEP Phoenix, Ariz.

Alamogordo, N. M.—Lyman Brown Enterprises 1270 kc, 1 kw, day. Mr. Brown formerly owned KEAN Brownwood, Tex.

Sylva, N. C.—Harold M. Thoms, 1480 kc, 5 kw, day. Engineering conditions and program tests will not be authorized until Mr. Thoms divests himself of either WISE Asheville or WMMH Marshall, both N. C., which he owns as well as WISE-TV. Other Thoms interests: WEAM Arlington, Va.; WCOG Greensboro; WAYS Charlotte, and WKLM Wilmington, all N. C.

Grant of Ch. 12 to WPRO-TV Reaffirmed in Initial Decision

THE September 1953 grant of ch. 12 Providence, R. I., to Cherry & Webb Broadcasting Co. (now WPRO-TV) should be affirmed, FCC Hearing Examiner Herbert Sharfman recommended last week.

The grant was originally protested by ch. 16 WNET (TV) Providence, now dark, following a merger agreement among the then three competing applicants. WNET claimed that one agreement, allowing two stockholders in one of the applicants to accept a payment of $205,500 in lieu of stock in a new company formed to operate ch. 12, was a "payoff." WNET also charged construction of the station was begun before a grant was made.

The Commission designated the protest for hearing and stayed the grant. The FCC ordered the hearing examiner to submit findings of fact only and not to make recommendations. The hearing examiner issued the "restricted" initial decision in April 1954 and the following January the FCC made the C&W grant effective as well as special temporary authority to commence commercial telecasting.

WNET, arguing that it was discriminated against by the FCC hearing order, took the matter to the U. S. Court of Appeals in January 1955 (while the case was pending WPRO-TV went on the air under the FCC special temporary authority).

A year after WNET's appeal, the court reversed and remanded the case to the Commission because of its failure to order the hearing examiner to issue an initial decision containing both findings of fact and conclusions.

The second initial decision in this case, as issued last week by Examiner Sharfman, reaffirmed the original grant, found no impropriety in the option agreement cited by WNET as a "payoff," and found that WPRO-TV had not engaged in unauthorized construction.

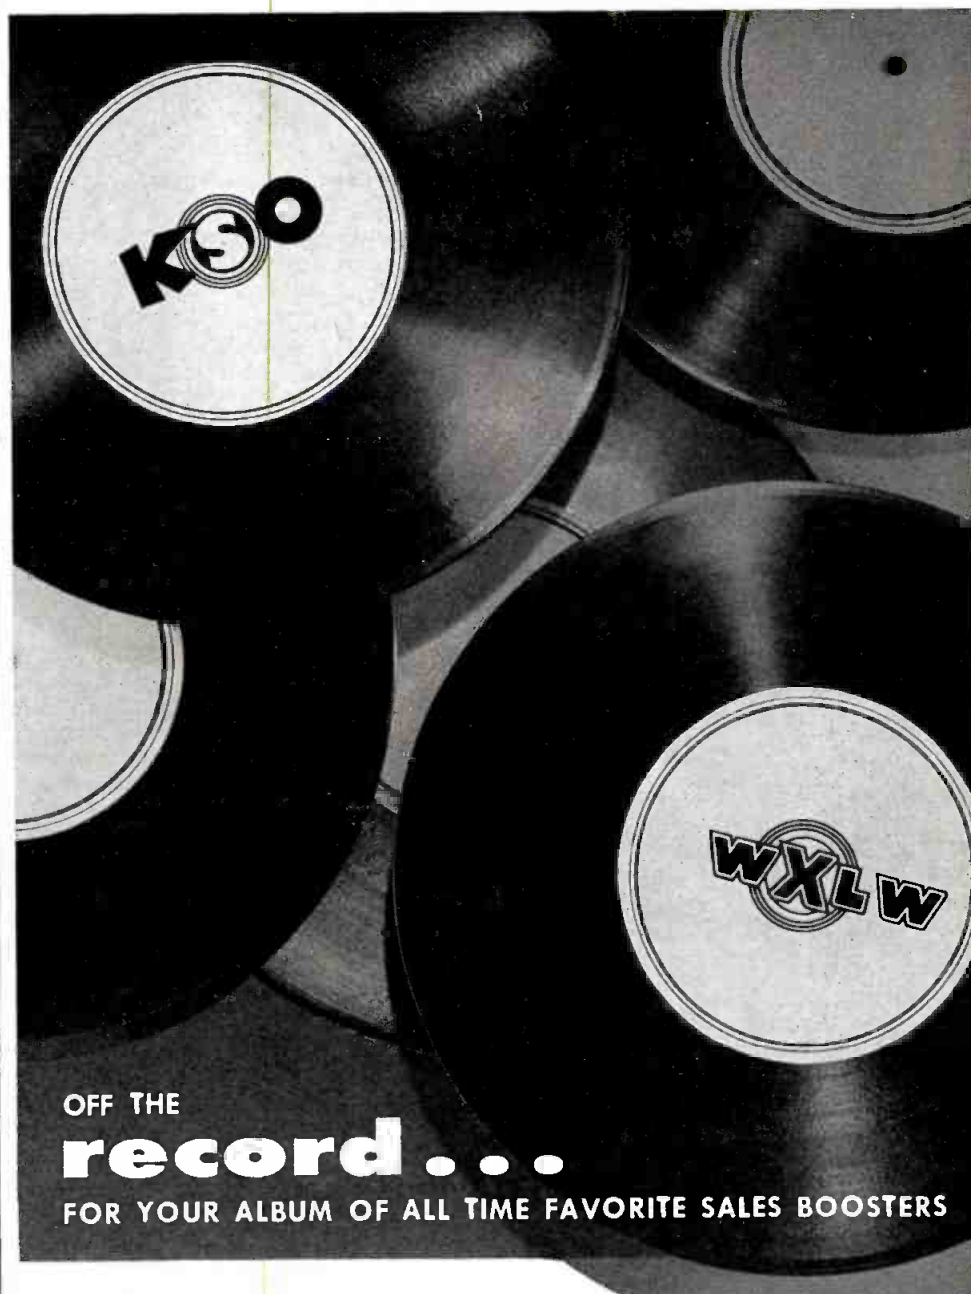

Two Educational V's Granted

TWO educational vhfs—ch. 11 in Des Moines, Iowa, and ch. 7 in Salt Lake City, Utah—were granted by the FCC last week.

The Des Moines facility went to the local Independent School District, which will spend an estimated $125,000 for construction. It will operate with 14.1 kw visual power. The U. of Utah was awarded ch. 7 for a proposed operation at 22.9 kw visual. The university plans to spend $305,000 for construction.

Court Denies KFMB-TV Protest

REQUEST of KFMB-TV San Diego, Calif., for a stay order from the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington against the FCC's approval for ABC to transmit programs to XETV (TV) Tijuana, Mexico, was denied last week. The request was argued two weeks ago, and followed a long battle by the San Diego tv station to persuade the FCC to prohibit ABC from affiliating with the Mexican station. It claimed this action was unfair competition to San Diego outlets.

FCC Approves 16 Transfers, Headed by KOOK-AM-TV-Sale

ONE of 16 ownership changes approved by the FCC last week was the $540,075 sale of KOOK-AM-TV Billings, Mont. J. Carter Johnson and associates will turn over control of the properties to Joseph S. Sample, now president-10.7% owner, who has been approved for 93.28% ownership. CBS-affiliated KOOK operates on 970 kc with 5 kw. KOOK-TV transmits on ch. 2 and is affiliated with all three networks.

Mr. Sample's father, John Glenn Sample, is buying 5.85% of the stations for $35,595. The $540,075 sum includes sale of 1,242 shares by 12 stockholders to the new licensee, Montana Network Inc. for $403,650 and deals by President Sample to pay C. L. Crist $121,800 for 406 shares and V. V. Clark $14,625 for 45 shares.

Other transactions approved included:

KOMA Oklahoma City, by KOMA Inc. to Radio Oklahoma for $291,434. Partners in Radio Oklahoma are Burton Levine, president-50% owner of WROV Roanoke, Va.; Myer Feldman, counsel to the Senate Banking & Currency Committee and vice president of Television Exhibitors of America, subscription tv film owned by Mr. Feldman's father-in-law, Lou Poller (WCAN-TV Milwaukee); Arnold S. Lerner, and Donald Rubin.

KLIN Lincoln, Neb., by Frudeger Broadcasting Co. to Fletcher-Mitchell Corp. for $190,000. Jonathan M. Fletcher, executive vice president of a Des Moines savings and loan association, owns 75%, and James I. Mitchell, executive vice president of KPIG Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is president-25% owner.

WEBK Tampa, Fla., to W. Walter Tison for $134,000. He is the former owner of WALT Tampa and was one of the original owners (20%) of WTVT (TV) Tampa which was sold to Oklahoma Pub. Co. (WKY-AM-TV Oklahoma City) last July.

WBBR Brooklyn, N. Y., to Tele-Broadcasters of New York Inc. for $133,000. Tele-Broadcasters, headed by H. Scott Killgore, two weeks ago applied for Commission approval of its $300,000 purchase of KALI Pasadena, Calif. Its other holdings are WKXL Concord, N. H.; WKXV Knoxville, Tenn.; KUDL Kansas City, Mo., and WPOP Hartford, Conn.

KARM-AM-TV Fresno, Calif., which reverts to total ownership by the Harm family as George R. Harm, son of the late founder buys 50% from Clyde F. Coombs for $50,000. Mrs. Hattie Harm, his mother, owns the other 50%.

For other ownership change see FOR THE RECORD, page 117.

10 DAY DELAY

THE FCC last week postponed to Dec. 28 the deadline for reply comments in the 14 deintermixture cases involving proposals to switch vhf channels from some intermixed cities and in some cases proposing to add another vhf channel to intermixed cities. More than 100 comments, pro and con, were filed with the FCC two weeks ago [B•T, Dec. 10]. Deadline for replies was Dec. 18. The continuance was requested by nine law firms: Arnold, Fortas & Porter; Cohn & Marks; Cottone & Scheiner; Dempsey & Koplovitz; Dow, Lohnes & Albertson; Fly, Shuebruk, Blume & Gaguine; Krieger & Jorgensen; McKenna & Wilkinson, and Welch, Mott & Morgan.

of engineering, testifying Thursday before the Joint Economic Stabilization Subcommittee, said: "People who oppose paid television say that the public bought sets and ought to see free tv programs. That's like saying that if you go to a hardware store and buy a frying pan you ought to get free pork chops."

Mr. Ridenour is director of missile research for Lockheed Aviation Corp. The joint subcommittee is studying the general area of automation and technological changes.

The witness also proposed that all color tv be shifted to uhf, where, he said, there is "space there to do a more simple job." Color tv sets are so complicated, he said, "a little technician" should go along with each one sold.

One Fresno Appeal Out, Another Still in Court

THE FCC's grant of ch. 12 to KFRE Fresno, Calif., was affirmed in one respect last week by the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington when it dismissed an appeal by ch. 47 KJEO (TV) Fresno. However, an appeal by losing applicant KARM Fresno still is awaiting court decision.

The uhf outlet claimed that the Fresno vhf grant was void because a majority of the Commission had not voted in favor. The ch. 12 grant was made in January by three commissioners for KFRE, two against making any grant in Fresno pending the outcome of deintermixture proceedings, one favoring KARM, and the seventh, Comr. Robert E. Lee, favoring KARM but voting for KFRE to break the impasse.

The unanimous court held that KJEO could not bring the vote question up in court because it had not first raised it before the Commission. The court alluded to Sect. 405 of the Communications Act which permits direct appeals by parties, but not to those not a party to an FCC proceeding. KJEO was not a party to the ch. 12 proceedings, the court said. It also dismissed other points raised by KJEO since they already had been answered in the court's Corpus Christi, Tex., decision earlier this year.

Newsman Laurence Urges FCC To Amend Beeper Regulations

JOCK LAURENCE, Washington news correspondent, has asked the FCC to amend its rules so that the "beep" signal will no longer be required when stations are taping their own news reports for later broadcast. Mr. Laurence, who represents radio stations throughout the country as their Washington correspondent, delivers news reports to them by long-distance telephone. The calls are transcribed by the stations for broadcast.

The FCC rules require that a beep tone be interspersed at intervals by the recorder of any telephone conversation. This rule is designed to protect a person from having his telephone conversation recorded without his knowledge and consent.

Mr. Laurence, in a letter to FCC Chairman George C. McConaughy, maintained that the beep should not be required where a station's reporter calls in news with full knowledge that his voice is being recorded for later broadcast.

President to Light Yule Trees All Over World by Radio Signal

WHEN President Dwight D. Eisenhower opens the Pageant of Peace in Washington this Thursday, he will address a world-wide audience and will light Christmas trees all over the world and on the seven seas simultaneously via a wireless radio signal.

The President's peace address will be carried in the U. S. by all seven major radio and television networks and by the Voice of America in 38 languages.

When the President presses the switch to light a 67-ft. Christmas tree on the Ellipse in Washington, he will, at the same time, light trees in U. S. embassies all over the world. It also will light trees aboard U. S. ships at sea through the cooperation of RCA and the American Maritime Institute, and at servicemen's bases.

Edward R. Carr, Washington businessman, is president of the Pageant of Peace; Harold Fellows, NARTB president, is honorary chairman, and Edward M. Kirby, Washington public relations consultant and former NARTB public relations director, is in charge of public relations.

Talladega Newspaper Merger Affects Am-Fm Ownership

MERGER of two Talladega, Ala., newspapers, one of which controls WHTB-AM-FM there, was disclosed in an application filed with the FCC last week seeking approval to the ownership change in the stations.

Consolidating interests are the Talladega Daily Home Publishing Co. (Talladega Daily Home) and Talladega News Publishing Co. (weekly Talladega News), the latter controlling Voice of Talladega, licensee of WHTB-AM-FM.

The new company, to be known as the Talladega Publishing Co., will provide for the issuance of 1,010 shares of common stock with a $10 par value. Cecil H. Hornady, majority stockholder-general manager of Talladega News Publishing Co., will be general manager of the merged entity. No changes in either newspaper or station staffs are contemplated, according to the companies.

U. S. Preps for World Meeting

FIRST MEETING of the executive committee, U. S. preparatory committee of the International Radio Conference, has been scheduled for Thursday in the main conference room of the Dept. of State in Washington. The meeting, under the chairmanship of Francis Colt de Wolf, will be held from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., and will be concerned with committee memberships, work programs and responsibilities of committee chairmen and members as well as other matters. The 1959 International Radio Conference, which will probably be held at Geneva, Switzerland, will review and revise the radio spectrum last reviewed in 1947 at Atlantic City, N. J.

FTC Says Singer Misrepresents

THE Federal Trade Commission last week accused the Singer Sewing Machine Co., New York, of selling used sewing machines as new. The FTC, in its complaint, said the sewing machine firm sold as new machines repossessed machines, floor samples, demonstrators and trade-ins. The government agency said that frequently the prices of these machines were the same or approximately the same as new ones. In some cases, FTC said, repossessed machines were labeled floor samples or demonstrators because the public prefers this type to repossessed equipment. A hearing was ordered in New York March 12. The company has 30 days to answer the complaint.

Emerson Denies FTC Charges

EMERSON Radio & Phonograph Corp. has denied it engages in false or misleading advertising. The radio-tv manufacturer filed its answer to an Aug. 20 complaint by the Federal Trade Commission which said Emerson advertised as a "transistor" radio one that also contained vacuum tubes. Emerson claimed that its use of the term was in accord with accepted commercial use, and that its current advertising qualifies the "transistor" term, by such nomenclature as "all-transistor" when that is correct, and as "transistor-tube" receivers for those radios which also contain electronic tubes.

Sec. 315 to Be Discussed

HAROLD FELLOWS, NARTB president, and Warren Baker, FCC general counsel, are scheduled to discuss Sec. 315 of the Communications Act and other problems involving use of radio and television in political campaigning in testimony tomorrow (Tuesday) before a special House committee which is seeking to determine how federal election laws can be improved. The special House group, headed by Rep. Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.), also will hear Paul Butler and Leonard Hall, Democratic and Republican national chairmen, respectively, during its sessions today through Wednesday.

Union's Right to Spend Funds On Political Broadcasts Argued

A UNION'S RIGHT to spend general membership funds for political broadcasts was argued before the U. S. Supreme Court in Washington last fortnight. The union is the United Automobile Workers (AFL-CIO).

Brought on appeal by the Dept. of Justice, the case involves the UAW's sponsorship of a series of tv programs on WJBK-TV Detroit advocating the election of Democratic senatorial and congressional candidates from Michigan in the 1954 election. The union paid for the broadcasts from its general treasury. A federal grand jury indicted the union for violation of the Corrupt Practices Act (which forbids a labor union or a corporation from making expenditures or contributions to help elect a candidate). Last February, the lower court judge dismissed the suit, agreeing with the union that sponsorship did not constitute "expenditure" in the meaning of the act.

In last week's Supreme Court argument, the UAW's attorney took the position that the union was stating its position on the election and not contributing to the candidacy of any nominee.

Sheppard Case Review Sought; Tv, Radio 'Exploitation' Charged

DR. SAMUEL H. SHEPPARD of Cleveland has asked the U. S. Supreme Court to reconsider its Nov. 13 action which declined to review the doctor's conviction of the 1954 murder of his wife, Marilyn [B•T, Nov. 24].

Dr. Sheppard's appeal to the high court argued that newspaper, radio and tv treatment of the murder case, both before and during the trial, "influenced" the judge and jury and prevented the doctor from receiving a fair trial. Dr. Sheppard, an osteopath, is now serving a 10-year-to-life sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary.

The reconsideration plea claimed that the court's denial of a hearing, if allowed to stand, will be exploited by publicity-seekers in sensational cases all over the country. The petition stated: "Newspapers, telecasting and broadcasting companies will point to this case as the open door to the courtroom where they can enter with impunity and approval to advance the personal interests of their companies or organizations. . . ."

McCaws File For Oregon Vhf

APPLICATION for ch. 13, La Grande, Ore., was filed with the FCC last week by Robert S. and W. Donald McCaw, as equal partners in Grande Ronde Tv Co. Messrs. McCaw propose 15.6 kw visual radiated power with antenna height of 1,934 ft. above average terrain. Costs were estimated at $67,300 for construction and $60,000 for first year operation. La Grande is in northeastern Oregon.

Robert S. McCaw owns KWIQ Moses Lake and one-third of KLOQ (formerly KYAK) Yakima and KALE Richland, all Wash. W. Donald McCaw holds no broadcast interests.

MORE MULTIPLE CAMERA TV FILMING

Battery of Nine Mitchell Cameras Photographs Edgar Bergen's TV Show

One of the most startling developments in TV film making is today's growing use of multiple camera set-ups. An outstanding example of this trend is Edgar Bergen's popular weekly TV show on CBS, The Don Fedderson Production, "Do You Trust Your Wife?" for which a battery of nine Mitchell 35mm cameras is used.

Four cameras are in simultaneous operation at all times and sound and filming is continuous for one hour before a live audience; later editing reduces footage to a half-hour show. Director Jim Morgan has made over 50 shows to date with nine Mitchell cameras used in this technique.

Similar to this production format is NBC's Groucho Marx Show, "You Bet Your Life," where eight Mitchell cameras are used.

Multiple camera work places great demands upon the cinematographers' equipment. Mitchell Cameras meet these exacting-uniform precision filming requirements as do no other cameras in existence. For information, write: Mitchell Camera Corporation, 666 West Harvard St., Glendale 4, California.

Looking into the imposing array of cameras are Edgar Bergen, Charlie McCarthy and contestants.

HEADLEY ELECTED SRA PRESIDENT

FRANK M. HEADLEY, president of H-R Representatives and H-R Television, was elected president of Station Representatives Assn. last week at an annual membership meeting which also heard officials forecast a record-setting $150 million in spot radio billings this year.

Mr. Headley succeeds Adam Young Jr., head of the firm of that name, who retires as SRA president at the end of this year after serving two terms. Mr. Young becomes a board member for 1957. His work as president drew special commendation from the SRA members.

H. Preston Peters, president of Peters, Griffin, Woodward, was re-elected vice president of the association; Eugene Katz, president of the Katz Agency, was re-elected treasurer, and Robert Meeker, president of the Meeker Co., was re-elected secretary.

Lewis H. Avery, president of Avery-Knodel; Joseph J. Weed, president of the Weed radio and tv firms and John P. Blair, president of the Blair radio and television organizations, were named board members along with Mr. Young.

The forecast of a record year for spot radio billings was made by SRA Managing Director Larry Webb, who said that "national spot radio time sales for October reached the new plateau that station representatives have been predicting"—a total of $16,004,000—and that "it is possible now to forecast with fair accuracy the total spot radio business for 1956, with two months, November and December, yet to be reported.

"SRA estimates that that figure will be $150 million, a 20% increase over the final 1955 figures."

The previous record, set in 1953, was under $135 million.

The October figure represented a 31% increase over October 1955 and a 37% gain over September 1956. The figures are compiled monthly for SRA by Price-Waterhouse Co., accounting firm. The SRA index of spot radio business for October, Mr. Webb said, was 143.2. The index is based on FCC official figures for 1954, "considered to be the most typical FCC previous year."

At the annual meeting Mr. Webb also introduced two new SRA members: Charles Bernard, whose Charles Bernard Co. joined the association a short time ago, and Richard O'Connell of Richard O'Connell Co.,

which becomes an active member Jan. 1.

Mr. Headley, SRA president-elect, has headed the H-R radio and tv firms since 1950, and before that was president of Headley-Reed Co., representation firm, from 1939 to 1950. He started his career with Standard Oil Co. in Nebraska in 1930, practiced law in Omaha in 1932-34, was an FBI special agent from 1934 to 1936, when he joined Kelly-Smith as manager of the radio division, a post he held for some three years.

Nielsen Coverage Data Topic of SRA Meetings

STATION Representatives Assn. plans meetings shortly with both the Radio Advertising Bureau and the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies in an effort to promote uniformity in interpretation of the new Nielsen Coverage Service Report No. 2.

Collaterally, SRA's research committee has prepared a strong recommendation that the so-called "SRA formula," which was developed and used in connection with NCS No. 1, again be promoted for use by advertisers and agencies in projecting local ratings to a station's full coverage area. The "SRA formula" was widely used in projecting the NCS No. 1 data, and its developers, while acknowledging that it is not perfect, point out that it has been generally accepted as "the least bad" method yet devised.

The committee's proposal to the SRA is being announced today (Monday) by SRA Managing Director Larry Webb. Discussing the recommendation, SRA retiring President Adam Young Jr. said he had every confidence "that the organization would vigorously conduct an educational campaign at all levels—station, advertiser, and agency—to insure proper and continued recognition of radio as a potent sales force." He said it was his opinion that the new Nielsen data, interpreted correctly, prove there are many sound reasons for even wider use of radio as an advertising medium.

The SRA formula is a mathematical device which makes it possible to establish a "base" on which a program's local rating may be projected to get the program's rating for the full coverage area of the station. In simplified terms, the home-county NCS percentage is divided into the total-area NCS, and the local rating of a program is then projected against the result to get the total-area rating.

The SRA research committee is headed by William Crumley, director of research for Adam Young Inc. Other committee members at the meeting on NCS No. 2 included Daniel Denenholz, The Katz Agency; Ward Dorrell, John Blair & Co.; Avery Gibson, H-R Representatives; John Hurlbut, Peters, Griffin, Woodward; and Winnie Schaeffer, Weed & Co.

Only STEEL can do so many jobs so well

They Call It "Curling." Scottish soldiers introduced this game in Quebec, just before the Revolutionary War. The 40-pound granite stones are slid down a 140-foot sheet of ice, frequently with a "curling motion" that curves them around other stones. In the picture, members of the New Liskeard Curling Club, Ontario, sweep the ice ahead of the oncoming stone. Miles of USS National Pipe lie beneath many of the rinks, carrying the brine that freezes the ice.

Trailers That Won't Wear Out. It's true. No trailer made from Stainless Steel has ever been known to wear out, because Stainless is far stronger than other metals, and it will not corrode and weaken. The great strength of Stainless allows compact design. The trailer shown here, for example, has sides made from thin sheets of Stainless Steel, corrugated into walls that are only one inch thick. Consequently, it can carry much more cargo than ordinary trailers.

NARTB Group Outlines '57 Convention Agenda

BROADCASTERS and members of the FCC will hold their annual question-answer session at the Wednesday (April 10) morning session of the April 7-11, 1957, NARTB convention in Chicago. The FCC program and other events scheduled for the industry's spring convention were reviewed Wednesday by the association's convention committee, which met at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, site of the 1957 meeting.

Commission participation will include the annual address by Chairman George C. McConaughy. This event is scheduled for the Tuesday luncheon.

Co-chairmen of the convention committee are Herbert L. Krueger, WTAG Worcester, Mass., and Kenneth L. Carter, WAAM (TV) Baltimore. They are respective chairmen of the NARTB Radio and Tv Boards. At the Wednesday meeting they went over the 1957 program in detail.

Everett Revercomb, NARTB secretary-treasurer, reported on overall convention programming, including plans for the annual equipment and service exhibits. The annual reception prior to the banquet will be tendered by tv film producers. The banquet is scheduled Tuesday evening instead of Thursday, final convention day.

Sunday, April 7, will include non-agenda events and opening of the exhibits at noon. The exhibits will be open 9 a.m.-6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, closing Thursday at 2 p.m.

Engineering Conference Monday

The annual engineering conference will be held Monday. Non-agenda events also are scheduled during the day, plus a Monday noon engineering reception and luncheon. A management fm clinic is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Monday, followed by a labor relations clinic at 3:30 p.m. for both radio and tv delegates.

Tuesday the engineers will join the opening management session at which the keynote speaker will be heard. A subcommittee of the convention committee discussed keynote problems last week at Chicago, reporting to the full committee. The Tuesday program includes the FCC chairman's luncheon address, with engineers going back to their own auditorium in the afternoon while separate radio and tv management sessions are held.

Engineers join management again Wednesday morning for the FCC panel and again at lunch where NARTB President Harold E. Fellows will deliver his annual report to the membership. Wednesday afternoon will feature a radio-only management program. The Radio Pioneers dinner will be held that night.

Thursday, final convention day, will feature concurrent radio and tv meetings in the morning, with engineers having their own program. The afternoon management session will be tv-only, including election of tv board members. This election has been held Monday afternoon at recent conventions.

Attending last week's committee meeting were Gaines Kelley, WFMY-TV Greensboro, N. C.; E. K. Hartenbower, KCMO

Nine U. S. Disc Jockeys Make Fact-Finding Trip to Vienna

FIRST MAJOR TEST of effectiveness of the newly-established National Council of Disc Jockeys for Public Service will follow a week-long, fact-finding trip to Vienna and back which began yesterday (Sunday). Nine U. S. disc jockeys, all directors of the council, were flown over under the auspices of CARE and the International Committee on Emigrant Migration on a non-scheduled airliner to survey at first-hand refugee conditions in Austria.

Following their return to the U. S. next weekend, the disc jockeys plan to make a report on their trip to President Eisenhower, after which they will take to the air along with 1,500 other disc jockeys to enlist the aid of U. S. teenagers in supporting CARE and other organizations working for the relocation, clothing and feeding of homeless Hungarians. Murray Kaufman of WMCA New York, the council's president, noted the trip presented "tremendous possibilities to show that the teenager, when put to a useful cause, can be an asset to the community."

Radio's Rebirth Spotlighted By Podester in RTES Seminar

"EVERYBODY is talking about radio again and a great many more advertisers seem to be buying it again," according to Jane Podester, timebuyer of McCann-Erickson, New York.

Addressing the time buying-selling seminar of the Radio & Television Executives Society in New York last Tuesday, Miss Podester reviewed the use of ratings in placing radio, tv spot and film campaigns on broadcast stations. After showing the merits and weak points in tv buying techniques,

ELECTION PROCEDURE

NEW election procedure for the NARTB Radio Board has been written into the by-laws under an amendment voted by the membership, 1,004 to 14. The by-laws now specify that, following custom, eight even-numbered districts will elect in even years and nine odd-numbered districts in odd years. Terms will be for two years. Of eight directors-at-large to be elected in early 1957, one each for large, medium, small and fm categories will be one-year terms and the remainder will be two-year terms. This procedure is based on the recent restoration of at-large directors by membership vote.

"Anyone buying a radio campaign a few years ago, with a few very rare exceptions, could have his pick of spots and virtually was knee-deep in special packages, saturation plans and what-have-you (polite term for rate-cutting)," she said. "Today the situation seems to be a little changed and in some cases we are faced with the phenomenon of the sold-out radio station. . . .

"Today anyone buying just two radio spots a week in any market would be looked upon as peculiar, to say the least. Almost all radio campaigns now revolve about some form of multiple exposure or the idea of saturation."

Broadcasters-Telecasters Assn. Formed by Florida UP Stations

THE Florida United Press Broadcasters-Telecasters Assn. was organized a fortnight ago at a meeting of station managers and news directors at Orlando, Fla.

Named to the association's board of directors were Don Brookins, WDLP Panama City; William McBride, WDBO Orlando; James Gilleland, WGBS Miami; William Grove, WMBR-TV Jacksonville; Richard John, WTVT (TV) Tampa, and Ralph Renick, WTVJ (TV) Miami.

Charles E. Noland, manager of UP's Tampa bureau, will be secretary of the association. The group will meet again next April and elect officers.

FCBA Sets Annual Meet Jan. 11

ANNUAL meeting of the Federal Communications Bar Assn. to elect officers and transact other business is scheduled to be held Jan. 11, 1957, at the Sheraton Park Hotel, Washington. The meeting is to be followed by the annual banquet that night at the same place. George O. Sutton is the retiring president. Other officers are George S. Smith, first vice president; William C. Koplovitz, second vice president; Verne R. Young, secretary; Norman E. Jorgensen, assistant secretary; Howard J. Schellenberg, Jr., treasurer. Executive committee members comprise the officers, ex officio, and Donald C. Beelar, Robert M. Booth Jr., Jeremiah Courtney, Henry G. Fischer, W. Theodore Pierson and Thomas W. Wilson.

New Closed-Circuit Firm Names Judge Sales V.P.

TOM W. JUDGE, eastern sales manager of CBS Spot Sales, has resigned to become vice president in charge of sales for the newly - organized Closed - Circuit Telecasting System Inc., New York [B•T, Dec. 10]. Mr. Judge's appointment, announced last week by CCTS President Fanshawe Lindsley, is effective Jan. 1.

MR. JUDGE

Mr. Judge, formerly with the retail sales staff of Life magazine, thus will renew his association with Mr. Lindsley, former Fortune magazine advertising executive, after a six-year interval. Mr. Judge in 1951 joined CBS as an account executive in the New York office, becoming, in June 1955, midwestern manager of Spot Sales, and a year later, eastern manager.

CCTS plans to be the first operation of its kind to schedule coast-to-coast, big-screen, closed-circuit color tv.

UP Prepares Yearend Scripts

A SERIES of eight special yearend scripts has been prepared by United Press for its radio-tv station clients, covering nearly "every facet of this historic year," the news service announced last week. All scripts are designed for 15-minute programs, and cover such highlights (chosen on the basis of a national poll conducted by UP among its subscribers) as the Grace Kelly wedding, the Eisenhower landslide, the Balkan powderkeg's explosion, in addition to news stories from the world of sports, women, and humor. The Eisenhower, Kelly and Hungarian-Polish scripts are broken down into Man of the Year, Women of the Year, and Story of the Year.

'Music from Germany' Feature Carried by 18 U. S. Stations

WEEKLY series of imported radio programs, Music from Germany, sponsored by the Assn. of German Broadcasters is being heard on six U. S. commercial "good music" stations and on 12 collegiate outlets.

The programs, composed of original German broadcast tapes interspaced with interviews and commentaries by David Berger, a naturalized American of German descent (and a former Voice of America newscaster), are flown weekly from Bonn to the U. S. through the Roy-Bernard Co., a New York public relations firm. The shows are placed on WQXR New York, WGMS Washington, WCRB (FM) Boston, WFMT (FM) Chicago, KEAR-FM San Francisco and KIXL Dallas. They also are made available as a public service to various members of the intercollegiate broadcasting system.

According to spokesmen for the association, Mr. Berger has not only "sold" an enormous amount of good will, but also has aided the cause of the German phonograph record industry, contributing to the rise in U. S. business in Telefunken, Deutsche Gramafon and Polydor records.

United Press Dramatic Show Highlights Role of Newsmen

UNITED PRESS Radio will distribute to its client stations, on a complimentary basis, a recorded 30-minute dramatic round-up of the role of the newsmen covering top news stories of 1956, it was announced last week by UP Radio News Manager John J. Madigan.

The program, which may be aired commercially or sustaining by the local stations, was produced for UP by Sherman H. Dryer Productions, New York. It highlights such stories as the Hungarian uprising, the invasion of Egypt, the sinking of the Andrea Doria, the landslide victory of President Eisenhower and the Democratic congressional victory.

More Than 40 Buy Welk

RCA Recorded Program Services, N. Y., last week announced the sale of the RCA Thesaurus' New Lawrence Welk Show to more than 40 radio stations, with sponsorship in about half of the market by Dodge-Plymouth dealers. The Dodge-Plymouth Div. of Chrysler Corp. sponsors Lawrence Welk on ABC-TV.

SESAC Offers 3 New Programs

THREE new programs will be sent monthly to subscriber stations effective Jan. 1 by SESAC Library Script Service, SESAC Inc. announced last week. The shows are Rendezvous With Maltby, Magic Holiday and Tuneup Topics, all musical shows. The first two are 30-minute programs and Topics is a 15-minute woman's show that presents hints on foods preparation and housekeeping as well as music.

Imagination by the Bucketful!

Whitey Fisher's the County Farm Agent in these parts. Takes his job so seriously that lots of folks can't resist playing jokes on him.

For instance, one old dairy farmer casually reported he was getting 8 buckets of milk for every 6 he used to get!

Whitey got quite excited—wanted to know if the old fellow had hit on some revolutionary new feed formula. Nope. Had he bought new high-priced cows, then? Nope. New milking equipment, maybe? "Wrong again, young fellow—just usin' smaller buckets."

From where I sit, Whitey's a little too willing to believe anything and everything for his own good. Reminds me of how a lot of people are all too ready to believe that having a glass of beer now and then is "wrong"—just because they heard someone say so. Examine the facts carefully, then make up your own mind, I say. Don't let anybody "cow" you into being intolerant.

Compatible Color Camera System In Commercial Production at RCA

RCA last week announced it has begun commercial production of the first compatible color television camera system specifically designed for medical use.

According to E. C. Tracy, manager of the RCA broadcast and television equipment department, the medical camera is "engineered for completely remote operation and maximum efficiency," and is expected to be used in hospitals and medical centers, colleges and universities and research institutions for origination of live closed-circuit or on-air colorcasts of surgical, medical and educational instruction and demonstrations.

Deliveries of the medical tv camera, Mr. Tracy said, are scheduled to get underway this month, with the first units going to Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington; Smith, Kline & French Labs, Philadelphia, and the U. of Michigan Medical School, Ann Arbor. Other orders are being accepted for spring delivery.

The new camera is designed around three vidicon camera tubes and special electronic circuitry which, Mr. Tracy claimed, "makes possible televising surgical procedures in full-color detail under normal operating-room lighting." It measures 26 by 15 by 14 inches, weighs less than 200 pounds and is designed for permanent installation in an overhead fixture which supports both camera and surgical lamp.

New Line of Portable Tv Sets Introduced by Sylvania at Meet

A LINE of tv portables using a new 110-degree picture tube (17-inch screen size) was introduced Thursday by Sylvania Electric products at a western regional meeting of distributors at Phoenix.

Depth of the portable, housed in a steel cabinet, is only 13½ inches, according to Sylvania, which saw in the set's introduction "the start of an era that eventually will mean flat, picture-frame type television sets that will hang from the wall." Conventional picture tubes are 90 degrees.

The portables weigh less than 34 pounds and are retailing at suggested prices ranging from $139.95 to $169.95.

Zenith Unveils 22 New Tv Sets

LINE of 22 new tv receivers, including 17-inch and other portable models, was unveiled by Zenith Radio Corp. last week at a mid-winter distributors meeting in Chicago.

At the same time, L. C. Truesdell, vice president and sales director, cautioned distributors there is no room in today's selective buyer's market for "no profit, price-tag selling." He described "heads up" merchandising and clear emphasis on quality, features and value as keys to profits for radio-tv dealers-distributors in 1957.

The company's new portables offer 149 square inches of rectangular viewing area compared to a maximum of 104 (14-inch) in others now on the market, it was explained. Line also includes 14-inch sets as well as 21-inch table, console and "lo-boy" tv phonograph models.

Mr. Truesdell reviewed a program of merchandising techniques designed for local dealers, including a "companion selling" method discarding single-item emphasis.

MANUFACTURING PEOPLE

Harold S. Geneen, executive vice president of Raytheon Mfg. Co., Waltham, Mass., elected director of firm.

Philip J. Wood, formerly assistant to vice president in charge of radio-tv sales, Zenith Radio Corp., appointed sales manager of radios and phonographs.

L. H. Josefson, Telex Labs, St. Paul, Minn., named general sales manager of industrial electronics division.

Herbert Metz, 64, retired director, district manager and member of the executive committee, Graybar Electric Co., died Dec. 4 after brief illness.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, U. S. Army (Ret.), member of executive committee of ORRadio Industries Inc., died at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington on Dec. 2.

MANUFACTURING SHORTS

RCA has reported shipments of two section supertunstile antenna to KVV (TV) Santa Fe and 6-kw transmitter to WJBK-TV Detroit. Firm's Semiconductor Div., Harrison, N. J., announced availability of junction transistor of germanium p-n-p alloy type (RCA-2N206), intended for use in audio-frequency amplifier applications.

Motorola Inc., Chicago, announces establishment of Otto Graham Sportsmanship Award championship trophy, to be presented annually to winning team in Chicago Parks' football school and "small fry" league in which 3,000 boys (ages 12-13) participate.

Sylvania Electric Products Inc., Radio-Tv Div., has completed transfer of its headquarters from Buffalo to Sylvania's 433,000-sq. ft. tv plant in Batavia, N. Y.

RCA is offering illustrated guidebook to its broadcast equipment and systems for both color and black-and-white closed circuit tv service in medical, educational, industrial and business fields. Booklet is entitled RCA High-Fidelity Television and is available on letterhead request from Department Tv-1056, Building 15-1, Radio Corp. of America, Camden, N. J.

Allen B. DuMont Labs reported last week that KELO-TV Sioux Falls, S. D., has ordered complete DuMont MultiScanner system to originate color film and color slides. Also reports that Signal Productions will use DuMont Electronicam film system to take advantage of new policy of leasing equipment for use in producer's own studio. Signal's first shooting with Electronicam is series of Kelvinator commercials for Geyer Adv., New York.

RFE To Get 'Clean Bill' On Hungary Broadcasts

THE West German government, which is investigating the $10 million broadcast activities of Radio Free Europe following the public controversy that arose out of RFE's alleged "inflammable" broadcasts to Hungary, reportedly will give the agency a clean bill of health after the first of the year.

A German diplomatic source told B•T last week that an investigation conducted by the foreign office in Bonn so far had not come up with any broadcast tape or script that would lend credence to the charges made and that "the Hungarians probably heard more than was actually said."

The representative of the Deutsches Bundesrepublik, who had just returned from Germany, added that the foreign office is deferring its official pronouncement until after the holidays.

RFE, which maintains its principal European offices and studios in Munich (with transmitter sites in Bavaria and Lisbon, Portugal), operates on a government license even though it is an unofficial agency. Consequently, after the West German press began attacking the existence of RFE, the sources indicated, the foreign office had no other resource but to call in and review more than 250 hours of air check tape recordings made during the first week of the Hungarian resurrection.

The German government, in light of its goal of seeing a united East and West Germany (in addition to the existence of diplomatic relations between Bonn and Moscow), is particularly sensitive to the stationing in its country of a propaganda organization. One of the heaviest attacks on RFE launched during the past fortnight was made by Anna Kethly, a Hungarian Social Democratic leader who fled to the West during the Soviet attack on Budapest last month. She has charged that RFE hindered, rather than helped, the rebel cause by promising intervention by the West. In Munich, RFE's director, Richard J. Condon, said that RFE announcers and commentators might have been, "at worst," over-emotional.

RFE Charges Again Denied; This Time by Griffith in N. Y.

CHARGES that Radio Free Europe incited Polish and Hungarian revolts or held out false promises of western aid to them were again denied—this time by William E. Griffith, policy advisor to RFE in Munich, in a speech in New York last Thursday at a Crusade for Freedom luncheon.

The fact that they are still resisting, long after it became apparent that such aid would not be forthcoming, is itself proof that the charges not only are untrue but also are an "insult to the countries' valor," Mr. Griffith said.

Eugene Holman, Standard Oil of New Jersey board chairman who also is chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, presided at the luncheon. He paid tribute to the communications media for their support in the Crusade's last fund-raising drive and asked for their backing again in the campaign which opens in February.

Radio Free Berlin Postpones Commercial Tv Introduction

RADIO FREE BERLIN (West Berlin) postponed inauguration of commercial television, which had been scheduled for Nov. 15.

Latest word is that a commercial segment in the otherwise non-commercial tv schedule of Free Berlin is to be introduced this month. Radio Free Berlin plans to take commercial programs from Bavarian Radio, Munich, the first West German station using the mixed commercial-non commercial formula.

Commercial segments will be on the air in Berlin daily at 7:15 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. Commercial programs will be moved to the 7-7:25 p.m. slot by April 1, 1957, when Radio Free Berlin will introduce a daily local program.

U. S. Armed Forces to Launch Two Tv Stations in Germany

U. S. ARMED FORCES will launch two television stations in Germany on Jan. 1. Plans call for a limited coverage area and operation in uhf bands.

After 36 months of negotiations and planning, the West Germany Postal Authorities granted a license which is subject to cancellation at any time. Legal basis for operation of the two tvs is the Paris Treaty, which regulates West Germany's military relations to NATO members.

Radius of the expected coverage area for each of the two stations is estimated at about six to seven miles.

Industry Leaders Back RFE After German Tour

THREE American broadcasters and a Washington radio-tv lawyer—just returned from an inspection tour of Radio Free Europe installations in Germany—have declared their disbelief of charges that RFE broadcasts incited Hungarians to revolt against Soviet rule.

The broadcasters expressed their views during a taped interview Nov. 22 with RFE officials in Munich, Germany, on how U. S. broadcasters can cooperate in publicizing the Crusade for Freedom's RFE broadcasts and appeals for contributions in the U. S. The executives exchanged views with RFE officials and suggested methods by which American radio-tv stations can show the U. S. public how RFE operates and what it accomplishes in furthering official government policies abroad.

Mr. Reinsch brought the subject around to the criticism of RFE broadcasts, saying: "After observing the methods of operation and listening to the editorial discussions, I think that all of us are convinced that all of these [critical] editorial opinions were rather hastily drawn on the basis of incorrect assumptions and, I, for one, would be willing to endorse the RFE operation as against the criticism which . . . works right into the hands of the Communists. . . ."

Reactions of Others

Mr. O'Bryan said he "heartily agreed" with Mr. Reinsch and thought it unfortunate that more representatives of newspapers and radio-tv stations in the U. S. could not visit the RFE installations.

Mr. Fetzer described how he had read "one of the earlier directives . . . to the studios in Radio Free Europe in which particular pains through the text of this directive indicated that at no time through the course of any broadcast should anyone even remotely incite the people to any kind of revolutionary action. . . ." This, Mr. Fetzer added, has been a long-standing policy with RFE. "The scripts that I have looked at to date and the contacts that I have had to date do not indicate in the slightest to me that there is one vestige of truth in the assumptions and the speculations that have been going on lately. I think [that] to promulgate this type of thinking is playing directly into the hands of the Soviet Union."

RFE officials said they are sorely in need of refugees and others experienced in broadcasting, who speak fluent native Hungarian, for broadcasts into that country. RFE, it was explained, makes its broadcasts as if they were emanating from inside the country itself, unlike the Voice of America, which acknowledges that broadcasts are originating from outside the Iron Curtain.

The U. S. broadcasters expressed concern at how criticism of RFE might affect the organization's "dedicated men and women."

Round-the-Clock Tv for Brazil Expected Within Two Months

WITHIN the next two months, Brazil will have continuous round-the-clock television, according to Al Neto, Brazilian radio-tv news commentator, who has spent the past four months in the U. S. on business.

Mr. Neto, who is returning to Brazil shortly, expressed the view that television in Rio de Janeiro and other leading cities will be on a 24-hour basis, even though the medium currently operates a few hours in the morning and afternoon and for longer periods at night. He lists news, sports, variety and dramatic programs, in that order, as the most popular in Brazil.

There are about a million tv sets in the country, according to Mr. Neto, and service is provided by five tv stations. He said sets average "several hundred dollars." Much of the viewing, he said, is done at tv clubs where people assemble nightly to watch television.

"Up until now," Mr. Neto continued, "Brazilian tv has developed along commercial lines, following U. S. patterns. In fact, we show U. S. films with Portuguese subtitles. We have no educational tv."

Scottish Tv Plans Aug. Start

BRITAIN's fifth commercial tv station, the Scottish station of Independent Television Authority, plans to begin regular programming Aug. 31, 1957, according to James M. Coltart, managing director of Scottish Television Ltd., program contractor which will supply all programs for the new station. This is a departure from the procedure followed at the other four ITA stations, where programming is divided between two contractors. Located between Edinburgh and Glasgow, the new ITA station will serve the most thickly populated part of Scotland, with 500,000 sets anticipated for the area on the opening date of the station.

Hamilton Watch Honors Three in Broadcasting

CBS newscaster Doug Edwards (Douglas Edwards and The News, Mon.-Fri., 7:15-7:30 p.m. EST) has been cited by the Hamilton Watch Co., Lancaster, Pa., for his "objective and dramatic presentation of the news of the world." Mr. Edwards, along with Irv Kupcinet of WBBM-TV Chicago and Patty Cavin of WRC-AM-TV Washington, were honored with the Hamilton Time Award for having given "meritorious service beyond the cause of mere reporting." Each won a plaque and a Hamilton watch at a special presentation in New York, Dec. 6.

Miss Cavin and the Messrs. Edwards and Kupcinet were picked as the winners by a panel of seven newspaper men and women. The panel, headed by Null Adams, city editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, was comprised of Eugene Dickhuth, financial writer, New York Herald-Tribune; Willard C. Haselbush, city editor, Denver Post; Harry McCormick, reporter, Dallas Morning News; Ruth Mugglebee, women's page editor, Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser; Paul Tiblier, managing editor, Jackson (Miss.) State Times, and Andrew J. Viglietta, Washington correspondent, the Samuel I. Newhouse papers.

This is the first year the Hamilton Watch Co. has presented this award, established to honor television and radio commentators for distinguished local community service. Miss Cavin was cited for her work in the Washington area in the line of social work, and Mr. Kupcinet for his efforts on behalf of U. S. Army veterans.

WLFA, WMGA, WRBL-TV Get Georgia Farm Bureau Awards

THREE Georgia stations have received awards from the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation for "outstanding service to agriculture." Winners of the federation's second annual news media awards were WLFA LaFayette (for stations with 5 kw or over), WMGA Moultrie (under 5 kw) and WRBL-TV Columbus.

A silver trophy was presented each winner by the A&P Food Stores, co-sponsor with the Farm Bureau. Newspaper winners were the Atlanta Journal and Constitution (over 20,000 circulation), Waycross Journal (under 20,000) and Nashville (Georgia) Journal (weekly).

Revolts in Hungary, Poland Voted Year's Top News Story

THE freedom revolts in Hungary and Poland have been voted "the outstanding news story of the year" in the annual poll by United Press of radio and television news editors throughout the country. Ballots were returned by 340 clients of UP Radio in virtually every state in the U. S.

President Eisenhower led the balloting as "Man of the Year," followed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld. Princess Grace of Monaco dominated the voting for "Woman of the Year," followed by Autherine Lucy, the Negro college student involved in the integration dispute at the U. of Alabama, and by Mrs. Eisenhower. Other outstanding news stories cited in the poll (in order) were the Middle East crisis, the Andrea Doria-Stockholm collision and the Eisenhower election.

The results of the poll form the basis for three special year-end scripts, which will be made available to all clients of UP radio—"Story of the Year," "Man of the Year" and "Woman of the Year."

Baltimore Club to Honor Murrow

THE ADVERTISING CLUB of Baltimore will honor CBS newsman Edward R. Murrow, whom it has designated as the "outstanding television personality of 1956," at the club's annual banquet Feb. 2 in Baltimore.

Special tribute will be paid Mr. Murrow for his tv reports from trouble centers around the world, for his radio programs, his writings and recordings, according to S. Lawrence Hammerman, banquet chairman for the past 30 years. Mr. Murrow will be presented a plaque by Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Peabody Deadline Jan. 10

WITH a Jan. 10 deadline, several entries already have been received for the 1956 George Foster Peabody Radio & Television Awards by the Henry W. Grady School of Journalism of Georgia U., which administers the awards with a national advisory board. Awards will be made in six categories. Bennett Cerf, president of Random House Inc., is chairman of the Peabody board.

Blaw-Knox to Award Employees

BLAW-KNOX Co., Pittsburgh, has instituted a system of awards to employees for all patent applications filed in an employee's name. W. Cordes Snyder Jr., Blaw-Knox president, said the new policy was adopted to stimulate new developments and improvements in the company's operations, products and services to industry.

The first award of $100 was made to George Anaston, engineer who designed a collapsible cross-arm for transmission towers.

Ohio Teachers Present Awards To Network Radio, Tv Sponsors

SPONSORS of one radio and two television network programs have received awards from the public school teachers of Ohio in recognition of the educational quality of the programs. The awards were announced at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Ohio Education Assn., held a fortnight ago at Cincinnati.

General Motors Corp. was presented an award in the tv adult division for Wide Wide World. In the tv children's division, an award for Disneyland was presented American Dairy Assn., Chicago; American Motors Corp., Detroit; Derby Foods Inc., Chicago, and Swift & Co., Chicago. In the radio adult division, Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, received an award for Voice of Firestone.

Additional awards were made to a radio and a tv station in Ohio for public service programs in behalf of public education: WLWC (TV) Columbus for its 1956 "Back to School Week," and WFOB Fostoria, for development of a new quiz program, The I. Q. League.

AWARDS

Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver Jr., former NBC board chairman and board member of American Heart Assn., cited with AMA Award of Merit for his work during past three years as chairman of association's Public Relations Advisory Committee.

CBS Radio received National Veteran's Day Certificate of Meritorious Service for its support.

WRCA-TV New York's Open Mind series and its producer-moderator, Richard D. Heffner, were honored by Anti-defamation League of B'nai B'rith "in recognition of contributions to inter-group understanding and better relations." Mr. Heffner was cited for "an awareness of human problems, unbounded by race, creed or national origin."

EDUCATION

Educational Center Grants Six $21,358 for Viewer Research

SIX UNIVERSITIES have been awarded grants-in-aid totaling $21,358 by the Educational Television & Radio Center, Ann Arbor, Mich., for studies of educational tv viewership, center President H. K. Newburn has announced. Receiving the grants were Stanford U., $3,750; U. of Houston, $4,250; Michigan State U., $4,000; U. of Wisconsin, $3,385; U. of Oregon, $2,000, and U. of Nebraska, $4,000.

The research will be coordinated by Dr. Ryland Grary, director of education for the center. He pointed out that the center is not a research agency and that its primary task is to provide program services to the 22 affiliated educational tv stations. "Knowledge of the educational tv viewer will help the center do a better job in building programs for use on the educational stations of the nation," he said.

Grants-in-Aid Funds Offered For Educational Tv Workshops

REMINDER that members of the National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters may obtain from $1,000 to $3,000 in grants-in-aid funds to conduct educational tv workshops has been sent out by NAEB, Urbana, Ill. Funds are made available by a grant from the Ford Foundation "to educational institutions which sponsor educational television workshops for selected persons in order that the quality of workshop personnel may be ungraded" and are supplementary to local funds.

Applications for grants should be presented in letters (five copies) mailed to the executive director, Dr. Harry J. Skornia, at NAEB headquarters, 14 Gregory Hall, Urbana, Ill.

WCET (TV) Receives $66,000

WCET (TV) Cincinnati, Ohio, educational station, has been given an additional grant of $66,000 by the Ford Foundation's Fund for Adult Education. Added to the $34,000 for a kinescope, made earlier this year, the fund now has granted WCET a total of $100,000 during 1956.

The FAE grant is based on matching funds and assets in the amount of $200,000 which initially were raised by the Greater Cincinnati Community for construction and operation of the station. It is the policy of the fund to grant one dollar for two.

BETTER BALANCED MUSIC PROGRAMMING

Bill Wells, Gen. Mgr. of KHBM, Monticello,
Arkansas writes:

"It takes balanced programming to reach radio's increasing audience. The top pops alone won't do it. It takes much more, and KHBM's SESAC Library is a great help.

"We have and use all sections of our SESAC Library."

The SESAC Transcribed Library in spectacular sound costs as little as $1.50 a day for the complete library . . . or . . . may now be leased in sections at most nominal costs.

You, too, will definitely find it possible to obtain better balanced, top quality programming at low cost with the SESAC Transcribed Library.

Write today for audition discs.

What Do You Do When You Buy Christmas Seals

This is an actual photograph taken in a tuberculosis hospital . . . of two sisters, aged 3 and 4.

They are orphans. They both have tuberculosis. They caught it from their mother who died of TB.

When you buy Christmas Seals you do two things: You help prevent TB . . . and you help research find better ways of treating patients like this.

This will be the fiftieth year that Christmas Seal funds will work year round on this double-barreled job of help and protection. To help them work harder, send in your contribution, today.

CBS-TV Rules Against Newsman Taking M.C. Role on Quiz Show

CBS-TV last week denied one of its news correspondents, Walter Cronkite, permission to act as the m.c. of a new Goodson-Todman quiz show, Nothing But The Truth, which premieres tomorrow (Tuesday) at 9 p.m. on CBS-TV.

Mr. Cronkite, who some years ago substituted for Ed Murrow's Person to Person with a news panel quiz, It's News To Me, had been approached by the Goodson-Todman office earlier in the month to take over the role of moderator, a proposition that now has been aborted by the CBS ruling. Although it has not adhered to a set "policy," CBS has regarded news and commercials to be incompatible. In commenting on the role of Mr. Murrow on Person to Person (also CBS-TV) and of Mr. Cronkite's role as his summer replacement, CBS News and Public Affairs Vice President Sig Mickelson pointed out that both shows were "hybrid shows . . . presented not wholly for purposes of entertainment." Bud Collyer was named Tuesday as the m.c.

Tibbett Record Show Slated Thrice Weekly Via Mutual

OPERA and Broadway singing star Lawrence Tibbett has been signed by Mutual for a new disc jockey series, to be heard Tuesday-Friday at 10:05-12 midnight, Saturdays from 2:05-4 p.m. and on two special occasions, Christmas and New Year's Eves from 10:05-12 midnight [AT DEADLINE, Dec. 10].

Titled, Lawrence Tibbett Presents, the series will start tomorrow (Tuesday) evening and plans a 15-minute "break" at 11 p.m. to allow for the news commentaries of Virgil Pinkley. Mr. Tibbett went on record last week as saying he will dispense nothing but "good music," be it popular, semi-classical or highbrow.

A Bunch of 'Cats' Had a Session

LION met lion earlier this month as WNHC-TV New Haven, Conn., which recently signed for the MGM library of motion pictures for tv showing, dispatched one of its employees to cover the ch. 8 area dressed in a lion's costume. The "lion" distributed promotion cards and toy lions to advertisers, agencies and department store shoppers. He also came face to face with the local Lions Club, which invited its unorthodox brother under the fur to join members at lunch.

Carries British Propaganda Film

WPIX (TV) New York reports it was the first station in the world to carry a 19-minute propaganda film produced by the British Information Service and which attempts to justify the British move in the Suez. Titled, Suez in Perspective, the film tells the story leading up to the Anglo-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt and supplements it with actual reconnaissance photographs shot during and after the battle. BIS will make prints of the film available to all British embassies and information services, it was announced in New York.

GEORGE THOMAS, WTOB Winston-Salem, N. C., news director, interviews a leader of the Ku Klux Klan at a meeting of the Klan near Greensboro, N. C. WTOB recorded the entire meeting, which was carried on CBS' News of America the following day.

Heart Fund Shows Produced

RCA Thesaurus has produced two special 15-minute recorded programs featuring Lawrence Welk as m.c. for distribution to subscribers in February during the 1957 Heart Fund campaign. The programs, which will be devoted entirely to the campaign, will include appearances by Eddie Cantor, Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Grace Kelly and Perry Como. RCA Thesaurus produces and distributes the half-hour New Lawrence Welk Show.

KOA Celebrates Anniversary

A SERIES of special events was carried by KOA Denver last week to mark its 32nd anniversary of operation (Dec. 15). As part of its programming for two days, the station ran "KOA Radio Was There," feature stories about the events it had covered through the years. Among accomplishments cited by KOA were the first broadcast from atop Pike's Peak in 1932, War Bond rallies, annual National Western Stock Show, school commencement exercises and participations in fund-raising drives to build hospitals. As highlight of the week's observance the station asked listeners to write, in 25 words or less, what KOA Radio has "meant" to them, with 32 winners receiving turkeys as prizes. The station also donated turkeys or door prizes for various clubs during the week.

Several million U. S. families and businesses get their electricity from federal government electric systems like the TVA. And your taxes help pay their electric bills! Here's how:

About 23¢ of every dollar you pay for electricity from your independent electric light and power company goes for taxes. But because of present tax laws, people who get electricity from government plants escape paying most of the taxes in their electric bills that you pay in yours. They pay taxes of only about 4¢ per dollar if their power comes from the government's TVA, for example. So to make up for the lost tax revenues which federal power projects don't pay, you have to be taxed more.

Don't you think something ought to be done about this unfair tax favoritism? *America's Independent Electric Light and Power Companies.

"Meet the Artist"

BMI's series of program continuities, entitled "Meet the Artist," emphasizes the human side of our great music performers.

"Meet the Artist" comes to you as a 15-minute—three-per-week series of scripts highlighting behind the scenes glimpses into the music business... the stories of America's favorite musical personalities and their song hits. The material is factual, up-to-the-minute and presented in an easy, informal style. Disc jockeys will enjoy using it—listeners will appreciate hearing it.

"Meet the Artist" fills a special need in areas where such data is not easily available... highly commercial.

KUDL's Music Marathon Contest

KUDL Kansas City, Mo., is sponsoring a monthly Musical Marathon contest in which listeners are requested to keep track of how many times particular records are played throughout the day by the station's disc jockeys. The first person reporting with the correct answer each day of every contest week receives a record player autographed by Elvis Presley. Other prizes of radios and phonograph albums are included. Station reported that on the first day of the contest it received so many telephone calls that the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. requested it to stop having listeners call in their answers. The rules of the contest had to be changed and listeners now are required to mail in their entries. More than 1,500 cards reportedly were received the first day after the new rules were announced.

Distributes Radio-Tv Dolls

NBC Spot Sales is distributing two throw-pillow dolls as Christmas gifts to 2,600 agency executives. The dolls, one a boy which holds a portable tv set and the other a girl holding a portable radio, represent radio-tv listeners. They are packaged in a cylindrical box which NBC Spot Sales suggests be used as a colorful magazine rack, waste basket, knitting box, hat box or toy box.

'Brighten Up Your Sales'

WITH an admonition to advertisers to "Brighten Up Your Sales—KITE—930 on Any Radio," the San Antonio station's latest mailing is printed on material that appears to be heavy paper. Actually, the folded piece can be soaked in water to become a chamois cloth for cleaning.

Operation Telecast in Color

KOMO-TV Seattle recently carried a live colorcast of a heart operation that was performed on a 10-year-old girl in a local hospital. Before the telecast of the actual surgery, a panel of doctors was interviewed. They explained the details of the operation to the viewers and used charts and visual aids to help people understand what they were going to see. The parents of the patient watched the telecast at home and nurses and medical students viewed it on a color set in the hospital.

Tape NBC-TV Show for Overseas

THE musical score of the television version of Dickens' A Christmas Carol, to be seen next Sunday on The Alcoa Hour (NBC-TV, 9-10:30 p.m.) as "The Stingiest Man In Town," has been tape recorded for broadcast in Germany and Austria. Carrying the 30-minute program and featuring the score and commentary by composer Fred Spielman will be Rundfunk Im Amerikanischer Sektor (RIAS-Berlin), the Deutsche Rundfunk (Frankfurt, Munich, Stuttgart) and the Austrian State Network. The program, scheduled for Germany on Dec. 23 and for Austria on Dec. 24, is sponsored by U. S. Information Agency, parent of Voice of America.

WMBD Signs for Basketball

WMBD Peoria, Ill., has signed to broadcast all home and away basketball games of Bradley U. and the Peoria Caterpillars of the National Industrial Basketball League. The station has arranged for its sports director, Tom Kelly, to travel with the teams. The tour will take him as far South as Jacksonville, Fla., as far West as Denver, Colo., and North to Milwaukee. The Peoria Caterpillars will cover approximately 14,000 miles and the Bradley team will travel 5,000 miles, which means Mr. Kelly will travel a total of 19,000 miles within the next four months.

Explains Nielsen System

WBBM-TV Chicago was scheduled to train its cameras on A. C. Nielsen and the Audiometer utilized by his market research firm during its This Is the Midwest telecast yesterday (Sunday). Mr. Nielsen was to explain the Nielsen Radio-Television Index system and how survey samples are taken and results computed. Explanations and illustrations of a few market research techniques also were to be given. The program is a WBBM-TV production sponsored by the local Harris Trust & Savings Bank.

New Program Awards Miles

WTVJ (TV) Miami has introduced a new quiz program, Take Off, which awards miles instead of money. Contestants are strapped into the seat of a National Airlines plane for quizzing. The questions are based on topics taken from the weekend editions of Miami newspapers. Each correct answer gives the contestant a certain number of miles toward a destination he has chosen. Winners get all expense paid trips to the places they want to go and also receive other prizes.

WEMP, KFIZ Win Contest

TWO Wisconsin stations, WEMP Milwaukee and KFIZ Fond du Lac, were the winners of a contest to promote the broadcasts of Milwaukee Braves games sponsored by the Miller Brewing Co., and Clark Oil & Refining Co. WEMP won the prize in cities of more than 100,000 population and KFIZ in cities of less than 100,000. All stations carrying the Braves' games were invited to participate. Prizes were a three-day vacation for two which included meals and miscellaneous spending money of $50.

Nelson Benton and Earl Wells look over some news footage with D. H. Billings, Du Pont Representative (center). Sharp, clear pictures are the rule with Du Pont film, and Mr. Wells states: "I'm sure we'll always be using it."

Du Pont film is an established favorite at WBTV, Charlotte, North Carolina—the largest TV station in the Carolinas. Their news cameramen have been using this film exclusively since 1954 when WBTV first turned to motion picture coverage. Cameraman Earl Wells, using Du Pont film, won first place in feature films, second and third place in news film in a recent Southern News Photographers' Contest.

"We can go just about anywhere and get good pictures with Du Pont films—indoors or out, day or night," says Television News Editor Nelson Benton. "We can rate Type 931 film as high as ASA 400 and Type 930 up to ASA 250 with satisfactory results." Mr. Benton also reports the station is using about 1,000 feet of Du Pont film daily.

Rapid processing is an important feature of Du Pont film. WBTV often processes 50-70 feet of film per minute at a temperature of 95°F. The station has been on the air with film 20 minutes after the actual news event. Why not take advantage of high-speed, easy-handling Du Pont films in your station? They'll give you the high-quality results you've always wanted.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, contact your nearest Du Pont Sales Office (listed below) or the Du Pont Company, Photo Products Department, Wilmington 98, Delaware. In Canada: Du Pont Company of Canada Limited, Toronto.

PROGRAMS & PROMOTIONS

Promotes MGM Feature Films

DURING its promotion for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature film package, WHCT (TV) Hartford, Conn., reportedly touched off such a heavy load of telephone calls that 10 extra trunk lines at the station could not handle the calls.

The promotion utilized the voice of "Pierre," described as "the popular Frenchman about town." The station reported that the telephone number was circulated by word-of-mouth-only, but the response was "so terrific" on Dec. 4 that the Southern New England Telephone Co. estimated there had been a possible 25,000 attempts to dial the number. Persons calling were invited by "Pierre" to tune in to the station's The Big Show and Million Dollar Movie, both of which are carrying the MGM films.

WLIB Covers Clinton Dispute

WLIB New York, which beams a sizable portion of its programming to the Negro audience, claimed "a beat" in its coverage on Dec. 4 of the Clinton (Tenn.) High School dispute over integration. The station contended it had been "ahead" of all New York news services in bringing developments to its listeners.

George W. Goodman, director of news and special events for WLIB, said that via "beep" recording in the homes of Negro citizens, the station broadcast various phases of the story before the wire services. Similarly, the station, by "beep" phone, obtained interviews with a member of the Clinton school board and the town's police chief, containing news that later was carried by the wire services, according to Mr. Goodman.

Carry Gruenther Award Ceremony

AWARD of the 1956 Laetare Medal by U. of Notre Dame to Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring Supreme Allied Commander of Europe, and other parts of a one-hour ceremony recently were simulcast by the university's WNDU and WNDU-TV. Gen. Gruenther accepted the award as the outstanding American Catholic layman of the year and delivered a major address. A congratulatory message from President Dwight Eisenhower also was included in the simulcast, described by Bernard C. Barth, vice president and general manager of the stations, as a public service presentation. Award was presented to Gen. Gruenther by Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, CSC, Notre Dame president.

WQXR Observes 20th Year

IN observance of its 20th anniversary, WQXR New York conducted a frequency range test for listeners over the station's Adventures Sound program (7:05-8 p.m. EST). Test tones or frequencies ranging from 30 cycles per second to 15,000 cycles per second were to be generated in WQXR's control room just as they were 20 years ago, when the station pioneered in "hi-fi" and was known as "The High Fidelity Station."

NEW FEATURES AT MET

THE LATEST in engineering practices has been put to use by ABC Radio in new installations in New York's famed Metropolitan Opera House.

Features include transistorized audio equipment on a permanent basis, new control panel, new amplifiers, racks of accessory equipment and transistor-amplified microphones, all of which reduced space requirements for ABC Radio by more than 25%. Twelve microphones are used in fixed locations and hidden from the audience. Another eight mikes are utilized in other rooms for interviews and intermission features. Estimated cost of installation: $13,000.

NBC Opera Completes Tour

THE NBC Opera Company has completed its first annual tour of 47 U. S. cities. On Dec. 8, when it performed Puccini's Madame Butterfly at Newark's Mosque Theatre, the group of 100 artists, directors and other staff had traveled 10,000 miles and given 54 performances of Butterfly and Mozart's Marriage of Figaro. The second tour for the company is now being planned by Judson, O'Neill & Judd, booking agents.

CBS to Carry Nehru Address

A SPECIAL radio-tv address to the U. S. public tomorrow (Tuesday) by India Prime Minister Nehru is to be carried on CBS Radio and CBS-TV, 11:15-11:30 p.m. EST, CBS reported last week. The broadcast is scheduled to originate from the Pan American Bldg. in Washington. CBS said the simulcast would be offered to other radio and tv networks on a pooled basis.

CLARKEFIELD
DIRECT READING
SELF-CONTAINED

A portable instrument for measuring the wide range of radio signal intensities from 540 to 1600 kc. Its range is from 10 microvolts to 10 volts per meter, making it equally effective for interference studies at low signal strengths and close-in measurements on high-power directional arrays.

Accuracy is assured by a calibration method that compensates for variations in tube characteristics and for voltage variations in the self-contained battery power supply. Operation is simple—measurements made rapidly—direct reading on all ranges—requires no charts or multiplication factors—no warm-up period necessary.

Put on the Steam

DESPITE continued opposition by the U. S. Treasury, some headway apparently is being made in the attempt to kill excise taxes on all-channel television receivers.

The Treasury last week repeated to a House Ways and Means subcommittee its contentions that no taxes should be removed in 1957. But at the same hearing, the FCC took the opposite position. Supporting the earlier testimony of broadcasters and manufacturers and the recommendations of the Senate Commerce Committee, the FCC urged the removal of the all-channel set tax—to equalize the consumer price of all-channel and vhf-only sets and thus stimulate all-channel production.

At the conclusion of the hearings, the subcommittee chairman, Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R. I.), said he felt the committee would disregard the Treasury's request for a complete hands-off policy on taxes and would recommend changes if they were believed wise.

While committee members are still of an open mind, they should be fully advised of the case for all-channel tax relief. All broadcasters and manufacturers should let their Congressmen know that uhf is essential to television's future and is in need of whatever immediate aid it can get.

A concerted educational campaign could persuade Congress to kill the tax and give uhf a desperately needed chance for survival.

Truth and Consequences

SINCE both began operations, we have supported the unofficial Radio Free Europe and the official Voice of America. It has been our view that the transmission of truth to Iron Curtain countries was a valid function of U. S. radio.

We have not changed that view.

But we believe that circumstances now dictate an investigation of both radio services. An investigation by a responsible, preferably non-partisan, Congressional committee is necessitated by recent charges that the broadcasts of RFE and the Voice incited the Hungarian revolts by falsely promising American aid to those who wished to overthrow their Communist masters.

If these charges had been made only by the Kremlin, they could be dismissed as another Soviet attempt to find a scapegoat for the Soviet's own failures.

But the same charges have been made by Hungarian refugees. Furthermore, responsible correspondents emerging from that stricken country have reported that many of the freedom fighters of Hungary believed they would receive American aid.

Already, at least one American politician has sought to make political capital out of this situation. Last week Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore.) said U. S. propaganda had been "recklessly broadcast" and had fed "false hopes" to the Hungarians. Here was a U. S. Senator, speaking from a small town in Oregon—hardly the best listening post for diplomatic information—prejudging a case on the basis of news reports.

We may expect other politicians to issue similarly irresponsible judgments as long as the role of RFE and the Voice is described only in charge and counter-charge. What is needed is a thorough, objective, public hearing on the broadcasts which are now in dispute. The purposes and functions of both services should be fully explored.

It is our belief that such a hearing would show what we believe, from our own study of these services, to be their admirable record of carefully refraining from broadcasting anything but the truth.

We imagine a hearing would show that if a hope of American aid prevailed in Hungary it was generated not by misleading broadcasts from U. S. sources but by the wishful thinking of an unhappy people who had been goaded by their merciless overlords into the last acts of retribution.

But whatever its anticipated outcome, the hearing should be held.

And RFE and the Voice should continue their broadcasts to keep the subjugated informed of events outside their insulated countries. That these broadcasts have been effective, and should be continued, is clearly indicated by the efforts of the Communists to prevent their being heard.

Abbott Washburn, deputy director of USIA, which operates the VOA, came up with some interesting jamming statistics a few days ago, in an address before the Sigma Delta Chi convention in Louisville. He said that a scientific analysis by radio engineers shows that the Soviets and their satellites are spending $113,490,000 a year to jam our broadcasts, and that the Soviet Union alone is shelling out $68,000,000 a year, or four times the annual $17,000,000 cost of the VOA operations.

Perhaps these latest developments will prove the futility of jamming. The Polish jammers already have stopped. The Hungarian jamming ended with the rebellion. And besides, as Mr. Washburn pointed out, however effective jamming may be in some localities, the broadcasts still get through and get propagated, and thus force the Communists to make known certain developments to their people—even by way of rebuttal.

The purpose of RFE and the Voice has not been to incite Russia's satellites to futile rebellion but to counteract, at least to some extent, the distorted propaganda of the Soviet. Without alternative means of obtaining information, the peoples of the satellites would know only what the Kremlin wanted them to know.

To the extent that truthful information is distributed behind the Iron Curtain, to the same extent the Kremlin's power is weakened and its political education program made less effective.

These are facts which should be made clear to the U. S. public and to the world.

A Gift Worth Giving

NO OPERATOR of an educational tv station could ask for a nicer Christmas gift than that just announced by NBC—a $300,000 package of live tv-programming, employing top-flight instructors and the best professional production techniques, which will be transmitted to all U. S. educational stations without charge during 1957, compliments of NBC.

Cynical critics—and broadcasting has never wanted for an ample supply of them—could point out that NBC's generosity is not completely free of the tinge of self interest. The three weekly half-hour educational programs will be telecast in afternoon time that does not conflict with NBC-TV's own regular commercial schedule, as NBC President Robert W. Sarnoff said in his announcement. And, as he neglected to mention, the educational telecasts will not interfere with the regular local program schedules of NBC-TV's regular affiliated stations.

Critics could also note that this gift to education will give NBC credit not only in heaven but at the FCC, where it is more pressingly needed, and perhaps among the Congressional committees which are showing such a keen interest in the activities of the tv networks.

But the holiday season is no time for cynics. And, whatever the motives behind it, no one can gainsay that the three 26-week courses which the educational stations are to receive are as rosy an apple as any teacher ever received.
