

ANNOUNCEMENTS
EIGHTH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE
ON
ADVANCES IN STABILIZATION
AND CONTROLLED DEGRADATION OF POLYMERS

21–23 May 1986
Lucerne, Switzerland

The eighth of this series of international conferences will take place at the Palace Hotel, Lucerne, Switzerland, 21–23 May 1986. About 12 leading researchers from various countries have been invited to present plenary lectures.

Those interested in presenting contributed papers are invited to submit brief abstracts for consideration by the Scientific Committee.

Further details can be obtained from and abstracts submitted to:

STABILITY OF POLYMERS
IN ELECTRONIC APPLICATIONS

3–5 September 1986
Manchester, England

A 2-day meeting on "Stability of Polymers in Electronic Applications" will be held at Ashburn Hall, Manchester, 3–5 September 1986. The meeting is being organized by the Polymer Degradation Discussion Group (affiliated to the Macromolecular Group of the Royal Society of Chemistry). Invited lectures will cover the problems of degradation of polymers in a wide range of electrical and electronic applications, including optical and electro-optical technologies.

Those interested in presenting contributed papers are invited to submit brief abstracts for consideration by the Scientific Committee.

Further details can be obtained from and abstracts submitted to the group secretary:
