

Two new books from the IEEE PRESS to help you advance in your career

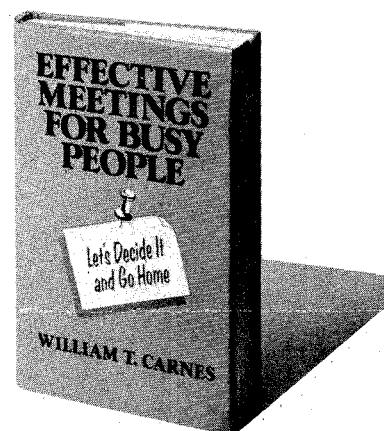

BEING THE BOSS: THE CRAFT OF MANAGING PEOPLE provides down-to-earth guidance on how you can become a more effective manager. Topics include: strategies for managing people; how to set and revise goals and objectives; helping subordinates learn and develop; communicating with subordinates; promoting people; methods of motivation; appraising employees; interviewing; defining a job; employees with personal problems; effective discipline; firing an employee; applying the four steps in the "Fundamental Cycles of Management."

Here is a complete reference manual for middle- and lower-level managers, new managers learning the ropes and for upper-level managers as a "refresher." Or as a gift to that special manager you know.

EFFECTIVE MEETINGS FOR BUSY PEOPLE: LET'S DECIDE IT AND GO HOME pinpoints the problems of unsuccessful meetings and provides a methodology to make them effective, interesting, and profitable for all concerned. The techniques it explains can be successfully applied in just about any kind of participatory decision-making situation.

The book demonstrates how to improve interpersonal communication within meetings; shows ways to make meetings more enjoyable; upsets some established traditions about meetings, opening the way to new concepts, ideas, and techniques; spotlights just what needs to be done in meetings – and what should NOT be done.
