

Issues in Toxicology

New Series from the RSC

Series Editors

Professor Diana Anderson, University of Bradford, UK

Dr Michael D Waters, National Institute of Environmental Health Science, N Carolina, USA

Dr Timothy C Marrs, Food Standards Agency, London, UK

This series is devoted to coverage of modern toxicology and assessment of risk and is responding to the resurgence in interest in these areas of scientific investigation.

Topics covered include: hair in toxicology; toxicogenomics; reproductive (particularly male mediated) toxicology, biomarkers in toxicology, and possible chemical warfare

Ideal as a reference and guide to investigations in the biomedical, biochemical and pharmaceutical sciences at the graduate and post graduate level.

First title in the series

Hair in Toxicology: An Important Bio-Monitor

Edited by Desmond John Tobin, University of Bradford

This is the first book of its kind devoted exclusively to in-depth analysis of the hair shaft as an important tool for a diverse range of scientific investigations.

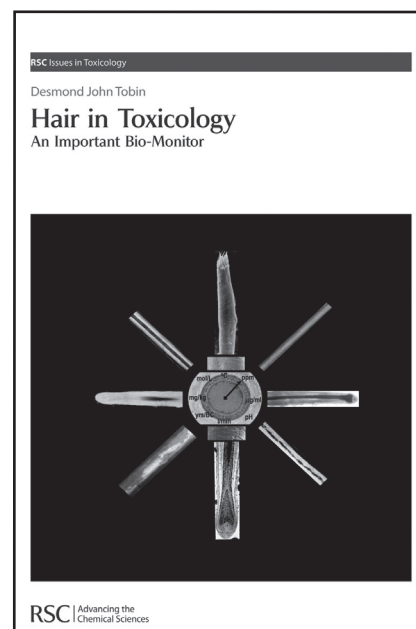

It covers:

- Information on the exposure of hair to chemicals and pollutants
- Toxicological issues relevant to the use of 'hair care' products
- The ability of hair to capture information on personal identity, chemical exposure, and environmental interactions
- How hair can provide an understanding of human life from archaeological and historical perspectives
- Future direction in the use of hair in toxicology

Readership academic researchers, graduate students, government institutions

Market toxicology, biomedicine, biochemistry, forensics and environmental/pollution sciences

Format hardcover
