

Brightest and best

At Journal of Materials Chemistry we have exceptionally high standards. Our world class referees select for publication only one in four articles submitted, ensuring Journal of Materials Chemistry brings you the most exciting applications, properties and syntheses of new materials.

Publish amongst the best – send your next paper to Journal of Materials Chemistry, the brightest in materials research with a new impact factor of 3.688!

13030637

Registered charity Number 207890

Take the global perspective chemistryworld

Chemistry World, the monthly magazine from the Royal Society of Chemistry, has something for everyone

- Daily online news
- Articles on all aspects of the chemical sciences
- Company and individual profiles
- Job vacancies
- Business news analysis
- Award-winning columnists
- Chemistry through the lens

Award-winning

Named Best monthly business and professional magazine of the year at the 2006 PPA Magazine Awards, Chemistry World reflects the ubiquitous importance of the chemical sciences in the world today, providing a more complete picture and an informed opinion on the issues that matter.

Updated daily

Daily web updates give the magazine a strong online presence that enhances and expands on the monthly print issue.

Interactive

With the new monthly Chemistry World Podcast and the daily updated Chemistry World Blog, there's a chance to go interactive.