ANNOUNCEMENT

The Brain Information Service announces the free distribution of a new current alerting bulletin: DEVELOPMENTAL NEUROBIOLOGY. This monthly bulletin includes recently published articles, books, reports, etc. dealing with growth and development of the nervous system, especially the CNS of vertebrates. Normal development of human brain and behavior are included, as well as clinical studies which illuminate maturational changes. Each entry in the bulletin gives full citation information, plus an informative short abstract, key words, and a reprint address.

On an introductory basis you can receive this publication free through December, 1976.
