Drug Discovery Today 11 (2006) nos 13&14

The cover of the July 2006 issue of Drug Discovery Today (Volume 11, nos 13&14) displayed an image of an electron-density map of an unnamed organic molecule. The journal failed to acknowledge that this image was generated by Dr Bernhard Rupp, and the Editorial team would like to apologize to Dr Rupp and our readers for any confusion this might have caused.

Elsevier joins major health information initiative

Elsevier has joined with scientific publishers and leading voluntary health organizations to create patientINFORM, a groundbreaking initiative to help patients and caregivers close a crucial information gap. patientINFORM is a free online service dedicated to disseminating medical research.

Elsevier provides voluntary health organizations with increased online access to our peer-reviewed biomedical journals immediately upon publication, together with content from back issues. The voluntary health organizations integrate the information into materials for patients and link to the full text of selected research articles on their websites.

patientINFORM has been created to enable patients seeking the latest information about treatment options online access to the most up-to-date, reliable research available for specific diseases.
