International Carbohydrate Award in Honour of Roy L. Whistler

Nominations are invited for the third Award, to be presented at the XIVth International Carbohydrate Symposium which will be held in Stockholm, Sweden, from 14–19 August 1988. The Award of a commemorative plaque is accompanied by $10,000, and the recipient will deliver a special award lecture. The previous recipients were Dr. Tomoya Ogawa and Dr. Klaus Bock.

Nominations should be sent either to the Secretary to the International Carbohydrate Organisation (Dr. K. C. B. Wilkie, Department of Chemistry, University of Aberdeen, Meston Walk, Old Aberdeen, AB9 2TS, Scotland) or to the appropriate National Representative on the ICO, to arrive by May 1987. Nominations after that date may not be considered. An outline of reasons for the nomination should be given and a list of the papers judged to be of particular significance. Those nominated should be active workers in carbohydrate research who have made contributions of excellence and who are believed to be likely to sustain the quality of their research in the future.
