EDITORIAL POLICY AND SCOPE

Original articles, short communications and brief, selected reviews of broad interest to the organic, inorganic and biochemistry of sulfur, phosphorus, antimony, bismuth, selenium and tellurium will be considered for publication in Phosphorus and Sulfur. Contributions will be refereed by members of the Editorial Board and other experts in this interrelated discipline. Requirements for acceptance include originality, breadth of scope, careful documentation of experimental results, and clarity and brevity of presentation. There are no page charges for papers published in Phosphorus and Sulfur.

The editors and publisher strive to provide rapid publication of accepted papers. Proofs are provided within 4-6 weeks after acceptance and must be returned promptly. The journal is published on the basis of 3 issues per volume with an increased number of volumes per year where necessary to ensure rapid publication. Papers may be submitted to either Cos Cob or Mainz.
