FORTHCOMING REGULAR ARTICLES

Method development for thermal ionization mass spectrometry in the frame of a biokinetic tracer study with enriched stable isotopes of zirconium

Matthias B. Greiter, Vera Höllriegel and Uwe Oeh (Germany)

Clustering of palladium(II)chloride in acetonitrile solution investigated by electrospray mass spectrometry

Vojtěch Šadek, Detlef Schröder and Nikos G. Tsierkezos (Czech Republic, Germany)

A combined theoretical and experimental study of mechanisms of fragmentation active for PHB oligomers in negative-ion mode multistage mass spectrometry

Henryk Bednarski, Karl Sohlberg, Marian Domański, Jan Weszka, Grażyna Adamus, Marek Kowalczyk and Vasile Cozan (Poland, USA, Romania)

Photodissociation of indium oxide cluster cations

A.M. Knight, B. Bandyopadhyay, C.L. Anfuso, K.S. Molek and M.A. Duncan (USA)

Simulation of duty cycle-based trapping and ejection of massive ions using linear digital quadrupoles: The enabling technology for high resolution time-of-flight mass spectrometry in the ultra high mass range

Jeonghoon Lee, Maxwell A. Marino, Hideya Koizumi and Peter T.A. Reilly (USA)

Theoretical study of the effect of ion trap geometry on the dynamic behavior of ions in a Paul trap

I. Ziaeeian, S.M. Sadat Kiai, M. Ellahi, S. Sheibani, A. Safarian and S. Farhangi (Iran)
