Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

No matter what system you own there's an Empire Phono Cartridge designed to attain optimum performance.

Detail, brilliance, depth.

This is the promise of each Empire Phono Cartridge and although there are many Empire models, each designed to meet specific turn table performance characteristics, every Empire cartridge contains the following features:

Features	Details	Benefits
Unique Fixed Unidirectional Three-Magnet Structure	Every Empire cartridge uses 3 high energy ferrite magnets in the cartridge body to provide a high level of unidirectional flux.	Higher and more linear output signal, immunity to bi-directional magnetic distortion, and improved hum and microphonic rejection.
Molded Four-Pole Magnetic Assembly	Every Empire cartridge employs a four-pole magnetic assembly that is precisely aligned and locked in place by a high pressure injection molding process... providing a uniform and orthogonal magnetic field.	Improved crosstalk and reduced distortion that is insensitive to tracking force.
Tubular moving Iron Design	By using a tubular high magnetic saturation iron armature we obtain an optimum ratio of output level to effective tip mass.	Improved tracking ability and widened frequency response.
Four Coil Hum Bucking Assembly Plus Electromagnetic Shielding	Using custom designed computer controlled machines, a precision drawn copper wire (thinner than human hair and longer than a football field) is wound onto a symmetrical 4 bobbin structure. By using 2 coils per channel a symmetrical electrical circuit is formed.	Improved rejection of hum and stray noise fields.
Aluminum Alloy Cantilever	The Empire computer designed tubular cantilever provides optimum coupling of the diamond tip to the moving magnetic system resulting in minimum effective stylus tip mass.	Superb low level tracking, reduced tracking distortion... plus enhanced wideband separation characteristics.
Precision Ground Oriented Diamond Tips	Empire diamonds are precision ground, polished and inspected in house, using sophisticated television cameras and powerful microscopes to ensure accurate angular orientation.	Reduced tracing phase distortion, together with reduced wear of both the record and the diamond tip.

For the full story on Empire cartridges we suggest you "test-listen" to one at your local Empire dealer, and for information on our full line of cartridges, write for our brochure "How to Get the Most Out of Your Records": Empire Scientific Corp., Garden City, N.Y. 11530

"The popularity of white rum and tonic is no surprise. We Puerto Ricans knew it was only a matter of time."

Fernando Lugo, architect, and his wife Isabel

Chances are you've noticed.

More and more people are enjoying Puerto Rican white rum in place of vodka or gin. Like the Lugos, they appreciate the incredible smoothness of white rum. It mixes beautifully with tonic or orange juice or soda. And makes a superbly dry, clean-tasting martini.

Puerto Rican white rum is, indeed, smoother than vodka or gin.

You see, every drop of Puerto Rican rum is aged, by law, for at least one full year before it's bottled. And when it comes to smoothness, aging is the name of the game.

Here's a suggestion.

Instead of mixing your usual vodka or gin and tonic, make it white rum and tonic.

Now, isn't that better?

Make sure the rum is Puerto Rican.

The name Puerto Rico on the label is your assurance of excellence.

The Puerto Rican people have been making rum for almost five centuries. Their specialized skills and dedication result in a rum of exceptional taste and purity.

No wonder over 85% of the rum sold in this country comes from Puerto Rico.

Bose® presents the most exciting bookshelf speaker since the Model 301.

The new Model 301. With an improved tweeter that took three years to perfect. An innovative Dual Frequency Crossover™ network that delivers smoother midrange response. A unique tweeter protection circuit that virtually eliminates tweeter burnout. And a subtle exterior modification that makes the Model 301 more elegant than ever.

But even with changes, the Model 301 retains its conventional personality.

It is, after all, a Bose Direct/Reflecting® loud-speaker system. Which means it utilizes a carefully produced balance of reflected and direct sound to give you the spatial realism of a live performance. From nearly every location in your listening room, you hear accurate stereo balance. Accurate location of each instrument, each note. Clearly, precisely. And with a fullness and richness you may have thought impossible from such a compact enclosure.

As a matter of fact, the Model 301 delivers a level of performance which simply astounds first-time listeners.

It could happen to you. Ask your Bose dealer to demonstrate the Model 301 against any bookshelf speaker, regardless of price.

Then ask him to demonstrate the Model 301 against even much larger speakers. In each case, you will hear an open, spacious sound that expands the confines of your listening room. Suddenly, you are in a larger, more open space, listening to music as if you were hearing it for the first time.

No other bookshelf speaker even approaches the spatial realism of the new Model 301. See your Bose dealer for a demonstration and hear what we mean.

The new Model 301.

Editorial

GEORGE,
DID YOU TAKE OUT
THE GARBAGE?

As this month's editorial, we would like to present the following proposed revision of the Protestant marriage vows. This item was penned by Associate Editor John Hughes, as were numerous other articles contained in this issue, and the Hughes divorce case (expected to commence shortly after publication) is much awaited by all fans of R-rated jurisprudence.

Wilt thou, John, have this woman to be thy wedded wife? To live together after God's ordinance in the holy state of matrimony? Wilt thou comfort and keep her in sickness and in health? Wilt thou provide her with credit cards and a four-bedroom, two-and-a-half-bath home with central air and professional decorating, a Mercedes, two weeks in the Bahamas every spring, and a week at Aspen just after Christmas so that she might regain her composure after the holidays? Wilt thou paint the house every two years, clean the gutters each and every spring, and see that the lawn is cared for? Wilt thou try to remember the little things that mean so much, like flowers on her anniversary, kind words when she's had a rough day or a bad tennis match, and an occasional, "Gee, honey, you look pretty today." Wilt thou be understanding when she is tired, headachy, or upset about something, when she has her period, when she is pregnant, when she feels "ugly," or when she has a big pimple on her chin? Wilt thou come home from work on time or at least call when you're going to be late? Wilt thou caulk the windows in the kid's room, clean out the attic, adjust the TV roof antennae, fix the faucet in the kitchen, throw out all those old shirts in your closet, call the vet, go to the drugstore and pick up prescriptions and Tampax, run the bath water for her while you're upstairs, zip her dress, carry in the groceries, help with the 2:00 A.M. feeding? Wilt thou not watch football all weekend and drink beer all night? Wilt thou not be such a pig when you shave and shower? Wilt thou listen patiently to long and boring stories about kids' colds, friends' cancerous aunts, girl friends' husbands' misdeeds, periods, yeast infections, schools, houses, furniture, drapes, kitchen tile, clothes, shoes, makeup, hair, sore feet, Jesus Christ, and decorator checkbook covers?

Wilt thou, Jane, have this man to be thy wedded husband? To live together after God's ordinance in the holy state of matrimony? Wilt thou honor him, comfort and keep him in sickness and in health? Wilt thou do all the dirtier things around the house, like clean the bathrooms, change the diapers, empty the kitty litter, scoop up the dog poop, clean vomit, clean the oven and under the kitchen sink? Wilt thou balance the checkbook and pay the bills? Wilt thou pick out the carpeting, drapes, wallpaper, sheets, bedspreads, kid's clothes, appliances, and Christmas cards? Wilt thou do the shopping, drop the shirts off at the laundry and remember to pick them up, refrain from cleaning out his drawers and organizing his wallet? Wilt thou try not to get too fat after the first child, do chest exercises to keep your breasts from sagging, and pay attention to other parts of your body so that it will not get really gross? Wilt thou have some patience on the occasions when he cannot perform? Wilt thou not nag and pester or ask stu-

'I didn't sacrifice great flavor to get low tar.'

"The first thing I expect from a cigarette is flavor. And satisfaction. Finding that in a low-tar smoke wasn't easy.

"But then I tried Vantage. Frankly, I didn't even know Vantage was low in tar. Not until I looked at the numbers.

"That's because the taste was so remarkable it stood up to anything I'd ever smoked.

A middle-class man is made out of credit cards and charge accounts;

1,247 times a second this motor checks itself for perfect speed...

How it works:
Built into the RD5350 motor is a 68 pole tacho generator that produces a series of pulses proportional to the motor speed. In the Phase Locked Loop integrated circuit, these pulses are compared with the signal from the precision reference oscillator (1246.7 Hz). If even a single pulse is found to be slightly out of phase, power to the motor is adjusted by a second integrated circuit to restore synchronization. This process takes place independent of fluctuations in load or AC line voltage.

so you'll never hear anything less than perfect sound from this Sanyo Tape Deck.

The new Sanyo RD5350 Dolby cassette deck has one of the most advanced drive motors ever put in a tape machine.

It's a new frequency generator DC motor with Phase Locked Loop speed control servo that actually checks and corrects for even the most infinitesimal speed variations 1,247 times every second!

This hair-splitting accuracy helps give the RD5350 one of the lowest wow & flutter figures in the industry: 0.04% WRMS. And lets the drive system ignore line voltage fluctuations, and breeze right through even "sticky" cassettes without missing a beat.

Naturally, the RD5350 has one of the most rugged, precision tape transports available today and high performance electronics. As a result, you get superior specs like 30-17,000 Hz response ($\pm 3\text{dB}$, CrO₂ tape) and 64dB S/N ratio with Dolby. Which is more Hz and less noise than you'll find on the discs and broadcasts you tape.

You also get advanced features like 3 peak-indicating LED's (0, +3, and +6 VU), separate input and output level controls, a Record Mute button for erasing short sections of tape, and a timer standby feature for taping programs when you're not around.

You'd probably expect to pay a bundle for a deck as sophisticated as the RD5350. But thanks to Sanyo's integrated manufacturing capability, you can have it for only $240.*

Which may be the most perfect thing of all about the RD5350.

The truth? Hell, that ain't nowhere near's important as a smart way of putting it. —Mayor Roland Butter

The Pendergast machine, the Daley organization, and Tammany Hall: these big city political juggernaut names are familiar to every American who reads the front page of the daily paper. When one of these big-time political machines starts running out of control, and subpoenas start shooting up in the air, and formerly docile DA's start laying about with monkey wrenches, and great massive gears get stripped as smooth as the tires on a city school bus—it makes news. Sometimes the machine goes up like a cuckoo clock into which a grenade has been backhanded; sometimes it grinds on, minus a few parts here and there; but whatever happens, it makes news.

This is not necessarily the case in Canada. For years, Mayor Roland Butter of North Stain, Alberta, has ruled his city as ruthlessly as any of his American colleagues. If the Butter machine—the “Butter churn,” as it is known—has a motto, it might well be, Rule with a firm hand in a furry mitt. Over the years, the churn has been accused of taking home office supplies from city hall, ripping down opponents' campaign posters, listening to hockey games and other sports events on city time, writing personal letters on city stationery, hiring people they know; in short, the whole catalog of abuses we have come to associate with big city politics.

Time to Reform the Thwarters Instead of Thwarting the Reformers?

Such is the campaign slogan of this columnist, running against the corrupt Mayor Butter and his slate of picked patsies in the upcoming North Stain elections. Running on the Honest-Up ticket, yours truly proposes to heave Butter out of the mayor's office; and if the last we see of him are his kicking Weejuns sticking out of a snowbank, I say better off we.

In keeping with Honest-Up party policy, I hereby publish a complete list of my assets, holdings, and directorships, and challenge the mayor of North Stain to do the same: none.

Not since the Wobblies fielded slates in the thirties has there been a candidate so free from potential conflict of interest problems as myself. It is a known fact that Mayor Roland Butter is a partner in Butter Brothers Hardware. It is a fact that Mayor Butter owns a hunting cabin ten miles out of North Stain, where he has reportedly been seen playing cards with political cronies, the air thick with Tiparillo fumes.

Since equal time laws apply to magazines as well as radio, I am compelled to give my opponent a chance to “have his say,” as he puts it. I only wish I could blow my nose on this tissue of lies.

Office of Mayor Butter
North Stain, Alberta

Sirs:

Thank you for the opportunity to “have my say,” as you put it in your magazine. I was unaware until quite recently that one of your “writers” was running against me in the upcoming election. I was unaware we had any of same 'round here. I wish him every success—so few people are willing to “pitch in” and do their share when it comes to making community decisions. To tell the truth, I will honestly be happy to get back to running the hardware store. The mayor's job takes an awful lot of time—mostly over seemingly silly details—and offers only token recompense.

Well, I've got to run—Margie's got a roast in the oven, and I really catch you-know-what if I'm late. If you're ever in North Stain, be sure to drop by and say hello.

Yours sincerely,
Roland Butter

It should be pretty clear to the voters of North Stain what kind of a man they have in office. Let's get rid of this political idiot.

For Canadians Only

It seems that the appearance of the NatLampCo book Slightly Higher in Canada has caused some disturbance amongst the peeling-footed pundits of the step-motherland. The editors, Sean Kelly and Ted Mann, are totally at a loss as to the cause of these subvolcanic mutterings. The appearance of the book is quite neat. Standard trade paperback, cover azure, and beaver rampant. Still, I have hopes that this disagreeable petite satori on the part of Canada's damaged (or “seared”) intelligentsia will settle a long-standing matter of disagreement between the aforementioned Kelly and your humble cringing obsequious. The Jesuit has publicly described our great homeland as a “nation of nitwits.” I take issue. “A nation of nit-picking twits,” says I. Buy the book. (And, by the way, this just off the wires: a man in Winnipeg attempted to check a sawbuck's legitimacy by biting it, and it cost him his caps.) Don't take any Roosevelt dimes, eh? T.M.

FISHER INTRODUCES THE RECEIVERS THAT LISTEN TO YOU.

Ever since 1937, when Fisher introduced the world to the first high fidelity system, we've been constantly looking for ways to make sound even better.

One of our biggest improvements came in 1959 with the world's first stereo receiver — the famous Fisher 500.

Now, we proudly announce our latest major advance: the all-new RS2000 Studio Standard series — the receivers that listen to you.

Sound the way you like it. With the RS2000 series, you're not limited to only simple bass and treble controls like other receivers. Instead, you tell the receiver exactly how you want the sound tailored by setting its built-in graphic equalizer's slide controls. By boosting or cutting each of the five equalizer controls, you can transform ho-hum sound into the most exciting you've ever heard. You get sound that exactly matches your taste, your moods, and your environment.

Say you want to really feel the drums on a disco record. Just push up the 50 Hz (low bass) slider, and you get just the effect you want — without disturbing the tonal color of voices and other instruments. Want to really bring a vocalist "up front"? Add a little 1 kHz (midrange) boost. And so on. In a few seconds, you can make such a dramatic improvement in the sound of all your records, tapes, and FM broadcasts that you won't want a receiver without this fabulous built-in feature.

There's logic to our front panel. Most sophisticated receivers keep you guessing when it comes to operating the controls. Not the Fisher RS2000 series. We've engineered a unique "Panel Logic" system with an illuminated, computer-like display that tells you at a glance what the receiver is set up to do.

The RS2010, below, has great performance specs like superb $1.7 \mu\text{V}$ (9.8 dBf) FM sensitivity, and plenty of power (100 watts min. RMS per channel, into 8 ohms, 20-20,000 Hz, with no more than 0.09% total harmonic distortion). Other models are available from 30 to 150 watts per channel.

Listen to the Fisher RS2000 series receivers. Once you do, you'll never be satisfied with the sound of a receiver without an equalizer.

The RS2010 is about $700* at selected audio dealers or the audio department of your favorite department store.

For a copy of the new Fisher guide to high fidelity, send your name and address and $2 to: Fisher Corporation, Dept. H, 21314 Lassen St., Chatsworth, CA 91311.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail value. Actual selling price is determined solely by the individual Fisher dealer.

An Afternoon with Marie Becloud by Stephen Birmingham

(After reading "A Sense of Dream," a profile of Jeanne Moreau in The New Yorker, March 13, 1978)

Jacques-Pierre d'Autain, who directed her in La Bonne Fumée, Patigoul, Je Suis Sincère, Je Suis Fatigué, and so many more of her noted films, says of the actress Marie Becloud, "She is quintessential. She has a massiveness to which she adds a touch of her own moué—qualities one rarely finds in a single, total woman. Whenever we encounter each other after long partings, I am transfixed by her mille-fleur eyes." Gaston Le Sueur, another of Becloud's favorite directors (Cherbourg, Le Havre, Dieppe, and other films in his celebrated Channel series), also speaks of the eyes, which he calls "trompe l'oeil." Le Sueur says, "She scopes before the camera. She seems to see it hours before it has seen her. Then she lifts the camera's eye and fondles it like a toy." Marie Becloud's American directors also try to pin down her elusive quality. Sidney Kravitz, with whom she has made several films (The Smoking Maid, etc.), says, "When I first met Becloud she was just a little thing. Her earlobes had just formed. Her eyes were in sockets then. She was the first actress I had seen who could exude, and exclude, kitsch simultaneously." To the public, meanwhile, she is simply "la belle Marie sans pause."

I am strolling with Marie Becloud in the tiny hackberry orchard she has created near her beautifully restored almshouse in the south of France. Suddenly, characteristically, she plucks a hackberry bud and crushes it against those famous lips that have known, she insists, far fewer lovers off the screen than on. "One must taste nature," she says. "Gide knew it, too, as did Rousseau. D'Autain knows it when he directs me. All art is nature, set in time." A horse passes us. "I love horses," she says. "But that one is gray. It means he is thinking. When I am working on one of my films, I hold in my mind the picture of the gray horse." We pass a small kitten. "I love kittens," she says. "They must be small, though. A kitten is a part of a village, which is why I live here. It must go home to its village, the kitten. In Paris, the kittens are not brave, which is why I am so rarely there, unless I am working on a film. "Here"—she makes a wide, sweeping gesture toward the meadow beyond, "here, the green goes down, down to the sea, which I must have. In the mountains, the green goes up, up to the top." Suddenly, characteristically, she flings herself on the grass. Lying there in her pale yellow chiffon dress, layered with ruching and detailed with bursts of fringe at the hem, waist, wrists, and elbows (designer Chanteclair Le Brun is a personal friend), it is hard to believe that she is sixty-eight years old, and has starred in the same number of motion pictures. "I am superstitious, I am Sagittarius, and the numbers must match. If I have forty friends, I will buy forty pale yellow chiffon dresses. Gauguin knew that this was important, too. It is like the war."

Back home in the beautifully restored almshouse, Becloud curls on a tiny orange hassock in a characteristic pose, one arm trailing in a flower pot. In the almshouse, we see the extraordinary perfectionism that has characterized her work in cinema. The old loft, where the almsmen used to sleep, is still there, covered with the original straw pallets. Even a few almsmen are still here (six by Becloud's last count) to complete the verisimilitude. One notices, too, her collection of tiny objects: paper matchsticks from obscure hotels, rare shoelaces, trunk keys from all over the world, antique mascara brushes, nail parings of famous people who are her friends (each carefully cataloged and labeled), a complete edition of Easter seals. "I do not like to talk of my art," she says. "My art is boring. Hemingway knew that. I am very shy. As a child, I was very, very, shy. It is in my mind, my shyness, like my art. When I make a film, I must cover my mind with tissue paper, like a very small gift, wrapped for a lover. For many years I spoke to no one. Then I spoke to my husband, and soon afterward we separated. I have one son, who is gone now. We speak to each other, usually in the summer. It is like the war. The war killed many people, you know. It is true." Outside can be heard the splashing of many fountains in the exquisite gardens. Once, characteristically, she tossed a pair of spectacles into one of the fountains, just to see the sparkle.

In the kitchen of Marie Becloud's house, there is an authentically French stove, electrified for convenience. Marie Becloud prepares dinner for her cook, her houseman-gardener, and myself. She has always cooked for her servants, wherever she has happened to be. While cooking, she whimsically carves a carrot into the shape of a tiny balloon, and presents it to my daughter. "Keep this until you are very old," she says, characteristically. We sit down at the authentic table, into the top of which someone has carved her monogram. I ask what we are eating. "In England," she says, "you feed to eat. In France, we eat to feed. When I am making a film, I cannot eat. It is a conspiracy between the artist and the camera. Molière knew this, but he never told us. Picasso knew it, and he sometimes would speak of nothing else. It was so painful for him. It is like the war."

Cautiously, I turn the subject of the conversation to Cardin, the new film she is making in which she is the writer, the director, the producer, the set designer, the star, and the property man. It is a subject I know she is reluctant to talk about. "It will not be about Pierre Cardin, who is my friend," she says. "And it will not be about me, though it will have my bones. It will be about the war. I see two people on a precipice, walking closer. One is a man, very old. The other is a woman, very young. They hesitate. A bell rings. There will be rain, I think, because rain belongs in a village. Rain in the city has no colors, which is why I never go to cities. The man says something we cannot hear. The woman shouts, 'Why are we doing this?' The picture will be cut in Hollywood, and I will edit, by telephone, from here. Excuse me," she says suddenly, characteristically, "I must squidge." It is one of her rare lapses from perfect English. It means, "I must itch." Gently, characteristically, Marie Becloud scratches herself. "It is like the war," she says. □

"Jim Jones? Jim Jones Who?" PUBLIC FIGURES DENY CULT SUPPORT

JONES?
I DON'T KNOW

WILL.

AND AS
FOR ME, I'M PLEASED
AS PUNCH TO BE RETURN-ING FROM BEYOND THE GRAVE

I DIDN'T KNOW THIS JONES

THAT'S RIGHT,
MR. PRESIDENT-AND I DON'T EVEN KNOW WHAT YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT! I'M COMPLETELY IN THE DARK ABOUT EVERYTHING CONCERNING
THIS TERRIBLE WHAT-EVER-IT-IS.

A number of prominent American political and social leaders have issued public statements denying that they in any way supported the People's Temple, a religious cult involved in murder and mass suicide in Guyana recently.

Foremost among those disavowing all knowledge of the Rev. Jim Jones and his organization is First Lady Rosalynn Carter. The White House has issued a statement reading, in part, "Mrs. Carter inadvertently sent the wrong letter to Jim Jones in April of 1977. The letter thanking a 'Jim' for his company and noting his comments regarding Cuba was to have been mailed to New York Yankee ace Jim 'Catfish' Hunter. The letter to Jim Jones was to have read, 'I disavow anything you do or say or are going to do, especially in Guyana and with grape Kool-Aid.'"

Likewise, HEW Secretary Joseph Califano has issued a statement in which he disclaims all knowledge of the cult leader. "It was my impression that my statements of support concerned the fine popular singer Jack Jones. I have never heard of Jim Jones, or of Guyana, or of grape Kool-Aid."

The late Mayor George Moscone of San Francisco, prior to his own untimely death, issued a joint statement with that city's former mayor, Joseph Alioto, holding that "it is traditional for the mayor to write a letter to a 'Jim Jones' in putative support of his activities. This is purely a symbolic function of the office, and has nothing to do with any real Jim Jones, living or dead, or Guyana, or grape Kool-Aid."

"To Show Good Faith" SHAH PROBES FAMILY, ARRESTS SELF

DON'T WORRY, I'M NOT REALLY HAVING A GOOD TIME. THIS IS AN OLD PICTURE.
JUST LAST WEEK I PLACED MYSELF
UNDER HOUSE ARREST. AND WITH A HOUSE AS BIG AS MINE—THAT'S SOME ARREST!

In an effort to quell mounting civil unrest in Iran, Mohammed Riza Pahlavi, the Shah of Iran, has initiated a full-scale government investigation into the affairs of his own family, the Pahlavis, as well as into the Pahlavi Foundation, the Pahlavi International Industrial Cartel, Pahlavi University, the Pahlavi Fund for Corruption and Torture, and Pahl, the Pahlavi line of cosmetics and skin care products.

In addition, the Shah has announced that he has placed himself under arrest. "I intend to be firm with myself," he told reporters at a press conference. "I shall immediately institute inquiries concerning my ties to my own family, and shall fully pursue any leads that may connect me with the Shah himself, which is me.

"However, let me point out that being under arrest does not in itself imply that I am guilty. It may turn out that I am an unwitting dupe. That I had no idea that the corruption and torture and repression I sanctioned was being carried out.

"One thing is certain: I shall require the services of a good, smart attorney. Accordingly, I have placed a telephone call to Jacob Javits. He has agreed to represent me if his wife says it's okay. And remember, he's Jewish!"

Bemoan "Excessive Craziness"

Killers Flee San Francisco

A number of prominent psychopathic criminals have announced that they are fleeing the San Francisco-Oakland area in response to what they call "too much excessive craziness and lunatics running around in this town."

In a letter received by the San Francisco Examiner, the person responsible for the so-called "Zodiac killings" has written: "First Jim Jones and the People's Temple set up shop here—and we all know what happened to them. Now Moscone and Milk are killed. I'm sorry, but it's too much. I'm moving back to Greenwich, Connecticut, and pronto."

The references to Moscone and Milk are thought to concern the recent shootings of San Francisco Mayor George Moscone and City Supervisor Harvey Milk.

The writer went on to say that his colleagues, the so-called "Zebra Killer" and "Stinky" the rapist, share his sentiments, and are also seeking residence elsewhere. "Zebra is thinking about moving to Omaha, and Stinky wants to go to Cuba."

The letter included a postscript, reading: "If the Skid-Row Slasher and the Hillside Strangler down in L.A. know what's good for them, they'll stay south of Carmel!"

"A Growing Menace to Society"

Government Mounts Massive War on Synanon

The Drug Enforcement Administration has announced it will launch a nationwide war on Synanon this summer.

Project Director Dr. Gregory Allman stated that the rising number of beatings, threats, nuisance lawsuits, attempted murders, and other Synanon-related behavior is becoming a major blight on American society. "If we can successfully rehabilitate those individuals already involved in Synanon activity, as well as educate the public as to the untold grief experienced by persons who live their lives with a so-called 'Synanon on their back,' I believe the crimes and the violence will diminish of their own accord," he said.

Allman's first move will be to set up a federally funded "Synadone" heroin maintenance program, wherein Synanon activists may be detained by authorities and forcibly readmitted to narcotics. "I'm talking about building them back up to a several-hundred-dollar-a-day habit," Dr. Allman said. "Granted, they may burglarize an occasional residence, but they're sure as hell not going to have the energy or dexterity to stuff any more rattlesnakes into mailboxes or drag their critics into fifty-million-dollar court battles."

Advisers "Go to Bat for Jimmy"

Carter Arms Staff for Inflation Confab

President Carter has devised an "unorthodox" strategy for dealing with the dual problems of inflation and recession.

According to White House spokesperson Jody Powell, the president has given each of his top economic advisers a regulation Hillerich and Bradsby Louisville Slugger baseball bat, and instructed the team to closet themselves in the Pink Room of the White House. The advisers are to debate, discuss, and "hit each other on the head" until all—or the remaining one—of them reach a consensus as to what inflation is, and how to deal with it.

"It's about time we made a move like this," an angry Powell told reporters. "The president has ordered those jokers to stay in that room and beat the shit out of each other until they can agree on how to fix the goddamn economy—or else!"

Mass Conversion Proposed

Refugees Stranded Aboard Ship

Over 2,000 refugees from Vietnam remain stranded aboard their overcrowded freighter in Port Klang, Kuala Lumpur, as Malaysia and United Nations officials argue over their fate. One solution—the only one acceptable to both sides thus far—is that the entire boatload of Vietnamese convert to Judaism.

"That way we can create a state for them," explained one UN official. "Or they can go to Israel. Either way. But as it now stands, who's going to welcome a freighter full of Vietnamese? I mean, can you imagine a hit movie like Voyage of the Damned about a leaky tub of zipperheads gnawing on raw fishtails? Not a chance."

Troupes for the Troops
RSO Keeps Army Smiling

THANK YOU, THANK YOU! AND HOW ABOUT THAT JOSHUA NKOMO HUH? I DIDN'T KNOW PERRY NKOMO HAD A BLACK BROTHER! BUT SERIOUSLY...

In an effort to root out antigovernment guerrilla strongholds and kill as many people as possible, Rhodesia has begun sending its army into neighboring African nations on surprise raids. The troops, all of whom are white, have been sent in blackface to avoid detection by black citizens of the other nations who might be sympathetic to the guerrilla cause.

Accordingly, the Rhodesian Service Organization (RSO) has sent its entertainment companies into the field in similar disguise. It is the RSO's task to keep the morale of the soldiers high.

"It isn't easy," sighed Entertainment Commander Dirk Hatjkoup. "This is one of those quickie, helter-skelter wars, where the soldiers are here today and gone tomorrow. It's not like the old days, where you could dig in for three weeks and sing every song Irving Berlin ever wrote."

"A Precious Natural Resource"

Conflict Flares Between Argentina and Chile

Hostility and sporadic outbreaks of armed conflict have arisen between Argentina and Chile—chiefly over the jurisdiction of a small, relatively obscure group of islands off the tip of South America.

The dispute centers on the Beagle Islands. Much of the controversy appears to revolve around which country has legal rights to exploit the islands' rich supply of raw beagles.

The dogs abound on all three land formations, and comprise fully 89 percent of the world's beagle supply. Well-known for their popularity as domestic pets, the beagles—in both adult and puppy form—have many scientific and industrial uses as well.

"The world is running out of beagles," declared one unnamed spokesperson for Chile. "This is a serious situation."

"Toward More Efficient Service"

New Postal Rules Enacted

The Post Office—encouraged by the apathetic public reaction to the precipitous rise in postal rates, new requirements concerning minimum letter size, and the proposed nine-digit Zip code—has announced a raft of new regulations, effective immediately:

1. All postage stamps must be at least four inches square and be imprinted with phosphorescent numerals readable from a distance of not less than fifty feet.
2. All letters and parcels must be addressed with 96-point type, similar to that used in TV teleprompting.
3. All envelopes must be equipped with two sturdy pistol-grip handles.
4. All outgoing letters and parcels must be presented in person at the mailer's assigned postal station.
5. All postal patrons must pick up their mail at their assigned postal station.
6. All messages of less than 1,000 words must be communicated electronically.
7. All envelopes with windows must have their windows constructed of double-strength plate glass, and be marked with suitable printed warnings indicating the presence of glass.
8. Postage will be sold only at unannounced, irregular intervals; and the price of postage will be permitted to float to market levels over and above face value.
9. All postal service mailboxes will be leased to the public for storage, housing, or other such purposes as may be considered useful to the community.

New Alliance Formed

Special Interest Groups Unite

Encouraged by their independent successes during the recent election, several special interest political groups have banded together in a unification of their causes.

Members of groups who lobbied against gay rights bills, parimutuel betting at jai alai games, casino gambling in Miami, and banning smoking in public places have joined forces in a movement that will, they hope, eventually result in prohibiting gays who do not smoke from betting on jai alai games played in Miami casinos.

Thus far the movement has encountered little opposition.

Transplant Operation Blamed Elton John Stricken

Rock superstar Elton John was stricken in his home recently and rushed to a nearby hospital for what was termed a "mystery illness."

There was speculation that the thirty-two-year-old singer had suffered a heart attack, but it has since been learned that a recent hair transplant operation on the pop idol and complications following that operation were to blame.

According to a physician at the London hospital where Elton John was rushed for treatment, the hair plugs that were inserted into his bare scalp to produce a fuller head of hair were improperly implanted.

"They were in upside down," the doctor told reporters, "and they grew into his scalp and his cranium and filled the inside of his head with hair."

Amin Vows Revenge Ugandan Troops Invade Tanzania

OF COURSE IT SOUNDS CRAZY! I'M CRAZY CHRIST, JUST LOOK AT ME! OOOO BABOOGA, OOOO BABOOGA, YAAHAAHAAAAA!!!!

In a surprise attack, Ugandan troops invaded Tanzania last month and occupied almost 1,000 square miles of Tanzanian territory. Ugandan President Idi Amin explained the apparently unprovoked assault as revenge for a dream he had in which Tanzanian President Julius Nyerere appeared as a bull elephant, made love to Amin's eldest wife with his trunk, and then defecated in the rotund ruler's ceremonial cocked hat.

"Such insults must be answered," Amin told reporters. "M'weeto (Swahili for both 'bull elephant' and 'tumescens penis,' and apparently a reference to Nyerere) must apologize."

Meanwhile, in New York, the UN Security Council voted to dispatch a fact-finding team consisting of Kurt Waldheim, two psychiatrists, and two big game hunters armed with tranquilizer guns to meet with President Amin and try to "sort things out."

Blacks Out, Women In Minority Shift in Senate

WHERE'S THE NEGRO? I THOUGHT YOU SAID THERE WAS A NEGRO, MOMMY?

GENTLEMEN! QUICKLY, BEFORE NANCY GETS BACK... IT SEEMS THESE TWO BROADS WALK INTO A BAR...

IS SENATOR KASSEBAUM HERE? OR IS SHE OVER AT WOODWARD AND LOTHROP TRYING ON HATS? HA-HA-HA!

Experts have perceived what they are calling a "significant" shift in the minority composition of the U.S. Senate following the recent off-year elections across the country.

Ostensibly Negro Senator Edward Brooke, often referred to as the "whitest man in the world" lost his bid for reelection in Massachusetts. This brings the sum total of black senators in Congress to zero. However, the first woman since Margaret Chase Smith was elected—Nancy Landon Kassebaum of Kansas—will face the double hardship of being the only woman among a Senate of ninety-nine men, and having to take the statements of Robert Dole (also from Kansas) seriously.

News analysts anticipate far-reaching changes in senatorial politics as a result of these developments. "Blacks no longer have someone of their own race to ignore them in the Senate," explained Dr. David Lehman of Princeton. "They will now have to be content with being ignored by a branch of Congress composed entirely of white people. But women have much to be hopeful about. With Mrs. Kassebaum in there to tease, flirt, wheedle, cry, pout, and gab on the phone all day long, the girls have a real chance of getting some legislation passed to guarantee wages for powdering their noses, or whatever the hell they want."

Sadat, Others Tempted Bribery Clouds Mideast Talks

ANWAR... YOU WANT THE TABLE? IT'S YOURS. ANYTHING.

HERE, ANWAR, LET ME GET UP; YOU CAN HAVE THE COUCH. NO, NO, I WANT YOU TO HAVE IT...

Sources close to Egyptian President Anwar el-Sadat have revealed that he has been offered an enormous amount of money to withdraw from peace negotiations with Israel. A consortium of Arab states allegedly volunteered to make this payoff. In what may be a related development, Israeli government officials have reported finding turkeys, fruit baskets, money, and television and stereo equipment on their doorsteps and in their offices. No explanation has been offered for the appearance of these objects.

A spokesman for the Arabs who supposedly put up the Sadat bribe offer and who may be behind the Israeli "gifts," hinted that well-placed money could play a large role in the Mideast peace talks. "Even a nice sport coat or a fur can have good results," the source told a gathering of reporters in Washington.

An aide to President Carter announced that prior to the Camp David peace talks, the president received six fifty-yard-line tickets to a Redskins-Colts game, and that his daughter, Amy, was given a pony and a pinball machine by an anonymous source. Included was an unsigned note reading, "And if Begin happens to choke on a chicken bone, or Sadat falls off a cliff, there's more where this came from."

IS THIS ANY WAY TO SELL SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE NATIONAL LAMPOON?

Yes. Because we'd stoop to anything to grab your attention and tell you how much money you save by subscribing instead of buying our magazine at the newsstand price. A one-year subscription is only $8.95, a savings of $9.05 over the newsstand price. A two-year subscription is $11.00, a savings of $25.00. Three years is only $16.00, a savings of $38.00 over the newsstand price. Save $9.05, $25.00, or $38.00 on the funniest magazine in the world. Think of how much beer you can buy with $38.00! Think of how many downs you can buy for $38.00! Think of how much cocaine you can buy for $38.00!...Uh, well, actually you can't buy all that much cocaine for $38.00 so maybe you'd better just think about the beer: think how much beer you can buy for $38.00!!

Religious Leader Defies Shah

Shiite-head Remains Critical, Obdurate

Ayatollah Mohammed Khomeini, leader of the Islamic sect known as the Shiites, has stated that his opposition to the Shah of Iran is "unswerving, even if the Shah should don a mask of reverence with respect to our beliefs and become Shiite-faced."

As titular leader of the Shiite sect, Khomeini has issued numerous denunciations of the Shah and his cohorts as "no-good Shiite-kickers who would like nothing better than to beat the Shiite out of Iran."

The Shah has protested publicly that he has great admiration for the entire panoply of Islamic sects and subdivisions, but Khomeini remains skeptical. "That man," he says, "does not know a Shiite from a Sheinolah."

"Election Rigged"—Rizzo

Martial Law Declared

Mayor Frank "Ratso" Rizzo of Philadelphia has declared martial law in that city following the defeat of an amendment to the city charter that would have allowed him to run for a third term. The declaration of martial law was made after Rizzo allegedly received a tip that Philadelphia has been singled out for "guerrilla and terrorist activities by subversive organizations with mob and drug and Communist connections."

The mayor said that he believes the referendum results were tampered with and will seek a second referendum, although he said that he believes the "courts are in collusion with these terrorists, and also with the Russians."

"These people obviously don't want Frank Rizzo in office," Rizzo told reporters. "They know he's tough on crime, and on criminals, and on terrorists, and on Russians, and on everybody. So they want him out. The courts get paid off, the election gets rigged, the water gets poisoned with LSD. The press is in cahoots with the Cubans; the blacks are planning an armed uprising. That's why everybody in the city of Philadelphia is under arrest. Or martial law. Whatever."

America's Favorite Illustrator

Norman Rockwell Dies

Nonpareil illustrator Norman Rockwell—creator of classic magazine and advertising illustrations of apple-cheeked boys throwing snowballs at kindly old grandfathers and plump Christmas turkeys—died recently at the age of eighty-four.

Rockwell, whose paintings often appeared on the cover of the Saturday Evening Post, will be buried in a private ceremony in a cemetery in his hometown of Anywhere, U.S.A. His body will be interred beside that of his brother, George Lincoln Rockwell.

The latter, a longtime figure of controversy, was best known as the militant, fanatic, and deranged leader of the American Nazi Party. Norman was always reticent about discussing his brother, but was once heard to remark, "I'm just trying to do some good to balance off all the bad that brother George is doing."

Both Norman and George Lincoln had been estranged from their third brother, International, who founded the multinational armaments and aviation corporation that bears his name, albeit in inverted form.

Reactor Reaction "Unfortunate"

Austrians Turn Thumbs Down on Atom Plant

Last month the Austrian people voted to prohibit the opening of a $150 million nuclear power plant, construction of which had just been completed. Austrian Chancellor Kreisky termed the decision "shortsighted," then blamed the "whole silly situation" on a secretarial error.

Kreisky claims to have dictated a memo several years ago calling first for a public referendum on the building of the power plant, and then for the appropriation of funds for its construction.

Unfortunately, the paragraphs dealing with these matters were reversed by the statesman's secretary, Ms. Rosa Beanhoffer, and the power plant was built before the plebiscite was taken. When the Austrian people voted no on the plant, Chancellor Kreisky began deducting the cost of construction "little by little" from Ms. Beanhoffer's weekly check.

Ms. Beanhoffer reportedly intends to burn down her partially-paid-for power plant for the insurance money, then to ask the Austrian people to approve the action in a newspaper poll.

Flynt Empire Executive Shot

A vice-president of Leisure Time Products, the mail-order sex products division of Larry Flynt's Hustler magazine empire, was wounded by gunshots outside his office last month. The shooting was the third attack in as many months on Flynt executives.

Preliminary police reports have linked the incident to a bloody marketing war currently raging over a best-selling Leisure Time product—a vinyl reproduction of a female mouth, designed to receive and stimulate to climax the purchaser's penis. The product, called a Pucker-Sucker, is competing with several other such machines in the ninety-million-dollar vibrating mouth market. A Flynt spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said that the executive was gunned down to frighten Leisure Time out of the marketplace. "But we're not quitters," he insisted. "They've turned this thing into a moral issue now, a matter of principle, and we're going to stick it out."

"Eighty-eight Days of Distastefulness"

N. Y. Newspaper Strike Ends

The strike affecting all of New York's major daily newspapers has ended after eighty-eight days. Media experts are only now beginning to appreciate its ramifications.

"It's amazing how crippled a city can become when deprived of its newspapers," remarked Prof. Helen Fredericks of Philadelphia's Annenberg School of Communications. "For more than twelve weeks, the bottoms of bird cages went unlined. Fish were wrapped in whatever paper substitute was ready-to-hand. Puppies went unhousebroken by the hundreds.

"And things were no better in the suburbs. Newsboys were forced to throw magazines in bushes, puddles, and onto roofs. We can only be grateful that the strike ended in time to provide newspaper for all the dozens of stupid papier-mâché piñatas that will be made by elementary school classes for Christmas."

"An Incredible Woman, An Incredible Scientist"

Margaret Mead Back on the Job

Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist, cultural critic, lecturer, and indefatigable scientific gadfly, has arisen from the dead and resumed her research and public speaking activities.

Dr. Mead had apparently died of cancer recently at the age of seventy-six. Arrangements for her funeral had been completed, and eulogies from the scientific world had been pouring in from all over the globe.

"She's incredible, simply incredible," marveled Dr. Steven Jacobs of the University of Pennsylvania's Department of Anthropology. "When Malinowski died, he just laid around and started decomposing. But not Maggie. She jumped up and started doing push-ups!"

"Oh, piffle," was Dr. Mead's only response. "The Kapauku Papuans and the Tuvaluans have been dying and coming back for centuries. Americans can be so silly sometimes."

Accolade Long Overdue

Isaac Bashevis Singer Wins Nobel Prize

Isaac Bashevis Singer has won the 1978 Nobel Prize for something. No one is sure for what.

His citation from the Nobel Awards Committee reads, "Because of his lifelong devotion to the domestic arts, particularly for his invention of the sewing machine, the Committee awards its 1978 prize for inventions to I. B. Singer." However, later on the citation reads, "It is for this reason—that he has singlemindedly and with great dedication championed the art of bashevis singing both in his native land and around the world—that the Committee awards its 1978 prize for singing to Isaac, the Bashevis Singer."

Mr. Singer was pleased and, typically, self-effacing. "Well, I really didn't do those things," he said. "But I must have done something to deserve the prize, so thank you very much."

Don't lose your highs on the highway.

If music is an important part of your life, you probably spend a good deal of time listening—in your car, as well as at home. Unfortunately your car was designed for transportation, not music. Because of its peculiar shape and size, its soundproofing material, the constant noise level of traffic, wind and motor, and the practicality of speaker placement, the high frequency sounds of music you hear at home are absorbed or obliterated. Without those highs, your music sounds dull and lifeless.

The TDK AD cassette overcomes the problems created by this unfriendly acoustic environment. AD has a hotter high end than any pure ferric oxide tape. And AD is a normal bias cassette—you can use it in any car stereo.

If you listen to rock, AD will restore the edge and presence that makes that music exciting. If you listen to classical music, AD will reinforce the critical overtones that make an oboe sound like an oboe and not like a clarinet.

AD has a super precision mechanism (backed by a full lifetime warranty*) that eliminates cassette jams during traffic jams. And its hot high end lets your music come alive at 55.

GAY PAGE

The theme of this issue of the National Lampoon is "Heterosexuality." Now, we realize that we have a certain number of non-heterosexual readers, and this issue is not likely to be of much interest to them—any more than a "Sports" issue would be to the bookworms or "Wonderful Arab Pals" to the yidzo who's our senior editor. Therefore, we've inserted this special "Gay Page" to give the homophilic segment of our audience a little something to do while their pussy-pushing buddies leer, snort, and make rude noises at the back of their throats while pawing through the ensuing nude shots.

VERY MARRIED SEX

by John Hughes

It's a smorgasbord for you single guys, but for us happily marrieds it's meat loaf every night. We've got the obvious benefits of married life (freedom to go bald and fat, free food and laundry service, kids to run errands), but you fellas have the waterbeds and the airline stews. Unless you're cursed with some sort of fearsome face or dangerous personality quirk, you probably see a new set of knockers every week, or at least every month. What you take for granted, we married humps only dream about having—a blond pubic hair from your soap bar, the feel of tiny, silky underpants, a drop of sweat from the chest of a girl under twenty-five.

I don't want to dry-rot the sacred institution of marriage or incur the wrath of the thousand pissed-off neighbor ladies, but I must level with the reader—Very Married Sex is a different game.

Very Married Sex begins shortly after the fourth wedding anniversary (sometimes earlier for guys who marry cute little honeys with big lungs that go blimpo right after the I-dos) or upon the birth of the first child. The romance drains off, the bodies change, and—let's face the music—if you're an average guy, you've poked the same gal about 600 times in four years, and in man's entire history he has come up with no more than thirty sexual positions.

The problem is compounded by the fact that deep down, women don't really like to fuck. Oh sure, they do it and it tickles and they feel all warm inside, but given the choice of a trashy "Movie of the Week," a good night's sleep, or a telephone call and you can hold it yourself for all she cares. Women fuck when they're young because if they don't they sit home on weekends and never get married. But once the knot is tied and the groove is established, those heated thighs freeze over.

The Very Married man has two options. He can divorce the bone pile and pay and suffer and have a breakdown and die a lonely drunk, or stay married and make do with what he has.

SWAPPING

Just a quick word about swapping—stay away from it. It is more depressing than anything you can do short of going to visit old relatives in the nursing home. You drink a lot and play nude Monopoly or whatever, and then you just sit there. You and four or five other fat, naked guys with hard-ons looking at four or five fat, worn-down women trying to cover their stretch marks. Acres of pubes, nipples, guts, and asses. Believe me when I tell you, it's better to try and steal a peek down a blouse than look at the whole unabridged mess sitting in a heap on your family carpet.

HOW TO TALK YOUR WIFE INTO PERFORMING ORAL SEX

When it comes to oral sex, the Very Married woman is a terminal lockjaw case. It takes a clever and persistent man to get her to say aahh!

1. Beg, wheedle, plead, moan, groan, and whine. It will become a war of wills. You have to play it fine; the object being to have her grab it in disgust and perform the dirty deed to shut you up.

2. Perform cunnilingus. If you can get your head under the covers, up the flannel nightie, between the thighs, and connect with the magic button and hold it for twenty seconds, she will go into a sexual overdrive and will have no control over her body or her passions, and you can pull the old switchyard on her and creep and crawl around and flop the hoagie in her face and hope she feels obligated to chomp.

3. Wine and dine and flowers and affection and romance. The object is to endear yourself to her enough so that it will counteract the gag reflex. You must start at least a week in advance. Send flowers with a charming note. Be wonderful around the house. Suppress your anger, your pride, your dignity, and all those other things that get in the way of a peaceful relationship. Listen to her, talk to her. At week's end, take her out for dinner, booze a little (not too much or she'll fall asleep in the car). When you get home, take a shower and get in bed. Be nice and give her a warm and sincere kiss. Hopefully, she'll take a little initiative or possibly get into the "I'm the best sex partner in the world" game. Go with it and squirt as quick as you can.

4. The sleep job. This is very tricky and very dangerous. You'll find that after a woman marries, she sleeps with her mouth open and often even snores. Do you get the idea? You slide it in and hope she's sound asleep. A few drinks or some 'ludes will help. This one is pretty sick, so if she wakes up and catches you it's grounds for anything she wants.

THE BEST WAY TO GET YOUR WIFE INTO BED

Ask for a hand job. Women hate to give hand jobs. They see it as an act of pure drudgery, much like washing windows or scrubbing hard water stains in the toilet bowl. The only thing a hand job is good for, in a woman's mind, is defense against the blow job.

THE VERY MARRIED MAN ON THE PROWL

The price you pay for a fling, a fuck, or an infatuation can be exceedingly high. If you have children and heavy debt service it can bring on heart trouble. Any sexual activity you engage in must be of the fleeting, zipless variety. The worst thing you can do is fall in love. It is impossible to keep your wife from finding out. She'll spot the sudden interest in your waistline, in weight lifting, clothes, cologne, your new hairstyle, and improved attitude at home. She'll know you're in love—maybe even before you know. And besides, you're probably too old for love. Love has a nasty way of anesthetizing fuck-hungry married men so that you think some gum-cracking fanny with an IQ to match her bra size is 1965 vintage Vanessa Redgrave; and you make a huge ass of yourself by marrying her, only to have her run off in six months with a plumber's assistant. The only thing dumber than falling in love is putting a massage on your Master Charge.

A WORD ABOUT PORNOGRAPHY

You'll need it. Lots of it. The dirty, filthy, degrading kind. But keep it well hidden! Don't discount secret wall panels, trick drawers, holes in the yard, etc., especially if you have teenage boys or a Baptist wife with a housecleaning obsession. Also keep in mind that you could die at any moment, and nothing puts a crimp in a funeral worse than having the beceaved family wonder what kind of sick, perverted beast you were under that kind and genteel exterior.

IMPROVING THE VIEW

You can hock your ass and the speedboat, and subject the wife to months of reconstructive facial and body surgery, which will probably leave her too taut to fuck, or you can do what the Slavic peoples have done for centuries—lower your standards. If you change the way you view women, you can fool yourself into thinking your lump of coal is the Koh-i-noor diamond.

1. Steer clear of the upper-end male magazines such as Playboy, Penthouse, and Oui, and female books such as Vogue, Harper's, and Cosmo. These magazines generally feature women who are the antithesis of what you've probably got, and they talk about things that married women don't do. Studying these magazines will only give your balls some bad angst.
2. Do study Hustler, Gallery magazine's "Girl-Next-Door" contest, Chic, Cheri, and magazines with names like Grunt, Muff Diver, Ass 'n' Bush, etc. Their women are more in keeping with the average, and by cultivating a taste along those lines, you'll view the wife in an easier context.
3. Squint when you look at her naked. Squinting erases lumps and bulges and trims about thirty pounds.
4. Peek at her when she's dressing, bathing, sleeping. Maybe a clandestine view will pump up your hormones.
5. Study Rubens paintings. Peter

Paul, like you, hung around fat gals, except he thought they were art.

ON THE BRIGHT SIDE

Married women, unless they have a drug or booze problem, smell pretty good.

THREE RULES FOR LATE NIGHT ACTIVITIES

1. When you indulge in certain private practices, make sure that the wife and kids are into the post-REM level of deep sleep, that the door is locked, and that some type of emergency warning system is in operation.
2. When you venture forth into the night, be certain that you will be able to return safely and without detection.
3. Always have a solid alibi for any activity that may compromise a law.

THE ALL-PURPOSE MORAL ARGUMENT

"I'm only going to live one life, so should I miss the opportunity to commune with another human being? This will enrich my life and my relationship with my wife. It will strengthen the marriage. Many great men have had carnal knowledge of women outside their marriage. Monogamy is unnatural. If my wife won't do something, don't I have a right to seek it elsewhere? What's the big deal? I'm only going to do it once. One time can't hurt me or my family. I am entitled to be weak occasionally..."

THINGS JEWISH MOTHERS TELL

GIRLS DON'T ENJOY SEX.

DON'T FOOL AROUND WITH ITALIAN GIRLS BECAUSE THEY ALL HAVE SIX BROTHERS WHO WORK ON THE DOCKS WITH THOSE HOOKS, AND THEY'LL COME AFTER YOU AND MAKE YOU MARRY HER.

DON'T GO OUT WITH GIRLS WHO WEAR LOTS OF RINGS ON THEIR FINGERS. IF THEY HIT YOU, THEY CAN BREAK YOUR JAW.

IRISH GIRLS DRINK A LOT AND THROW UP ALL OVER THE PLACE. THE BIG ONES WILL BEAT YOU UP.

PUERTO RICAN GIRLS HAVE LOTS OF RELATIVES WHO WILL SPONGE OFF YOU AND SUCK YOU DRY.

DON'T BE FOOLED BY GIRLS WHO SAY THEY ARE "SPANISH." THEY ARE REALLY PUERTO RICANS WHO ARE TRYING TO GET AHEAD IN LIFE.

DON'T MARRY A WIDOW OR A GIRL WHO'S DIVORCED. IT'S LIKE BUYING AT A RESALE SHOP.

SOME GIRLS WILL HOLD OFF GOING TO THE DENTIST UNTIL THEY'RE MARRIED TO YOU, AND THEN YOU'RE STUCK WITH THE DENTAL BILL.

CATHOLIC GIRLS HAVE NO "SAFE PERIOD."

BE CAREFUL IF YOU EVER TAKE A GIRL OUT IN A CAR, ESPECIALLY A PRETTY ONE. IF THERE'S AN ACCIDENT, SHE'LL SUE YOU FOR DESTROYING HER LOOKS.

GIRLS WHO WEAR LOTS OF MAKEUP WILL GET CANCER OF THE FACE, AND THEN YOU WON'T BE ABLE TO TAKE THEM OUT ANYWHERE.

A WOMAN IS VERY DELICATE "DOWN THERE," AND IF YOU'RE NOT CAREFUL YOU CAN MESS UP HER WHOLE INSIDES AND CAUSE HER GREAT PAIN AND EVEN DEATH. YOU CAN TELL THE ONES WHO ARE MESSED UP ALREADY BECAUSE THEY GO TO THE BATHROOM A LOT.

HUNGARIAN GIRLS, AFTER THEY'RE MARRIED, KEEP SECRET BANK ACCOUNTS.

ISRAELI GIRLS HAVE ALL HAD ARMY TRAINING AND CAN KILL YOU WITH ONE PUNCH TO THE RIGHT PLACE. ALSO, THEY'RE PUSHY.

DON'T EVER FOOL AROUND WITH A COLORED GIRL. THEY ALL CARRY KNIVES ON THEM OR RAZOR BLADES UNDER THEIR TONGUES, AND THEY CAN KILL YOU OR EVEN MAIM YOU PERMANENTLY IF THEY DON'T LIKE WHAT YOU'RE DOING TO THEM.

TEACHERS MAKE GOOD WIVES BECAUSE THEY HAVE A STEADY SALARY.

NEVER KISS A MEXICAN GIRL ON THE LIPS. THEY ALL HAVE TB.

FRENCH GIRLS CARRY DISEASES.

! THEIR SONS ABOUT GIRLS

WATCH HOW A GIRL USES TOILET PAPER. THAT'S HOW SHE'LL SPEND YOUR MONEY AFTER YOU'RE MARRIED.

A GIRL'S BREASTS TURN BLACK AND FALL OFF IF YOU TOUCH THEM DURING 40M KIPPUR.

NURSES KNOW A LOT ABOUT THE BODY AND IF THEY WANT TO, THEY CAN GET PREGNANT IN A MINUTE.

ACTRESSES GIVE THEIR BODIES FREELY, AND BESIDES, THEY LIKE TO SLEEP LATE, SO YOU'LL HAVE TO LEARN HOW TO PREPARE YOUR OWN BREAKFAST.

PORTUGUESE GIRLS ARE, IN REALITY, VERY SMART SPANISH GIRLS WHO HAVE FIGURED OUT A WAY TO EVEN FURTHER CONFUSE YOU INTO THINKING THAT THEY'RE NOT PUERTO RICANS.

GIRLS DRY UP INSIDE AS THEY GET OLDER. EVENTUALLY THERE'S NOTHING LEFT INSIDE BUT A FINE DRY POWDER; BUT EVEN THEN, YOU CAN STILL GET THEM PREGNANT.

GIRLS WILL TRY ANYTHING TO FORCE A MAN TO MARRY THEM, SO DON'T RELAX IF YOU SEE THAT A GIRL HAS A HYSTERECTOMY SCAR. IT COULD BE A PHONY.

DESPITE WHAT EVERYBODY SAYS, GERMAN GIRLS ARE REALLY VERY DIRTY. THEIR BODIES ARE FILTHY BECAUSE THEY NEVER BATHE, AND WHAT'S WORSE, THEY KEEP A FILTHY HOUSE. CHEESES ARE LEFT AROUND THAT ATTRACT ROACHES AND MICE. ALSO, THEY DON'T FLUSH THE TOILET AFTER USING IT, NOR DO THEY EVER THROW OUT OLD NEWSPAPERS.

GREEK GIRLS ALL HAVE MOUSTACHES, WHICH THEY SHAVE REGULARLY RIGHT UP UNTIL THE DAY THEY ARE MARRIED.

CHINESE PEOPLE ARE INVOLVED IN ANCESTOR WORSHIP. THIS MEANS THAT IF YOU MARRY A CHINESE GIRL, YOU'LL HAVE A SHRINE IN THE LIVING ROOM WITH LOTS OF INCENSE BURNING, WHICH WILL STINK UP THE HOUSE AND WON'T HELP YOUR SINUS CONDITION.

NICE JEWISH GIRLS DON'T HAVE NATURALLY BLOND HAIR. THOSE WHO DO HAD GRANDMOTHERS WHO WERE RAPED BY COSSACKS.

IF YOU MARRY A PROTESTANT GIRL, YOU'LL ALWAYS GO HUNGRY. THEY COOK LITTLE PORTIONS.

GIRLS WHO KEEP DIARIES ARE NOT TO BE TRUSTED. DIARIES ARE ADMISSIBLE EVIDENCE AND CAN BE USED AGAINST YOU IN A COURT CASE IF SOMETHING HAPPENS LATER.

ALL POLISH GIRLS LOSE THEIR TEETH BEFORE THE AGE OF EIGHTEEN. ALSO, THEY GET STRETCH MARKS BEFORE THEY HAVE BABIES.

DON'T GO NEAR A GIRL WHEN SHE'S HAVING HER MENSTRUAL PERIOD. IT'S BEEN PROVEN THAT THE DISCHARGE CAUSES DISEASES.

A SMART GIRL WILL EAT BEFORE YOU TAKE HER TO A RESTAURANT. THAT WAY YOU WON'T KNOW THAT SHE EATS LIKE A HORSE UNTIL AFTER YOU'VE BEEN MARRIED TO HER.

ONE

by Gahan Wilson

One discovered the sexes only after long and painful experimentation, so it was fortunate that one's motivations for the search were intense.

1. Reproduction by fission had numerous drawbacks, its most noticeable flaw being that the whole process bored one incredibly.

2. Then there was the awful feeling that one hadn't really accomplished much. That is, after one had gone through all the fuss associated with reproduction by fission, all there was to show for it was two of one instead of one of one, and outside of that nothing new had happened.

3. One always hoped the fission might produce some one different, at least in some tiny way, from all the other ones, but since each one-half was just one more half-one, no difference ever occurred.

4. And the more of one there was, the less point there seemed to be in making more and more and more of one.

5. One tried fissioning by quarters, eighths, tenths, and other fragments in desperate attempts to produce at least a tiny variation...

6. ...but the bits and pieces would eventually expand into yet another one of one, merely taking longer to do it.

7. Then the chance reception of an interstellar television broadcast from some unknown planet hinted at an astonishing way out of the quandary: sex.

8. Sex involved the coupling of a one who was male and a one who was female. Their offspring were excitingly unlike. Unfortunately, the process required that the male one have masculine organs and the female one have feminine organs, and, of course, no one on one's planet had any of either (such things not being needed in fission).

9. Artificial organs were constructed, worn, and employed, but all to no avail.

10. Then surgery combined with chemical injections and ultra-ray bombardment were used to alter various ones along the lines suggested by the television broadcast, the idea being that if two ones could just get sex started it would more or less carry on by itself.

11. There were many mistakes and false starts, but eventually one altered one looked at another altered one in a way which one had never looked at another one in one's entire history.

12. The first poem was written, the first lovers' quarrel was fought, and the first child was born.

13. Then came pornography, prostitution, sexual discrimination, birth control, abortion, homosexuality, and, finally, cloning.

Profile: A man who everyone has heard of...

Interview by Gerald Sussman

Bill Right is a rarity among architects. He designs public buildings to satisfy many diverse interests and tastes. Yet at the same time, he has won the awards and acclaim of the most critical members of his profession. Bill Right may deal with professional compromisers, but refuses to compromise his own architectural principles.

Clearly, Bill Right is not one of your run-of-the-mill architects. And after spending the day with him, we feel he's not one of your run-of-the-mill people either.

Right lives alone in a town house in Atlanta that somehow combines the best elements of a French farmhouse and an Italian villa. "It's not my kind of design, but it's so comfortable and warm that I couldn't resist buying it," said Right. The house is remarkably cozy and inviting, and Right added a few touches to make it even more livable, including a Japanese wing, where he relaxes after a hard day in the Obushu pool, the Jacuzzi, the sauna, and the hot tub.

When Bill Right isn't designing award-winning architecture, he serves on regional ecology commissions ("the ones that really get things done because they work on a smaller scale") and the Atlanta Friend in Need Club, an offshoot of the Big Brother idea. Right has "adopted" a pair of disadvantaged black children and takes them to ball games, concerts, and even on some of his safaris to Africa. He's been on five safaris and plans to write a book on the wild birds of Tanzania, accompanied by his own photographs, which have already earned him a one-man show in Atlanta. (These are photo safaris, of course—he does not hunt.)

Food and wine are his passions. He loves to cook, and specializes in French, Italian, Chinese, and native American cuisines. He speaks five languages fluently, and after graduating college he spent three years "bumming around Europe," apprenticing himself to some of the continent's finest kitchens. His wine cellar ("I started collecting when I was twenty-five") is the envy of many established oenophiles. "I love to share a bottle of good wine with a woman who can appreciate the subtle differences between one chateau and another. It's not pretentious to love wine the way I do. It's fun."

What we especially liked about Bill Right was that despite

Full Name: William Ashton Right
Occupation: Architect

Ambition: To find the woman who will share this life with him.

his growing acclaim and a back-breaking schedule, he remains a totally unaffected, down-to-earth person with a fantastic sense of humor. "Bill is amazing," said his good friend Jason Sanderson. "He reminds me a lot of Mike Nichols when Nichols was working with Elaine May. You know, that quicksilver wit. None of that bad taste stuff you see in the National Lampoon or 'Saturday Night Live.'"

Actually, when Right is just mano a mano or with a date, he tends to be more gentle and whimsical, full of happy surprises (little gifts, flowers) and sheer spontaneous good fun. He loves to dance ("anything from ballroom steps to sambas to disco") and has the stamina to last through the wee hours of the morning.

At the moment, there are no special women in Bill's life. "Sure, I go out with a fair assortment of women, but when I fall in love, I fall in love. Basically, I'm a one-woman guy. I just haven't found Ms. Right yet.

"I believe a woman should have the exact same rights and privileges as a man, and I mean in everything. The woman I fall in love with should be economically independent, that is, successful in her own right. She should be happy and fulfilled in her work. Let's face it, equality starts with earning power. She should be able to share certain things with me and also live her own kind of life in her own kind of space. At the same time, she should be happy and proud of her femininity, in the sense that she expects me to do the appropriate male things for her, not the macho stuff. I'm not a macho-type guy."

Fortunately, Bill Right has no financial worries. Along with the substantial salary he makes as an architect, he also enjoys a comfortable independent income (part of an inheritance and trust fund set up by his wealthy, brilliant father, the man who invented the iron lung).

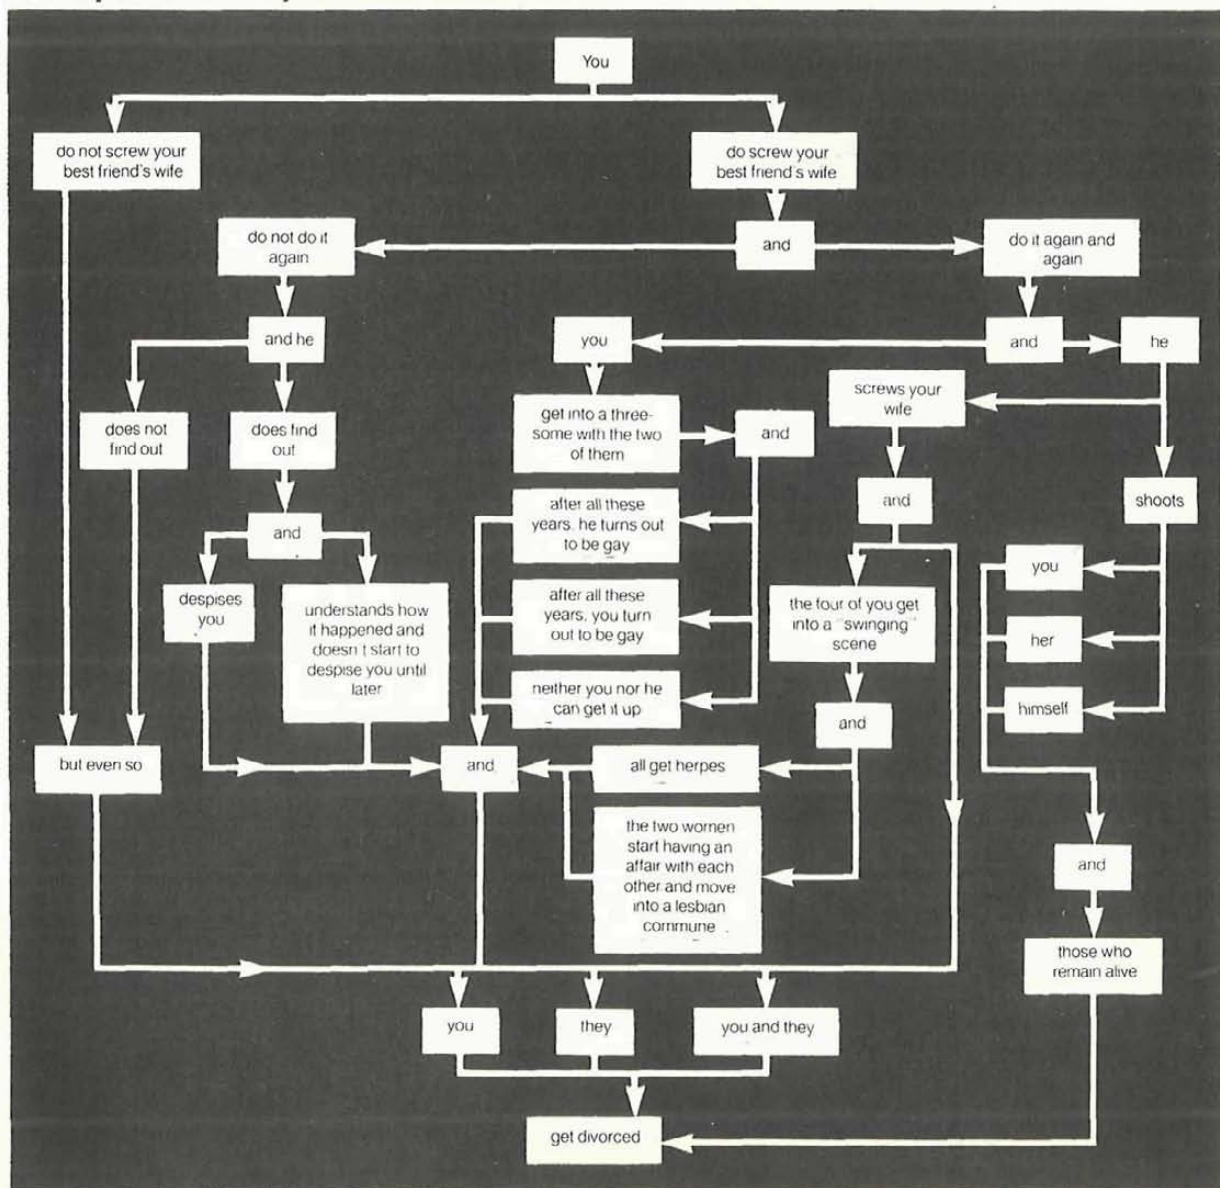

At the moment, Right is not planning any radical changes in his life, except for the all-important possibility of meeting the right woman. As with everything he embraces, he has an open mind, tempered with sensitivity and understanding. His lifestyle is exciting, his interests are many and varied, his work is demanding—but the one unachieved goal is the woman who will share this life with him. Is anyone out there interested?

SCREWING YOUR BEST FRIEND'S WIFE

How It Will All Turn Out If You Screw Your Best Friend's Wife

A Computerized Analysis of the Possible Results

How to Tell If You Will Soon Be Screwing Your Best Friend's Wife

Because women respond in a generally uniform and predictable manner to most life situations, it is not difficult to forecast when your best friend's wife may be inclined or even desperate to screw you. Examine her present situation and compare it to the comprehensive model below. Core prerequisites:

Best Friend (BF)

1. Doesn't earn much money (or)
2. Travels in his job (or)
3. Has a drinking or drug problem (or)
4. Is completely dominated by his wife (or)
5. Screws other women (or)
6. Treats his wife in a cavalier or oppressive manner (or)
7. Has become extremely fat (or)
8. Is crippled.

Best Friend's Wife (BFW)

1. Comes from a wealthy family (or)
2. Is very young (or)
3. Is home alone a good deal of the time (or)
4. Sees a psychiatrist (or)
5. Has a drinking or drug problem (or)
6. Suspects that her husband screws other women (or)
7. Has always had a number of "men" friends (or)
8. Has a number of divorced girl friends.

If at least two of the above conditions are extant for each party, then look for the following behavior chain:

1. BFW—laughs unusually hard at your jokes; BF—no reaction. How soon you can expect to be screwing BFW—six weeks.
2. BFW—if you and her husband speak at the same time, directs her attention to you; BF—may try to exclude wife from your conversations. How soon—four to six weeks.
3. BFW—becomes overly concerned if you receive an injury of any kind; BF—chides wife for making a pest of herself. How soon—four to six weeks.

4. BFW—insists you accompany her and her husband to movies and restaurants they would ordinarily attend alone; BF—will become tired and want to go home early. How soon—four weeks.
5. BFW—walks you to your car when you leave her home; BF—rushes the good-byes. How soon—three weeks.
6. BFW—conspicuously omits references to her husband in conversation with you; BF—omits references to wife in conversation with you. How soon—ten days to two weeks.
7. BFW—expresses some dissatisfaction with husband; BF—no change. How soon—two weeks.
8. BFW—confides some of her husband's most private feelings and quirks that you, even as his best friend, didn't know; BF—no change. How soon—one week.
9. BFW—visits you at home with an unmarried girl friend, claiming they were just driving through the neighborhood; BF—confides that his wife has been testy and difficult to live with lately. How soon—seventy-two hours.
10. BFW—induces you to come over to her house when her husband isn't home to help her solve a petty problem; then shows you a new outfit and asks your opinion; then offers you drugs, alcohol, and food; then positions herself several inches away from you and starts talking about how much she appreciates your coming over; BF—(reaction not available). How soon—now.

Some of the Creepy Aspects of Screwing Your Best Friend's Wife That You May Have to Contend With

The Bed. There is a good chance she will screw you in her bed, which, of course, is also the bed of your best friend. You will burrow into sheets steeped in his personal aroma, which, given the general sense-numbing effect of an erection, will not strike you until after orgasm, whereupon this impact will combine with all of the other guilt to make you feel like a particularly dirty and disgusting human being.

The Ugly Information. Best friends' wives ordinarily screw their husbands' best friends to punish their husbands. Consequently, they will often attempt to turn you against their husbands by telling you practically every secret piece of information they have or can plausibly fabricate. You should be prepared to hear things like:

"He will never suspect that you are screwing me because he thinks you are gay!"

"He won't care about us—he's gay."

"I don't see how he could possibly complain about us—he screwed your wife."

"I don't know why you feel so attached to him. After all, he was the one who spray-painted the swastika on your new car when you were kids."

"It won't bother him. Nothing bothers someone who's addicted to heroin."

"Wouldn't you cheat on someone who whimpers in the bathroom, steals from his friends, and masturbates on the sofa?"

"Just because he's always pitied you doesn't mean you have to feel sorry for him."

The Pregnancy. Nothing smacks more of psychological brittleness than a husband's refusal to accept the fact that his wife's baby is not his own. Should you get your best friend's wife pregnant, and should he discover her infidelity (which he eventually will, if she has her way), there is a chance he might still insist the child is his (although the kid looks exactly like you, and he has not screwed her in over a year). Then you will have the sticky displeasure of abiding a best friend you know is crazy. You will suspect he knows unconsciously that you are the real father, and you will live in fear that his bottled-up craziness may explode in some form of danger to your person. Yet, you will hesitate to terminate the friendship because, after all, he is your best friend, and because such an act just might trigger him.

Warning

Do not reply to her revelations about your best friend with confidences of your own. She will repeat everything you say to her husband, absolutely and without fail.

You, After You've Screwed Your Best Friend's Wife

As seen by...

...your best friend.

...his wife.

...your wife.

...your psychiatrist.

...your other good friends.

...both divorce lawyers.

Five Ways She Will Purposefully Blow It Once You Are Actually Screwing

1. She invites you over during the day and tells you her husband is at work. You're both necking. He comes home unexpectedly; you grab the phone to give the impression you just stopped by to use it. She, however, makes no attempt to straighten her appearance; then greets her husband with an entirely suspicious mixture of defiance and guilt, beaming on her countenance like a neon billboard.
2. You drop by when she and her husband are having an argument. She does not stop the shouting on your behalf, but rather, insults him with a piece of information she could only have learned from you. She then asks you to support her statement.
3. You and she have arranged a trip to the mountains together. You have told your best friend you will be going to visit a friend in the country. She, although apprised of your story, tells her husband she is going to visit a friend in the country.
4. You are, for example, a golf enthusiast. Her husband is not. She gets him a set of golf clubs for his birthday.
5. She repeatedly calls him by your name.

Warning

A great number of cultural works like plays and operas have been written about two guys falling in love with the same woman. As anyone knows, prudence dictates that you should avoid behavior that has been the subject of a whole lot of plays and operas.

Four Horrible Things Your Best Friend May Say to You

1. "I'm glad it was you, and not some stranger."
2. "I remember the time you got sick in high school and I took your position away from you on the baseball team. I felt so bad about it because I knew it really hurt you."
3. "Was it something I did?" (Breaks down into tears)
4. "I hate your motherfucking guts, you bastard, and I'm going to kill you, so help me God!"

Warning

Your best friend may give the impression he is trying to encourage a liaison between you and his wife. He may ask you to look after her while he is away, or might spend an inordinate amount of time describing all of the action he has been getting on the side. Do not construe this as tacit permission to screw his wife. It is a psychological ploy, much too complex to discuss here. Take it on faith: he'll hate you and possibly hurt you just as severely no matter how many girls he claims to be screwing.

Why Do It?

Because she's married to your best friend, who is a lot like you and would therefore marry someone just like you would want to marry; and it's better that your best friend's wife should become involved with a friend than some slick-talking jerk who doesn't understand her and would probably treat her like dirt; and it's a convenient piece of ass on the side.

How to Screw Your Best Friend's Wife in a Way That She'll Enjoy, He Doesn't Mind, You Won't Feel Guilty About, and Even Your Wife Won't Get Too Upset Over

Wait till he's dead.

Two Semi-Famous Best Friends Who Simultaneously Screwed Each Other's Wives

Kekich and Peterson... where are they today?

Mike Kekich and Fritz Peterson went the full distance, eventually trading wives. Their behavior is instructive: you may assume your wife is as attractive to your best friend as his is to you. When he discovers your involvement with his wife, offer yours to him. He's probably already screwing her anyway. (Note: Both Kekich's and Peterson's careers went completely to pot after the trade.)

GIVE YOUR HUSBAND A NIGHT ON THE TOWN WITHOUT LETTING HIM OUT OF THE HOUSE

FIRST, HE'LL WANT TO STOP OFF AT A BAR FOR SOME DRINKS.

As you may or may not know, bars are often designed around a theme suggested by the bar's name. For example, the Outrigger might look like the inside of an old ship, or the Buckboard might have the appearance of a western saloon. Your bar can be called the Garage. Get a piece of wood from your husband's workshop. Nail his wrenches and screwdrivers to it so they spell out The Garage; then hang the board over a door leading to your garage. You will need a bar stool. If you don't already have one in the house, put a round throw pillow on a platter, set the platter on a small stepladder or telephone stand, and put the whole unit next to a work table in the garage. Turn on your TV and mount it on a high shelf behind the work table. You can make a Garage cocktail waitress outfit for yourself by cutting a pair of bib overalls off at the waist and removing the wire from the center of a ruffled lampshade. Write your name with a felt-tipped pen across the front of the overalls, attach them to the top of the lampshade, then slip the whole thing on. Cool up some bottled beer in an ice chest beneath the work table.

You can give your husband a night on the town right in your own home.

WHEN HE'S THROUGH DRINKING, HE MAY WANT TO GO BOWLING.

Line up a few chairs at one end of the living room so they face a doorway at the other end of the room. Gather ten plastic bottles of household cleaners (Top Job, Formula 409, Windex, etc.) and arrange them in a triangle on the floor at the far end of the room. Set up a TV tray with a pencil and paper on it next to the chairs. Bring your husband his bowling ball and let him roll it across the living room, through the doorway, and into the household cleaners. You may want to pad the wall or cupboards behind the cleaners with pillows to protect them from the ball. After each roll, pick up the bottles and return the ball to your husband. Bring him beers from the Garage if he asks for them.

HE MAY WANT TO CATCH THE FINAL DOG RACES OF THE EVENING.

Borrow several dogs from your neighbors and have them chase a roast on a stick around the living room. Encourage your husband to make bets, then write him a check on your joint account if he wins. If he wins big, put on a slinky dress and hang all over him. Take him back to the Garage for a nightcap, then get in the car with him and neck and maybe screw him in the back seat if he feels like it. Then let him stumble back into the house. Quickly circle around to your bedroom, climb through the window, ask him if he had a good time, and tuck him in.

A VISIT TO NERO'S PLEASURE PALACE

BY GERRY SUSSMAN AND LEN GLASSER

OUR STORY SO FAR: STEVE AND GINNY HAVE BEEN MARRIED FOR SIX YEARS. THEY STILL LOVE EACH OTHER, BUT THEIR SEX LIFE IS GETTING A BIT STALE, A BIT TOO PREDICTABLE ("HE'LL FONDLE MY ASS, THEN KISS ME ON THE NECK, PLAY WITH MY TITS, RUB MY PUSS UNTIL I'M A LITTLE WET, AND THEN FUCK ME FOR TWO MINUTES").

AFTER MUCH "OUT FRONT" DISCUSSION, STEVE PERSUADES GINNY TO GO TO A SEX SPA, A PLEASURE PALACE, WHERE LIBERATED COUPLES CAN "SWING" AND GET A NEW PERSPECTIVE ON THEIR SEX LIVES IN AN ATMOSPHERE FREE OF GUILT AND HANG-UPS.

STEVE FEELS A VISIT TO A SPA WILL DO MORE TO REJUVENATE THEIR SEX LIFE AND THEIR MARRIAGE THAN PSYCHOANALYSIS OR MARRIAGE COUNSELING. GINNY IS NOT A LIBERATED, SWINGING TYPE AND HAS MANY RESERVATIONS ABOUT GOING, BUT STEVE FINALLY CONVINCES HER THAT THEY HAVE NOTHING TO LOSE AND SO, THEY GO TO THE HOTTEST, MOST FAR-OUT SEX SPA IN TOWN, NERO'S PLEASURE PALACE.

HEY, YOU'RE A REALLY BEAUTIFUL PERSON. I MEAN, YOU WERE REALLY GREAT. MORE THAN JUST A PIECE OF ASS. YOU KNOW WHAT I MEAN?

I NEVER KNEW IT COULD BE LIKE THIS.

STEVE IS ALSO TRYING TO MAKE A NEW FRIEND...

I'M NOT THE SUBTLE TYPE. YOU REALLY TURN ME ON, AND I'D LIKE TO BALL YOU UNTIL YOUR NOSE BLEEDS. I MEAN, UNTIL YOUR EARS BLEED. OH, SHIT. NEVER MIND. WANNA FUCK?

I'M NOT THE SUBTLE TYPE EITHER, AND I THINK YOU'RE SLIME. FIND ANOTHER HOLE TO CRAWL INTO, WILL YOU?

LADY...YOU JUST TALKED YOURSELF OUT OF A GREAT FUCK.

IN THE MEANTIME, GINNY IS GETTING INTO THE SWING OF THINGS.

...DOUBLE YOUR FUN.

WE'RE GOING TO DOUBLE YOUR PLEASURE...

IF THERE IS A HEAVEN, IT CAN'T BE BETTER THAN THIS....

WHILE STEVE IS STILL TRYING...

HI. CAN I PLAY, TOO?

FUCK OFF, WE'RE BUSY.

FUCK OFF? FUCK OFF? THAT'S FUNNY. THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT I WANT TO DO.

TWO HOURS LATER...

HEY, YOU REALLY LOOK LIKE YOU COULD USE A LITTLE FREE LOVE. HOW ABOUT IT?

THANK GOD! I THOUGHT I'D NEVER MAKE IT.

THIRTY MINUTES LATER...

THIS HAS NEVER HAPPENED TO ME IN MY LIFE. MAYBE I JUST CAN'T DO IT WITH A LOT OF PEOPLE AROUND.

I DID EVERYTHING I COULD. I WASTED A HALF HOUR ON YOU WHEN I COULD HAVE BEEN BALLED AT LEAST NINE TIMES.

I SAID I'M SORRY.

WELL, THANKS FOR THE FINGER FUCK, SUPERMAN.

WHATEVER SEXUAL BLISS GINNY HAS HAD IS NOTHING COMPARED TO WHAT SHE HAS JUST EXPERIENCED WITH GEOFFREY, CLOVELLE, AND WAH-LI.

WE'RE GOING TO SHOW YOU EVEN MORE, DARLING.

I CAN'T BELIEVE I'VE BEEN MISSING THIS ALL THESE YEARS. I NEVER KNEW A WOMAN'S BODY COULD FEEL SO MUCH.

BUT STEVE IS NOT IN THE MOOD.

SURE YOU WOULDN'T LIKE A NICE HAND JOB? I'LL GIVE YOU MARILYN MONROE AND JAYNE MANSFIELD AT THE SAME TIME.

DON'T TOUCH ME WITH THOSE THINGS OR I'LL KILL YOU.

LATER, DRIVING HOME...

HONEY, CAN YOU JUST DROP US OFF AT WAH-LI'S PLACE? I'LL MEET YOU AT HOME LATER.

PLANET OF THE LIVING WOMEN

Where They Came from, No one Knew...
Where They Were Headed Was Probably Bloomingdale's

by P. J. O'Rourke and John Hughes

FUNDAMENTAL TRUTHS ABOUT WOMEN

- Women would rather kiss than fuck.
- Women have a sense organ that perceives emotions in much the same way our ears perceive sound waves or our eyes perceive light. They are thus able to detect guilt, for instance, or envy, in the same manner that we can detect an enormous explosion.

- Two hours of cuddling in front of a fire is more sexually stimulating to a woman than direct clitoral massage with a Swedish handheld vibrator.
- Nymphomania only occurs in women after their forty-eighth year or eighth month of pregnancy.
- No matter how bright a woman is, she would still rather have a bracelet than a book.
- All women think that they - are physically attractive to at least some men, and judging by the girls that our friends get married to, they must be right.

- Women do not envy your penis except when they go to the bathroom on camping trips.
- Women can harbor jealous feelings for inanimate things, such as your work, your hobby, or your car.
- A woman can spend eight hours in a hair salon with six friends and still accuse you of caring more about your friends than you do about her when you spend two hours with your friends at a bar on a Saturday.

- Women who don't work think that because their husbands get out of the house every day they don't work.
- Women think that raising children is more difficult than designing a breeder reactor and safe waste disposal system for under $100 million in six months.
- When a man takes an interest in a woman's body she accuses him of only taking an interest in her body, but when he doesn't take an interest in her body she accuses him of taking an interest in someone else's body.
- Women are not revolted by urine, feces, or vomit, but gag at the thought of semen or cigar breath.

AFTER EQUALITY, WAGE PARITY, LIBERATION OF BODY AND SOUL, AND THE EXTENSION FOR THE RATIFICATION OF THE ERA, WOMEN STILL CAN'T DO THE FOLLOWING:

- Start barbecue fires
- Change a tire
- Hook up a stereo
- Shine shoes
- Clean fish
- Anything on a roof
- Touch worms
- Decide where to hang a picture
- Roll a joint
- Move a couch
- Investigate mysterious house noises at night
- Wax a car
- Kill and dispose of large insects
- Change storm windows
- Walk past a mirror without stopping to look

English: Eat me.

Translation into English of a Complete Conversation in Girl Talk

Karen: Donna, you really look great. You wear blue so well. You'll have to tell me where you got that handbag. I love it!

Translation: Donna, you look even worse than the last time I saw you. But at least you have the good sense to wear blue; it covers fat better. Tell me where you got that handbag so I can be sure to stay out of that store.

Donna: I just threw on this old rag, and I'm not wearing any makeup. But anyway, how's your wonderful son? He's so artistic!

Translation: I just threw on this rag and I know it's a rag, but if I say it's a rag you may think I have a closet full of nice clothes instead of a closet full of rags, which is what I really have. I'm wearing six pounds of makeup; I usually wear eight. But anyway, how's your wonderful son... the queer?

Karen: I wasn't expecting anyone to drop in, the maid is sick, and I'm in the middle of redecorating. You were planning to redecorate your house, weren't you?

Translation: I didn't think anyone would have the nerve to barge in at 9:00 in the morning and catch what my house really looks like. The furniture's old and the carpets are worn out and

I'd like to redecorate if I had the money, but your house is a worse dump than this one.

Donna: How's your husband's career?

Translation: Is the drunk still out of work?

Karen: Fine, just fine.

Translation: Don't ask.

Donna: Would you like to go out for lunch?

Translation: Would you like to go buy things?

Karen: Great! I just have to get dressed.

Translation: I just have to shave my legs and armpits, tweeze my eyebrows, put on my makeup, pluck the hairs out of my nose, shower, powder, oil and perfume my body, bleach my upper lip hair, paint my toenails, set my hair, comb it out and reset it, and try on six or seven different outfits.

Donna: Don't worry about it—you look great! It's terrific how you can get away with wearing an outfit like that. I'd look like a horse in that! I'm so fat anyway.

Translation: I wouldn't go to the gas station with you looking like that. Only someone with absolutely no self-respect would wear something as ugly as that. If I wore it, I'd look bad, but not that bad because I'm really skinny, aren't I?

GRAFFITI IN WOMEN'S ROOMS

The graffiti in women's rooms is generally typed out on index cards and affixed to the metal doors of the toilet stalls by means of magnets concealed in little plastic flowers. Here are some examples:

For a good nose job, call Dr. Bergstein:
555-3401

Bill W _____ is a great provider.

Coconut Macaroons

Sweetened condensed milk is the secret of these quick and easy cookies.

- 3 1/3 cups (10 oz.) flaked coconut
- 1 can (14 oz.) sweetened condensed milk
- Dash salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 23 glacéed cherries, cut in half

Preheat oven to 350° F Bake for twelve to fifteen minutes until golden at edges. Makes about three and a half dozen.

WHAT LIFE WOULD BE LIKE WITHOUT WOMEN

Karen: You're skin and bones! I'll be right back. Oh, while I'm getting ready, will you give me your recipe for that casserole you served at the pot luck dinner at your house last week? A pot luck is such a good idea!

Translation: You are fat. I'm going to take my time, so why don't you give me the recipe for that glop you served at your cheapo hash sling so I'll be sure and never serve anything even remotely like that. A pot luck party is a good way to cover up the fact that you have to pinch pennies.

Donna: We'll have to get together again soon. That husband of yours is a real character.

Translation: If my kids weren't friends with your kids, I wouldn't come within a block of you. Or the loud, crude lush you share your bed with.

INTERVIEW WITH THE ONLY REALLY HONEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD

National Lampoon: You are...

Betty X: The only really honest woman in the world. Really. I'm the only one there is who won't lie to you or flatter you or make things up that never happened. Don't ask me why. I don't know. I just am and that's that.

National Lampoon: O.K.,

what about cock size?

Betty X: Huge. They have to be really huge. Anything less than nine or ten inches and most girls can't even feel it. Only black men have cocks that big. Black men and some real short, real homely little Jewish guys.

National Lampoon: And foreplay...

Betty X: If you really excited us, we wouldn't need foreplay.

National Lampoon: Afterplay?

Betty X: If you really satisfied us we wouldn't need afterplay. Look, let's face it, most gals could care less about men. I mean, except for the giant black ones.

National Lampoon: Well, why do you...

Betty X: Jesus Christ, Bud! You want us to work for a living! Or what? I mean, gimme a goddamn break, please.

WOMEN JOKES

It's important to remember, when making jokes about women, that they are not a minority, they weren't captured on another continent and brought here in leg-irons (funny shoes, yes, but not leg-irons), and Hitler didn't blame them for Germany's loss of World War I. Therefore, you can make any kind of fun of them you want.

How many women does it take to unscrew a light bulb?

One—to call her husband in the middle of the day and make him leave an important meeting with the firm's largest client, and drive all the way home and find the stepladder and take the old bulb out and put in a new one, and rush back to work where his boss will be really mad!

At a woman's wedding, how do you tell which one's the bride?

She's the one in the soft and sensuous chiffon gown with crystal-pleated Chantilly lace at the neck and more puffs of billowy lace on the flowing angel sleeves; and crowned with a flowery chiffon wreath encircled by the intriguing look of a sheer, sheer veil!

What do you get if you cross a woman with a Polack?

A kid!

HOW TO TELL A FIRST WIFE FROM A SECOND WIFE

The "first wife" and the "second wife" are not, as it might seem, simply the woman who you marry first and the woman who you marry next.

No. They are members of two different species with widely differing characteristics. And a wise man always marries his second wife first.

A FIRST WIFE

Sharp looks
Wants two kids
Wants to buy a big house in the suburbs
Calls your parents Mom and Dad
Bath
Hand job
Wants you to get a raise

A SECOND WIFE

Sharp wits
Has two kids
Wants to sell a big house in the suburbs
Calls your parents Hank and Shirley Shower
Blow job
Just got a raise herself

- They can clean up vomit from kids, dogs, cats, and you.
- They are easily reached by phone.
- They'll never drink up all your whiskey or smoke up all your cigars.
- They always know where your wallet is.
- Nothing squirts out of them during sex.
- They do not get great big back pimples.
- They remember to buy toilet paper, shampoo, cinnamon, envelopes, and stamps.
- No matter how drunk they get, they never get drunker than you. □

HETEROSEXUALITY

I'M NOT NORMALLY WHAT YOU'D CALL A "WOMEN'S LIBBER" OR ANYTHING LIKE THAT, BUT THIS ISSUE REALLY WAS SEXIST.

I MEAN IT!

WOMEN ARE JUST TREATED AS IF THEY WEREN'T EVEN HUMAN BEINGS OR ANYTHING.

I THINK IT'S JUVENILE. I REALLY DO.

AND I DON'T THINK THERE'S ANYTHING FUNNY ABOUT IT.

YOU GUYS SHOULD GROW UP!

If you're into fitness, Bullworker® puts it all together in only 5 minutes a day:

"Looking for a fitness program that's fast, easy and gets results right away?," asks fitness expert, Bob Breton. "Bullworker puts it all together. In just 5 minutes a day you can give your body a complete fitness workout: shoulders, back, arms, chest, abdomen and legs.

It's fast: each exercise takes only 7 seconds, once a day.

It's easy: any man between 15 and 65 in good general health can run through the whole program without getting tired.

You see your progress right from the very first day on the built-in Powermeter gauge. After two to three weeks of training, most men can expect to measure an extra inch or two of muscle on their shoulders, chest and biceps—and an inch or two less flab around the middle.

And that's just the start: there are specialized exercises for building-up or trimming down any part of your body you want to. What's more, since Bullworker training is progressive, you perform better each time. Yet the training always seems easy since with every workout your strength increases by about 1%—that's an increase of up to 50% in the first three months.

"I earn my living by keeping executives in top shape," says Bob. "My customers want results and they want them fast. I recommend Bullworker for one reason only: because it's the most advanced fitness trainer on the market and you better believe it."

NOW—Men and Women Can SHAPE UP FAST!

New Home Jogger with Mileage Computer

fantastic price breakthrough at just $12⁹⁵

Discover the fast, fun way to get into shape fast. The exclusive mileage computer lets you see at a glance exactly how far you've run. Use the fabulous Home Jogger Rain or Shine, day or night. You can even watch TV as you jog your way down the road to a trimmer, slimmer figure, bursting with exuberance and energy. Everyone knows that jogging has become the number one exercise program in the country today. But not everyone is able to run the roads... not everyone wants to run in public. Now, you can have the privacy of your own jogging path, plus an exclusive mileage computer that tells you exactly how far you've run.

WATCH THE MILES CLICK BY...SEE POUNDS AND INCHES PEEL OFF
Why do Doctors recommend jogging for weight control, fitness, mental alertness and overall good health?

- Jogging burns more calories per minute than any form of common exercise.
- Jogging is one of nature's most powerful and effective appetite suppressants.
- Jogging improves circulation which sharpens mental quickness... and naturally combats stress, fatigue and depression.
- Jogging strengthens heart and lungs...strength you feel in new energy and vigor.

Shape up in the Privacy of Your Home

If you are like thousands of men and women who may have "let themselves go" a bit in recent years, you might reasonably feel a little uncomfortable running on public roads or tracks. The HOME JOGGER gives you all the time and convenience you need to get back into shape... at your own pace any time of day or night in any kind of weather... without a word or glance from anyone.

And remember, the HOME JOGGER can be good for all ages. A 50 year old who works out regularly can look and feel better than many a 20 year old who does nothing to stay in shape. You'll be amazed to see how quickly you go from a quarter of a mile a day to a half mile... until you find yourself running three, maybe even five miles a week. And it's all between you and the mileage counter!

30 DAY FREE TRIAL MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

Shape up entirely at our expense! Enjoy the fun and excitement of running against the patented mileage counter for a full 30 days. If, at the end of that period, you don't feel younger and more alive... If your feeling of pride in your physical self has not done a complete turn-around... If you are not convinced that the HOME JOGGER is everything we say it is... RETURN IT!!

WATCH THE MILES CLICK BY ON YOUR PERSONAL COMPUTER

It's like a new game. The mileage counter tells you instantly how much ground you have covered. Works equally well for men and women... of every height. You easily convert your stride to mileage with one reading of the computer and one glance at the conversion chart. You will be amazed at how far you can run in just a brief morning workout. You'll actually have a good time running against the clock... at your own pace. Yes, the HOME JOGGER puts an end to exercise boredom for good. A special personal progress chart will give you an amazing record of your daily improvement... while your scale and your mirror confirm the results.

As Seen
On TV!

Special "SPRING BOARD JOGGING PAD"
Actually Helps You Run. Deep cushion tread gives you a "push back" action you feel with every stride. Most important it absorbs that hard shocks that can cause real problems when running on hard roads. Ankles and knees are pampered with a soft, cushioning effect that tones muscles without jarring.

MULE'S DINER

by Stan Mack PRESENTS

A LOVE STORY

AROUND THE CORNER FROM MULE'S DINER THERE LIVED A BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS NAMED DONNA. (BEAUTIFUL EXCEPT THAT WHEN SHE OPENED HER MOUTH IT WAS LIKE A DONKEY BRAYING IN THE FIELD.)

ANYWAY, WHILE HER GIRL-FRIENDS MARRIED MEN FROM THE NEIGHBORHOOD, DONNA WENT TO THE BIG CITY AND CAME HOME MARRIED TO A GREAT HORNED OWL.

THE OWL WONDERED WHAT DONNA SAW IN HIM....

OWL DRESSED IN VERY EXPENSIVE CLOTHES....

WHEN SHE WORRIED ABOUT BRINGING AN OWL HOME, HE SAID...

BUT THEY ALL NOTICED!

IT WASN'T SO BAD AS LONG AS THE OWL STAYED OUT OF SIGHT.

BUT WHEN DONNA AND THE OWL WALKED AROUND TOWN TOGETHER THE PEOPLE WERE ENRAGED!

THEY PLOTTED TO KILL HIM.

THE REVEREND TRIED TO WARN HIM, BUT HE WOULDN'T LISTEN.

LUCKILY, TRAGEDY WAS AVERTED WHEN THE OWL WENT BACK TO HIS BUSINESS - WHICH REQUIRED THAT HE SPEND ENDLESS HOURS ON THE TELEPHONE.

IF PEOPLE WANTED TO SEE HIM THEY HAD TO WAIT FOREVER... AND EVEN THAT DIDN'T WORK.

EVENTUALLY THEY GREW TIRED AND LEFT....

... REROUTE THE JERSEY SHIPMENT TO ATLANTA... SORRY, FELLAS, BUT I'VE GOT ANOTHER CALL ON HOLD AND...

AND, SINCE THE OWL NEVER HAD TIME TO GO OUT ON THE STREET, THE PEOPLE RELAXED AND THINGS RETURNED TO NORMAL....

Calling All Parents...

IS YOUR SON GROWING UP TO BE A FRUIT?

Many kids today are turning "queer" before they're even out of knee pants. And it's not surprising, what with heroes like Rod Stewart and Elton John being shoved (you should forgive me) down their throats on TV and in magazines. But don't despair. If you see telltale signs that your kid's getting "funny," there are several things that you can do to gently push him back toward normalcy.

1. If you catch him playing with his sister's dolls, clip out this mini-centerfold and hang it in the dollhouse "den." Hopefully he'll get the message....
2. And since he likes to play with dolls, go buy him one. A Barbie-type is best, with sexy hair, a shapely ass, and perky little tits.
3. Too much reading is a surefire danger sign. If Junior wears a pair of reading glasses, smudge them up a bit. And slip a couple of Sgt. Rock and Tarzan comic books into his copy of Jane Eyre.

4. Take him bowling. Let him use the little balls, but make him swear every time he misses.

5. No matter what he wants for Christmas, buy him power tools. Great big noisy dangerous power tools.

6. Teach him how to smoke cigars. If he won't smoke cigars, then give him cigarettes, but no low tars and no menthol 100s.

7. Take him hunting. Make him kill an animal he's seen in cartoons or in children's books. If he starts crying, cook it up and let him watch you eat it.

8. Get him drunk. This one's easy with a kid of five or six. A couple of sips of Heineken should more than do the trick.

9. Now take him to a porno flick. If he gets scared and starts to bawl for Mommy...

10. Beat him up the way you'd beat up any other faggot, only not so hard. Remember, you're not trying to hurt him, just to help him straighten out. Once he learns what being queer is going to mean in terms of constant pain and suffering, he'll shape up fast...the little fruit.

The Watts Parastat

In 15 seconds your records are clean, dry, and ready to play.

With some systems you pour liquid on your records (and rub it into the grooves), while with others you brush the dirt around (and rub it into the grooves). The Watts Parastat is neither of these.

By placing a plush velvet pad on either side of a soft nylon brush and adding a drop or two of Parastatik® fluid, a remarkably efficient system is created.

The brush bristles lift the rubbish to the surface. The pads collect and remove it. And the Parastatik® fluid supplies just the right degree of humidity to relax dust collecting static without leaving any kind of film or deposit behind.

No other system does so much for your records in so little time.

So when you want the best, ask for the original. The Parastat, by Cecil Watts.

VERY MARRIED COME-ON LINES:

"I'll clean out the garage and throw out all my old shirts if you'll just let me rub against you for a few minutes."

"Why don't we go buy you a raccoon coat, have lunch, go to a show, buy new living room furniture, fuck, then go find an all-night jewelry store and get you a larger diamond?"

"I promise I'll hurry. It won't take more than, oh, three minutes."

"Let's make a baby! A cute, cuddly baby! Oh, please, can we make just one more adorable little child?"

LINES THAT WILL NOT WORK:

"It won't hurt!"

"If you don't do it, I'll find someone else who will."

"I'll tell you just before I'm ready, and you can stop."

"Ninety percent of the women in the world do it."

"Who's going to walk in?"

IMPORTANT LEGAL INFORMATION

Oftentimes Very Married Sex can come down to cold and harsh confrontation. You can get to a point where you'll kill for physical contact, and she'll unload all over you with threats of divorce, public shame, liquidation of assets, etc.

1. By law she has to put out. If not, you've got grounds. If you have the grounds, she can't rip you so bad in finance court. However, blow jobs, hand jobs, shower fucks, animalistic positions, and the like are not covered in the Minimum Sex Act. She's only obligated to lay on her back and receive the filth, although in some states she may be required to smile and kiss.

2. Believe it or not, many states still have laws on the books against sodomy. Sodomy, unfortunately, is interpreted to include just about all the fun stuff. So if she really wants to get evil she can call the cops if you touch her butt with anything, touch her genitals with your face, or use a stick or other object on her. And even though everyone commits the various acts than can be considered sodomy, it still looks dreadful in the papers.

3. One of the things the women's rights movement has done is make it possible for a woman to cry rape on her husband. This does not negate number 1 (above); it merely confuses the issue. She is required to perform, but as I read it, she's not required to perform under threat. In other words, she can have the option of refusal if she can prove proper basis for that refusal. For instance, I don't believe you can force her to have sex when she's sick, when she's in labor, or anytime during the day. You cannot, of course, hit her, hold her at knife- or gunpoint and force her to perform sexual acts. However, when she goes to the police station to complain, unless there's a broad behind the desk or a division of female activist lawyers on hand, the cops more than likely will ask lots of dirty and humiliating questions and send her home in tears.

4. There are no circumstances under which a married man can have sex with a woman other than his wife without that act being considered adultery. There are old rumors that it's okay for a man to fool around if his wife is crippled, ugly, ill, menstruating, pregnant, old, or busy with household chores. Unfortunately, they're just rumors.

THINGS TO TELL YOUR SINGLE FRIENDS WHEN THEY BOAST ABOUT THEIR SEXUAL EXPLOITS

"Your chances for VD are far greater than mine."

"You have to waste valuable time courting women you'll never marry anyway."

"You have to look good, dress well, and stay clean all the time."

"You can't watch TV during sex."

"In five or six years, people will think you're a homosexual." □

THE FUNNIEST ALBUM ON RECORD.

To assemble this cast today would cost over twenty-seven million dollars—if it could be done! Back then, we got them for free milk and cookies. But that was before we launched a dozen meteoric careers, garnered three Grammy nominations, and made a bundle for the home folks. Now, in one album, a star-studded selection of satire, parody, frivolity, and wit in the National Lampoon tradition—from the performers and writers who made that tradition!

True Facts

• The following happened to a Canadian apple farmer: he attached a rope to a barrel and secured a pulley to a high branch in an apple tree, ran the rope through the pulley, raised up the barrel, and tied the other end of the rope to the trunk of the tree. He then climbed up the tree, filled the barrel with apples, climbed down, and untied the rope from the trunk. Failing to anticipate that the barrelful of apples was heavier than himself, and refusing to let go of the rope, the farmer was pulled off the ground. He collided with the descending barrel and severely injured his shoulders. Continuing his ascent, he banged his head on a branch at the top of the tree and jammed his fingers in the pulley. When the barrel hit the ground, the apples were spilled, which lightened the barrel and then caused the farmer to descend. Halfway down, the farmer was again struck by the barrel, this time seriously bruising his shins. He was further lacerated when he landed on a section of his own truck rigging. At this point, the farmer finally let go of the rope, releasing the barrel, which fell directly on his head. The farmer was hospitalized. PCA/FLBA Farming (contributed by Irwin Gooen)

• Police have warned parents to beware of a child molester who has been roaming the streets of Austin, Texas, enticing youngsters to permit him to smell their feet. The suspect identified himself to one small girl as a scientist performing a foot survey, and offered her five dollars to sit down on the curb and remove her shoes. After smelling his fill, he told her, "Come back tomorrow and bring your friends." The victim said the man wore a white T-shirt, blue jeans, and had a noticeably large nose. Austin American-Statesman (contributed by M.K. Defiel, D.D.S.)

• The Coca Cola Company, after winning a long and arduous battle for permission from Peking to sell Coke in mainland China, was disappointed when its costly marketing campaign fostered little response from the Chinese people. Troubleshooters called in to overhaul promotional strategies eventually discovered the flaw

Chinese pictographic representation of the words "Coca Cola" translates literally to "female horse fattened with wax," or "bite the wax tadpole." Rocky Mountain News (contributed by R. Shockley)

• A trucker stopped suddenly in the fast lane of a Nevada highway to demonstrate a new variety of dog food to another motorist. As the driver of the truck transferred a sample meal to a dog in the motorist's back seat, nineteen other cars smashed into the back of the truck, killing a total of fifty persons in Nevada's worst traffic accident ever. The dog was not injured. The Arizona Republic (contributed by Larry Bodine)

• Radio Uganda announced that Emperor Hirohito of Japan will fulfill Idi Amin's request for kamikaze pilots to train the Ugandan Air Force. The radio said officials hoped the first group of kamikazes would arrive in time to attend Amin's eighth anniversary as ruler of Uganda. Tokyo had no immediate reply. UPI (contributed by Tom Hess)

• A civil court found Dr. Howard Eddy guilty of medical malpractice and ordered him to pay $175,000 in damages to a patient he had treated for a rectal disorder. Eddy inserted a high-intensity electrical instrument up Richard Schwartz's anal canal when the device came in contact with a pocket of intestinal gas. The gas exploded, blowing out a portion of Schwartz's colon. The court held that Eddy was negligent, in that a reasonable and prudent physician should have, in essence, foreseen that Schwartz might fart. Newsday (contributed by David Begler)

Retraction: True is informed that our Dwight Eisenhower "Lives of the Great" erred in stating the former chief executive was president of Columbia University after he left political office. In fact, he held the position before his election to the U.S. presidency, and according to some, was given the job only because a representative of Columbia's trustees, who was authorized to hire Eisenhower's brother Milton, mistakenly contacted Dwight.

Bullshit

by Ellis Weiner

Did you ever think you would hear Norman Vincent Peale on a rock station? Neither did I. But I'm glad I did. I'm a fan of both Norman Vincent Peale and WABC radio. I'm glad they got together. The generation gap is narrowing. Beautiful. There is no reason why the Reverend Peale and young people should be strangers. They should be friends. It couldn't have happened a decade ago, back in the surly, sullen, swinish sixties.

—William Reel, a columnist in the now-obsolete New York Daily Press, one of New York's strike papers. No date, but Bullshit has this execrable piece of "journalism" on file. Really.

When we think of the Elizabethan Age as heroic, it is not only a few exceptional men and women whom we recall, but a whole society that burst alive at the summons to a great enterprise, engaging the hearts and souls of all.... The whole society had a heroic spirit. Its ways were lissome, with sword and song. It was a scoundrel age as well, but the heroic spirit could encompass that. Beside it, our own is bedraggled. The compass of our world, even as we soar to the galaxies, is the bathroom scale.

—Henry Fairlie, in "Too Rich for Heroes." Harper's, November 1978.

Clearly they were as caught up in the magic of Lincoln's words as I was. Then I spoke the last lines: "And that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth." And the worn words took on a newborn freshness, and I felt at peace with my country and its people and myself.

—Max Lerner, in "An Afternoon of Abe Lincoln's Timeless Lines." New York Post, November 15, 1978.

"We felt it inappropriate to observe the killing of four students and the wounding of nine others with a sculpture that indicates someone committing violence on someone else. We are afraid that people will see only the violence."

—Dr. McCoy of Kent State University, explaining why George Segal's sculpture of Abraham about to sacrifice Isaac would not be acceptable as a donation commemorating the deaths of four students at Kent State on May 4, 1970. From "Princeton Takes Sculpture Rejected at Kent State," by Grace Glueck. The New York Times, November 18, 1978.

Here are the endings to some things that you'd only read or sit through to find out the endings.

BOOKS

Falling Angel by William Hjortsberg: Harry Angel, a New York detective, turns out to be Johnny Favorite—the missing person he's hired to find by Louis Cyphre, who turns out to be, when deciphered, Mr. Devil.

Panama by Thomas McGuane: Chester Hunicutt Pomeroy loses Catherine Clay to Panama and the dream it represents of their ability to be happy together, but finds his father, whom he believed had died in the Boston subway fire but who really lives in Ohio and makes processed snack food.

MOVIES

The Boys from Brazil: Gregory Peck is an aging Nazi doctor who has attempted to grow Hitler clones by impregnating women with the Fuhrer's frozen sperm, taking their babies, placing them in the care of foster parents similar to Hitler's, and in general, duplicating every facet of Hitler's family life: A kid discovers Peck's plan at a Nazi meeting in Paraguay and alerts Nazi hunter Laurence Olivier, who pieces the scheme together and eventually mixes it up with Peck at the home of a little Hitler clone in America. Olivier gets shot and beaten, but lives; Peck gets his neck ripped out by the little Hitler's killer Döbermanns, and dies.

"Even while on the moon

—Gene Cernan

"For over eight years now, I've been cleaning my swimming pool every day—with an Arneson Pool-Sweep. Because even when I'm here on Earth, I'm too busy to push a pool brush around. And when I do find time to enjoy my pool, I don't want to find it dirty. So, I clean it without lifting a finger. I let the Arneson Pool-Sweep do it for me automatically. I've seen a lot of remarkable inventions in my life, and this one is hard to beat!"

The Arneson Pool-Sweep is the most reliable automatic pool cleaner available. And the best selling. Here's how it works. Special underwater sweepers sweep the dirt and debris off the floor and walls into the main drain and filter. Leaves are automatically gathered into a leaf basket. Even the tiles are regularly rinsed.

See the Yellow Pages for your nearest pool builder or pool supply dealer. Like over a quarter million other pool owners, you'll be sold on the best. The Arneson Pool-Sweep. Arneson Products, Inc., P.O. Box 2099, Corte Madera, CA 94925.

ARNESON Sweep

...cleaning every day for over a quarter million pool owners.

It is true that no person would be in a less convenient position to run a brush across the bottom of a swimming pool than a guy in a space suit, life-support pack, and those ungodly bulky shoes walking around a dead, cratered plain in outer space, because such a person would need a 238,000-mile pole to reach the brush, as well as have to abandon crucial, costly experiments just to clean a pool. It is also true that if the peace of mind of having a clean pool helped Cernan better perform his astronomical mission, we are all in the advertiser's debt.

pid questions or accuse him of misconduct when he comes home drunk? Wilt thou not call him at the office and ask stupid things like, "Do you love me?" or "What do you want for dinner?" Wilt thou put up with his loud and rude friends, make him sandwiches late at night, remember his mother's birthday, admire his muscles, laugh at his jokes? Wilt thou wear your clothes for two or three seasons, go easy on his money, avoid using his razor on your legs, keep all your facial junk off the sink, and give him the good side of the bed?

For as much as John and Jane have consented together in holy wedlock and have witnessed the same before God and this company, by the joining of hands and the giving and exchanging of rings, I pronounce that they are husband and wife in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost. You may now kiss the bride, but don't mess up her face or hair because she still has to have her picture taken. J.H.

Plugs and Plaudits

Thanks go out to Jimmy Buffett—official poet laureate of the Pan-Caribbean Herb Navy—for loan of his boat and his self to make the Foto Funny on page twenty-four. (And to make my entire trip to Bermuda tax deductible.) That's Jimmy in the funny hat. Buy his new live album, You Had to Be There, or he won't have enough money to keep buying big sailboats to invite me on. The big guy with the box of Wheat Thins is Captain Larry Gray, and the other fellow in the beard claims his name is Phil Zipplesquiph. These men are real live pirates. If they captured your cruise ship, they'd probably shanghai or keelhaul you or something and make your girl friend walk the dork. So stay out of the West Indies, O.K.?

While you're down at the store buying Buffett's record, why don't you also pick up a couple of swell books: Falling Angel by William Hjortsberg and Panama by Tom McGuane. These are two terrific guys and just about the best writers in the whole world, except maybe me. Also, they happen to live out in Montana right near this place where I'd like to go hunting this fall, and, you know, I'd like them to owe me a couple of favors so I don't have to pay for a motel. So buy their books. In fact, buy a couple copies of each because hunting in New York is getting to be a drag—the Puerto Ricans are getting really blind-shy and, anyway, they're a bitch to clean. Miami, Florida The Castilian sport of jalumpa, or "beating the mascot," as it is called in the U.S., is being introduced to the rabid sports fans of this great resort city. Seattle, Washington A Bachelor of Arts diploma was awarded to George Kinard, of Tacoma, who graduated from Washington University after twenty-two years as an undergraduate. Kinard, a veteran of World War II, had his entire body shot away and must therefore rely on various mechanical devices to stay alive.
