

1965 G-MTT Symposium

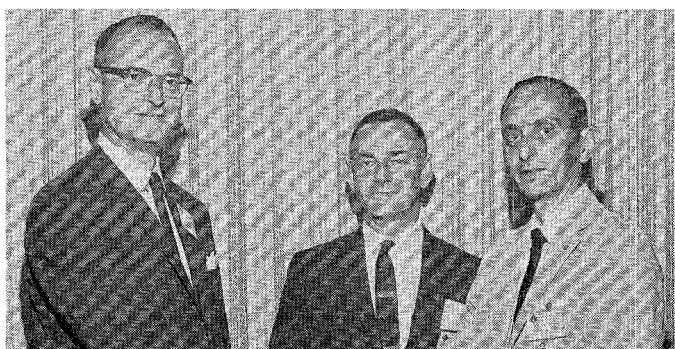

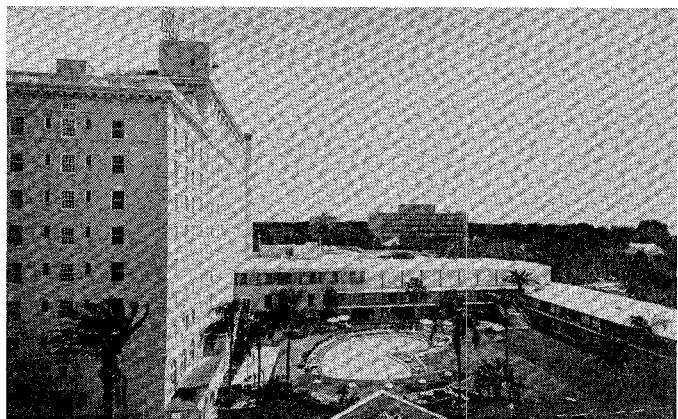

THE FLORIDA West Coast Chapter of the IEEE Group on Microwave Theory and Techniques hosted the 1965 Symposium held May 5-7, 1965, at the Jack Tar Harrison Hotel, Clearwater, Fla.

Credit for the technical significance of the meeting must go primarily to the authors of the excellent papers, some of which appear in this issue. The committee which planned the Symposium also deserves credit for coordinating the technical, social, and recreational events so that everything moved smoothly.

The members of the Symposium Steering Committee were:

Chairman: R. E. Henning, Sperry Microwave Electronics Co.
Secretary: R. C. Aucremann, Sperry Microwave Electronics Co.
Members: R. H. Cranshaw, Electro-Mechanical Research
 E. V. Dashill, Hewlett-Packard
 M. R. Donaldson, University of South Florida
 P. G. Hansel, Electronic Communications Inc.
 E. W. Matthews, Watkins-Johnson
 W. W. Mumford, Bell Telephone Labs.
 J. Newitt, Sperry Microwave Electronics Co.
 J. E. Pippin, Scientific Atlanta
 S. W. Rosenthal, Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn
 J. E. Tracy, Martin Co.
 J. C. Wright, Sperry Microwave Electronics Co.

Members of the standing committees follow on the next page.

(left top) The Jack Tar Harrison Hotel. (below) Thomas L. Martin, Banquet Speaker, John E. Pippin, Master of Ceremonies, and Mrs. Pippin. (right top) H. M. Altschuler, Chairman of AdCom, presents the Microwave Prize to Seymour B. Cohn. (below) D. D. King, Keynote Speaker, H. M. Altschuler, and R. E. Henning, Chairman of the Steering Committee.