

News and Views

AWARD OF MERIT

Professor D. J. Manners, Professor Emeritus of Biochemistry in the Department of Biological Sciences, was nominated to receive an Award of Merit of the Japanese Society of Starch Science for his researches on amylolytic enzymes and the structure of starch and glycogen. Professor Manners delivered the Award Address at the Annual Meeting of the Society, held in Tokyo 27–29 September 1989.