

Recruiters: Don't miss this important message!

TO: Recruiters wanting to promote open positions, fellowship opportunities, programs, or conference announcements.

TIME: Now

MESSAGE: The publications of the American Society for Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics (ASPET) are a perfect way to advertise to basic and clinical researchers in all disciplines of pharmacology. And now the full issues of all the ASPET publications are made available online in a pdf format. So your ad gets additional exposure online for free. Run a line ad in Molecular Intervention's Professional Opportunities section for $10 per line and receive a FREE job posting on the ASPET website for 8 weeks.

NOTE: Line ad is only available in Molecular Interventions. Quarter, half, and full page ad sizes are available in all of the ASPET publications. Issues close 35 working days preceding the issue month.

ACTION REQUESTED: Email your ad to adnet@faseb.org for a quote.

Chair, Department of Molecular Medicine

Located in Ithaca, N.Y., Cornell University is a bold, innovative, inclusive and dynamic teaching and research university where staff, faculty, and students alike are challenged to make an enduring contribution to the betterment of humanity.

Cornell University, College of Veterinary Medicine, invites applications and nominations for the position of Chair of the Department of Molecular Medicine. Internationally recognized faculty research programs in the department are currently focused on using molecular, cellular, and biophysical approaches to study signal transduction, cancer biology, membrane trafficking, and neurotransmitter receptor structure and function. We are seeking a scholar of recognized scientific stature and leadership ability to extend the tradition of distinction in these areas. Requirements include a Ph.D., DVM or MD and a sustained, high caliber, extramurally-funded research program.

Cornell has dramatically expanded Life Sciences research, most recently with the establishment of an Institute for Cell and Molecular Biology. This expansion has been catalyzed by Research Centers that are at the forefront of approaches to biomedical problems, including the Cornell High Energy Synchrotron Source, the Cornell Nanoscale Science and Technology Facility, and the Developmental Resource for Biophysical Imaging Opto-electronics. The new Chair of Molecular Medicine will be expected to continue to build upon these strengths in the Life Sciences by hiring outstanding new faculty and by fostering interdisciplinary interactions with these and other departments and units on the Ithaca Campus and at the Weill Cornell Medical School, including Biomedical Engineering, Chemical Biology, the Comparative Cancer Program, and the Center for Vertebrate Genomics. Relevant web links are available at: www.vet.cornell.edu/mmedchair/

Cornell University is situated in picturesque Ithaca, NY. This setting offers a wonderful, affordable living environment together with an academic setting that fosters a thriving tradition of collegiality and interdisciplinary work.

Applications should include a letter of nomination or intent outlining career goals, professional interests, and leadership positions, a curriculum vitae, and the names and addresses of 3 individuals who may be contacted by the Search Committee to provide references. Applications should be submitted electronically as a pdf file to: molecularmedicinechair@cornell.edu

FEDERATION of AMERICAN SOCIETIES for EXPERIMENTAL BIOLOGY

FASEB

Benefits for FASEB Society Scientists

The Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology is an organization of multiple member societies representing tens of thousands of life scientists.

Working closely with member societies, FASEB staff provide strategic intelligence on policy developments, conduct policy research, and engage government and media relations.

HOW FASEB HELPS YOU

In addition to the benefits you receive from being a member in your own professional society, you also receive a variety of important benefits through your society's membership in FASEB including:

- Access to FASEB's Legislative Action Center
- FASEB's Washington Update
- Subscription discounts for The FASEB Journal
- Members only online access to the FASEB Directory of Members
- CME at FASEB Summer Research Conferences and society meetings
- Career development resources
- Personal insurance programs
- Credit card and line of credit programs

To learn more about FASEB, visit www.faseb.org and go to "Information for Scientists" to download a brochure.
