[article in Separation Science and Technology, 28(1-3), 397-422, 1993]

The equilibrium lines shown in the various figures in the paper result from curve-fitting of the equilibrium conversion points calculated at the same conditions as the reported experimental data. The equilibrium lines for Fig. 8 in the paper are incorrect. The correct lines are shown in the revised Fig. 8, below.

FIG. 8 Conversion vs pressure for dense feed, $F_r = 1.0$, $\tau = 2$ s, $T = 550^\circ\text{C}$.
