BOOK REVIEW

METHODES CHROMATOGRAPHIQUES COUPLEES A LA SPECTROMETRIE DE MASSE
by J. De Graeve, F. Berthou and M. Prost, Masson, Paris, 1985, 381 pages plus X, Cloth bound 280 Francs.

This book, written in French, covers the basic concepts of gas chromatography, liquid chromatography and mass spectrometry. It then describes coupling processes for GC-MS and LC-MS. A chapter is devoted to identification of sample components using these techniques. The book is well illustrated throughout and presents an up-to-date account of the field.
