

Announcement

From 5 to 8 May 2004, The Phytochemical Society of Europe and the Società Italiana di Fitochimica will jointly organise in Gargnano, Garda Lake, Italy a symposium entitled:

Future Trends in Phytochemistry—a Young Scientists Symposium

Invited speakers include, among others: G. Appendino (Phytochemicals from edible plants), C. Bicchi (Analysis of volatiles), E. Fattorusso (Natural compounds in cancer therapy), C. Franz (Phytochemical biodiversity), C. Giroud (Cannabis), T. Hartmann (Pyrrolizidine alkaloids), I. Rietjens (Toxicity of herbs), P. Ripplinger (Starting a biotec company) and M. Rohmer (Isoprenoid biosynthesis). During the symposium there will be ample opportunity for participants to present and discuss their own work in short lectures and on posters. In particular, Ph.D. students and younger scientists working in the field of secondary metabolism or natural products chemistry and analysis are invited to participate and present their research results. Bursaries are available and can be applied for. More information and registration forms can be obtained from:

- (1) Internet site: <http://users.unimi.it/ftpsymp>
- (2) Prof. Dr. F. Tomè,
Dipartimento di Biologia, via Celoria 26,
20133 Milano, Italy.
Tel.: +39 02 5031 4773,
Fax: +39 02 50314764;
E-mail: franca.tome@unimi.it