Aims and Scope

Phosphorus, Sulfur, and Silicon and the Related Elements welcomes submissions involving the organic, inorganic, and biochemistry of phosphorus (including arsenic, antimony, and bismuth), sulfur (including selenium and tellurium), and silicon (including germanium and tin). In addition to research describing new chemistry of a particular element, especially welcome are presentations emphasizing relationships between elements and families of elements; for example, research comparing synthetic, mechanistic, or structural features providing new insight leading to a more rapid advance of science in these areas.

Original articles, communications, and selected reviews of broad interest will be considered for publication. Manuscripts may include illustrative material in color if this will enhance the presentation. There are no page charges and 25 free reprints will be supplied to the principal author. Regular papers may be sent to R. R. Holmes in Amherst or to L. Maier in Basel. Communications and reviews should be sent to W. Walter in Hamburg or J. G. Verkade in Ames. Notes for contributors, including information on communications and reviews, can be found at the back of every issue.

Subscription Rates

Subscription rates per volume: corporate, SF 1,220.00. Special reduced rates are available to university libraries and individuals; please write for details or see the journals checklist pertinent to your territory. The subscription rates include a distribution charge of $20.00. Postage charges in excess of this amount will be invoiced. Subscribers will be invoiced in the currency applicable to their geographical area at our current exchange rate. Double issues are published monthly. 1989 volume block: Volumes 41-46.

Orders may be placed with your usual supplier or directly with Gordon and Breach, Science Publishers, Inc., c/o STBS Ltd., One Bedford Street, London WC2E 9PP, U.K. Journal subscriptions are sold on a volume basis only; single issues are not available separately. Claims for nonreceipt of issues should be made within three months of publication of the issue or they will not be honored without charge. Subscriptions are available for microform editions. Details will be furnished upon request.
