XXIII INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON COORDINATION CHEMISTRY

July 29–August 3, 1984, Boulder, CO, U.S.A.

The Twenty-third International Conference on Coordination Chemistry will be held at the University of Colorado, Boulder, CO, U.S.A., on July 29–August 3, 1984. This conference is intended to provide a forum for the exposition and discussion of recent research in metal coordination chemistry, to stimulate progress and produce cross fertilization between subfields in coordination chemistry, and to foster new ideas and concepts. The principal form of communicating papers at this meeting will be through poster presentations linked to organized discussion sessions. Abstracts will be solicited in, but not limited to, Energetics and Dynamics, Catalysis, Bioinorganics, Synthesis — New Forms of Matter, and Techniques and Applications. Abstracts must be received by the Secretary no later than December 1, 1983. To obtain the Call for Papers, Abstract forms and further information, write to:
