

(No Model.)

I. SPRUNG.
COMBINED MUFF AND PURSE.

No. 526,950.

Patented Oct. 2, 1894.

WITNESSES:

Chas. Kable.
H. P. Brunner

INVENTOR

Isaac Sprung,
BY Goepel Fraeger
ATTORNEYS.

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

ISAAC SPRUNG, OF NEW YORK, N. Y.

COMBINED MUFF AND PURSE.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Letters Patent No. 526,950, dated October 2, 1894.

Application filed July 7, 1894. Serial No. 516,828. (No model.)

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, ISAAC SPRUNG, a citizen of the United States of America, residing in the city, county, and State of New York, have 5 invented certain new and useful Improvements in a Combined Muff and Purse, of which the following is a specification.

This invention relates to an article of wearing apparel in which a muff and purse are 10 combined.

The object of the invention is to provide a combined muff and purse in which the hand and purse pockets are entirely separate and independent of each other and yet 15 connected in a single symmetrical structure.

The invention consists of a combined muff and purse comprising an outer tubular covering and an inner tubular lining forming a hand pocket, said covering having two correspondent circumferential flap extensions,
20 pivoted purse jaws attached to said flap extensions, and a purse bag secured to said jaws between said flap extensions and disposed entirely above the hand pocket of the 25 muff, substantially as hereinafter described.

Figure 1 of the accompanying drawings represents a perspective view of this combined muff and pocket-book. Fig. 2 represents a transverse section thereof on line
30 2—2 of Fig. 1. Fig. 3 represents a transverse section thereof on line 3—3 of Fig. 1. Fig. 4 represents an enlarged detail vertical section of a portion of the purse, showing the connection of the purse pocket with the flap
35 extensions of the muff.

Similar letters of reference indicate corresponding parts in the different figures.

This muff is composed of an outer tubular covering A, composed of plush, fur or any 40 other suitable flexible material, and an inner tubular lining A' preferably composed of silk, the lining being stitched to the outer covering at the end of the muff, and a suitable filling X disposed between the cover-
45 ing and lining. The outer covering is provided with two correspondent circumferential flap extensions a, which are preferably integral with said covering and extend outward from the top seam a' thereof. The covering and lining form a hand pocket open 50 at both ends for receiving the hands. Two flanged purse jaws B and B' hinged at their lower ends by means of pivots c are connected respectively to the flap extensions by means of clamping strips C² and rivets c²

55 passing through said strips, jaws and flaps respectively. A purse pocket P composed of sheep skin or other suitable material is attached to the purse jaws and extends between the flap extensions a. This purse bag
60 is disposed entirely above the hand pocket of the muff and hence does not interfere with the placing of the hands within the muff or render the hand pocket uncomfortable as is the case where the purse bag ex-
65 tends down between the outer covering and inner lining. The purse is comparatively small, generally not more than one third of the entire length of the muff, and the entire structure presents a tasteful appearance and 70 is very convenient in use. The jaw frames of the purse may be provided with any suitable fastening device as e.

The front of the muff may be ornamented, if desired, as by a bow F or an animal head
75 f, and the muff may be supported around the neck by means of an ordinary ribbon support such as F'.

I claim as my invention—

An article of wearing apparel embracing
80 a connected muff and purse consisting of an outer tubular covering and an inner tubular lining forming a hand pocket, said covering having two correspondent circumferential flap extensions, pivoted purse jaws attached
85 to said flap extensions, and a purse bag secured to said jaws between said flap extensions and disposed entirely above the hand pocket of the muff, substantially as set forth.

In testimony that I claim the foregoing as 90 my invention I have signed my name in presence of two subscribing witnesses.

ISAAC SPRUNG.

Witnesses:

GEO. L. WHEELOCK,
K. R. BRENNAN.