AN AUTOMATED GENERAL PURPOSE TEST SYSTEM FOR SOLID STATE L.O.'s

John R. Humphrey
Texas Instruments Incorporated
Dallas, Texas

Abstract

Automation has provided a cost-effective solution to test problems associated with solid-state local oscillators. Computer controlled measurement and analysis for L.O.'s, L-Band through Ku-Band, is provided by a single system. Improved testing provides positive feedback to design efforts and enhances device tuning capability.