

EDITORIAL

As far as we are able to ascertain, the first issue of Glycoconjugate Journal was well received. We have received a number of letters of encouragement and a little constructive criticism. We trust that the great "silent majority" is reasonably satisfied, or at least not sufficiently dissatisfied to complain to us.

This issue also contains Correspondence, Personal News and Announcements sections, although these are still very small. Contributions are required continually. A new section, Positions Available, is introduced in this issue, and we hope that this will also become a regular feature. Also new is a Corrections page, which we believe will not be a regular feature of the Journal.

Finally, remember that a successful journal is dependent on the submission of high quality research papers and also on subscriptions!