

ANNOUNCEMENT

EJSO : European Journal of Surgical Oncology Invitation to apply for the position of Editor-in-Chief

The EJSO plays a major role in the dissemination of knowledge relating to the field of cancer surgery and provides strong international, interdisciplinary representation for the key professional, scientific and clinical issues in cancer surgery. The Journal is currently published eight times per year, with scope for further publication expansion in future years. The EJSO is the Journal of the European Society of Surgical Oncology and the British Association of Surgical Oncology. Please refer to the EJSO homepage at www.elsevierhealth.com/journals/ejs for additional background information on the Journal.

The EJSO has developed strongly in recent years under the Editorial leadership of the current Editor-in-Chief. The Journal is now seeking to appoint a new Editor-in-Chief, effective from January 2003 onwards. Applications are invited from individuals who are committed to the continued development of the EJSO and who can demonstrate expertise and energy to the continued future growth of the Journal. The Journal provides an Editorial honorarium and travel expenses, and financial / administrative support is available for the Editorial Office.

Applications should include a curriculum vitae, list of publications and (if applicable) any other previous writing / Editorial experience, and a concise 1-2 page document outlining the applicant's vision for the further development of the EJSO over the next 5 years. Applications should be sent to the Elsevier Science at the address below. The closing date for applications is 31 October 2002.

Shortlisted applicants will be invited to give a presentation to an Editorial selection committee on their vision for the future development of the EJSO. The Editorial selection committee will include the Chairman of the EJSO Editorial Board and representatives from the Societies and Publisher. The presentations will take place in London in November 2002.
