

Editorial

This issue of Drug Development and Industrial Pharmacy is dedicated to some written versions of presentations made at the University of Wisconsin Seventh Annual Update Conference.

"The Role of Moisture in Solid Dosage Forms" held in Madison, Wisconsin, April 11-13, 1988.

By all accounts the Conference was a great success characterized by a high level of the formal sessions and much valuable informal discussion.